ABOUT THE LITHUANIANS.

REASONS GIVEN WHY THEY ARE LEAVING RUSSIA.

NUMBER NOW IN THIS COUNTRY

An Educated Man of That Nationality Writes Intelligently on the Subject, Giving Causes for Their Troubles.

THE causes of trouble among the Lithuanians in this country is being the subject of much comment among the more intelligent portion of this class of citizens. A Plymouth paper contains an interesting article on the subject. The writer of it, Mr. Audzulis, finds that the cause most productive of evil is the teachings and conduct of the Lithuanian priests, and as a proof he adduces many instances. I do not think that the writer was far wrong in that matter. Indeed it would be difficult to find anywhere else in the world as much ignorance and shabbiness, as is found in the ranks of the Lithuanian clergy. No wonder if the Lithuanians try to oppose and resist the impertinence of their spiritual ministers.

There are, as I said, other things which act in the same direction on the minds of the common, uneducated men. Not all Lithuanians in this country immigrated recently. There are among them men who have lived in the United States for at least a score of years. Many of these "Americans"—as they call themselves—are business men; some run grocery stores, others are saloon keepers, only a few of them devote themselves to other occupations. A saloon or grocery can be run without much intelligence and gives to the business man a superiority among the Lithuanian workmen, especially among the "green-horns."

How is it about the Lithuanian working people? The Lithuanian is a robust man, of a well built constitution, laborious and active. If there were better leaders and instructors of the masses the Lithuanian population would rise in a short time to a high standard. If we compare the Lithuanians with the Poles and Ruthenians, I think we find the Lithuanians better fitted with the gifts of nature.

The immigration of Lithuanians is quite proportional with the increase of the Russian tyranny in their native country. In 1884 there were about 25,000 Lithuanians in this country; in 1888 their number had increased to 100,000, whereas in 1892 there are over 200,000 in the United States. The Russian government has interdicted the Lithuanian print. Books and papers imported from abroad are confiscated; organizations and meetings are interdicted. There are no Lithuanian elementary schools. The Lithuanian learn to read and write from his parents and from beggars who are at the same time teachers of the youth and distributors of news among the persecuted Lithuanians. More freely breathe the Lithuanians under the German sway. There they establish societies, print their prayer books, their almanacs, their essays on agriculture and science, their papers, etc. Unfortunately there are only 500,000 of Lithuanians who can make use of the more tolerable German institutions.

The first Lithuanian paper in this country was published in 1879 in New York; another appeared in 1887, under the name of Union; in 1885 came out the Lithuanian Voice; in 1886 was established the Concord at Plymouth, Pa.; in 1889 appeared the very dark Sun, at Mahanoy City, Pa.; in 1891 in New York City was issued the short-lived Gazette. These newspapers represented and do represent different parties; the clergy has its point d'appui in the Sun and in the Concord, whereas the organ of the progressive party of the Lithuanians was for a long time the Voice; the Concord in the meantime changed its colors seven times; now it was an ultra-Catholic paper, now a liberal, now an atheistic, until at last the priests succeeded in bringing the publisher of the paper, Mr. Paukatis, of Plymouth, to the interests of the Catholic clergy. In consequence of such unpromising steps the progressive party, which is represented by the Lithuanian Society of Science and Art, has been compelled to establish an organ of their own, which is going to appear about the first day of July.

When one paper makes any good device for the benefit of the people the other denounces it in a most imprudent manner; if one editor or some educated man creates a society to carry on commerce, the opposing paperman blackmails not only the society, but the initiation of it; if one publisher issues a story book another criticizes it in a most objectionable way, and so it goes on. There is no action without a reaction. Why is it? you may ask. Because the publishers themselves do not care—with few exceptions—for the interests of Lithuanian working classes; because they are themselves men without education who establish papers for their own honor and business increase.

A LITHUANIAN. AN EXACT COPY.

The Proposition Submitted to Council by the Old Water Company.

Many citizens have approached the officials of the Shenandoah Water and Gas Company, asking them why their company does not make some proposition to the Borough Council looking to the settlement of the existing trouble. Under these circumstances it is deemed wise to republish, for the benefit of those of our citizens who may not have read it, the proposition submitted by the old water company. The following is an exact copy as presented by the company to the Borough Council:

SHENANDOAH, PA., MAY 9, 1892.

