"WELL, LET THE PEOPLE SPEAK," SAID COL. QUAY.

And Republicans of Pennsylvania Have Declared for the Junior Senator's Re-election.

A Thorough, Impartial Review of the Senatorial Canvass.

Twenty Counties Have Cordially and Emphatically Recorded Their Preference for the Beaver Statesman.

Not One Has Even Indorsed His Ambitious Opponent.

The Issue Brought Squarely Before the Party in the Popular Vote Taken at Republican Primaries and an Analysis of the Returns Shows That the Old Independent Strongholds Are Overwhelmingly in Favor of Senator Quay's Re-election.

"I have neither fear nor hesitancy in this matter. I want the people to speak. If they do not want me to go back to the senate, I have no desire to return."

Thus positively and frankly spoke Senator Quay, as he accepted the gage of battle thrown down by his opponents, when they made a call for the submission of the question of the election of a United States senator to succeed himself to the Republicans of certain counties in which they could show their greatest strength. The junior senator met the issue, and has won signal and complete triumph at every point in the very strongholds of his enemies.

Twenty counties have already declared warmly and cordially for his re-election. Not one has even in the mildest manner indorsed his competitor, John Dalzell. So thorough and decisive have been Senator Quay's victories that Mr. Dalzell has been urged by some of his best and most discreet friends to take this favorable opportunity to gracefully withdraw from the canvass.

"The People Have Spoken. I want the people to speak," said Senator Quay.

And the people have spoken. At the Republican primaries in nine counties—to wit, Armstrong, Snyder, Lawrence, Crawford, Erie, Lancaster, Butler, Mercer and Tioga—a popular vote has been taken upon the United States senatorship. Senator Quay has not only carried all of these counties, but he has carried them overwhelmingly. His smallest vote, in comparison with Mr. Dalzell's, has been considerably over 2 to 1. In 6 out of the 9 counties the vote has been over 3 to 1, in 4 out of the 9 it has been over 4 to 1; in 3 out of the 9 it has been over 5 to 1; in 2 out of the 9 it has been over 6 to 1, and in 1 out of the 9 it has been over 7 to 1.

Senator Quay's Big Majorities.

County	Quay	Dalzell
Armstrong	1,990	1,399
Snyder	1,608	286
Lawrence	1,793	1,399
Crawford	1,480	1,016
Erie	1,099	236
Lancaster	1,199	3,064
Butler	2,257	653
Mercer	2,296	494
Tioga	4,320	1,295
Total	36,673	10,056

It will be observed that the total vote cast for Senator Quay in the nine counties mentioned is almost four times as large as his opponent's total vote.

How the Precincts Went.

County	Quay	Dalzell
Armstrong	91	11
Snyder	26	3
Lawrence	30	3
Crawford	58	3
Erie	56	3
Lancaster	84	3
Butler	50	7
Mercer	59	9
Tioga	43	2
Total	489	52

Certain of Senator Quay's enemies, whose ignorance has been exceeded only by their malice, have sought to take the sting out of the crushing defeats with which their favorite, Mr. Dalzell, has met by alleging that the overwhelming majorities cast for Senator Quay were not popular verdicts, "only a few Republicans having gone to the polls at those early primaries." The following figures will show that an unusually heavy vote has been cast at these elections, a comparison being made with the vote cast for Mr. Boyer, the Republican candidate for state treasurer, in 1898—that being a fair off year test:

County	Senatorial vote, 1892.	Mr. Boyer's vote, 1898.
Armstrong	4,336	4,394
Snyder	1,566	1,223
Lawrence	4,123	2,907
Crawford	3,356	4,712
Erie	4,263	4,801
Lancaster	14,483	10,402
Butler	3,210	3,466
Mercer	3,290	3,653
Tioga	5,795	4,059
Total	66,781	59,193

It will be observed that the total vote polled in these nine counties for United States senator was 7,685 in excess of the vote cast for the Republican candidate for state treasurer in 1898. Can anything be more truly representative than this, or more indicative of genuine public opinion, naturally ask friends of Senator Quay.

It has fairly been declared to be an insult to the people to insinuate that the expression of popular sentiment in Senator Quay's behalf has been the work of what the Dalzell boomers choose to denominate "the machine." The people—the Republican masses—have spoken. There is no getting back of that.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Independent Strongholds for Quay.

