THE COURT HAS GRANTED ANOTHER INJUNCTION.

THE WATER COMPANY GETS IT

The Court Asked to Correct Mistakes of the Election Officers and Declare the Proposed Levy Illegal.

HEN the court convened at Pottsville to day counsel for the Shenandosh Citizens' Water and Gas Company presented a petition, signed by about 125 citizens who voted injunction against the Borough Council and other borough officials.

The import of the injunction is set forth below. The injunction granted by the court is a temporary one, and the rule is made returnable on Monday, 18th inst., when argoments will be made.

First. That the increase of indebtedness of the Borough of Shenandonh, as claimed to be authorized by the said election, is illegal. Second. That the said election was not held according to law. Third, That the said election was held in violation of law by reason of the fact that the proclamations proclaiming that such election hould be held deceived the tax payers of said porough in this, that it set forth statements hat were untrue. The statement marked first in the said roclamation set forth the fact as follows: The assessed valuation in the Borough of Shenandoah is two million, ninety-three thousand, six hundred and ninety-one dollars. ($2,003,601.)" This is untrue for the reason that the last assessed valuation of the Borough of Shenandonh is one million, eight hundred and sixty-two thousand, six hundred and forty

The third statement reads as follows "Monies in the treasury, all outstanding sol-vent debts and all revenues applicable within me year to the payment of the same, is $37,755.53.11 This statement is untrue.

In the fifth paragraph of the said proclams on the following is contained which is untrue 5th. The percentage of the proposed increase s 1% percent," whereas it is the fact as your estitioners believe, that by mathematical cal-It is further set forth in the sixth paragraph of the produmation that "The purpose of the proposed increase is, as set forth in the foregong ordinance, viz., to provide for the creeti public water works at the expense of the

id not be erected and that, on the contrary t would cost over $150,000, and it is the belief of the petitioners that its cost would be as proposed nearly if not over $300,000

Your petitioners claim that the proceedings had in the premises are in violation of law; that the bal ets placed in the several ballot boxes are illegal; that the said election was held in violation of law and therefore void and of no effect; that the result of the said election so filegally held would be to require your petitioners to pay money in the guise of taxes which is not due legally for any purpose to the said Borough of Shenandouh; that the filing of returns of the said election in the said court was illegal and without warrant of law; that the issuance of a certificate setting forth the number of votes east for the purposes stated in the preclamation hereinbefore recited, was issued without lawful authority and is there-fore null and void; and it is further set forth that the said election was held without au-thority of law and contrary to the laws to which such elections apportain.

Your petitioners therefore pray that you Honora will permit this petition to be filed o rd in the Court of Quarter Sessions; that our Honors will appoint a suitable time for earing this complaint: that your Honors will cant a rule upon the said respondents to anwer this complaint at such time as your Honor may fix; that your Honors will make such der as may be necessary to correct the mistake of the election officers of the several wards of the said Borough of Shenandoah in declaring that the certificate issued for the increase in indebtedness of the Borough of Shen-andown is null and void; that it be decreed that the action of the members of the Town Council and others associated with them was fliegal and that the petitioners be not required to pay the tax proposed to be levied, and that the Council of the Borough of Shemandoah, its tax collectors, assessors and other officers be restrained from levying a tax upon your peti-tioners and upon the people of the Borough of Shenandoah by virtue or by reason of the elec-tion hereinbefore mentioned; and that it be decreed that the said election was unauthor-ized, illegal and void and of no effect as conerning any of the citizens of the Borough

MINISTERS DISGUSS HOMESTEAD TROUBLES

SERMONS ON THE SUBJECT IN TWO CHURCHES.

GONGREGATIONS LISTEN

Revs. Powick and O'Boyle Discuss the Unfortunate Situation. Both Take Their Texts From the Same Gospel.

UBLIC interest in the situation at Homestead has been so worked up that little outside of that subject can be heard on or off the streets of town. Even the clergymen have taken a band in discussing the situation and last night sermons on the subject were preached in two of the churches, one by Rev. Powick, in the Methodist Episcopal church, and the other by Rev. Robert O Boyle, in the Trinity Reformed church.

REV. POWICK'S VERSION. The sermon at the Methodist Episcopa church on Sunday evening was on the recent riots at Homestead. The text was from Matt, XXV-19. "After a long time the lord of those servants cometh and political question, but an economical one. reckoneth with them." Whether we have five talents or only one we are only stewards and are equally responsible to our Master for the use we make of them. If this fact had been kept in mind at Homestead the recent conflict had been impossible. We hear much in the newspapers about the you if I do not wish to do so. 'majesty of the law and the duty of upholding it." The claim is broadly made that the giant corporation has a right to employ whom it will-to pay what it willand to defend its property as it will. All this is very good so far as human laws are concerned but it ignores those higher and not one cent invested. No matter how diviner laws to which all human laws must eventually bow. It takes no account do not make a right. of common stewardship and human brotherbood. According to the newspapers this deplorable conflict arose out of a premeditated attempt of organized capital to crush labor for organizing, as capital has done, to protect itself. While labor organizations have often been tyrannical this affords no excuse for the inhumanity of refusing to confer with labor in the present cans or Americanized people. The whole case because it happens to be organized. To say that organized capital has a right to refuse to employ organized labor may be to utter a legal commonplace but it is to as to admit of him practically holding in feature. his hands the destinies and fixing the vages of forty thousand men, and enforcing is will at the muzzle of Winchester rifles, while he himself is rolling in countless millions of the property of their common Father? Legal right, to be sure, he has, but moral right he has not.

