They refused to tell why they desired the information. The inquiries were continued at other places, and suspicion as to the real character of the bushness of the two men became aroused when they were recognized as Constables Price and Itwin.

The suspicion was not verified, how-ever, until T. H. Williamson, a member of the Homestead Borough Conneil, and also a member of the local Advisory Committee on the strike arrived in Home-stead from Pittsburg with the informa-tion that the warrants had been issued. The news soon became noised about. While a suspicion that the arrests were anticipated had been prevalent for two days, it was not supposed that the charge against the strike leaders would be so serious a one as marder, and the work-ingmen were thrown into a state border. The suspicion was not verified, how ingmen were thrown into a state border ing on consternation by the direfu-tidings. ## WORK DID NOT COMMENCE.

None of the Mechanics Reported for Duty at the Great Mills. HOMESTEAD, July 19.-At 6 a. m. the watchman threw open the main gate in the two miles of fence that surrounds the great steel mills of the Carnegie company, and peered into the dense fog outside to ee if the men in the mechanical departnents were beginning to arrive.

The shadowy form of a soldier on guard was the only sign of life visible, and the faithful watchman withdrew to the office orch.

He waited patiently for the approach of the 500 or 600 mechanics who were notified to report for duty and begin repairs preliminary to the starting of the mills

A few minutes before seven one man arrived and was admitted without a ques-tion. Then came another and another, until twelve men had passed within the gate. They were not the mechanics who were summoned. They were not former employes returning to make individual application for their old positions. They application for their old positions. They were the watchmen and foremen who have remained loyal to the company and have been on duty since the mills shut down. Not one of the skilled mechanics re-ported at the office, and despite the official notice of Superintendent Potter, work did not commence at the time expected.

These mechanics are not only experts in their several lines, but they are familiar with every machine and every furnace in the Carnegie works. To fill their places will be extremely difficult as the appliances will be extremely difficult as the approximate of at the Carnegie mills are in advance of those of any steel works in this country. Even if men capable of doing the work are found it will be no easy matter to in-duce them to work under guard.

WAVERED, BUT DIDN'T BREAK. Pittsburg Strikers Remain Out, Many of

Them; Against Their Wills. PETERURG, July 10 .- The limit of time iven by the Carnegie Company to the sympathetic strikers at the 20th and 33d street mills in the Lawrenceville district to return to work, has expired and none of them availed themselves of the opportunity to undo their work of last week.

This does not signify, however, that the strikers are a unit in the opinion that they have taken the proper course. Many of the mill hands, including some that have the mill hands, including some that have grown gray in the works and were identi-fied with the plant long before they passed into the possession of the Carnegic Com-pany, are free to admit in private conver-sation that a serious mistake has been made and that it would have been better had the men contented themselves with pledging their moral and financial sup-port to the Homestead men as was done by the workers at Duquesne. There are about 2,500 names on the pay-ment rolls of the two mills. Of theses 1,000 are union, or skilled workmen, and the balance mechanics and laborers em-ployed in the firing and kindred depart-ments.

All the latter are at work to-day and the mills present so busy an appearance the the groups of strikers and the guards at the entrances to the works are the only indications that anything out of the usual run of happenings is transpiring. Everything is running except the tonnage de-partments; repairs are being made and everything being put in shape for a full starting up of the plant at an early date.

FROM CHINA AND JAPAN.

Great Inuudations -- Treatment of Foreign Missionaries.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19 .- The steamer City of Pekin has just arrived, bringing China advices to June 28 and Japanese to July 2. Accounts of terrible inundations come from Fukushima Prefecture. In besant rain from the 25th to the 28th of June has resulted in the flooding of ten districts, eighty-four people being killed and many wouldeled; over 1,000 houses were inundated, forty-three houses dewere infinitiated, they three houses de-stroyed and many dimmaged. Nearly seven hundred deciges were swept away. Eight hundred acres of rice fields hundrated and 4,000 acres are under water. From Narking the news comes that re-ports of the capture of Chinese by foreign missionaries, the goinging out of eyes, etc., are treached and are really halfweed by

are prevalent and are really believed by

There is no open opposition to the foreign missionaries, but the officials place every obstruction in their way, and, It is suspected, searely aid in the spread-ing of vile anti-Christian literature, which is mainly responsible for all the trouble. The editor of the Japan "Gazette," who has examined some of these pamphlets says of them: 'If the government continues to permit their circulation these. Human tracts will be a blot upon the Celestial Empire, which ages will not efface." At Shun-King and Ighang some myster-ions plague is carrying off thousands of people. General Lo Lo, who has charge of the district, is out daily with his troops firing volleys of blank cartridges to drive off the demons of the air who are sup posed to bring pestilence.

A few months ago the schooner Undine, towed by Crawford & Company, of San Francisco, sailed for the South Sea Islands in command of Captain Castelle. When told of the arrests, he expressed blueself in emphatic terms. He declared the action of the Carnegie Company an outrage and a most danger-ous step to take in the present excited condition of the community. He sould the whole bluese of the matter

He said the whole blame of the matter rested upon Mr. Frick, and that in his opinion it would react, and Mr. Frick would lose more than he would gain by the extreme step he had taken.

The two men who have done more than any dozen others to restrain the strikers from unlawful acts during the many ex-citing days since the battle with the Pink-ertons are Hugh O'Donnell and Burgesa McLuckie. The removal of these two men from the town at this critical time leaves the more not-headed of the strikers with few able to keep them in check in case an emergency arises, tending to lead them to again resort to mob violence. The men of all grades of intelligence have great respect for these two men. They fairly worship O'Donnell. He is they miny working Napoleon among them. He is a born leader, quick to think and act; he is a man of remarkable intelli-pence, and has practically grided the workinen in their struggle. Burgess Mo-Luckie is also a counsellor of peaceful methods and has done much to restrain the men from violence. He was lurgess at the time of the strike of 1880, and was elected by the man again this year, as they saw another difficulty with the Carnegle Company was brewing.
