Currano, April 95.-The noted bunce man, "Tom" O'Brian, is said to be in Ohleage, or at least he was here yeaterday, seconding to reports. It was a matter of surprise that he should come to Chicago, for there are dozone of men here who know him, while all the eld members of the detective force are well acquainted with his features.

O'Brive was here swelve or fifteen years ago, whim he worked with Post and the noterious "Doe" Baggs and made this sizy his headquarters, but he never aid anything here that entitled him to special consideration.

He was arrested for vagrancy, but as he always worked outside of Chicago the police here never fastened anything upon him. He is wanted, however, for tricking an old farmer living near Springfield out
