

Evening Herald.

VOL. VII.-NO. 104.

SHENANDOAH, PA., SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 1892.

ONE CENT.

A small "want" advertisement placed in the "Herald" will bring more answers to the advertiser than through any other paper circulated in the town. It is more generally read. One trial will convince you of this fact, for the simple reason that the "Herald" is read by all the people of the town.

A small "want" advertisement placed in the "Herald" will bring more answers to the advertiser than through any other paper circulated in the town. It is more generally read. One trial will convince you of this fact, for the simple reason that the "Herald" is read by all the people of the town.

L. J. WILKINSON'S.

Spring Dresses and Cloaks.

The newest arrivals in fine Dress Goods embrace all latest tints of tans and steels. Fine Cream Cashmere, Albatross, Henrietta, Surah and Lansdowne, suitable for graduating dresses, are here—a good assortment at reasonable prices.

We place on sale this week 300 pieces of White Goods at 64, 8, 9 and 10c per yard—so much more than half price. Our line of Laces and Embroideries contains many bargains never before equalled.

Spring Coats for children, misses and ladies—

In all grades—nothing but the newest makes at the well-known prices that make this department so popular—and not a single garment from last season. Every cloak is the very latest in style and color.

Infants' Cloaks—

In Cream, Cashmere and Tans, from $1.25 upwards. Infants' Caps in lace or silk at all prices. We especially request you to examine our large stock of Muslin Underwear, Gowns, Chemises, Skirts and Corset Covers; prices lower than actual cost of material—from 25c to $1.50.

CORSETS that will fit you without paying an extravagant price—1.99 to select from.

L. J. WILKINSON,

29 S. Main St., Shenandoah.

Girvin, Duncan and Wardley.

SPECIAL SALE.

SATURDAY, APRIL 30, '92.

Your only chance to secure a good flannel Summer Shirt at the extremely low price, 20c. Why pay 50c for one when you can buy one just as good for less than half price.

We also have a line of Boys' Waists for 25c.

Beautiful things in Glassware just received for this week's trade. We have the finest and cheapest line of glass sets, lemonade sets, berry sets, nut bowls, cracker jars, banana dishes, cake stands and on down to pepper salts and toothpick holders to be found in this or any other section of the country.

8 South Main Street.

Strictly Fresh Butter.

We receive to-day, direct from the best dairy section of the State, a shipment of Strictly Fresh Dairy Butter. Also, as usual, a shipment of our CHOICE CREAMERY BUTTER.

FRESH GARDEN SEEDS.

CHOICE NEW VARIETIES.

Bloater Mackerel—Large size, very fine.

No. 1 Mackerel—white and fat.

FOR SALE.

Two Cars No. 1 Timothy Hay.

One Car Fine Middlings.

One Car Patent Flour, Minnesota Wheat, $5 per barrel.

We have no better Flour to offer at any price.

Now is the time to buy

FLOOR, OIL CLOTH.

Notwithstanding there has been a sharp advance in prices, we make no change for the present.

We To-day Reduce the Price of a lot of

TAPESSRY BRUSSELS CARPETS

From 85c to 75c.

Also a few pieces of Body Brussels reduced to $1.00. We offer Bargains in Remnants of Moquette, Body and Tapestry Brussels at about one-half of regular prices. Very nice for mats and rugs. A special bargain in a few Remnants of Body Brussels, 5-8 yard in width, at 50c a yard. The regular price is $1.25 per yard.

AT KEITER'S

TURN ON THE LIGHT—THE PEOPLE WANT INFORMATION.

TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS!

TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS.

How is this? Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

The Joint Committee appointed by the meeting in Robbins' hall, several months ago, have been spending the people's money under an authority which has been declared illegal by the court. It is the duty of that committee to let the people know what has been done with the money. If this is not complied with the members of the committee will subject themselves to grave suspicion. There is no good excuse for surrounding this matter with mystery. The people have a right to demand a full report, and if the Borough Council is wise it will call upon the committee to make it without delay. Deliberate thought on the part of the uninitiated has failed to develop any clue that will lead to an understanding of how TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS or more could be spent in this manner already. That it was spent by the committee cannot be doubted, because the borough has paid it out. The tax-payers of the town want to know what it was spent for. One thing that is setting people talking is the method by which the last appropriation of $1,000 was made. Some of the Councilmen who were present at the meeting declare that they know nothing of it. How is this? Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

The Joint Committee appointed by the meeting in Robbins' hall, several months ago, have been spending the people's money under an authority which has been declared illegal by the court.

It is the duty of that committee to let the people know what has been done with the money.

If this is not complied with the members of the committee will subject themselves to grave suspicion.

There is no good excuse for surrounding this matter with mystery.

