The question was then put and the majority was unanimously adopted amid.

This example was followed by those who had intended to satagonize the Utah report on the Mormon issue. Mr. Cuilom, after consultation with other friends, agreed not to delay nominations by raising a discussion on this question.

The Chairman asked Mr. Cannon of

A resolution was offered with the request that it be read. There was objection. Then the Chairman impressively announced that the next order of business was the presentation of for the nomination for President. A mighty cheer went up from the Convention.

The Chairman announced that it had been the custom in past years to call the roll for the presentation of candidates. He asked whether the convention wished this. Their were mingled cries of "yes" and "no" and the Chairman decided that the Convention desired to follow precedent and ordered the roll called. BLAINE'S NAME PRESENTED.

The dramatic presentation of the name of Blaine, so unexpected, so de-cisive, took the Convention by surprise. There was dead silence for a moment. Then the Blaine men broke loose, and for three minutes the hall rang with their cheers, renewed again and again. They stood up waving hats, handker-chiefs and fans, and at the close of Mr. Wolcott's speech started up a cry of "Blaine, Blaine, James G. Blaine," in an attempt to stampede the Convention. Blaine demonstration continued seven minutes and there were no signs of submiding.

The band started up patriotic music.

The ladies continued to lead the applause. Fifteen thousand throats were velling at their loudest Blaine's name and cheering. No such sight was ever seen in a political convention heretofore. John C. New said: "All right; let them enjoy the selves." The demon-stration had then continued 17 minutes. McKinley rapped for order, but little attention was paid to him. The demou-stration had then been raging for 21 minutes. Several men and women fainted from excitement. The shouters finally exhausted them selves. They could not continue for sheer lack of physical strength. Dem-onstration lasted 26 minutes.

HARRISON'S NAME PRESENTED. When Indiana was reached there was applause which was' renewed ten-fold when the venerable R. W. Thompson walked up the aisle and took the plat-form. Standing with a fan clutched in hand Col. Thompson said:

hand Col. Thompson said:

GENTLEMER OF THE CONVENZION: I do not intend to make a speech. I propose to make a nomination for the Presidency which shall strike a chord of sympathy in every true Republican heart. I propose to nominate for the Presidency a man who does not seek elevation by the detrettion of any other Republican. I do not propose, however, ta defend his history or his life before this Convention, because that will be done in words of burning and prophetic elequence which cannot be surpassed in any other country in the worth.

Therefore, with these simple words, I nominate to this Convention for the Presidency of the United States the warrior states and Bonjamin Harrison.

The conuter demonstration of the Harrison men came with enthusiasm. Harrison men came with enthusiasm. Fairs and umbrellas were in the air, delegates stood on their seats, and the Ron. Fred Dougiass, waving his white hat, led the encoring that was sustained for two minutes or more.

The Chairman sat down until the tunualt subsided. Then he ordered the

When Ohio was reached there were cries for Foraker, but he failed to take the floor. J. A. Boyd, a colored delegate from Tennessee, spoke for Blaine. Ex-Senator Spooner of Wisconsin seconded Harrison's nomination. He was followed by Bruno Fink of allwaukee, who spoke for Blaine. When Wyoming was called, R. W. Downing took the planters.

was called, R. W. Downing took the platform, and created great laughter by his speech in favor of Biains.

The roll call was concluded at two minutes before at the convention proceed to ballot. The motion was put and carried by a rousing chorus of "yes." There were some scattering "noes," and the convention cheered the announcement that the roll would be called. There was a pause during which the chairman polled the votes of the delegation.

Alabams, the first State, made the first break to the dark horse, McKinley. It cast 15 votes for Harrison and 7 for Mc-Kinley amid cheers. When California was reached the announcement of the Chairman was challenged and the list of delegates was called. M. H. De Young voted "Bisine," and there were criss of "good." The call proceeded. Georgia's solid 26 for Harrison were greeted with cheers. The vote of Illinois was chal-lenged by a delegate who desired to put

The chairman stepped into the alsle and amid simost perfect silence an-nounced the vote-Harrison, 1; Me

Kinley, 45.

When Pennsylvania was called, Senator Quay, the Chairman, announced that there was a disagreement in the delegation, and asked that the roll be called by the Secretary. This was done. Chris Magee voted for Harrison and Senator Quay for McKinley. The announcement of the Pennsylvania vote showed a gain for Harrison of 10 over last night's vote. The vote of South Carolina was challenged.

Carolina was challenged.

When Tennessee's vote was announced there was a round of cheering. When Texas announced 22 votes for Harrison, giving him the necessary votes for the nomination, there was no chance for the Chairman of the delegaor the delegation of the delega-tion to announce the balance of the vote of the delegation.

The delegates had been sitting with roll calls in their hands, keeping tally of names on the vote. They knew what the vote of Texas meant, and as the "Harrison 22" came out, every Harrison man sprang to his feet yelling like mad. Hats were thrown across the hall and there was great confusion. The band struck up "Hail to the Chief," which only increased the enthusiasm. The delegates went up and down the aisle shaking hands.

After the vote of Texas had been recorded and Harrison's nomination sured, Chairman McKinley called Editor Elliott F. Shepard to the chair.

WHITELAW BEID.

Taking the floor himself he made a motion that Harrison's nomination be declared by acclamation.
Objection was raised, and the vote by States proceeded. When the call had been completed the murmur of conversation filled the air while the clerks at their desks went over the figures and cast up the vote.

At 4:32 the chairman struck the table with his gavel and asked for quiet while, by unanimous consent, he an-nounced a change in the vote of Washtugton. The change was from 8 Blaine votes to the following: Blaine, 6; Har-son, 1; McKinley 1.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session of the convention was little more than a ratification meeting. The nomines for the Vice-Presidency was selected in a meeting of the New York delegation held an hour before the convention was called to order. By tacit consent the naming of the Vice-

At 8:03, a majority of the delegates being in their seats, Chairman McKin-ley called the convention to order. A delegate from West Virginia tried to move the unanimous selection of Mr. Reid, but Settle insisted in taking the platform, and on behalf of Tennessee nominated "one of the grandest characters in American politics, Hon. Thomas B. Reed of Maine." Mr. Reed's name was greated with loud cheering, especially from the Southern delegates. C. M. Lowthan of Virginia seconded the nomination. Mr. Littlefield of Maine then arose and asked the Con-vention not to vote for Mr. Reed, as he would decline the nomination. The name was then withdrawn.

Mr. Carney of Iowa then moved to suspend the rules and make the nomination of Mr. Reid unanimous. The rules were suspended by viva voce vote and the nomination was made unani-mous. Senator Cullom having taken the chair, Elliott F. Shepard offered a resolution of cordial thanks to Chairman McKinley and wishing him "in-creasing usefulness in the service of the country.

This resolution and resolutions thanking the minor officers of the convention and the citizens of Minneapolis were passed with enthusiasm.

Mr. Clarkson offered a resolution of thanks to the people of Minneapolis for the complete and superior accommoda-tions provided and the generous and adequate provisions for entertaining visitors; also thanking the Executive committee. This was adopted.

A telegram from Orogon was read: "Oregon Republican by 8,000; will give President Harrison 10,000 in November. Legislature is Republican in both branches." (Cheers.)

A resolution from the press, thanking the local press committee, was offered by Mr. De Young, of California, and Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, offered the nsual resolution to make Chairman Mc-Kinley the chairman of the committee to notify the candidates.

Thanks were also voted to retiring National Committeemen for their services in the campaign of 1888. The roll of States was then called for the appointment of members of the committees to notify the nominees.
