GEN. BIDWELL THE MAN

He Will Head the Prohibition National Ticket.

NOMINATED ON THE FIRST BALLOT

Demorest, of New York, and Stewart, of Ohlo, His Opponents-His Vote Was 590 -- The Platform, as Presented By the Majority, Adopted.

CINCINNATI, July 1 .- At midnight Gen. John Bidwell of California was nominated for President by the Prohibitionists on the first ballot. The opposing can-didates were W. Jennings Demorest of New York and Gidson T. Stewart of

The vote was: Bidwell, 590; Stewart, 176; Demorest, 139; Bascom, 3. Necessary to a choice, 487.

The platform, as presented by the ma-fority of the committee, makes the usual declaration in favor of legal prohibition of the liquor traffic; pronounces for woman suffrage; money to be issued by the general government only; unlimited coinage of silver and gold; the levying of a tariff only as a defense sgainst foreign governments which levy a tariff upon or bar out our products from their markets; government control of rail-roads; restriction of immigration and the extension of the time of residence for naturalization; no naturalized person to be allowed to vote until one year after he becomes a citizen, and no alien own ership of land, and the limitation of private and corporate ownership of land; denounces mob law and the Republican and Democratic parties for being responsible for it; favors arbitration the suppression of speculation on margins, corners, pools and trusts, and at-tacks generally all other parties.

THE BALLOT BOX STUFFERS.

of the Federal Court has signed the papers which remove to the United States Supreme Court the cases of Durancy, Fallon, Hart and Moschell, the four Hudson county ballot box stuffers who are still in the custody of Sheriff Mc-Phillip. This will serve to keep them out of the State prison for the present, if not for ever. Counselor Charles J. Pesham, who represents these men, has been at the State prison to see some of the ballot box atuffers already there. He says their cases can also be removed to the United States Supreme Court on writs of error, and pending a decision there they are entitled to their liberty on

He intimated that such proceedings would be taken and that the ballot box stuffers would soon be free again.

"Big Joe" Knocked Out by the Barrier Champion.

GODDARD WON IN THE 15TH ROUND.

The Californian Made a Game Fight-He Became a Veritable Chopping Block Toward the End-The Republican Wig wam in Sau Francisco Crowded.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—The Republican Wigwam on Eddy street was crowded to the doors by people who witnessed the fight to a finish for heavy weight honors and a purse of $5,000, in which Joe McAuliffe of San Francisco was defeated by Joe Goddard of Brisbane, Australia.

At exactly 9 c'clock Goddard made his appearance in the ring accompanied by his seconds, Fitzpatrick and his brother Harry Goddard. A few minutes later McAuliffe entered the ring, and behind him were Alex Greggains and Martin Murphy. At 9:10 the gong struck for the first round.

First round—Both led and clinched, Goddard shot out his left and then there Goddard shot out his left and then there was another clinch. Goddard was forcing the fighting when he was sent to the floor by a left-handed smash over the head. The men were sparring lightly when the gong sounded.

Second round—Mac came up with a confident look upon his face. Goddard appeared a little nervous. Nevertheless he was aprious force to work.

he was anxious to get to work, driving his left into Mac's ribs. Mac led with his left, fell short, leaving himself wide open, but Goddard was too tired to take Third to tenth round-When the men oed the scratch Goddard shot out his left for Mac's head, but was stopped. He punched Mac lightly on the nose and followed it up with a gentle tap on bis breadbasket. Some sparring at long range took place, after which the men got to work atclose quarters where hon-ors were about even. Man feinted, then received a hard punch on the stomach, then a stiff right-hander in face that sent him in sitting posture on the floor. On coming to his feet he met several hard punches, when the gong

Eleventh round-Goddard went for Mac right at the start and furious-ly punched him about the head. Mac ly punched him about the head. Mac now got to work and gave as good as he received. Goddard became more aggressive at this show of fight and went for his opponent with great vigor. Twelfth round—Mac was slow in coming up, and Goddard walked almost over to his corner and sailed in to him.

He seemed to have renewed strength and fought vigorously.
Thirteenth round—Mac kept away from the Australian, who came for him as though be determined to but an end to the combat at once. Goddard worked hard, punching his apparently beaten opponent squarely in the face. Goddard forced him into a corner, where he ham-mered him viciously about the face. Fourteenth round—Mac led but missed the Australian, after which there were several clinches, in one of which Goddard's right hand being again free he amashed Mac repeatedly on his gory nasal appendage.

He was entirely gone, but Goddard was too weary with his exertions of the last minute to knock him out.

Fifteenth round—When the gong sounded time Goddard walked clear over to Mac's corner. After sparring for a few seconds he sent Mac to the floor by a right-handed swing on the face. Mac remained on his knees a second or so and rose, only to take terrible smashes from the barrier champion. smashes from the parrier champion. He had now become a veritable chopping block. He was sent down on his knees and remained down nine seconds. He raised himself most wearily to his feet. Goddard saw that the victory was his and humanely withheld from administering a blow that would doubt the Californian He revolunts. from administering a blow that would floish the Californian. He moved up to aim and giving him a little shove Mac fell to the floor again on his knees. He wearily rose to his feet just as the enth second was announced. He was just one second too late, and the fight and purse were awarded to Goddard.

ACTOR MANTELL IN TROUBLE. He Fails to Pay His Wife Alimony and She

Will Prosecute Him. NEW York, July 1 .- Robert B. Mantell, the well known actor, is threatened with imprisonment.

Last November he had some trouble with his wife, well known on the stage as Marie Sheldon, and the couple separated, Mr. Mantell agreeing to pay wife weekly $75 for her support. This he did until about three weeks ago, when the payments ceased.

Mrs. Mantell has now employed counsel to take proceedings against the ac-tor, and if he does not pay up the ar-rears and the weekly alimony when it falls due he is likely to go to fail.
Theatrical men say that Mantell's finances are not in a prosperous condition and that his failure to pay allmony was probably due more to his insbility to pay than his lack of intention to keep his contract.
