BRINGING RIGGIN'S BODY HOME

A Column of Comment From the Pen of a Well-known and Entertaining "Herald" Contributor.

NOTHING unusual is thought of a person's hair turning white, but a case in which the hair turned black is reported from Detroit. A lady of that city originally had black eyes and hair, but in the course of time, when she had attained the age of about seventy years, her hair turned pure white. This was expected; but about a year ago her hair began darkening and is now as black as jet. There is no doubt about the change, nor was any artificial means used to produce it, so that the case is certainly one of the most remarkable recorded in the annals of medical history. The lady was not conscious of any change in diet or in her physical condition that would justify the curious phenomenon, so it is absolutely unexplainable on any known hypothesis.

Watch your hair.

Canned fruits have become so common and have come into such general use that it is not surprising to hear of poisonings from their use. No serious cases have yet occurred in our midst from this cause, but several persons have been made quite sick from the effects of eating canned fruits put up in tin cans. The acid in a can of pineapples nearly killed two people at Conshohocken the other day, and quite a number of cases of poisonings are reported from elsewhere. These poisonings occur only where the article eaten is put up in tin cans. It costs a little more for those put up in glass but there is positive safety in canned fruits put up in glass vessels.

Will we have one?

The Ministerial Association, composed of ministers of the various churches of town, have undertaken several reforms, the most important of which is the proposed establishment of a free reading room in town, where the youth, as well as the aged, can spend their spare moments profitably in reading such literature as the association may secure. This action of the clergymen should meet with the hearty approval and co-operation of every parent in town, as it will offer inducements to the young to spend their evenings in a more profitable manner than is now being done by many of them.

All praise to the ministers.

Here's an item of news that will interest many of your readers. The body of Charles Riggan, the Philadelphia sailor who was brutally murdered by a mob in the streets of Valparaiso, Chili, is now on its way to the United States. Consul McCready is accompanying the remains of the martyred sailor.

Two boys named Byrne and Killoyne were arrested last night by C. & I. policemen and brought to town to answer charges of stealing rides on coal trains. The police have had considerable trouble with boys who persist in this dangerous habit and they have concluded to let no case go without at least a fine. It is strange that the boys will continue to indulge in the practice when so many have been maimed and killed through it. When this argument is made the offenders invariably reply, "They didn't know how to do it."

Some of the boys in and near Wm. Penn junction will either land in jail or be subjected to a severe fine if they do not change their tactics. The C. & I. Police have an eye on them. The charge is more serious than jumping on coal trains. When the excursion train was on its way from Lakeside to town last night a boy stood beside the track near the junction and held a large pole close to the car windows. The train was going pretty lively at the time and a man who received a whack on the hand from the pole was not put in a pleasant frame of mind. Three large young fellows stood beside the mischievous boy and did not attempt to make him desist.

Another illustration of the red tape business that follows in the wake of the Baker ballot law was given last night. John J. Coyle, of Mahanoy City, Republican candidate for the Legislature, was obliged to hunt all over town for the officers of the convention that nominated him in order to get their signatures to the certificate of nomination, which he is obliged to file at Pottsville to get his name properly on the ticket for the campaign next fall. This part of the law puts the candidate to needless expense and trouble and tends to inconvenience the people who preside at nominating conventions. But it is the law.

It is remarked that there is very little discussion over the last injunction the water company secured against the borough and joint committees. It is true that there has not been much public discussion. It is all under cover, so far as the public water works people are concerned. They are nervous and really do not seem to know how to take the matter. Some of them have admitted that they expect to be defeated in the Pottsville court, but they qualify the admission with the statement that the borough of Shenandoah cannot win a case at Pottsville and that when the Supreme Court is reached the matter will be decided in their favor. I fear this hope will not avail much. One thing is certain, if all matters surrounding this water force could get before the courts the water company would knock out the boomers in the tribunal of appeal, as well as in the lower court, as easy as rolling off a log. A reputable citizen complains that he was duped into voting for the increase of debt. He says that when asked to vote for the increase he plainly told the party who made the solicitation that he would not vote that way if a taxation of any kind would be put on the people. He was assured that this would not be done. Now that a levy of 8 per cent has been made the aforesaid reputable citizen is like a maddened bull. The revulsion of feeling is not limited to one case, and when the boomers again ask the people for their votes they will find a hornet's about their heads.

PERSONAL.

Thomas Feeley, of Philadelphia, is a town visitor.

Reuben Glick, of Girardville, was a visitor to town last evening.

Safe, Quick and Effective.

The valuable curative properties of Alcock's Porous Plasters are due to the employment of the highest medical and chemical skill. They are purely vegetable, and in ingredients and method have never been equalled; safe, quick and effective in their action, they do not burn or blister, but soothe and relieve while curing, and can be worn without causing pain or inconvenience.

Do not be deceived by misrepresentation.

All other so-called Porous Plasters are imitations, made to sell on the reputation of Alcock's.

Ask for Alcock's and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE MINE WORKERS

PACKER COLLIERY NO. 4 TO RESUME SHIPMENTS.

REVIVAL OF THE COAL TRADE

It is Asserted That the Market is Picking up and That all the Collieries in This Section Will be Benefitted.

