Our Directory, THE GIBSON AND DONAHOE FIGHT HE FOST OFFICE Shenandoah, THE AUTHORITIES INTERFERE

AND STOP THE FIGHT.

GIBSON SEEMED TO BE A WINNER

Donahoe Fought Well but Failed to Hold his Fort, and the Mt Carmel Chief Burgess Stepped In.

USTICE had her of ficers on hand at Mi Carmel last night and spoiled the boxing, o rather fighting contest The men who pai their money for rail way fare and admission to see "the fight for blood" were some v disappointed. A special train of eight car-left town shortly after nine o'clock last night. The passengers were equally enthusiastic. Gibson and Donohue men were on deck with praises and money and all were confident, George Turner, of the Philadelphia Item, was one of the last men to jump upon the train. He was fat, jolly and full of fight. George should have known that the fight would not be to a finish, because serious affairs of that kind are not attended by a thousand people.

A gentleman who seemed to be pretty well posted stated as the train pulled out, This is a grand pull of suckers. The HERALD is right when it says that all the easy going people are not dead, and Shenandosh is just the place to bait them.'

The fight was started in the Mt. Carmel skating rink. Gibson and Donahoe made their appearance in the ring at 3:07 a.m. just after a prominent newspaper man of Schuylkill had made a speech advocating order and enjoining demonstrations. George Turner called time at 3:28, Gibeon was seconded by Thomas Caldwell and Sherman Johnson. George Quinn was bottle holder.

Donahoe's seconds were Jack Fogarty and Mars. Wraft. Andy Hughes held the First round-Preliminary sparring, both men lining on style. Gibson led. Donsnoe showed a disposition to force the fight. Towards the close of the round Gibson oounded Donahoe at will,

Second round-Heavy exchanges and terrific slugging on both sides. Donahoe had, by far, the best of this round.

Third round-Gibson had a shade the best of this round. Donahoe played for Gibson's ribs and stomach, but fell short, Fourth round-Very few blows were struck. Both men were trying to get a right hander that sent him staggering nto his corner. Fifth round-Gibson had the upper

Sixth round-Donahoe forced the fightng, playing for Gibson's ribs, but fell short every time. Gibson took the honors, after waiting for chances, by hitting his opponent hard in the face,

Just after Referee Turner called time for the seventh round the Chief Burgess of Mt. Carmel stepped up to the rope and declared that he would not allow snother blow. Everybody took the declaration as a termination of the fight and the crowd dispersed. While leaving the buildings well known sporting man who favored Donahoe remarked to one of Donahoe's backers "It is ucky the Burgess interfered. The backer winked and nodded knowingly.

It was reported to-day that the two men will probably meet for a purse to be offered by the Coney Island Club.

EDITORS ON A JAUNT.

Their Annual Outing.

For the past eighteen years the editors connected with the Pennsylvania Editorial Association have been the guests of the Pennsylvania Railroad for a period during the summer season, and have been afforded opportunities to visit places of interes along the line selected by the Association Heretofore the outings have taken place about the last week of June, but to better suit the convenience of all concerned the trin was fixed later this year. Scranton, the metropolis of the coal region, was fixed as the rendezyous, and from tha point the members of the association made the start for the outing.

These outings are very popular and at least three hundred people take part in them each year. The tourists include the editors, their wives or daughters, or daugh ters of other editors. They spend a week having a jolly old-fashioned time, and it is taken for granted that no one shall stand upon ceremony, but consider the affair a family machine. This policy serves to put the think-pots of the editors in a refreshed condition and sends them back to their desks in good humor. Through the fore-sight of the Executive Committee, assisted by R. H. Thomas, Sr., treasurer and secretary, and his son, E H., Jr., an nteresting programme has been arranged for the Association this year. The route lies over the gravity road from Scranton to Honesdale; return to Scranton, thence by steam cars to Albany, N. Y., and from there by boat to New York city. To Messrs, J. B. Wood, General Passen ger Agent of the Pennsylvania Bailroad, and his gentlemanly assistant, George W. Boyd, great credit is due for the treat and entertainment that follows. Nothing is erly carried out and that convenient stop are made.

The Schuylkill county contingent left who arrived there about noon on a special train from Harrisburg via Sunbury.

At Wilkes-Barre the officials of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad furnished a this fact, that their paying patronage must special train and took the members to Scranton arriving there at 1:30 p. m.

Here they were met by a committee of the Scranton Press Club and citizens and taken to the different hotels in carriages. A description of the route to Wilkes

Barre has been printed in these columns so often that our readers are familiar with its To-day the editors enjoyed a trip to Honesdale over the gravity road.

FREE PUFFS.

The "Herald" Has Stood by the Agree ment.

Wednesday's Republican has the folowing article appropriate to the times: It is about two years since the newspaper publishers of Schuylkill county entered into an agreement that they would give no free advertising in the shape of "local puffs" to any church entertainment, society fairs, picnics or what not requiring job work, or advertising of any kind, the managers of which went to amateur or other job offices with their cash custom. In many cases this rule has been deviated from. But now that the picnic, camp fire and camp meeting season is on, we de sire to retresh the minds of the Schuylkil Press Association on this particular rule. People who court the newspapers for free advertising only are of no earthly use to us. It is on the same principle that men left undone to make all feel comfortable run up a big store bill with one merchant and perfectly at home, and not an incident and as soon as they get a little cash they occurs that would tend to mear the pleasure forget their benefactor and go somewhere of the trip. The two gentlemen generally else to spend it, thus doing great injustice remain with the excursionists during the to their true friend. Newspaper men geneach other's business interests. This latter is what the county association was formed to preserve. Every one of the newspapers yesterday morning and joined the main have good job printing offices connected body of the association at Wilkes-Barre, with them, and can do any sort of printing required, and do it cleanly. Societies churches or others who constantly profit by free newspaper advertising must remember hereafter go where they get their charitsole work."

PAWNEE BILL'S WILD WEST SHOW

This Aggregation Will Again Visit Schuylkill's Leading Summer Resort With Many Added Attractions.

HE management of Lakeside is keeping up with the times and is determined to give the public some of the best attractions in the country before the close of the sesson. Among the recent ookings is Pawnee Bill's Great Wild West Show, which is now larger and better than ever before.

Pawnee Bill has increased his capital and has surrounded himself by new and extraordinary attractions. The outfit of his camp is entirely new and his company exceeds in excellence all other combinsions he has had under his control.

His presentation of life in the Wild West s striking this year and all the features of that life, from a pappose to a warrior bold. figure in the display.

The entertainment is startling, amusing and delightful. It is clean and legitimate and will please both old and young. Pawnee Bill will fill an engagement at Lakeside in the latter part of August. But the enterprise of the Lakeside management does not stop at the Pawnee Bill engagement. Before the close of the season the public will have an opportunity to witness an equatic exhibition by the worldfamous Paul Boynton. The lakes afford. an excellent opportunity for this exhibiion, which is grand and unique. People will travel a hundred miles to witness Boynton's exhibitions and, therefore, Lakeside will not want for patronage.
