EVE WITNESSES FROM ST. JOHN'S. " A Veritable Graveyard".- Arrival of the Miranda at Halifax.

HALLFAR, N. S., July 15 .- "The place has the appearance of a veritable grave-yard," was the remark made by an officer of the steamer Mirania, which has arrived here from the fire-stricken city of St. John's, N. F. The steamer, at the time of the fire, was at Pilley's Island, getting a cargo of ore, and when she arrived back at St. John's on Monday the principal part of the city, or about two-thirds of it, was a mass of smouldering ruins. The people were wandering about the streets homeless, and in many cases with but people were wandering about the streets homeless, and in many cases with but scant clothing.

Everybody, he ever, was waiting an-xiously for the help promised from the outside world. The portion over which the flames swept had been principally wood, but the few stone or brick houses in the locality crumbled away almost as rapidly as those built of wood. One of the Miranda's crew, a resident of St. John's, found that his little house was gone and his family of five had lost everything, including his month's wages, which he had only been paid when the ship first reached there, and which he had given to his wife for safe keeping. The homeless ones now, thanks to the military and naval authorities of Halifax, are comfortably housed under canvas.

When the steamer left, the place was clouded in dense black smoke from the burning coal in the sheds along the water front. Those who witnessed the fire say the sight was a grand and awful one and in many cases heartrending. Little children who had got astray from their contained who had got agency from their parents were running about in the exci-ted crowds crying, and in many cases the little things were not recovered till next morning. The most extraordinary thing about the disester was the small number known.

Boston, July 16 .- Mayor Matthews has issued an appeal to the citizens of Boston to contribute to the relief of the St. John's, N. F., sufferers. He offers to receive sub-scriptions, to be used through the agency of the relief committee appointed by the citizens of Boston.

THE ERUPTION OF ETNA. A Grand Spectacle-People Moving Away

Rome, July 16 .- The eruptions of lava from Mt. Etna are increasing. The volcano is now ejecting huge boulders, and streams of lava are pouring down the mountain side. The violence of the volcanic disturbance surpasses anything seen since the beginning of the present outbreak.

Enormous rocks, glowing and steaming, are shot 1,000 feet in the air. Two hills have been upheaved and are emptying streams of glowing lava toward the village of Nicolosi.

People living near the base of the mountain are very apprehensive, and many are moving away. At Nicolosi the whole popmoving away. At Nicolosi the whole pop-ulation pass the greater part of the nights on the housetops watching the remarkable phenomena. Hundred of tourists have cone out from Catania and Syracuse to see the eruptions.

Dispatches from Naples say that Vesu-vius is unusually active and is throwing up lava abundantly.

MURDERED AND BURNED. The Horrible Fate of Mrs. Michael Clemons of Pleasureville, Pa.

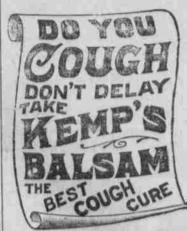

York, Pa., July 16.—Mrs. Michael Clemens, aged 32, was found dead last night in Small's Woods, near Pleasurerille, this county. Her dress over the breast was burning and the body had two bullet holes in the neck and cuts on the neck, arms and hands.

HOMESTKAD, July 16.—There is no doubt mated Association. that non-union workmen are now inside the gates of the Carnegie plant, but their number is so small that they are practically a dead letter in connection with the operation of the milis. These men entered the works quietly at an hour when suspicion was stilled, and arrangements for their comfort until a larger force comes to join them have been made. Five furnacer are running and about fifty men are

Some of them are believed to have entered by the river front, while others came by train to Homestead and mingled with the people without exciting suspicion. Their number cannot be ascertained, but it is certain that no great body of men such as would be required to run the works could have entered the mills without be-

Smoke seen issuing from the chimneys of two of the Carnegie mills for a short time caused the suspicion to become prevalent that non-union men were in the works. This suspicion was later con-

A circular has been posted at all the mill entrances. The circular is head ed:
"The Carnegie Steel Company, Limited," and in poster type under the heading is the word "Notice" in startling black caps, with an exclamation point. The body of the circular reads:

"Individual applications for employ ment at the Homestead Steel Works will be received by the general superintendent in person of by letter, until 6 p. m. Thurs-day, July 31, 1893. It is our desire to re-tain in our service all of our old employes whose past record is satisfactory, and who did not take part in the attempts which have been made to interfere with our rights to manage our business. Such of our old employes as do not apply by the time above named will be considered as having no desire to re-enter our employment, and the positions which they have held will be given to other men, and those first applying will have the choice of the unfilled positions for which they are suit-

