THE MURDER OF TOBIN

SLAYER KELLY ALMOST LYNCHED.

The Evidence at the Coroner's Inquest Shows that Tobin Was Trying to Save Kelly's Wife From a Beating—The Body Was Left All Night in a Field.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 25.—The murder in the town of Amenia, Dutchess county, Monday night has caused great excitement. The murderer is Patrick Kelly and the victim was James Tobin, a farm hand, 25 years old. Kelly lives about a mile from the village, where he sells cider.

Tobin called at his house and Kelly refused to admit him. Tobin started to climb through the window, when Kelly shot him in the head, the bullet passing clear through. Death was instantaneous.

Kelly then carried the body to a field close by and left it there until yesterday, when it was found. Kelly was at once suspected, and for a time it was feared that Tobin's friends would lynch the murderer. Coroner Wilber took charge of the remains and ordered the detention of Kelly.

The evidence adduced thus far at the inquest shows that the victim thought Kelley was murdering his wife, and was hurrying to her aid when killed. District Attorney Hufent, of this city, has been notified, and he is only awaiting the action of the coroner's jury before demanding Kelly's indictment.

The resort at which the tragedy occurred is an unsavory one, and has many times been the scene of drunkeness and debauchery.

Coroner Wilbur, of Pine Plains, said this morning: "Tobin left his employer's place last Sunday morning for church. He was next heard of at Kelly's place, with Edward McEnroe. Kelly's wife, who was upstairs, called out that she was locked up and that her husband was striking her. Tobin helped her out of the window, but she went back and was again locked up.

"Before this McEnroe had smashed two windows. Kelly shot at him, hitting him in the shoulder, but the wound was not fatal. Tobin then kicked the door, broke in another window, and shouted that he would get the woman out. As he started to get in the window Kelly shot at him, blowing out both of his eyes and killing him instantly. Then he made his wife hold a light while he dragged Tobin's body forty yards to a brook. Mrs. Kelly swears that he threatened to kill her if she disobeyed. William Pitcher and wife and Robert Mitchell were near and Pitcher was within fifty feet before the shooting. He heard the conversation, then the shot, saw Tobin's body fall out of the window and saw it dragged away. He did not go back to Kelly's.

"No one was notified of the occurrence until yesterday. Kelly has been arrested on a warrant issued by Justice Barrett, by direction of Coroner Wilbur, and is in charge of on officer. Three witnesses were examined yesterday—Pitcher, his wife and Mrs. Kelly. The inquest will go on to-day.

"Tobin was a single man, with no relatives in this country, and was about 30 years old. Kelly is about 60. He was within but a few feet of Tobin when he shot him, and a few minutes before had given them all some cider in the yard."

NEW JERSEY A DOUBTFUL STATE.

Sixty Thousand New Voters Who Will Cast a Ballot Next Fall.

TRENTON, N. J., May 25. — The last bulletin of the Census Department gives some statistics regarding the voting population of New Jersey, which, in view of the Presidential election, is of more than ordinary interest. The enumeration made in 1890 of males 21 years of age and over shows the number to be 413,530, as against 300,635 of 1880, an increase in 10 years of 112,895, or 37.55 per cent. The total number of males, including those who had taken out first papers in 1890, eligible at the fall election, is 360,842.

At the last Presidential election 303,741 votes were cast, which gave the Democratic ticket a plurality of 5,149. If the census figures are correct, there will be nearly 60,000 new voters next fall, whose politics are unknown. This new element adds to the uncertainty as to the result of the fall election, and makes New Jersey an exceedingly doubtful State.

For U. S. Senator From Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, May 25.—The Legislature, both houses acting separately, voted for United States Senator yesterday. The vote stood: Ex-Senator B. F. Jones 44, Senator R. D. Gibson 26, T. S. Adams, Secretary of State, 26, Congressman N. W. Blanchard 11, Charles Bourgies (colored), Republican, 4. Adams is president of the Farmers' Alliance, and is the candidate of the Alliance for Senator, and will run on the Ocala platform. His strength was a surprise, and the indications are that the fight will be between Gibson and Adams. Jones is thought to have polled his entire strength. It will take 68 votes to elect.

Chief Arthur Re-elected.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 25.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers yesterday re-elected Grand Chief Arthur to serve for the ensuing two years. Grand Assistant Engineer A. D. Youngston was re-elected. Grand Chief Arthur has been given leave of absence to visit his old home, in Scotland.
