GERMAN PRESS VIEWS.

Bismarck's Attitude Toward the Kaiser Commented Upon.

BERLIN, June 30.—The action of the Government in abandoning its reserve toward Prince Bismarck, as evidenced by the threats in the official "North German Gazette," has caused quite a sensation.

The "Tagblatt" says: "The die is cast. Prince Bismarck has attained the object for which he has striven during the last two years, and has forced the Government to take up the gauntlet he has so often thrown at its feet. But to attain this Prince Bismarck has been obliged to abandon the role of an anonymous journalist. He has personally taken his place in the breach. With the full weight of his historic name he exposes Chancellor von Caprivi to the eyes of foreign nations, and discredits him by means of reckless dialectic.

"All patriots will regard the procedure with aching hearts, but at the same time they will admit that the Govern- ment acts in self-defense when it resolves to no longer expose itself to the poison- ous arrows of its adversary. Chancellor von Caprivi's question whether Prince Bismarck's conduct is patriotic will be answered by a majority of the nation with a sorrowful but decided negative.

"Out-and-out Bismarckians may take the part of the Prince against the Govern- ment, but it is impossible to believe that the pronouncement of the civilian Wallenstein will be crowned with suc- cess."

The "Vossische Zeitung" says: "A single false step on the part of the Govern- ment in the contest now openly em- barked upon may lead to a tragedy. We merely hope the Government will not execute its threat to take action against the creator of German unity."

The "National Zeitung" says it trusts the dispute will soon be ended. It as- sumes that Prince Bismarck's attitude is influenced by resentment at the Kaiser of Austria refusing him an audience. The "National Zeitung" appeals to Prince Bismarck's patriotism to end what it terms a regrettable political spectacle.

THE BORUP CASE.

Anger of the French Becoming Somewhat More Moderate.

PARIS, June 30.—Public feeling regard- ing the charges against Captain Borup, late military attaché of the American legation, is beginning to quiet down. There is a general disposition to accept as true his statement that what- ever information he procured was pro- cured for the War Department in Wash- ington, and that, if the plans of the French government were betrayed to Germany and Italy, Captain Borup had nothing to do with it.

The prompt action of the American government in the matter has also tended to allay the popular indignation aroused at first by the charge.

The "Figaro" says that if Captain Borup acted in the interests of Germany and Italy he has been guilty of a most grave abuse of the hospitality of France; but if he acted solely in behalf of the government at Washington, then he can procure absolution by invoking the pre- cedents for his conduct in the case of other military attachés. Capt. Borup's superiors at Washington, says the "Figaro," probably did not object to his efforts to obtain valuable military information, although they would un- doubtedly censure his folly in allowing himself to be discovered.

S. Henderson, Orange, N. J.; "Is There an Ex- cuse for Pessimism?" C. S. Hill, Auburn, Me.; "Edward Howland Till," L. R. Gibbs, Wiscasset, Me.; "Place aux Dames," L. W. Hart, New Britain; "The Ethical Purpose of Life," N. C. Hub- bard, Wheeling, W. Va.; "The Mug- wump and the Parties," E. L. Rice, Middletown. Degrees were conferred as follows: Bachelors of Science, 4; Bachelors of Philosophy, 8; Bachelors of Arts, 52.

Says War Will Come Soon.

ROME, June 30.—It is expected that the Italian Government is going to raise a loan of $250,000,000. Signor Crispi is shortly going to publish an article which is intended to bolster the Govern- ment in its endeavor to impose fresh taxation to keep up the military strength of the Kingdom. He will argue that the financial difficulties of Italy are not due to the exhaustion of the coun- try's wealth, but to a defective fiscal system, and that a European war being inevitable, it is impossible to think of reducing the armaments.

"King of the Lobby" Dead.

NEW YORK, June 30.—A dispatch from Utica states that A. D. Barber, sometimes called "King of the Lobby," is dead at his home in that city. He was born at St. Johnsbury, Vt., and was a half brother of ex-Judge Noah Davis of this city. For many years he was interested in railroad legislation at Albany.

Grover Cleveland Knott Scalded to Death.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 30.—While the twin sons of Fielding Knott, of Gran- ville county, aged 4 years, and named Grover Cleveland Knott, and Allen G. Thurman Knott, were playing on their fathers kitchen floor yesterday, chasing each other around the room, Grover fell into a pot of boiling vegetable placed on the floor by the cook and was so severely scalded that he died shortly afterwards.