Again, it has been alleged by organs whose whole campaign against the junior senator, from beginning to end, has been founded upon lies and misrepresentations—that the nine counties which have voted are "boss ridden" or "Quay counties," and that the "independent" or "Dalzell counties" will vote after awhile. To prove the absurdity of this allegation it is simply necessary to look at the vote cast in these counties in 1892 for Hon. John Stewart, the Independent Republican candidate for governor. The following table exhibits the figures, to wit:

STEWART, 1892.

Armstrong	185	Snyder	184
Lawrence	594	Crawford	1,539
Erie	575	Lancaster	2,255
Butler	612	Mercer	386
Tioga	2,211
Total	6,512

It will be observed that the total Independent Republican vote in 1892 in the nine counties in question was 8,683—an average of 965 to a county; whereas the total Stewart vote in 1892 in the sixty-five counties outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny was 31,025—an average of only 477 to a county. In other words, the nine counties which have declared overwhelmingly for Quay were leading Independent counties in 1892. Indeed, Lancaster, Tioga and Crawford are three of the four counties, outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny, which gave Stewart, the Independent candidate for governor in 1892, his highest vote.

In addition to the nine counties in question, eleven others, although they have not taken a formal popular vote at the primaries, have cordially indorsed Senator Quay's public and party record.

While Union county did not take an authorized vote at its primaries on March 9, nevertheless a large number of Republicans expressed their preference on the United States senatorship, and the vote for Senator Quay was considerably larger than that for Mr. Dalzell.

Eleven Other Counties in Line.

Other counties have spoken in no less emphatic and unequivocal terms through the medium of their county conventions, made up of delegates fresh from the people.

Republican conventions of Clarion, Clearfield, Warren, Monroe, Luzerne, Schuylkill, Lycoming, Somerset, Snyder and Northumberland counties, and the Republican county committee of Fayette, have adopted ringing resolutions indorsing Senator Quay for re-election, and denouncing in vigorous language the partisan attacks upon him. Other counties, it is understood, are preparing to speak in no less unequivocal tones, and in full and complete accord with these sentiments.

The action of the Republican state convention at Harrisburg, on the 30th ult., in adopting without a dissenting voice a resolution which declares that "the eminent public and party services of Matthew Stanley Quay entitle him to the thanks and gratitude of the Republicans of Pennsylvania," was a crushing rebuke to those who have been misrepresenting the sentiment of the Republicans of this commonwealth.

WILHELM'S LATEST

He Honors the Sentry Who Killed Citizen Brandt.

STRANGE SCENE AT A BANQUET.

The Kaiser Pledged the Slayer's Health and Praised His Act.

Brandt Was Killed in Cold Blood, and There Is Great Indignation at the Emperor's Course—Savage Comments By the Press.—The Sentry Also Publicly Commended—Trouble Brewing in the Reichstag.

BREITENBURG, May 11.—Several newspapers publish the details of a remarkable scene at the barracks of the Emperor Francis Joseph regiment last Saturday night when Emperor William was entertained at a banquet in the officers' casino, and comment upon it severely. The Emperor drank freely and spoke to his neighbors of the necessity of a soldier's forgetting during his service that he had any duties except those to his war-lord and country. Finally the Emperor called to a private at the entrance:

"Call in Lueck, I have something to say to him."
To most of the officers the words were a complete surprise, as Lueck is the sentry who killed one citizen and severely wounded another before the barracks in the Wrangelstrasse six weeks ago. The case had been investigated and Lueck, at the Emperor's instance, had been promoted to lance corporal.

Even among military men the opinion prevailed that the affair should be dropped out of sight as soon as possible, for the shooting and promotion caused a storm of indignation throughout the Empire, and several deputies are known to be ready to raise another storm in the Reichstag on the day when that body reassembles. In the pause which followed the call for Lueck, the Emperor explained that he was about to reward the lance corporal for faithfulness to duty, and wished all the officers present to show exceptional respect for the young man.

When Lueck entered the officers and guests followed the Emperor in rising, and Lueck was ordered to stand facing his sovereign. The Emperor then took his seat, and, while the rest stood, addressed Lueck thus:

"Lueck, you are a splendid soldier. You maintained, as a sentry of the Third Regiment of the Grenadiers in the Wrangelstrasse, the best traditions of my army, its discipline and honor. I hope that every soldier will follow your example on similar occasions, and will have the same clear understanding of his duties toward me, my army and himself."

"Lueck, you are an honor to your regiment, and your merit shall not go unrewarded."

