"IF."

If strikes are due to the Tariff, why are there two strikes in Free-Trade England to every one in the United States?

If Protection is unconstitutional, why were the framers of the Constitution Protectionists?

If Free-Traders are really the friends of the farmers; why did they abolish the duty on the farmers' wool?

If free raw materials would give us the "markets of the world," why are our imports of cotton goods far in excess of the exports?

If the protected United States is not prosperous, why are we the only nation in the wide world that has no omigrants?

If the tariff is 'a "tax," why can than the very duty which is imposed on them?

IT is possible that Nestor Dana's fears of Negro Domination in the patient, submissive, negro-loving city of New York, where they burn negro homes and hospitals now and then, inspire him to excessive zeal on the race issue; but no such apprehensions are cherished in Philadelphia, while every great industry of our city is

If protection is opposed on the ground that our industries are no longer "infants," why don't the Cobdenites support the tin-plate duty?

If your higher wages are due to the greater efficiency of American workingmen, why do foreigners who come here receive two and three times as much as if paid for the same work in their own country?

If the House of Representatives was not laboring in the interests of the British Cordage Trust, why did it pass the free binding-twine bill ?

If a revenue tariff does not cause pauperism, why were there more paupers in New York during the revenue tariff of 746 than ever before or ever after ?

If free trade is patriotic why do free traders always sneer at everything American?

ARE there any Americans doing a business in Shenandoah that they need be afraid to make known the impositions upon them? It begins to look that way. Gentlemen, you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by coming forward and make your complaint. The poor devils, who are compelled to deal in company stores are paying higher prices for the goods they buy, will thank you if you break the yoke.