Descendant of the Poet Burns Dying.

CHICAGO, June 30.—Robert Burns Hutchison, the last but one of the male descendants of the Scotch poet Burns, is dying in one of the hospitals here from the effects of injuries received from the hands of some foot pads three weeks ago. Mr. Hutchison was born at Cheltenham, Eng. His mother was the daughter of Col. James Glencairn Burns, son of the poet.

Racing at Gloucester Assured.

CAMDEN, N. J., June 30.—The indict- ment against William J. Thompson, of the Gloucester race track, has been postponed till the October term of the court, on the application of the defendant's counsel, who claims material witnesses being absent. This virtually assures racing at Gloucester all summer.

HUNG FRICK IN EFFIGY

The Anger of the Carnegie Em- ployes Breaks Out.

HOSTILE DEMONSTRATIONS MADE.

The Men Play the Rose on the Man Who Took Down the Dummy—It Was a Strik- ing Figure, With a Concealed Dagger in Hand and Pockets Filled With Bottles.

PITTSBURGH, June 30.—The anger of the Carnegie employes at the Homestead Iron & Steel Works, that has been smoldering for a month past during the warlike preparations made by the com- pany in the hopes that the Amalgam- ated Association scale would be signed, broke out yesterday in several hostile demonstrations.

During the night an effigy of H. C. Frick, Carnegie's chief representative, was hung on a platform supporting a pair of water tanks near the river, on the grounds of the Open Hearth Mill. When Superintendent Potter saw the figure he ordered his secretary, James Dinky, to remove it, which he did.

The dummy was made of a pair of overalls and a "jumper," and was a striking figure. In its right hand, held behind the back, was a dagger. On its breast was the label "H. C. Frick."

After Dinky took the dummy away, and while he was returning to the office, going through the Open Hearth Mill, the men at work there turned the hose on him and drenched him from head to foot. Superintendent Potter then shut down the Open Hearth Mill, and the men there don't know when work will be resumed.

The effigy was removed by the men to a point across the railroad track, where it was hung high on a telegraph pole, opposite Munnell station. It is there, yet, labeled and all, with its pockets filled with whisky bottles.

About 8 o'clock a Pinkerton detective was walking along the railroad track. He was pointed out by a gang of work- men to a constable as "a suspicious character," and partly for the man's safety, as well as to find out who he was, the officer hustled him to the station house. It was well he did, for when searched a large revolver and a billy two feet long were found on him, and if the men had discovered these weapons the stranger would have undoubtedly been thrown into the river, if not worse.

Department after department of the mill is being laid off, on one pretext or another, and the men at Homestead, so many being idle, have nothing to do but to meet on the street corners and threaten what they will do if the com- pany attempts to non-unionize the works.

The feeling is deep-seated, and few in Pittsburg or Homestead think there won't be serious trouble, if not blood- shed, when the mills resume work, though many are "whistling to keep up their courage."

The situation is a nutshell right on the eve of the great shutdown is threat- ening.

The iron manufacturers of this and the Mahoning and Chenango Valleys are yet at loggerheads with the Association, and by this time readers of the daily papers are fully acquainted with the serious aspect at Homestead.

While many dark clouds have cast their gloomy forms over the iron and steel workers in years gone by, it is ad- mitted on all sides that never before in the history of the Amalgamated Asso- ciation has it been confronted with such a state of affairs as now exists.

The only "silver lining" to be discov- ered lingering about the warlike clouds is found in announcing that an amiable settlement will likely be reached with the association of iron and steel sheet manufacturers.

Members of the association are in duty bound to quit work unless the scale be signed, and as the outlook at this writing is anything but encourag- ing, there is every reason to suppose that every wheel in every iron mill in this and the Mahoning and Chenango Valley districts will be stopped.

Kuklux Methods Revived.

EL RENO, O. T., June 30.—Commis- sioner J. M. Bishop of Cleveland county, where the whites are determined no negroes shall locate, said the influx of negroes has so increased the white por- tion of the county, which is principally made up of citizens from Texas, that they have commenced the old Kuklux methods of driving the black settlers out. The negroes, under this treatment, are leaving in scores, abandoning their claims and the fruit of their labor.

Mr. Sprague Dies of His Injuries.

