LOCALETTES.
Planted and in order.
The trees will soon be in full bloom.
Refrigerators should now be looked after.
There's blood poisoning in the sheep flocks.
The season for planting and ploughing has come.

Our bird concerts in the morning are inimitable.
The good housewife is now up to her ears in spring work.
Rural groves will soon be getting ready for picnics.
For fruit stains, dip the spots several times in hot milk.

Bridal fans now carry the initials of the bride and groom.
The reason that murder will out is probably because blood will tell.
Potato planting will soon be a reasonable occupation for the gardener.

Prick potatoes before baking so that the air can escape; this will prevent their bursting in the oven.
For sore throat, beat the white of an egg stiff with all the sugar it will hold, and the juice of one lemon.

Farmers are now busy with their spring work, preparing for a summer of hard toil, and we hope, of prosperous, cheering results.
Some men always prefer hard work to a light job. They would rather hold a 150 pound girl to a fifteen-pound baby.

Good Looks.
Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the Liver be inactive, you have a Bilious Look, if your stomach be disordered you have a Dyspeptic look and if your Kidneys be affected you have a pined look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alternative and Tonic acts directly on these vital organs. Cures Pimples, Blotches, Boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at C. H. Hagenbuch's Drug Store, 50c. per bottle.

Coming Events.

A COLLIERY HORROR

Many Miners Drowned Near Pottsville, Pa.
THE OLD WORKINGS GAVE WAY
Twelve Men Known to be Lost, and the List May Be Larger.

No Explanation Given as to the Cause of the Accident—Some One Thought to Have Blundered—The Lytle Coal Company, Which Owns the Mine, Are Tapping the Great Wolf Creek Colliery, Which is Filled With Water.

MINEVILLE, Pa., April 21.—This town, located about four miles from Pottsville is greatly excited over a horrible accident late yesterday afternoon at the Lytle colliery, whereby ten or twelve have lost their lives by the flooding of the mine with an immense body of water that burst through the old workings. The accident occurred just about the time the shifts were changing. The exact number of men drowned and their names cannot be given.

The place where the accident occurred is a new coal operation that is being opened on an immense scale by the Lytle Coal Company, the principal stockholders of which are the Pennsylvania Railroad officials and Scranton capitalists.

The works are located on Primrose Mountain several miles northwest of Mineville and tap the Great Wolf Creek Colliery, which has laid idle for some years owing to large accumulation of water. About two years ago the present operators with unlimited means commenced the reopening of the tract, and have spent thousands of dollars in opening up new slopes.

Gangways are being pushed out from these slopes on all sides of the new workings. The old water lies in it, and it is the bursting through of one or more of these deposits without warning that caught the unfortunate miners while at work.

Besides the American miners there were a large number of Italians and Hungarian laborers at work inside, and it is thought now that at least six of them are also drowned. The survivors cannot say where the water came from, but they were surrounded suddenly on all sides with water, and whilst their surveyors and bosses were rear careful, somebody evidently has blundered.

There were several score of men inside at the time and some of these swam out, while others are said to have been heard talking as if they had reached a high point above the water.

The Money Saver for Shoe Men.
"The Money Saver" is the name of a positively valuable book, especially written in the interest of retail boot and shoe men. It is, in fact, a retailer's text book, and while it is sent out in the interest of large wholesale boot and shoe establishments, it contains matter of vital importance to every retailer. Besides the most comprehensive price-list, admirably arranged, the book contains the simplest rules on basis of measurement. It gives information about buying boots, shoes, and rubbers; tells how to do a large business with smallest possible stock. A special feature of the book is a very comprehensive, yet briefly written article on profitable advertising for retailers, especially written for the book by Nathl. C. Fowler, Jr., of Boston, the doctor of advertising. This article is illustrated with several pages of dummy or sample advertisement of the most original, yet simple character. "The Money Saver" will be sent to any retailer, free of charge, upon request to Morse & Rogers, 131 & 133 Duane street, New York City.

Rough on Allentown.
"Jack" M. Carthy, of the Hazleton Sentinel, gets off a good many funny things, but the funniest is the following on the peanut city: Dave Allen, a black bootblack, discovered Allentown and changed his name to Skimmerhorn to catch Dutch shiners. The hotel Allen was named after him. When he realized the enormity of the sin he committed in discovering the place he went insane and he is there yet. Population 30,000 people, two-thirds of whom are women. All are more or less bow-legged on account of the steep hill near the depot. It is the seat of Mullenburg College, a female college, Robert E. Wright, a number of breweries and many dressed beef establishments. The reporters are everywhere on the alert. Yesterday one went to church and, hearing the preacher talk about the Cain-Abel murder, went down to police headquarters, but as they hadn't heard anything about it, remarked, "Oh! well, it will come in the plates." Cooking is taught to girls in the public schools and finished product used by the Street Commissioner to lay crossings.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at C. H. Hagenbuch's drug store, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.

A Cheerful Home.
"Well, Mary, how cheerful your home is. You always have such a cheerful fire."
"Yes, that's true; we always have a good fire since we get our coal from Zerbe & Co.'s Mountain Colliery. Before we always had such a time getting a fire in the morning. That made us all cross and crabbed; but now everything is lovely." And, besides, it is cheaper. Mari Shoe-maker takes orders, does the collecting and delivering.
