MODERN HOUSES.

Cheapness in Construction Seems to Be the End in View,

After many hundred years of progress in almost all of the pursuits of life, it is rather discouraging to reflect that in the item of house-building we are in many particulars almost precisely where we were in the days of our great grand-

True, we have many so-called modern improvements, but they are for the most part too unwieldly and expensive for moderate incomes, and therefore practically a monopoly. The great imwhich save labor or money for the nasses, and this the modern improved Iwelling does not do. Attempts in the lirection of economy of space and less cost have resulted in the erection of buildings in which light and air, the two great essentials to health and happiness, are sacrificed. Isolated house are put up on the most parsimonious plan as regards material, and are, as a matter of course, sold, flimsy, and conequently uncomfortable and unsafe. Half a century ago, the house in tho country was built with a good, substantial stone wall underneath it. and upon this secure foundation was erected a superstructure which had in its skeleton enough timber to make it substantial and keep it in place. Now the foundation wall is uilt with just as little material as posble; the upper portion is made of light ticks, nalled together, the boarding is thin, and to make up for lack of warmth, paper is placed under the boarding next to the uprights, and tacked on. The floors are thin every eavy stop in the apper stories jars the after building: there is no quiet, no rerement, and no real comfort about the lace, If the wind blows, the house ocks and shakes, and the inmates, in conder and terror, manage to exist until the fury of the storm is past.

As an abundance of water is one of the necessities of good health, if not of ife itself, the choice lies between cumbersome and complicated appliances or a great deal of very hard work, which, in these days of unreliable help and replied many cares and responsibilities, is "No. scarcely to be thought of. Contract work is responsible for much of this trouble, and, although these to the contract to the contract work is responsible for much of this trouble, and, although these to the contract was it your intention to kill M. F. C. cases nothing else to do than to put building into the hands of contractors, it is a most expensive and oftentines unsatisfactory way of doing things. The building of a house, even at the present low cost of raw materials, is a much more costly operation than it was years ago, when everything which entered into its composition, with the possible exception of lumber, was much higher in price than now. Certainly there should be something done in the direction of fitting up homes for the mil-lions at a fairly reasonable price.—N. Y.

BERKMAN'S PRELIMINARY HEARING.

Admitted to Bail in the Sum of $24,000 Remanded for Court Because He Could Not Furnish It Gen. Snowden's Views on the Treatment of Inms.

Person ac, July 30, -The bulletin issued by the attending surgeon indicates but little change in H. C. Frick's condition save in the direction of continued improvement. Mr. Frick's recovery from bla very dangerous infuries has been se very rapid and satisfactory that his attendants are now compelled to admit that their judgment was in error as to the length of time that must necessarily elapse to complete the cure.

It is now thought that the fron master will be on his feet and again personally assume the direction of the varied interests of the Carnegie Steel Company in two or three weeks at the latest.

Would-be Assassin Berkman, who was given a preliminary hearing in the county jail office, was admitted to bail, aggregating $24,000. This was not furnished and the guilty Anarchist is remanded for court. Police Justice Grip and Alderman McMasters presided at the hearing. Judge Grip examined witnesses on the charge of felonious assault, preferred by Superin-tendent of Police O'Mara, and held the tendent of Folice (PMars, and held the prisoner in $10,000.

Alternam McMasters examined witnesses on three different charges—of entry of a building with intent to commit a felony, one charge of felonious research and another charge of corrying conceded weapons. The ball fixed aggregates $14,000. The elevator man, David Fortney, of the "Chronicle Telegraph" building and Chairman Laishmann of the Carnegie Company were the only witnesses examined. Mr. Watson Given a Chance to Prove His Statements.

HE SAYS IT WILL BE AN EASY JOB.

Extracts from His Book, the Final Chap ter of Which Contains the Paragraphs to Which General Wheeler Took Exception-Work of the Committee.

Washington, July 30 .- The book containing the language which gave rise to the exciting scenes on the floor of the House yesterday is No. 1 of a series to be issued by the National Watchman Com-pany, publishers of the People's party or gan, and entitled "Not a revolt, it is revolution." Representative Watson is the author, and in the preface says he has tried to make it an armory from which 'cople's party champions can draw every venpon of offense and defense."

It is a political history largely, and the paragraphs of which Gen. Wheeler complained, and the truth of which Mr. Waton has undertaken to establish are con ained in the final chapter.

The writer, writing of the failure of the old parties to respond to the demands of on parties to respond to the demands of the people, says:

"The Congress now sitting is one illustration. Phelged to reform, they have not reformed. Piedged to economy, they have not economized. Piedged to legislate, they have not legislated. The meeting of the special commit-tee appointed to investigate the charges of drunkenness of members made by Mr. Watson, of Georgia, in his book, was held on the evening. The full committee, con-sisting of Messrs. Boatner, Wolverton, Buchanan (Va.), Grout and Simpson (F. Buchanan (Va.), Grout and Simpson (F. A.), was present. After preliminary statements as to the scope of the investigation the chairman, Mr. Boatner, asked Mr. Watson if he had a list of witnesses who could be summoned to testify as to the charges. Ar Watson stated that he had, and that he had, and that he had, and that he vestigation would occupy much time.

He expected to prove the statements made conclusively and in short order. A discussion energed as to summoning J. S. Turner of St. Louis, a witness, and it was finally concluded that he should appear. Mr. Watson stated that he did not shirk an investigation. If he transgressed the limits of a reasonable length of time in the investigation, the Committee could call him to order.

The Chairman said it was the desire of the Committee to conclude the investiga-tion as speedily as possible and make a tion as specific as possible and make a report at this session. Mr. Watson fur-nished the following manes as witnesses: Congressmen Skell, Butler, Davis, Otis, (Kansas), McKetghan, Halvorsen, Simp-son, White, Logan Aliss A. B. Dwyer, J. of Turner, Mr. Baker and A. C. Saffall. The examination will be proceeded with as resulting as possible. as rapidly as possible.