The people have a right to demand a full report, and if the Borough Council is wise it will call upon the committee to make it without delay.

Deliberate thought on the part of the uninitiated has failed to develop any clue that will lead to an understanding of how TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS or more could be spent in this manner already.

That it was spent by the committee cannot be doubted, because the borough has paid it out.

The tax-payers of the town want to know what it was spent for.

One thing that is setting people talking is the method by which the last appropriation of $1,000 was made.

Some of the Councilmen who were present at the meeting declare that they know nothing of it.

How is this? Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

Let the light be turned on for the tax-payers' satisfaction.

THE BOLD ACTIONS OF TWO TOWN YOUTHS

RESORT TO DESPERATE MEASURES TO SECURE DRINK.

REGULAR WILD WEST STYLE.

One Drew a Knife and Threatened to Slab a Little Girl Because She Would Not Serve Him—Window Smashing Follows.

POLICE CASES have not been frequent here, but the bartender and two young men of town named James Devine and Thomas McHale probably thought the wheels of justice might become rusty if they were not given some grit, so they undertook a piece of business that would do credit to a town like Croda, Col., or some other wild and stirring western mining place. Devine and McHale entered an East Centre street Polish saloon. Three or four men and two little girls were sitting there, but the bartender was absent. Devine demanded beer and when the little girls said he could not have any he drew out a pocket-knife with a long blade and said he would stab her if she did not comply with the demand at the same time McHale and one of the men were having a rough and tumble time of it. The man claimed that McHale tried to take a silver watch from his pocket. The other men then pounced upon Devine, took the knife from him, and piled him on top of McHale in the street. Devine regained his feet and threw a block of wood through one of the saloon windows. He and McHale disappeared. Yesterday Constable Phillips arrested the fellows on warrants and took them before Squire Shoemaker. McHale's folks refused to appear, or do anything for him, but relatives of Devine finally paid the fines and costs for both and they were discharged. They were lucky in getting off so easy.

WILL COUNCIL TAKE HEED?

Important Communication From the State Board of Health.

Chief Burgess Smith has received the following communication and says that if the physicians of town come across any cases of scarlet fever, or other contagious diseases, and notify him, he will make arrangements to have the cases quarantined:

State Board of Health, Executive Office, 1308 Pine St., Philadelphia, April 29, 1892.
To the Chief Burgess, Shenandoah, Pa.
DEAR SIR:—The S. S. "Dunsmuir," which arrived at the Port of New York April 28, 1892, had on board several cases of scarlet fever. Nineteen of her passengers, Hungarians and Italians by nationality, were detained for your town. It will therefore be of the interest of the public health that you should keep all passengers arriving at that date by rail steamer under close observation for a period of two weeks. Yours Respectfully,
BENJAMIN LEE, M. D., Sec'y State Board of Health.

PERSONAL.

G. W. Keiter returned to Bloomsburg to-day.

Mrs. O. A. Keim is home again from Dudley, N. J.

Constable Tush was made the father of another daughter to-day.

Masters Ehrhart and Shoemaker went on a fishing excursion this morning.

Mr. Scott, of the electric railway, located at Girardville, was in town yesterday.

"Dave" Llewellyn is getting praise from every one for putting the road bed of the electric railway in better condition.

Mr. Spanogle, of the firm of Spanogle & Yeager, of Lewisdown, visited town yesterday and inspected the electric road.

H. T. Hall, the enterprising young photographer, has gone to the city in search of more help. Success to the new gallery.

Mrs. John W. Evans, of West Line street, who met with a serious accident some weeks ago by a fall upon the ice, has sufficiently recovered to leave her bed.

Dr. M. S. Kistler, a graduate of '92 of one of the leading medical colleges of Philadelphia, was an attendant at the quarterly meeting of the Schuylkill Medical Society on Thursday. Dr. Kistler has decided to become a practitioner in town. He is a brother of Dr. J. S. Kistler.

Owing to the rush at my gallery I am compelled to engage more help, and I hope the people will not be disappointed by the delay heretofore. Hereafter all work will be finished promptly and in the highest style of the art.
H. T. HALL.

All kinds of Carpet Borders at C. D. Fricke's carpet store, No. 10 South Jardin street.
Keagy takes the lead. He is on the first floor. His motto is "Quality, not Quantity." Call and see him. 4-4-1f
Wall paper and window shades at cost, Portis', 21 N. Main street. 4-28-1f
[Additional local news on second page.]

Electric Running Time.

The electric cars now leave the corner of Main and Centre streets at 6 a. m. and leave at intervals of 45 minutes thereafter until 11 p. m. This schedule will be subject to a change from day to day, as the work of putting in the turnouts progresses. The miners will find the early morning cars convenient.

