Clubs and stones and pieces of the tional differences among the New York broken platform were the weapons.

The chairman was knocked senseless. While four of his friends were trying to carry him away from the thick of the fight they were set upon by a party of Parnellites and knocked down and beaten. The chairman was trampled upon and seriously injured.

Two hundred military and police were summoned, but they were unable to stop the fighting. While awaiting reenforcements they were so roughly handled by the mob that they were compelled to fall back, taking with them pelled to fall back, taking with them three constables who had been disabled with stones. When 200 more soldiers arrived, the force of 400 charged the meeting, and after a struggle of 15 minutes cleared the place. Eight men were found lying unconscious on the ground, where they had been trampled by the riotors. Three are so severely injured that they may die. The other five had sustained fractures of arms or legs, but will recover. The number of seriously injured is reported to be 25 or 30. Had the police or military not inter-

Had the police or military not inter-fered there would undoubtedly have been several deaths, as the men fought with persistence and fury unequalled in recent political conflicts.

Hardly a man of either party got away without at least a bloody nose or black eye. The platform vanished en-tirely during the fight, having been broken up to supply the anti-Parnellites with weapons. There were no arrests

Among the speakers at the meeting were Dr. Tanner, Denis Kilbride, James Christopher Flynn and Jeremiah Sheehan. None of the four were injured, al-though Mr. Sheehan's head was grazed by a stone and Mr. Kilbride was rescued a constable just as he was on the point of being roughly handled by a group of Parnellitus.

After the meeting 500 anti-Parnellites from Traise returned home in a body. The news of the Killorgiin riot had reached the city before them, and as they entered they were met by an equally large crowd of Parnellites armed with clubs.

The Parneilites reviled them with shouts of "traitors and turn-costs," and began storming them. The antiand began storming them. The anti-Parnellites started for their assailants, but before the fighting became general 300 police approached on the double quick, got between the two forces and began clubbing back the leaders. The auti-Parnellite procession was turned off into another street and the Parnelliites were held in check until the proces-sion had gone too far to be overtaken.

> "After a careful observation of the tional differences among the New York Democrats," saidex-Governor Campbell, of Ohio, last night. "I am satisfied that there is nothing in the alleged quarrel except rivalry, such as warmed them up in 1876 to carry the State for Tliden, and again in 1884 for Cleveland. I am sure that Murphy and Croser will each go home repeating 'I am a Democrat,' and their followers, headed by Mr. Hill, will meet them at Tammany to join in the chorus. I am satisfied that Mr. Cleveland is the most available man in the United States. He can get more votes in every State than any other Democrat, and there is no question now in my and there is no question now in my mind but that New York will give its electoral vote to Mr. Cleveland."

From all that can be gathered it seems clear that Cleveland was stronger last night than he was Saturday. Nearly every forceful element in National politics is arrayed on his side. Five members of his Cabinet are here. The shrewd and calculating Whitney, who started the modern Navy, is in com-mant. Dickinson, who knows all the ramifications of the Postal Service and has the old list of postmasters, has played his part well. Fairchild, who succeeded Manning in the Treasury portfolio, is with the May Convention people, but quite in touch with the leaders. Vilas, who was at the head of the Interior Department, has added the might of his influence, and Bayard, at the head of the Delaware delegation, is ready with wise counsel.

Added to these are other ex-officehold-ers—men who hope to again be called to assist in running these United States— and back of them all is a sentiment in the West and South that demands Cleveland, despite the fact that his own State does not ask for him through her regularly chosen delegates.

Whitney and his associates have figured out success for Cleveland. They had a conference yesterday afternoon and heard from each delegation through trusted agenrs. The reports were in line with what they had counted on. The enthusiasm and the greatest number of delegates were on Cleveland's side.

Senator Gorman was closeted with Sonator Gorman was closeted with Edward Murphy and Lieutenant-Gover-nor Sheehan yesterday. He would not say what the subject of their conversa-tion was, but everybody came to the conclusion that it related to Gorman's position in the political paddock. Gor-man has strength. Maryland wants him, West Virginia is favorable to him. Other Southern States would gladly suggest him if the opportunity present-ed. Would New York throw her formidable seventy-two votes to him if by so doing Cleveland's defeat were possi-ble. The action of the delegation on Wednesday or Thursday next will de

There has been so far but little talk of what the platform will contain, although it is known that several gentlemen are engaged, at odd times, in preparing an outline of this document for the use of the Committee on Resolutions when it shall have been appointed.

Inquiry among those who are in the position to know, as well as can be known at this time, what the platform will contain, leads to the belief that in its main features that document will be largely a repetition, in essential quality if not in terms, of the St. Louis plat-form of 1838. It will contain a plank looking to a low tariff, a tariff for revenue only. The plank will also, it is believed, inveloh against the provisions of the McKinley act, but the exact terms have not yet, of course, been ar-

There will be also a plank denounc-ing the Federal Elections bill and the attitude of the Republican party upon that measure. This plank, it is under-stood, is to read about as follows:

"We denounce the iniquitous Force bill which is not yet abandoned by the Republican party, but is being urged as a measure to be adopted should they obtain the power, the purpose and effect of which measure will be to subvert the liberties of our people and to inflame anew race antagonism and sectional an imosities."
"The billion dollar Congress" will also come in for a fair share of denun-ciation, white the efforts of the present House of Regresentatives to repeat portions of the McKinley bill and to en-large the free list, and to provide for the necessities of the Government, in-cluding the continued reconstruction of navy within the limits of its revenues, will be warmly commended.

The foreign policy of the administration will, it is said, be scored, for its inconsistency and weakness, bullying an apology out of Chill, while taking a very different course with England in order to avoid hostilities over the Bebring Sea controversy, in which both

The plank, of course, that will attract the most attention is that relating to silver. As to this, no definite declaration can be made, but it is expected that the resolution of free coinage, in the language of one of the most prominent platform builders in the party, will be skilfully "straddled"

Says Reports That He Will Go to Chicago

Washington, June 20. - Senator David Hill was seen last night in Washington by a reporter in regard to the report that he was going to Chicago to attend the Democratic Convention.
The Senator was very much exisperated when told of the report, and is a vexed tone said he wondered how many times he would be required to reiterate his statement about the matter.

"I am here," said the Senator. Ho then denied emphatically that he intended to attend the Chicago Convention, and characterized the report as ri-

Senator Hill, in a somewhat caustle manner, referred to the way in which some correspondents caused reports to be circulated, and how other correspondents followed them up without au in-