How this notice will be received by the strikers is a question. It is not likely that at first there will be any desertions from the ranks, notwithstanding the undoubted fact that there are many men among them who would like to go back to work at the company's terms. Six days are given in which they may consider,

Information on the subject is not obtainable from the mill officers. When the smoke began to issue from the mills some workingmen who saw it made a dash for one of the gates and were kept back at the point of the bayonets of the military

The leaders of the strikers wear an air of supreme confidence. They say that they have won the fight and that the Carnegie Company realize this, or will realize it when they have tried the experiment of running the works for a few weeks with a half straightaway. green hands. All interest centers in the probable introduction of enough nonunion men to start the mil's and the strikers spend their time discussing this phase of the situation.

Some are inclined to think the Carnegle

Company will win, but there does not appear to be any indication of acquiescence in the statement of Mr. Lovejoy, secretary to Mr. Frick, that fully two-thirds of tl . Homestead workers will go back to their vacant posts when the mills are started.

Preparations for placing non-union men in the Carnegie milis are going forward. The Tide came up the river the morning from Pittsburg and proceeded direct to the landing place of the works. A gang of men were waiting for her and her freight, consisting of cots, blankets, canvass and camp utensils, was unloaded and placed inside the mill property.

The Poor Farm property, which is in-side the big fence, and is now the property of the Carnegie Company, contains a big level field, which will make a good camping ground for the workmen, and the large building which has been used for the county poor will hold a number. It is evidently the intention of the Carnegie people to utilize this portion of the plant, which is located so admirably for the purpose, as to suggest the possibility that the present emergency was expected and carefully prepared for long in ad-VALUE.

A number of incidents tending to en-courage the locked-out men in their position have happened. Allen Hubbard, the foreman of the armor plate shop of the Carnegie mills, has quit work. He refused to work under police protection and declared that if the militia were to be used for police duty in order to operate the mills he would not work there, but would seek employment elsewhere.

The entire force of the civil engineering department of the mills has also quit work out of sympathy with the lockedout men.

An amusing incident bearing on the strike and the presence of the militia here is the refusal of the cooks and waitresses of the Club House here to prepare or serve meats while Gen. Snowden and his officers took their meats there. The Club House is a sort of hotel for the convenience of employes of the Homestead plant, and during the occupancy of the town by the militia, Gen. Snowden and a number of his officers have been taking their meals there. The cooks and waitresses sympa-thize with the locked out men, and they expressed their sympathy this morning by not reporting for duty and sending a measage that they would not work at the ho-tel while Gen. Snowden and his officers non-resistance to any attempt of the company to put non-union men in the works, but they find their efforts in this con-nection seriously hampered by the dispo-sition of some of the workers.

The advisors and leaders of the men told them that the troops were coming as their friends, and when the boys in blue mingled with the townspeople, drank beer with the steel workers and gave them cartridges in exchange for relies of the fight with the Pinkertons, this feeling prevalled. But after the first day the lines have gradually been tightened and atrict discipline prevails in the camp and in the

AN EX-EMPLOYE CALLED.

Indications That the Carnegie Company is Preparing to Resume Work.

Youngsrown, July 16 .- David Kennedy, an ex-employe of the Carnegie Mills at Homestead, has received a message from the Carnegie Company requesting him to report to the mills at once as they wish to resume operations. It is said that W. I.
Abbott, representing the Carnegie Company, has been in this city for several days, looking for men to go to Homestead, promising to put them to work next

Non-Union Men Sent from Cincinnati. " Cincinnati, July 16.—An afternoon paper says: "Since Sunday there have been collected in this city, by a certain well-known dectective agency 270 or 280 men. They were gathered one by one from the habitues of various down-town ons and street corners by agents who held out to them the flattering prospect of $3, $4 and $5 per day should they go Homestead. The gang thus selected has been sent to the Carnegie mills in sec-tions. So quietly has the work been carried on that scarcely an intimation of the proceeding has come to the surface. The men were shipped to take the places of Powderly Writes Two Letters SCRANTON, Pa., July 16 .- General Master Workman Powderly of the Knights of Labor has written to President Harrison and Gov. Pattison, directing their atten-tion to the fact that the landing of an armed force of Pinkerton mercenaries at Homestead on the 6th of July was an invasion of the State, an act of treason against the United States, and should, therefore, be punished as such unwarranted assumption of authority deserves.