To the President and Members of the Borough Council:

We hereby reassure you and the public at large that our offer heretofore made was given in good faith. We hereby repeat the proposition, viz: That the Water Company will cancel the judgment obtained in the suit against the Borough, pay the costs of suit and waive its right to claim for water supplied the Borough for fire purposes for the past two years, and give the Borough free water for fire protection; provided, the Borough abandons the proposed new water works, and that an agreement to that effect be entered into. The foregoing statement having been read and discussed, it was unanimously adopted by the Directors of said company.

BOROUGH COUNCIL'S SHORT SESSION.

NO BUSINESS OF IMPORTANCE TRANSACTED.

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF THE TOWN

The Right of Way Was Granted the Heat and Power Company to Lay Steam Pipes in the Town.

THE regular meeting of the Borough Council was held Thursday evening. It was very near nine o'clock when a sufficient number of Councilmen appeared to make a quorum, and those present were Messrs. McGuire, Cookley, Stout, James, Gable, Besteridge, Lamb and Gallagher.

H. A. Swain was present, and as a representative of the Shenandoah Heat and Power Company, asked Council to grant the company the privilege of laying steam pipes through certain streets in town. The request of the company was granted over the following streets, commencing at the corner of Lloyd and Bowers streets, over Plum alley to Centre, up Centre to Main, one square south and two squares north on Main.

Mr. Gable reported that the exonerated papers of ex-Tax Collector Titman, which were reported as lost, had been found.

The president made the following appointments from the fire departments: Chief Marshal, Edward Barley, Phoenix Company; First Assistant, Charles Hoffman, Hook & Ladder Company; Second Assistant, James Williams, Columbia Hose Company.

The safety committee consists of T. W. Powell, Alfred Ebyans and Adam Stufferberger, Columbia; Milton Troutman, John Dillinsnyder and James Mader, Rescue; William Mitchell, Thomas and James Bradley, Phoenix.

An invitation was received from Watkin Waters Post, G. A. R., of town, to participate in the parade on Decoration Day, which was accepted.

After deciding to make an official tour of the town immediately after the parade on 30th inst., Council adjourned.

Farewell Party.

Hugh O'Hara, was tendered a farewell party last evening in Ferguson's front hall, by a number of his intimate friends. Mr. O'Hara left this morning for Omaha, Nebraska, at which place he will make his future home. Dancing and other amusements were indulged in by the party, after which refreshments were served. Among those present from out of town were the following: John Cleary, and sister, Wm. Penn; James Monaghan, Girardville; Patrick Mahoney, Gilberton, and Miss Julia Furlow, Colorado.

They Visit Ringtown.

The members of the High School Alumni drove to Ringtown last evening and had a most enjoyable time. They were guests at the Mansion House, and after dancing and indulging in other amusements, all sat down to well-spread tables prepared for them by the proprietor of the hotel. They returned home well pleased with their visit. The only thing that occurred to mar the pleasure of the party occurred on the way home, when an accident happened to one of the vehicles.

POST VISITATION.

The Veterans of the Late War Meet Last Night.

Last evening Watkin Waters Post, No. 145, Grand Army of the Republic, had its regular yearly inspection, the inspection officer being Capt. C. A. Barnard, of Ashland. He was accompanied by a large delegation of Joe Hooker Post of that place. Severn Post, No. 110, of Mahanoy City, also had a large delegation present which, with the local members, filled the large hall. Col. J. K. Swoyer, of Post No. 1, Philadelphia, Department Junior Vice Commander, came up from the city of Brotherly Love and added to the interest of the occasion.

The inspection being over, the members listened to some good advice given them by Comrades Barnard, Swoyer, DeSilla and others. After the meeting the visiting members mingled with our town veterans and had a jovial good time, renewing old acquaintances and fighting their battles over again.

When old veterans get together they forget their infirmities and enjoy themselves like school boys on vacation.

Beware of Her.

A lady wearing a benignant smile and Philadelphia clothes, was in Pottsville the other day. She pretends to represent a Philadelphia dry goods house and was getting up a list of subscribers—or purchasers—for the house. It cost but $1.00 to join this wonderful charity organization which would sell goods at half price to these select and good-looking ladies. It wasn't a free-for-all either. Only the elite, two and a half dozen in number, would be permitted to join this wonderful society for the dissemination of cheap goods among the select masses. It is unknown the number who joined, but the ladies are still waiting to receive certificates of stock. The lady with the benignant smile drew the dollar before she left.

Paralytic Stroke.

Jacob Shelly, an aged veteran of the civil war, residing with his son-in-law, Morgan Stettler, on West street, received a paralytic stroke, which deprived him of his vocal functions for some time. This is the second time Mr. Shelly has been attacked in this manner. He was somewhat improved last evening, his speech returning to him.