There are at least two causes operating to produce this state of things. One is to be ound in two features of our industrial sysem which are incompatible with each other, viz. that which protects capital against foreign products while at the same ime exposing labor to the competition of oreign workmen. But this is a question for statesmen rather than ministers. And that it is a not a question of paltry partizanship but of life or death to our honest ollers, who have a divine right to a fair share of their heavenly Father's estate, was written in human blood the other day. The other and the deeper cause is found in the covetowness of the rich and the envy of the poor. Legislation may do something to remedy the former but only the grace of God can reach the latter. It is because of consummate selfishness in the and other troubles. It is not only seen in millionaires who organize gigantic monopolies to suck the life's blood of the millions. but in those of smaller means who will shut their eyes to the manner in which dering of needful and useful service or by stanced in the running of Sunday trains and the publication of Sunday newspapers. This avaricious age needs to learn no lesson more than that "a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" but in their adaption to meet the demands of his higher nature. And until the covetous rich and the envious poor learn it there will be found no remedy for these periodical outbreaks. It is no sin to be rich and no virtue to be poor. We have to thank God that success has crowned of some of the noblest men and women God eyer made who are using it for the glory of God and the good of humanity. When either wealth or poverty becomes an instrument of oppression to others it becomes a curse to all. Happy the man who from the depths of an honest heart can

Lord? or lest I be poor and steal and take the name of my God in vain."

REV. O'BOYLE PREACHES. The sermon in the Trinity Reformed burch was based upon a text from Matt. XIII-55, "Is not this the carpenter's son?" Jesus Christ had left his home and country and went into other countries to preach the Gospel. He followed the vocation of a carpenter. His father, Joseph, was a carpenter, and Jesus himself worked at the carpenter's bench. When Jesus went into the new country the finger of scorn was pointed at him and even the lowly asked, "Is not this the carpenter's son?" Christ was a carpenter before entering the ministry, not by accident, but God dignifles labor and he made his only son a carpenter. Labor, therefore, is no disgrace. There are two things absolutely necessary in the political economy of the world-capital and labor. You may have all the wealth, all the capital, all the machinery, all the mills and mines, but if they will be of no benefit. On the other hand, you may have nillions of men anxious to work, but if you have no capital back of them to give bom work then labor will be no good. Capital and labor must, therefore, go hand in hand.

you have not got the men to work them

My object this evening is merely to present to you the troubles that are now before us as a people concerning the riots at Homestead.

The sad feature of the affair is that politics are brought into it. It is not a

The capitalist has the right to fix his rate of wages and I, as an American citizen, not as an Anarchist or a Socialist, have no right to interfere with him. So the laborer can consider his labor his capital and you cannot compel me to work for

The wrong position in which the workingmen at Homestead is that they are not in their own homes, not living in their own houses, but are occupying the mills. They are occupying property that does not belong to them, property in which they have wrong the capitalists may be two wrongs

The only redseming feature of this dark side, to my mind, is that these poor laboring classes do not hold that position on American principles. Five thousand men are out of employment in one town. Seventy-five per cent. of that 5,000 are either Poles, Hungarians, Swedes or Italians, and less than one-fourth are Ameri-5,000 are led, therefore, to take this position on that principle which would destroy your life, and my lite, your home and my home, your church and my church, your governsay that might make right. In the light of ment and my government, and wipe out of higher than human laws we may fairly ask existence your God and my God-anarchwhat right has any man to acquire such ism and socialism. This is an unfortunate wealth and to absorb such establishments position, and at the same time a redeeming

> I said it was unfortunate that politics had wrong, because the question is not a political one. Christ is the only friend of the laborer.

> The first thing necessary in order to avoid these troubles is to have the capitalists and laborers be christians. Then they can and will sympathize with one another. The great trouble is now that there is too much mistrust. One is afraid of the other. It is necessary that the capitalists shall recognize the laborer, that he shall not consider the laborer is beneath him, and not like the Jews with Jesus, say sarcastically, "Is not this the carpenter's

> On the other hand the laborer ought not be less a christian. I do not believe in driving a rich man to hell and driving all the poor to heaven. There are many of both classes who will never reach heaven. The poor man is not the poorest in heart by any means. The rich and poor must be christians. The laboring man must have respect for Him who is over him.

It is necessary that the christian church take hold of this question. Take hold of the people, the capitalist and the laborer, and educate them and teach them the true meaning of the christian religion.

The capitalists at Homestead positively efuse to surrender their rights to labor, and n that they are right. Let each man hold to his rights. And I, as laborer, dare not surrender my rights.

This is from a standpoint of law, not from a standpoint of feeling. My heart aches for these poor men and the poor famlies. The families suffer the most and are the innocent victims.