C. D. FRICKE
Manufacturer and Dealer in
Carpets, Oil Cloths AND WINDOW SHADES:
No. 10 S. Jardin Street.

A NEW COUNCIL.

Instituted Last Evening at Frackville by the Jr. O. U. A. M.

Our neighboring town up the hill was the scene of an unusual display of fire works, music and enthusiasm last evening. Frackville is noted for its extreme quietude, but the visiting members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. on this occasion awoke the citizens of that town to a realization of the fact that they came there for a display and they gave it. Previous to the institution a short parade was held, participated in by councils from Shenandoah, Mt. Carmel, Mahanoy City, Pottsville, Palo Alto and Binghamton. Fire works were displayed all along the line.

The new Council starts out with a membership of about sixty members, and is known as Frackville Council, No. 828 District Deputy C. H. Carl, of Mahanoy City, was the instituting officer. The members selected the following officers to serve for six months:

Junior Past Councilor—Samuel Burchill.
Councilor—David Evans.
Vice Councilor—George Richards.
Recording Secretary—William Millington.
Assistant Recording Secretary—William Trezise.
Conductor—George Trogea.
Warden—Ebeneser Davis.
Inner Guard—Edward Price.
Outer Guard—Henry Gottschall.
Treasurer—Samuel Burchill.
Financial Secretary—Irwin Hepler.
Trustees—Clinton Shugars, Victor Burchill and Adam Faust.

The new Council starts out under the most favorable auspices. State Vice Councilor, C. N. Raymond, was present and assisted in the instituting ceremonies. A banquet was tendered the visiting members and the citizens generally gave them a hearty greeting. The new Council was presented with a number of gifts by the various councils. William H. Dettrey, presenting, in a few well chosen words, handsome regalia in behalf of the Council from this town. Shenandoah, as usual, took the honors of the occasion, Company A being complimented for their fine exhibition of military tactics.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no payment required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by C. H. Hazenbuech.

At Work Again.
The P. & R. C. & I. Co.'s Shenandoah City, West Shenandoah and Robinson collieries resumed operations this morning, making their working days for this week four instead of three, as in the two weeks past. Indian Ridge and Turkey Run collieries remained idle. Kelsey Run colliery was also idle to-day, but this colliery made its four days by working on Thursday. No announcement has been made as to how the collieries will work next week, but it is understood the schedule will be a slight improvement on the past.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

They Pertain to "De Ate" and Their Methods.

Citizen A.—Who owns the town?
Citizen B.—"De Ate" members of the Borough Council.

C. A.—Who owns the members?
C. B.—General Stupidity and Major Spite-work.

C. A.—Who know all the law for governing the borough?
C. B.—"De Ate."

C. A.—Who is the leading genius of the opposition to progress?
C. B.—The builder of "palaces and halls of commerce."

C. A.—Who are running the borough into debt by useless schemes?
C. B.—"De Ate."

C. A.—What ails "De Ate"?
C. B.—They have got the injunction phobia.

C. A.—Does it cost much to have this disease?
C. B.—Yes. It has cost the borough nearly $2,000 already, or an average expenditure of $250 for each member, and the returns are not all in yet.

C. A.—Will "De Ate" make a report of their doings in the new water works project?
C. B.—Yes; when they get good and ready. They own the town and are running it to suit themselves, and they can suit their own convenience as to making a report.

C. A.—Has "De Ate" always been as conscientious in enforcing ordinances as they are at present?
C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

C. B.—Well, hardly. Their attention has been called publicly and privately to several ordinances which have not been enforced. The streets are not in a condition that they should be for a town like Shenandoah; the pavements, it is true, are man traps in many places, and Coal street has always been a split between a mine branch and a mud puddle. But "De Ate" are conscientious now enough to want that street made a city thoroughfare—at the expense of others.

MORE WATER LOANS.

Can the Borough Council Pay Out This Money.

The granting of $1,000 additional to the water committee has occasioned considerable talk in town. The money previously secured by this committee was given with an understanding that it was simply a loan conditional upon repayment from the funds the committee expected to realize from the sale of bonds, under the special election held eleven years ago. The court decided recently that nothing can be done under that special election and, of course, the security depended by the borough for the returns of these loans fell through. But in face of this, certain members of Council pay out $1,000 more. In the first place the Borough Council had no right to loan a cent to the joint committee, upon security or otherwise. In the second place the Borough Council had no right to give that committee a cent after the decision of the court and when people say that the Councilmen have put themselves in a box by their use of the public money on the water project they should not be laughed at, lest the laugh be on the other side. If this borough wants public water works the people of town must say so by means of a special election and if that election is carried in