More Typhus in New York.

New York, July 16 .- Two cases of typhus fever were discovered on board the Guion line steamship Nevada while the vessel lay at the company's pler, No. 88, North river. Hundreds of people were on the dock yesterday and the day before, while thousands of others who went to the river front to breaths in the fresh air may have swallowed some of the germs of the dreaded malady. Dr. Jenkins, fearing that there might be another outbreak of the scourge, has removed 91 of the passengers to the lower bay. The steamship has been disinfected and all efforts are being made to check the progress of the disease

New Bedford, Mass., July 16.-Andrew J. Francis, a well-known grocer of this city, has disappeared, leaving unpaid bills in large numbers. Attachments were placed on his stock by some of his credi-tors to the amount of $1,600, but at auction it sold for only $420. Francis' part-ner is one of the heavy creditors, having lost all the capital he put into the business. A young girl to whom Francis has been paying attention has disappeared also. Before leaving Francis collected about $1,500 due him from customers. He is a childless widower and about 40 years

STRIKERS HUNTED BY THE MILITARY

The Non-Union Men Escorted to Wardner Under a Strong Guard-Operations in the Mines Soon to be Resumed-Leaders in Jall-Martial Law Provails.

Wardner, Idaho, July 16 .- Three passenger coaches loaded with the non-union men who were recently sent out of the county returned here in the afternoon They were escorted by a special train loaded with regular troops. The trip to Ward-ner was uneventful. Gen. Carlin had 400 troops drawn up around the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mills and the railroad de

The strictest martial law was enforced and there was not the slightest sign of disturbance while the non-union men were being unloaded. The returning non-union men were armed with Winchesters. At the station they gave up their rifles and marched unarmed to their destination. The men who were escorted up to the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine, one and a half miles up the gulch through the camp of Wardner, were heavily guarded, Gen, Carlin issued a proclamation call-ing upon all the members of the Miners' Union to surrender. He later issued another order commanding all the strikers to be arrested wherever found and disarmed and imprisoned. He also dispatched searching squads to Fourth of July Can-yon to hunt for dead bodies. He thinks that the men who were killed was throw at the men who were killed were thrown into the river.

When the arrival of the troops became known, the last twenty men of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine force, who did not surrender at the time of the exodus of the other men of the mine, had taken to the brush, armed, and had been hiding ever since. They were greatly exhausted. The troops found them fortified in the mine. They were relieved by a company of soldiers, who permitted them to rest and sleep. The entire working force of the nile will had to the site of the mine. and sleep. The entire working force of the mine will pick up tools at once and begin operations in the mine.

The troops began scouring Wardner, bringing union men and placing them in confinement in the guard-house in the camp on the ball grounds. Fred E Dean, secretary of the union, was among the first arrested. President O'Brien was another. At Wallace also it is reported arrests are being made. The Cour d'Alene is virtually in the hands of the hands of the military. Unless the union men commit some act of violence soon the time for such conduct will be past. The men at the mine will be supplied with Winchesters by the owners to protect the

JAY GOULD ROUGHING IT. Camping in a County Where Martial Law Prevails.

SHOSHONE, Idaho, July 16 .- Jay Gould and his party are roughing it in the Wood River country. They are located in a county that is under martial law, owing to the mining troubles in the Courd'Alene district, but the whole party are popular with the trainmen and ranchers near the camp, and have had no occasion to feel apprehension during the exciting events of this week.

Mr. Gould and his party are pronounced a jolly crowd. The Money King spends much of his time fishing. He is extremely fond of the sport, and handles the rod quite skilfully. As in everything else he undertakes, the great manipulator has so far been the most successful angler in the Valuable Housatonic Property Stolen.

Bamgaront, Conn., July 16.-There is a rumor affoat that between the time of the election of the new officers of the Housa-tonic road and the time they took possess sion valuable property, the amount of which is not given out, was abstracted from the officers in this city. When the new board of directors was elected there was an agreement made with the old officers that the property should remain in-tact, and the discovery that this had been violated has made the new board very in-dignant. It is said legal proceedings will be begun if the guilty parties can be located.

May Enter the Canadian Confederation OTTAWA, Ont., July 16 .- It is believed here that a probable result of the fire in St. John's, N. F., will be to bring New-foundland into the Confederation and that the instant sympathy and ready aid which went from Canada to the sufferers have done more to do away with the un-friendly relations between the Dominion and the island colony than any diplomacy on the part of the Dominion Governmen could effect.
