Important Decision—Guldin and Comrey Win Their Suit—Other Interesting News.

Before the court yesterday a petition of bondholders of Minersville Coal Company, praying for the appointment of Frank Werner as trustee was presented, vice Jacob Lawrence, deceased. The P. & R. owns $15,000 worth of the bonds, and the rest of the petitioners own bonds which, with the P. & R., amount to $41,000. The court granted the prayer of the petitioners. The bonds were issued when the company built the Minersville furnace and which has since been torn down.

BONDS APPROVED.

A petition for the sale of the real estate of Henry Mudgeburg, deceased, was also filed yesterday, and an order granted for the same. Deceased fell from a scaffold in Ashland, and received injuries from the effects of which he died. He left a widow and one child. A bond in the sum of $3,000 was approved. The administrator is Fred Gronz.

The bond of W. J. Dailey, treasurer of the borough of Girardville, in $15,000, with Margaret Dooley, B. McCabe, Pat. McGinn, Jas. Donahoe, P. F. Haley, Mary Haley, Michael Horan, was approved.

Bond of Henry Miller, treasurer of East Union, in $5,000, with John A. Bauck and J. C. Richenderfer, was approved.

DECISION REVERSED.

The case of Coroner Guldin and Sheriff Comrey, argued at the February term of Supreme Court, was decided finally by that body. Both cases are reversed and the facts are as follows:

These two cases involved the question of the fees under the act of 1868. The constitution provides that all counties having over 150,000 population should be classified and all officials and their deputies shall be paid by salaries. The constitution also provides that neither the term nor the emoluments of an officer shall be increased or diminished during his term of office. In January, 1891, it was ascertained that the population of Schuylkill county was 154,000, or at least so certified by Superintendent Porter, of the Census Bureau.

Guldin had served but one year in office when it was ascertained as to the census. The Commissioners, by and under instructions of their solicitor, refused to account under the fee bill of '68. Under the fee bill of '68 the Coroner's office is one of the best paying offices in the county. Under the act of 1876 he is paid but $500 per year. Guldin brought suit for his pay under the fee bill of '68. The decision of the court below in a written opinion by Judge Pershing, decided against Guldin, and for the county. This meant a loss of $5,000 to $7,000 for the last two years of his term. Sheriff Comrey who had served two years of his term, refused to come under the act of 1876, and the county proceeded by mandamus to compel him to come under the act. Both cases were bitterly fought in the court below and the court following the decision made in the Guldin case, issued a mandamus against Comrey. Comrey and Guldin carried their cases to the Supreme Court.

The matter became a question of state importance and county officials in other counties asked to be permitted to be heard in the Comrey and Guldin cases. This led to George W. Johnson, leader of the Philadelphia Bar, and Henry M. Palmer, leader of the Wilkes-Barre Bar, taking part in the argument in the Supreme Court. This decision affects District Attorney Koch also.

RATHER BE BELIEVED.

C. E. Breckons, Esq., informed the court yesterday that one of the murderers of Officer Merget had secured the services of Messrs. J. W. Whitehouse and D. C. Honning, and as the three prisoners were jointly indicted, he was of the opinion that himself and Fergus G. Farquhar, Esq., who had been appointed by court, should be relieved of the task of defending them. Judge Pershing said he would give the matter his attention and made no order.

JURYMAN SENT TO JAIL.

Henry Johnson, of Girardville, will hardly be placed in the jury wheel again. Yesterday morning during court he made considerable noise by loud talking and big blowing in general. Judge Bechtel commanded him to be brought before him. He was so full that it was with difficulty that he made his way before his honor. "Where did you get the whiskey?" was asked him by the judge. He managed to mumble something about not getting any whiskey at all, but it was plainly evident that his tongue had become so thick from the effects of it that he was unable to be understood intelligently, and his honor directed the sheriff to give him a cell in Fort Martin.

PASSING OF THE WHITEFISH.

The Most Delicate of Fresh Water Fish Disappearing Through Illegal Netting. "Year after year, and for many years, the fish commissions of all the states bordering on the great lakes have freely stocked these waters with whitefish, and yet year by year the catch of whitefish diminishes," said a prominent buyer and shipper of lake fish. "Where do the whitefish go? It isn't a difficult question to answer. There is no doubt that the efforts of the commissions in stocking the lake with whitefish are eminently successful, as far as the experiments themselves are concerned. The young fish thrive and grow even beyond the expectations of fish culturists. But the experiments with whitefish propagation have also proved that whitefish are exceptionally tender. They hug closely the shores of the lakes, unlike most of the fishes of the lakes. The water there is shallow and warm. This important fact in the nature of whitefish was known to the native fishermen long before the scientists began to investigate. These shallow reaches of the lakes have been for years unnumbered, and are still level with the trap nets that the observant fishermen uses. These nets, like the eel weirs of the rivers, are not half-grown whitefish as to size, and the half-grown whitefish are caught by them in as great numbers as the full-grown fish are.

"The half-grown whitefish are not marketable, but that does not deter the fisherman in taking them. They are thrown back into the lake, but being dead, that does not help them any. Every mile of shore between Buffalo and Chicago, one might truly say, has its thousands and thousands of young whitefish destroyed in this way every year. That is the reason why the supply of this most delicate of fresh water food fishes is diminishing instead of increasing every year. In spite of the costly annual restocking of the lakes. There is law enough to prevent this wanton destruction of whitefish, but if it is not enforced better in the future than it is now, people will ask in vain at the markets for whitefish when the twentieth century comes in."—N. Y. Sun.

—Venerable Pittsburgher (shivering)—"Mary, be sparing of the natural gas and the coal." Mary—"Shure, there's plenty more where they kin from." Venerable Pittsburgher—"You're wrong. Scientists say that in a few thousand years the coal will be gone and the gas will go in a few years. And Camille Flammarion says the sun will go out in less than a hundred thousand years."—Pittsburgh Bulletin.

—Mr. Feeder—"This vest wants to be a little larger around the waist, Schneider." Schneider—"But it fits you perfectly now, sir." Mr. Feeder—"I know it fits all right now, but I am ordering this suit to wear at dinners!"