The Emperor ordered that a glass of wine be given to Lueck and all present, under the command of the Emperor, drank to Lueck's health. The Emperor then had fetched his portrait, bearing his autograph, and gave it to Lueck. The lance corporal blushed and saluted, and was then allowed to retire. This astounding scene was kept secret, as the opinion of all present, even of those sympathizing with the Emperor's sentiments, was that this young war lord had done an exceedingly unpolitic act and that the country was hardly in a condition to discuss it calmly.

The Emperor, however, was apparently determined to let his people know his sentiments, for at the parade on the Tempelhofer Feld he unexpectedly appeared on horseback, rode up before Lueck's regiment and called out the young man. He then repeated his commendation of Saturday night, expressed the hope that Lueck's courages would prove as faithful to their soldierly duties as had the lance corporal, and closed by nominating Lueck for exemption.

The investigation of the case has shown that Lueck killed his man in cold blood. The press is now almost unanimous in demanding that, despite the Emperor's private opinions as voiced in the officers' casino and the Tempelhofer Feld, the calls of all civilian Germany for such fatal abuses be heard by the government.

The Reichstag has already resolved unanimously that some remedy must be granted for the present abuse of power by sentries in great cities. As soon as the sittings are resumed the case of Brandt will be made the basis of an appeal to the government to put this resolution in the form of a bill.

Supposed to Have Been Drowned.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., May 11.—It is believed that Charles Fletcher and A. M. Robbins, two young men of Saratoga Lake, have met their death by drowning. They started on a fishing tour on Sand Lake, and have not returned. Yesterday their boat was found bottom side up, and their coats and hats were found floating a short time after. Search is being made for the bodies.

Decision of Granite Manufacturers.

CONCORD, N. H., May 11.—At a meeting attended by 24 local granite manufacturers the resolutions recently adopted by the New England Manufacturers' Association at Boston were unanimously approved, and it was voted to shut down work on next Saturday night unless, in the meantime, the men agree to a new bill of prices to terminate January 1st next.

Arrest of Anarchists.

LANEK, May 11.—The Belgian authorities are still actively engaged in arresting Anarchists. A man named Foulie, arrested yesterday, is believed to have been the author of the recent explosion. He is also accused of robbery.

Neglect Indicted for Assault.

LONGFORD, May 11.—The Hon. Patrick Geville Nugent has been indicted and held for trial in the sum of $1,000, on the charge of having assaulted Miss Marion Price in a railway carriage between Brighton and London.

Clerk Howard Pleads Not Guilty.

BOSTON, May 11.—Alfred A. Howard, the absconding clerk of Ingalls & Kendrick, of this city, who was arrested in New York, when arraigned in court charged with forgery, pleaded not guilty and was held for trial.

or powder monkey, on board the Redoubtable, from which vessel Nelson is said to have received his death wound. Upon the surrender of his ship to the English fleet he was removed as a prisoner of war to England, where he remained for fourteen years. An additional interest centers round this old and hardy gentleman, for not only is he an attractive hero to the modern Englishman in linking this age with the historic past, but in France he is none the less renowned in being the doyen of the order of the Legion d'Honneur. M. Cartigny is extremely proud, not only of his record but of his medals, and upon the celebration of his centenary last year was an object of much interest to the French people. It is to be hoped that the existence of this hero, though unknown to the English visitors at Hyeres, may be made known to the queen, and that she may be permitted, with her customary kindness of disposition, to honor the French people by paying a visit to the doyen of the Legion d'Honneur and at the same time to form a link with an interesting historic event.

BRAZIL'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Floriano Peixoto, the Discreet Successor of the Hoththeaded Fonseca.

The new president of Brazil, Floriano Peixoto, is a man differing radically in character from the first chief executive of the new republic, and under his rule the chaotic state of the various disaffected provinces has been reduced to order and the government is beginning to redress their grievances.

Fonseca was a man lacking in every respect those attributes of statesmanship and the leadership necessary to direct the affairs of a nation. He was vain, arrogant and obstinate, and at heart a royalist, although posing as a republican. Peixoto is not only a liberal thinker, and a man of broad culture, but he is a statesman as well, and won the confidence of the Brazilian nation by a public career as brilliant as it has been honest and patriotic.

Warning Out a Creditor.

In Ardenbrook county, Me., is a man who has been in jail for nearly four years because he refused to pay a debt which he might have settled easily. He declared that he wouldn't pay, and that if sent to jail he could stand it as long as his creditor could, the latter being obliged to pay the prisoner's board. The debtor was to be liberated soon, he having promised to pay his bills more promptly in the future, but the bill for which he was incarcerated will never be paid. The prisoner was a soldier and known as a "stuffy" man.
