SOLDIERS' FRIEND.

The New York Press says the soldiers of the country should not be deceived by Democratic assurances of love and protection. The records of the Democratic candidates show the sort of friendship they bear for the boys in blue.

Grover Cleveland was a Democrat throughout the war. He sent a substitute to battle for his country while he reposed in ease in his Buffalo home. As President he vetoed pension bill after pension bill, against the advice of Democratic Congressmen who vouched for the justice of the claims. No man can show a single benefit conferred on soldiers by the Cleveland administration.

"General" Stevenson during the war also remained at home, but was bolder than his New York confere. He stumped the state of Illinois each year of the war for Democratic candidates who declared the war a failure and insisted that Jeff Davis was a martyr.

Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Stevenson both earnestly supported the Democratic platform of 1864, the principal plank of which read;

Resolved, That this convention does explicitly declare as the sense of the American people, that after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war, during which, under the pretense of a military necessity or of power higher than the Constitution, the Constitution itself has been disregarded in every part, and public liberty and private right alike trodden down and the material prosperity of the country essentially impaired—justice, humanity, liberty and the public welfare demand that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities, with a view to an ultimate convention of the states, or other peaceable means, to the end that at the earliest practicable moment peace may be restored.

This resolution was passed in August of 1864, when Grant was marching upon Richmond for the last grapple with the dying Confederacy, and at a time when the only hope of the South was in Northern disunion and lukewarmness.

During this same period Benjamin Harrison was daily risking his life in his country's service, and Whitelaw Reid, by his graphic pen pictures of battle scenes sent from the front, was rousing the North to a last grand struggle. Can there be any doubt as to which is the soldiers' ticket?

PAY no attention to the stories in the Democratic organs about Republican dissatisfaction. There is none. Republicans are in for a fight, and a fight for victory. Victory will be ours in November, and don't you forget it!

THE first thing Mr. Cleveland has to get rid of wants to be President is to get rid of some of the asses.—N. Y. Sun. Nice name for the mugwump.

WEAVER AND FIELD

People's Party Candidates for President and Vice-President.

NOMINATED ON THE FIRST BALLOT.

Gen. Weaver Received 995 Votes and Field 773 on the First Ball Call—Another Set of Candidates Nominated at Night After an Exciting Session.

OMAHA, Neb., July 5.—After an exciting afternoon and evening session of the Third Party, Prof. Vincent, of Indianapolis, at midnight, announced that Indiana would go solid for Weaver.

Dean, of New York, amid applause and confusion, stated that the 59 votes of that State were for Weaver. Mississippi followed suit.

Schilling of Wisconsin charged the Chair with being privy to an attempt to stampede the convention.

Georgia withdrew Paige and moved that Weaver's nomination be made by acclamation. But a number of the delegates were loud in their protests of disapproval and the roll call went on.

Virginia endorsed Weaver. South Dakota changed from Kyle to Weaver. Wisconsin was reached at 12:15, and Robert Schilling seconded Kyle.

At 12:30 Oklahoma, last on the list, was reached, and Samuel Crocker supported Weaver.

The first ballot stood: Weaver, 995; Kyle, 275, scattering, 2.
After the ballot, S. F. Norton moved that the nomination be unanimous. Schilling of Wisconsin seconded the motion, which was carried. The nomination was made unanimous at 12:35 a. m., and the delegates rose to their feet and gave three cheers.

A Texas delegate moved an adjournment until 8:30, but the Chair ordered the call of the roll for nomination for Vice-President at 1 a. m.

Gen. James G. Field, of Va., was nominated for Vice-President on the first ballot, the vote standing: Field, 733; Terrell, 534.

CAMPBELL WILL DECLINE.
H. C. Payne Says He Will Not Conduct the Republican Campaign.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 5.—H. C. Payne, the Wisconsin Republican leader, and member of the National Committee, was sent to J. S. Clarkson the following telegram:

"Campbell will decline. Keep this private. I am posting our Westinghouse friends so as to secure wisest action. Campbell will be in Washington to-morrow."

The fact that this telegram had been sent leaked out here accidentally, and caused much talk in Republican circles here.

There is a rumor to-day that Mr. Payne himself is possibly to be chosen in place of Campbell.

MAJOR FALLS DEAD.
He Led the Daring Cavalry Charge at Cedar Creek.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—Major J. Falls, a veteran of the Mexican War and of the War of the Rebellion, is dead, of general debility.

At the battle of Cedar Creek he led the cavalry charge on the Confederate ranks, which for daring and boldness of execution had but few equals during the war.

After the war he located in San Francisco. He was appointed on the police force in 1875, and in 1880 was retired as sergeant.

Japanese Etiquette.

Travelers in Japan tell of the unconcern with which a Japanese will take a bath in full publicity, and the custom has impressed foreigners as immodest. An Englishman who has not been long in the country says there is really nothing immodest in the promiscuous bathing of men, women and children from a Japanese point of view. With them cleanliness is the object sought for, and the etiquette of the bathroom differs from the etiquette of the parlor.

With Europeans, he says, the attitude of waltzers is only permitted when the music is played. It is something like this with the Japanese bathers. When the necessary operation of washing or doing other work requires it, to strip becomes a duty. On the other hand, a Japanese woman would seem to appear décolleté. To her eye our ballrooms are an astonishment, and the exposure of the person for display is incomprehensible. This writer thinks that the Japanese are not excelled by their western brethren in modesty.

Silk by Machinery.
A genius in Syria, named Moussa Rhouri, has discovered the secret by which the silk worm makes silk. He can make the silk by machinery, without the aid of the silk worm. In this way the cost of making silk can be reduced one-half. A manufactory is to be started in Georgia soon by a Syrian colony. To manufacture silk in this way a large tract of land has been secured on which to plant mulberries, and the emigrants expect soon to make their fortunes.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVE.
The American people are rapidly becoming a race of nervous wrecks, and the following suggests the best remedy: Alfonso H. Thompson, of Butler, Pa., writes that when his son was speckled from St. Vitus Dance, Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve cured him. Mrs. J. L. Miller, of Valparaiso, Ind., writes that her daughter, who had been afflicted with St. Vitus Dance, was cured by one bottle. Daniel Myers, Brooklyn, Mich., says his daughter was cured of ten years' standing St. Vitus Dance and the book of marvelous cures, FIELDS AT DRUGGISTS. This remedy contains no opiates.
