Coming Nearer Home He Refers to the Proposed New School Building—A Few Timely and Pertinent Comments.

SHENANDOAH will take great pride in at least one of the exhibits at the World's fair in Chicago next year. Mrs. Hannah Jenkins, nee Tempest, of St. Clair, will have her famous painting "Still Life" on exhibition in the art gallery at the fair. It has been accepted by the committee. The picture took one of the first prizes at the Salon in Paris two years ago. Mrs. Jenkins' home is in St. Clair, but she maintains a studio in Philadelphia. She was at one time a resident of this town and her relatives still reside here. Policeman Tempest is her brother.

DATE CANCELLED.

Marie Prescott Does Not Play to Low Prices.

The following letter to the Miners' Journal speaks for itself:
EDITOR JOURNAL—Dear Sir: A gentleman called on me at this place showing me an article in the Miners' Journal to the effect that Miss Marie Prescott would play in Girardville on Saturday night at cheap prices. Mr. Becker had no right to announce prices less than $1.00, etc., the same scale of prices as in your city, which I had personally arranged with him, consequently I have cancelled the engagement there. Miss Prescott never plays at cheap prices. This act on the part of Mr. Becker necessitated the loss of one night to Miss Prescott as she refuses to play in Girardville under this violation of our agreement.
Yours respectfully,
E. J. SCOTT,
Bus. Mgr. for Marie Prescott.

poration, and not as the agency of the taxpayers. If a man has a desk for sale he will hesitate to ask an individual a fair price for it, but if he finds out the School Board is likely to buy it he will double or treble the price without blushing. Strange, isn't it?

Even some of our merchants fail to realize sometimes that what the borough buys is paid for by the taxpayers, and not from some mysterious inexhaustible fund. When certain people go into a place to buy certain articles it is a common thing to hear the storekeeper ask, "Is it for yourself, or for the borough?" Now, as to whether the intended ownership of the article makes any difference in the price I do not know, nor do I intend to say it does. I simply refer to the expression as an odd one.

Speaking of borough expenses reminds me that the coming special election on the proposed new water works question is going to make quite a leak in the borough treasury. The bills for advertising and printing promise to exceed $500. Add this to the $2,000 already spent by the joint committee and put the total to the $25,000 ask for, and there you are already—$27,000. I am not counting what the borough will have to pay the water company for the judgment and costs, and the money that will have to be paid for the first supply pending the completion of the works, nor am I figuring on a basis that more than $25,000 may be required for the works.

GLEANNINGS BY THE TOWN REPORTERS.

WHAT THEY SEE AND HEAR ON THEIR ROUNDS.

A RENDEZVOUS IS CONDEMNED

Ladies and Young Men Make Complaint to the Authorities About a Centre Street Place.

COMPLAINT is made that ladies and girls cannot pass along West Centre street, between Jardin street and Pear alley, without being insulted. The source of the trouble is the shanty on the south side of the street in which a Pole conducts a peanut and candy business. Young Polish fellows congregate there every evening. Some months ago complaints were made against the place and there was a change for the better, but the spirit of reform seems to have flown lately, as the complaints are renewed with more vigor than before. Last night two girls passed the place and were so grossly insulted that they appealed to Constable Tosh. Upon the approach of the officer the two young men complained of ran away and got beyond the reach of the officer. If the proprietor of the place does not put a stop to the evil he will get himself into trouble. If he persists in harboring the parties against whom the complaints are made he must abide the consequences. As the matter stands at present the police are powerless to act in the absence of a warrant issued upon the instance of some of the aggrieved parties.

HERE AND THERE.

Interesting Items Concerning Different Sections of the Region.
"On a ride to Hazleton a few days ago with Charles R. Deacon, the Reading press agent, the Kodak man was much impressed with the great throngs of people who were at the stations all along the line north of Penn Haven Junction. At the Lumber Yard were several hundred backwoodsmen, and they cheered lustily. At Waverly, where Mr. Lovatt's big silk mill is located, a thousand people stood on the station platform in a rain storm. At another point the whole town seemed massed about the depot, and when Hazleton was reached a crowd was in line that reached from one depot to the other. Mr. Deacon was as mystified as the Kodak man. But light was to-day thrown on the subject by the following kind information, given by a newspaper man from up the valley, who writes: "Was it on a Saturday afternoon train? If so, then it is easily explained. Then it is that everybody flocks to the depots to see the trains roll by. It's excitement for them. It's more fun to them than a dog fight or a murder. It's let her go Gallagher from noon to Saturday night at these depots."—Bethlehem Times.

The world do move. Martin Woodward, a Bloomsburg constable, has actually returned a hotel keeper for selling liquor to habitual drunkards and other violations of the law. A constable like that would make a better salary in a dime museum than he could as constable. * * * The firemen are hard at work preparing for the state convention. As Hazleton people never do things by halves the Hazleton firemen can be depended upon to have everything in readiness. * * * a Hungarian who was arrested and placed in the lockup on Saturday night has gone crazy from confinement. It is no wonder. One night with the bugs and cockroaches in that station house is enough to make any man crazy. This man defrauded a landlord and was put in the lockup until he raised money to settle. The councils should prevent the constables from using the station house for a jail. Wilkes-Barre is the place to take prisoners of that kind.—Hazleton Sentinel.

OBITUARY.

JOHN H. EVANS.
John H. Evans, the well known tunnel contractor of town, died at his residence, 36 East Centre street, at half past five o'clock this morning. He had been ill for several weeks. He first had an attack of pneumonia. About five weeks ago he had a relapse. Although Mr. Evans had been very ill of late his death was a sudden shock to the family. The physician in attendance attributed the death to bronchitis and congestion of the liver and left lung. Mr. Evans was nearing his 50th year. He was born in Carnarvonshire, North Wales, and came to this country 29 years ago, and had been a resident of town for 17 years.

He was a member of the American True Ivoryites, Shenandoah Lodge, No. 501, and Shenandoah Valley Encampment, No. 258, I. O. O. F., and president of the Citizens' Building and Loan Association. The funeral will take place on Sunday, 22nd inst., at 3 p. m. Interment in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Twenty Years' Experience.
C. D. Fredricks, the well-known photographer, 770 Broadway, New York, says: "I have been using Alcock's Porous Plasters for 20 years, and found them one of the best of family medicines. Briefly summing up my experience, I say that when placed on the small of the back Alcock's Plasters fill the body with nervous energy, and thus cure fatigue, brain exhaustion, debility and kidney difficulties. For women and children I have found them invaluable. They never irritate the skin or cause the slightest pain, but cure sore throat, coughs, colds, pains in side, back or chest, indigestion and bowel complaints."
