SPRING MILLINERY.

Flowers That Bloom in the Headgear of Fair Wearers.
Spring millinery is a trifle eccentric, and, therefore, is not quite as attractive to the majority of persons as when it showed more conservative styles. Very few people like marked departures in millinery, and it is only to the very few that they are becoming. Once in a while there is a radical novelty that looks well, but for the most part, millinery is as circumscribed as propriety, and when one goes outside of certain lines, there is sure to be trouble.

Small bonnets are admissible for ladies of all ages. They are snug and close-fitting, and less trimming than usual; but this trimming should be very handsome, and must be arranged in a very artistic fashion. The frames of some of the new bonnets are in modified toque shape, and are not so stylish or becoming as many of the models shown on former occasions. The bonnet of the present sits too squarely across the top of the head to be pretty. The becoming bonnet should extend down the sides, or be finished with an arch in front. The perfectly flat, round shape is trying, and while many of these will be worn, most women will accept them with a few grains of reluctance.

Some of the new shapes are covered with velvet, others are a mass of gauze in puffs, folds and plaitings; others are lace-covered, and some exceedingly pretty material in the way of lace braids and old-fashioned fancy Neapolitan and Tuscan are shown.

There are some flat bonnets that are perched high upon the head over the hair. In silhouette they bear a very striking resemblance to an old-fashioned flat saddle. They are very elaborately filled in under the front and back edges with plaitings, puffs, ruchings and tiny plumes. There are velvet strings which tie under the chin in a bow. Some of the velvet strings have the effect of stirrup straps, and are not, as rule becomingly arranged.

It must not, however, be imagined that ladies are under obligations to wear these eccentric bonnets.

There are pretty, close-fitting shapes which have scarcely been out of market for a score of years. One style, especially, has been seen so often that the remark has frequently been made that it must be old enough to vote, even if its wearer could not. It curves down over the side of the head, is slightly rounded up in the back, and has a brim turning out a very little at the top and sides. The trimming is of loops of velvet, small plums, rolls or bows of ribbon, and as the season advances, will be of flowers and foliage.

There are some very pretty hats with moderately high crowns, rather narrow brims rolled up at one side. A spray of flowers or plumes is set under the up-turned edge of the brim, and the hat is trimmed with loops of ribbon, flowers, or knots of velvet or lace, and sometimes all these materials massed together. Round hats will be popular. The brims may be bent in, curved over, and tucked up in all sorts of fanciful fashions, or they may be left straight and happy. Young ladies will wear hats in preference to bonnets for all ordinary occasions, and in many cases for dressy wear.

Children's hats are wide-brimmed, round and very simply trimmed with flowers and ribbon.

A Mischievous Bird.
There is a parrot in St. Louis, which exclaims, whenever a man enters the room: "You're drunk, sir, and had better go away. I don't want to see you till you're over it." People wonder how the bird catches on, but the explanation is simple; it doesn't know how to say anything else, and of course in making the remark to every man it frequently gets near home. One gentleman who called thought it was the lady of the house speaking, and rushed out of the parlor. She sat down to write a note of explanation to him, when to her amazement a servant brought her a note from the gentleman she was writing to, in which he stated that he acknowledged with humility that he had perhaps taken too much wine with his dinner, but had hoped on calling on her that she would not have detected it. As she had done so, however, he offered his most abject apologies and a prayer for forgiveness.

Victory for the Liberals.

Their Gains Are Sufficient to Wipe Out the Government's Majority.

LONDON, July 13.—The results of the elections show sufficient Liberal gains to wipe out the government's majority and assure Mr. Gladstone's return to power.

The net Liberal gain thus far is 37. This gives a majority of 5 against the Conservatives on division.

The report of Mr. Gladstone's having been taken seriously ill after his speech at Penelock is unfounded. Mr. Gladstone is in his usual health.

LONDON, July 13.—The election in Middlethian occurred yesterday. For some reason best known to themselves the Tories are curiously sanguine of defeating Mr. Gladstone. The result will not be known until officially declared, which will be this afternoon. The vote was heavy. It is estimated that not less than 85 per cent of the voting list was polled, and there is reason to fear that Mr. Gladstone's majority is somewhat reduced. Col. Wanchope was the Liberal-Unionist candidate against Gladstone.

The Battle of the Boyne.

TORONTO, July 13.—The 12th of July was celebrated throughout the province of Ontario with unusual enthusiasm. Large district demonstrations were held at Sarnia, Barrie, Kingston and other places. Several of the meetings passed resolutions sympathizing with Ulster Loyalists in their struggle against Home Rule.

Commencing a New Railroad.

BANGOR, Me., July 13.—Work has been begun for the construction of the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad. The road will be over 100 miles in length. The contract has been awarded for the whole line to C. P. Treat of Chicago.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Owens, of said borough of Shenandoah, to whom all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make payment, and those having claims or demands will make known the same without delay.

NOAH J. OWENS, Administrator.

PROPOSALS.

Sealed proposals will be received until July 20th, 1892, inclusive, for the erection of Public Water Works for the Borough of Shenandoah, Pa., to consist of the building of two reservoirs, two compound duplex condensing pumping engines, engine house, etc., fifteen miles of piping, (more or less) ranging in sizes of from twelve to four inches. Also, digging for and laying same, (steel or wrought iron) can be bid for. Also proposals will be received for the erection of a system of reservoirs, steel or wrought iron tanks to be built, probably, instead of the reservoir.

All plans and specifications and further particulars can be seen and had at the office of Archie H. Lamb, Shenandoah, Pa.

Proposals will be received both for to take the whole contract or in sub-divisions as follows:

Engines, engine house, etc. in one. Piping in one, digging and laying same in one, reservoirs in one.

Bonds will be required in all cases for the faithful performance of the work.

The committee reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids.

All communications to be addressed to J. J. FRANEY, Chairman of Sub-Committee, SHENANDOAH, Pa., July 1, 1892. 41sw-jy20
