HIS CRUEL DECEIT

Maggie Williams Makes a Discovery, and Dies For It.

MURDERED BY HER LOVER.

She Had Broken the Engagement Because of His Wooden Leg.

Lover Cunningham, However, Asked Forgiveness, But Maggie Wouldn't Become Reconciled—Then He Shot Her Twice, and Also Put Two Bullets Into Himself—Girl Dead and Man Mortally Wounded—He Blames It All on the Woman.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 26.—The discovery that her lover had a wooden leg led Maggie Williams to dismiss William E. Cunningham, to whom she was betrothed. The engagement was broken Sunday night, the young woman upbraiding her lover for the deception he had practised upon her. Yesterday Cunningham visited 25 Portsmouth street, where Maggie was employed as a domestic, and asked her to shake hands and make up. Maggie refused to be reconciled to the wooden leg and again repulsed him.

Then Cunningham drew a revolver and fired two shots at his sweetheart, one bullet taking effect in her left temple and the other over the heart. Cunningham then placed the revolver at his own head and fired. The shot did not kill and the man fired again, the bullet passing just over the heart. He fell across the body of the girl and awaited death.

The police summoned an ambulance and hurried the victims of the tragedy to the hospital. The girl died before reaching the institution. Cunningham is alive, but is mortally wounded. He would say nothing about the matter save that the woman was killed by getting in the way while he was trying to commit suicide.

DR. HILL'S MURDER.

He Called to See a Patient at Night and Came Home Dying in His Gig.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 26.—The murder of Dr. John H. Hill, brother of Walter S. Hill, a commission merchant of New York city, in Kent county, Del., just across the Delaware line, by a gang of negro desperadoes, has caused great excitement.

Since the acquittal of a white man in Kent county who was charged with murdering one of their race, the gang has been bent on murder. Dr. Hill was called to the bedside of Mrs. James Shaw, who lives near Massey's Station, five miles from Millington, where the physician lived.

He responded to the urgent summons at 10 o'clock on Saturday night, but did not reach his destination. He told his wife he would not be gone long, and she waited for his return. At four o'clock she heard the noise of the gig as it rolled up the lane to her home. The vehicle stopped, but her husband did not appear.

Becoming alarmed Mrs. Hill went out to see if there was any trouble. Proun upon his face in the dogcart lay her husband. Calling to him he gave no answer. Her neighbor, J. P. Abren, responded to her call for help, and they carried the unconscious man into his home. It was found that his throat was cut from ear to ear. His head was crushed and one foot was gone. Doctors were summoned, but Dr. Hill died at 3:45 yesterday afternoon without regaining consciousness.

The Grant Monument on Stone.

New York, April 26.—Arrangements for the ceremony of the laying of the corner-stone of the Grant Monument on Wednesday next are nearly completed. Governor Flower has ordered the First Brigade of the National Guard to participate in the ceremony. A grand stand to accommodate 9,000 persons has been erected at Riverside Park, and it is thought that over 200,000 persons will be able to witness the ceremony within the park inclosure. It is stated that there will be at least 8,000 Grand Army veterans in the parade, which is expected to be large and imposing.

Think O'Brien is in Cuba.

New York, April 26.—The belief is general among the authorities here that the escaped bunco steerer O'Brien has fled to Cuba. Inspector Steers is firmly of this belief. He says that O'Brien is too foxy to come to this city. David Disler, the sporting man who is accused of having assisted O'Brien in his escape, is stopping at the Gilsey House, and does not appear at all disturbed by the fact that his name is prominently connected with O'Brien's escape.

Artist Bradford Dead.

NEW YORK, April 26.—William Bradford, the artist, who was stricken with apoplexy at his studio on Fifth avenue last Wednesday, died yesterday. The deceased was 70 years old, and had won much praise through his paintings of Northern scenery. He made several trips to the arctic region, his last being 20 years ago, when he was connected with the exploring expedition headed by Dr. Hayes. The body will be taken to Fair Haven Mass. for interment.

Deacon's Trial to Begin May 30.

PARM, April 26.—The trial of Mr. Edward Parker Deacon for killing Abelle will begin May 30. It is said that M. Clemenceau will appear in behalf of the Abelle family. It is believed that Mrs. Deacon will be absent, and that a medical certificate of her inability to be present will be produced, if necessary.

Grievances of Railroad Men.

SCHMANTON, Pa., April 26.—A committee from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, representing the employees of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western system, presented a list of grievances to General Manager Hallsted. Among other things they demand a large advance in wages.

Italy's Rife is the Best.
LONDON, April 26.—The Rome correspondent of the "Times" says that a great German authority has assured him that the new Italian rifle is the best yet introduced, being superior to the Lebel, Mauser or Mannlicher, and that the Italian army authorities, conscious of this fact, are determined to go on manufacturing the rifle, whatever sacrifice be entailed, even the abandonment of the African colony.

Sligo Iron Mills Suspend Work.

PITTSBURGH, April 26.—The 200 workers at the Sligo Iron Mills, South Side, were very much surprised when they reported for work as usual, at a notice posted at the entrance to the mills that the management had ordered an indefinite suspension in all departments. No further explanation has as yet been obtained.

Two Women Burned to Death.

WYOMOUTH, Mass., April 26.—The clothing of Mrs. Nathan Orentz and her daughter, Mrs. Crocker, living at South Wyomouth, caught fire yesterday afternoon in some unaccountable manner and before help arrived Mrs. Orentz was burned to death and Mrs. Crocker so seriously injured that she cannot recover.

A Fatal Mistake.

Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease," which may be had from O. H. Hagenbuch's drug store who distributes and recommends Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain or tenderness in the side, aching of shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, vomiting, dropsy, etc. His Restorative Nervine cures headache, fits, etc.

Escape of Tenement House Inmates.

WOONSOCKET, Conn., April 26.—The wooden pin-truss bridge across the Blackstone River at St. Paul's street, a half century old, which has been a menace to the traveling public for some years, was burned early yesterday morning. The fire was of incendiary origin. The flames extended to the four-story tenement block owned by Peter Malone, which contained nearly thirty persons, Frank and Christopher Powell, across the river and aroused the inmates of Malone's buildings. There would have been great loss of life if the Powell brothers had not taken the cold swim they did.