THE Reading system today made an encouraging announcement for the miners and others employed in and in connection with Packer colliery No. 4. This colliery remained idle from last Christmas up to the beginning of the present week, extensive repairs and improvements being made in the meantime. On Saturday last the miners and laborers were informed that on Monday following they would be allowed to re-enter the mines and go to work.

The announcement was received joyously, but was not as good as at first thought, for while the men were allowed to mine the coal none of it was shipped. The announcement of to-day, however, fills the cup of happiness, for the coal mined last week will be taken out and shipped and the mines will be allowed to prepare for other shipments.

Agents well known in mining circles stated to a HERALD reporter that in his opinion the coal trade was beginning to get upon its feet again and that all the collieries in this section will soon benefit by it. It can come none too soon.

Sons of Veterans Festival.

The Light Infantry connected with Henry Horncastle Camp, No. 49, S. of V., will hold an ice cream and raspberry festival in Robbins' opera house this evening. It will undoubtedly surpass anything of the kind yet held this season. Many attractive features will be introduced for the entertainment of those who attend, notably among which will be a cane, cake and stag walk. The cane walk will be participated in by G. A. R. members only, and the prize to the successful walker will be a cane taken from the Gettysburg battle field. If you want to enjoy yourself attend the festival this evening.

Obituary.

Edward M. Brennan, the liveryman, better known as "Big Ned," died at his residence at the corner of Main and Cherry streets yesterday afternoon. Pneumonia was the cause of death. He left a wife and two children aged respectively nine and thirteen years. Mr. Brennan had been a resident of the town for nineteen years and followed the occupation of a miner before entering upon the livery business. The funeral will take place at 3 p. m. to-morrow.

Mrs. Benjamin Oliver, of Raspberry alley, died suddenly this morning. Death was caused by hemorrhage of the lungs.

The Picnic To-night.

The picnic of the Grant Band at Pastime Park to-night will be a grand success. The event will mark the formal opening of the park and will be well patronized. One of the features will be a concert by the band. A programme of new selections has been prepared. The dancing platform is ready and the famous Schoppe orchestra of ten pieces will furnish the music. The concert is also ready for business. The fare to the park, via the electric railway, will be five cents.

Great Sacrifice Sale.

A great sale of boots and shoes, clothing, dry goods and notions will continue for the next ten (10) days at Self's original bargain store, 25 South Main street. This is a long-continued sale of an excellent stock of goods and people who patronize it will find excellent opportunities for bargains. Don't fail to seize this opportunity at once, as it will only last ten days. 7-16-92

A Great Stock.

Five thousand novels, the latest and best issued, selling at 25 cents each, places, for sale at Max Rees's for 10 cents. The finest playing cards in the market 5 cents per pack.

Gibson Hackers Anxious.

William Gibson called at the HERALD office this morning and stated that his backers are anxious to have the Donahoe people reply to his challenge published a few days ago. The challenge is that he will fight Donahoe before the Coney Island Club for $500 a side and a purse.

Died.

BRENNAN—At Shenandoah, on July 15, 1892, E. M. Brennan, aged 39 years. Funeral will take place on Sunday, July 17, at 3 o'clock p. m., from the late residence corner Main and Cherry streets. Interment in Annunciation cemetery.

Interesting Items Concerning Different Sections of the Region.

The Ashland borough council will erect a new building for the Washington Hose Company.

Much has been heard of the increased coal tonnage over the Lehigh Valley and Central Railroads since the deal. Nothing, however, has been heard of the large tonnage of coal diverted from the Lehigh canal to those roads. The voice of the company boatmen who must wait two and three weeks at Match Chunk before they are given a load is not heard. They must keep quiet or they might not be given any coal at all.—Easton Express.

Superintendent Landis, of the Allentown Public Schools, in his report declares that the night schools opened in that city are a failure, owing to irregularity and indifference.

John M. Crossland, of Pottsville, claims to be the oldest Old Fellow in Schuylkill county. He joined the order in 1833.

The Phoenixville school board has re-established the Bible as one of the text books for the public schools of that borough.

The Ashland school board has decided to stick to a nine-month school term, but is considering the advisability of giving free text books.

While Mrs. Dale Armstrong, wife of an amusement manager at Scranton, was seated by an open window, she was startled by a sudden twinge of pain in her right cheek. Raising her hand to her face quickly, she caught an ordinary housefly, which had bitten her. Almost immediately her cheek began to swell, until it was full five times its natural size and completely covered her right eye. The physicians pronounced it a case of blood poisoning. The theory advanced is that the fly had been eating decomposed animal matter and that in biting Mrs. Armstrong it inoculated the poison into her system.

The borough of St. Clair held a special election Thursday on the subject of light. The members of Council have been agitating the question of electric light as a street illuminator and submitted the matter to the votes of the citizens. The light people won by a majority of 24 votes. The plant will cost about $20,000 and the borough will control it.

The Young Men's Republican Club, of Mahanoy City, will hold their third annual picnic at Lakeside on the 21st inst., and an enjoyable time is undoubtedly in store for those who attend.

Albert Oaks, of Frackville, convicted of attempting to wreck trains by misplacing switches, has been taken to the Huntingdon Reformatory by Sheriff Wolf.