BOSTON, June 30.—Dr. Richard Sprague is dead at the Massachusetts General Hospital of injuries received in attempting to board a crowded horse- car in Cambridge, last Thursday night. The deceased was born in Boston in 1859 and was graduated from Harvard with high honors in 1881. Subsequently he was graduated from the Harvard Medical School among the first five in the class of 1889.

Queen Victoria's Suit.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The suit of Queen Victoria against the Standard Asphalt Company came up in the Supreme Court. The suit is to recover 900 tons asphalt, or its value, $9,000. She alleges that the asphalt was illegally taken from the Crown lands at Trinidad by the defendant. It is now in the hands of the sheriff pending action by the part of the defendants to vacate the proceedings was denied, and the case will now have to be tried.

Sullivan Promises to Reform.

NEW YORK, June 30.—John L. Sul- livan and his backer, Charley Johnson, had a little quarrel at Coney Island the other night because of John's unsteady habits of late, but the matter has been patched up by Sullivan promising to start at once for his training quarters. Sullivan will keep his word and starts to-day, with his trainer, Phil Casey, for Oyster Bay, to begin work. Casey and Sullivan will be constantly together from now on until the big fistic event in New Orleans is decided.

GLADSTONE'S CAMPAIGN.

The Grand Old Man Has a Large Amount of Work Mapped Out.

LONDON, June 30.—Mr. Gladstone has left for the campaign in Midlothian. He looked hearty and vigorous, and had evi- dently fully recovered from the shock caused by the assault upon him. The only sign of the blow which he received on Saturday was a shade over the affected eye. At Chester he was received with great enthusiasm, and at every station along the route, on his way to

WILLIAM E. GLADSTONE.

Scotland, crowds thronged to show their esteem for the liberal champion. In reply to the cheers of the people Mr. Glad- stone delivered brief and spirited ad- dresses, in which he urged the importance of earnest and united action on the part of the people for the assertion of British right and the redress of Ireland's wrongs.

Mr. Gladstone's Midlothian campaign will be busy enough to tax the energies of a man half his years.

To-morrow he will rest. On Saturday he is to go to Glasgow and address a meeting of delegates from all parts of the west and south of Scotland.

In the week beginning July 4 a series of drives is proposed in the county. The exact dates are not yet known and they are conditional on good weather.

The provisional arrangement is that on the occasion of the first drive Mr. Gladstone will leave Dalmeny by special train for Stow, where he will begin his drive and go through the following places: Fountainhall, Heriot, Tynehead, Fushiebridge and Gorebridge, and, if time permits, Dalkeith. At Gore- bridge he will address a meeting of electors, speaking only for about a short quarter of an hour.

For the second drive the arrange- ments are: Train from Dalmeny to Dud- dington to Craigmillar Station, then in a carriage to Niddrie, New Craighall, Inveresk, Coulsland, Pathhead and Dal- keith. At the last-named place he will probably address a meeting in the For- esters' Hall. In this drive, if time per- mits, he may extend the journey to Bonnyrigg.

The third drive will be from New- ington to Liberton, Loanhead, Roslin, Auchindriny and Pentonich.

The fourth drive will be from Dal- meny to Kirkliston, Rathbo, Currie, Colinton, Slateford and Corstorphine.

Confidence in Gladstone.

LONDON, June 30.—At Cork Mr. Wil- liam O'Brien said that the Nationalists had entire confidence in Mr. Gladstone, and that the Home Rule measure pro- posed by Mr. Gladstone would in some respects be better than the Home Rule bill which Mr. Parnell had approved in 1886.

BUFFALO BANK TROUBLE.

McCredie Surrenders—Armstrong Still in Jail Awaiting Trial.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 30.—Ex-Teller McCredie, of the National Savings Bank, has surrendered himself on the charge of forgery preferred against him by a depositor. Bail was fixed at $5,000, which was furnished, and McCredie was released.

Cashier Armstrong is still in jail, not having been able to secure bail.

Each day brings new revelations of fraud in the affairs of the bank, and yesterday's discoveries were as great as those of any preceding day since the investigation began.

Chief Bank Examiner Judson has ceased to talk about the bank's con- dition, and this adds to the conviction that it is more deplorable than has yet been estimated. He did say last night, however, that this was the worst case that he has had any knowledge of during a banking experience of twenty-five years.

MOBBED THE STAGE

Compelled to Seek Safe Flight.

BARELY ESCAPE WITH THEIR LIVES.

