The many of workmen now employed on the plate mills would have to go on strike forever if the Democratic bill placing tin plate on the free list should be made law. It is hardly for them a Republican Senator and a Republican President have so sympathy with such a step.

Much work remains for the common schools. The need of more effective and more general schooling is shown by the presence in the community of men who declare that Republican reciprocity and Democratic free trade are essentially the same thing. It will not do to extol the work of the optional free schools too much when men who should have been schooled in those institutions remain so befogged that they can't see the difference between taxing foreign goods that compete against home products, and on the other hand, discriminating in favor of such imports as do not enter into competition with American industries. Every instance of inability to appreciate this difference adds so much to the strength of the argument in favor of compulsory education.

Neither importations, nor immigrations, nor machinery, should be permitted to enter into so fierce a competition with our producing citizens as, in any degree, to prevent them from acquiring an adequate maintenance in exchange for their labor; and an opportunity should be continually accessible to the unfed, the unclad and the homeless, to procure an adequate supply of these necessities to human existence in exchange for a reasonable expenditure of human effort. The importation of a competitive article or the immigration of a competing workman dooms an American producer to a condition of relative idleness and its consequent penalty. Will the American producer quietly yield to this encroachment on his rights as a citizen? If not, he will use his influence in procuring protective legislation.

The Colored National Convention, held at Cincinnati, expressed a movement which merits the sympathy and thoughtful attention of the whole country. The delegates made throughout a strong plea in behalf of the colored race, nor for special laws nor special favor, but merely for justice, and for a fair and equal opportunity with white men in the race of life. In the light of their treatment in the South, both at the polls and in courts of justice, and considering how often, especially of late, mob rule has condemned and executed colored men without a trial for crimes of which they have been accused, it is not without reason that they make this appeal to the nation. The colored people of this country constitute more than one-ninth of the total population. They are American citizens, and as such are entitled to protection in all their rights of citizenship. Beyond this they have an especial claim upon us, for as one of their speakers says: "They wrought out a material portion of the nation's wealth by two hundred years of unrequited toil; they astonished the world by their gentleness under extreme provocation. They entered their freedom destitute of all things except the habit of labor and the practice of obedience; destitute of education, the inheritance of every American child; destitute of property, though their labor created millions of wealth; of homes, though they have builded thousands of homes for others."

The Great American Hog Is welcome abroad once more, and abroad he may go. As long as Lard was a requisite in every kitchen, the Great American Hog was highly esteemed at home; but now that modern science has introduced COTTOLENE the new vegetable substitute for Lard, poor Piggy's occupation's gone. The reason for this is threefold. COTTOLENE is cleaner, healthier and much more economical. A trial has convinced thousands as to this. It will convince any "convincable" person.

DEATH FROM A VOLCANO

Awful Destruction in One of the Philippine Islands.

TWELVE THOUSAND REPORTED LOST

Natives Bring the First News of the Calamity—Partly Confirmed by a Steamship—It Took Her Three Hours and a Half to Sail Through the Wreckage.

STONEY, July 18.—Rumors have reached here from Timor that there has been a volcanic eruption on the Island of Sangir, one of the Philippine group, and that most of the inhabitants have been killed. Several natives who have just returned from a voyage near Sangir, and who had intended to land on the island, were prevented by the sight of mountains belching forth smoke and fire. They report that the whole island was on fire.

The water along the coast was full, they said, of half burned wreckage, pieces of houses and charred bodies. The whole population, estimated at about 13,000, seemed to have been swept into the sea or burned, as not a living soul was to be seen. Streams of lava were still flowing toward the shore, showing that the activity of the volcanoes had not abated.

The steamship Cattachen, from China to Sydney, brought a similar story to port with her yesterday. Near Sangir, her captain said, she passed through miles of debris, dissimilar from anything he had before seen at sea.

Articles of headress in the wreckage were identified by a sailor who had lived in the Philippines as peculiar to the natives of Sangir and the nearby islands of the Philippine group. The ship was three hours and a half passing through the wreckage.

These reports are partially credited here, although they are believed to have been exaggerated. The formation of Sangir is volcanic, and several small craters near the center of the island are known to have threatened activity during the last ten months.

THE INFLUENCE OF MUSIC. Mr. Cleveland Thinks It an Important Adjunct to Political Campaigns.

LOUISVILLE, July 18.—All lovers of music know Will S. Hays, author of "Mollie Darling," and other melodies. Mr. Hays recently wrote a Cleveland and Stevenson campaign song and sent a copy of it to Mr. Cleveland. In his reply Mr. Cleveland writes as follows:

WILL S. HAYS. Dear Sir—I received a copy of the song you have written to be used, as you say, for an "encourager" during the approaching campaign. I believe with you that the influence of songs and music of the right sort ought not to be overlooked as an important adjunct to the political campaign, and so far as I am able to judge, this latest production of yours will serve to a good purpose in that direction. Of one thing I am certain, the composition of this song by you is a sure demonstration that the composer is actuated by the sort of spirit and enthusiasm which win elections. Very truly yours, "GROVER CLEVELAND."

WAS THERE A ROBBERY?

The Adams Express Company Officials Decline to Talk on the Matter. NEW HAVEN, July 18.—From the reticence and peculiar manner of the officials of the Adams Express Company there seems to be some foundation for the report of the alleged robbery of the company of a package of money destined for the Meriden bank.