The Explorer and His Wife Fleed from the Hall in Which They Were Speaking Their Carriage Pursued and Attacked by a Hooting Mob.

LONDON, June 30.—Henry M. Stanley and Mrs. Stanley tried to address a meeting of Lambeth electors in Hawk- ins' Hall last night.

The crowd was uproarious from be- ginning to end. But little said by either of the speakers was heard. The police seemed to be powerless to quiet the riotous demonstrations and event- ually the meeting broke up in a general flight, followed by persistent attempts to assault the candidate and his wife.

As soon as Mr. Stanley appeared on the platform it was evident trouble was brewing. There were groans and shuf- fling on the outskirts of the crowd, and somebody shouted: "Three cheers for Gladstone!"

The first sentence spoken by Mr. Stanley was greeted with derisive laugh- ter. The disorder grew until at the end of the first five minutes Mr. Stanley's address had become a dumb show.

A few persons in front were yelling for him to go on, while the rest of the audience groaned or shouted gibes and insults.

Mr. Stanley turned and motioned to the chairman, who requested the inter- ference of the police. About 50 constab- les pushed their way through the hall, pushing men back to their seats and warning the shouters that further of- fences would be punished with ejection.

Mr. Stanley proceeded, when order was restored, to speak of Mr. Gladstone and Home Rule.

"Who has a stupid scheme?" cried out a woman.

This reference to Mr. Stanley's den- unciation of Gladstone was followed by cheers, shouts of "Sit down," "Let your wife talk for you," "Go back to America," and a steady chorus of howls.

With the aid of the police, however, the disturbance was again subdued, and by sheer power of lung and persever- ance Mr. Stanley was able to make him- self heard finally for about 35 minutes more.

Mrs. Stanley then took the platform. She was received little better than her husband had been. Her references of his loyalty to Great Britain were re- ceived with laughter, and her attempts to discuss political issues were rendered futile by uproarious demands that her husband speak for himself, and shouted inquiries as to what constituency she wished to represent.

A fight was started near the platform and another in the rear of the hall. Mrs. Stanley became nervous and em- barrassed, lost her line of thought, and in response to a gesture from Mr. Stan- ley, turned to sit down.

The instant she turned all restraint on the meeting vanished, and the crowd became a hooting and fighting mob. Mr. Stanley hastily started for the door with Mrs. Stanley, and his few supporters in the audience tried to hurry out after him.

They had to fight their way to the door through blows and abuse, most of them coming out with their hats smash- ed and their clothes torn.

The mob broke from the doors of the hall with a rush and swooped down on Mr. Stanley's carriage. He had barely got Mrs. Stanley inside when they were upon him. Somebody grabbed him by the arm to pull him back, but he tore loose, jumped in and slammed the door. The driver started up, and the mob fol- lowed, pulling at the carriage doors and trying to stop the horses.

They wrenched off one door, but be- fore they could do more the driver got his horses into a gallop and was beyond their reach.

Mrs. Stanley was badly frightened. She was almost in hysterics when she left the hall, and she screamed several times during the mob's attack upon the carriage.

TENDERED A BANQUET.

Prominent Men Attend a Feast in Honor of Comptroller Lacey

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Edward S. Lacey, Comptroller of the Currency, was last night tendered a banquet by his Michigan friends and other promi- nent men, previous to his departure to Chicago to take charge of his new duties as president of the Bankers' National Bank of that city. The ap- pearance of the two members of the Cabinet bearing the same name at the banquet became the subject of comment in the after-dinner speeches and con- versation. Senator McMillan, of Michi- gan, presided, and made a brief speech at the opening of the banquet, expressing great regret at Mr. Lacey's departure, and wishing him success in his new field. Among those present were Sena- tor McMillan, John W. Foster, Secretary of State; Charles Foster, Secretary of the Treasury; Gen. A. B. Nettleton, Hon. O. L. Spaulding, Hon. S. Crouse, as- sistant secretaries of the Treasury; Senator Stockbridge and many others.

Mr. Lacey's Successor.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Speculation is rife as to who will be appointed to suc- ceed Mr. Lacey as Comptroller of the Currency. The names of John T. Mc- Cheaney, formerly of New York, now of South Dakota, Bank Examiner Hep- burn, of New York, and Deputy Com- ptroller Nixon, of Indiana, are men- tioned as among those from whom Mr. Lacey's successor will be appointed. The proba- bilities favor the appointment of Mr. McCheaney.
