"IF."

If Protection makes millionaires, why have nine in ten of the large fortunes in America been amassed in the so-called non-protected districts.

If Protection does not maintain American wages, why are they about twice as high in any country under the sun?

If Protection is an absurdity how does it happen that it has converted its doctrines the greatest statesmen and countries in Europe and the world?

If Free Trade would benefit American agriculture, why has it impoverished the farmers of England, Ireland, India, and wherever it has been tried?

If Free Trade would help this country generally why did it plunge us into bankruptcy and misery every single time it has been tried here?

If Protection oppresses the common people, why was George Washington a Protectionist?

If Free Trade elevates labor, why were the slave holders Free Traders.

NOT A TAX.

LEAD PENCILS.—"Tariff taxed" 60 cents a gross; retail price 45 cents a gross.

"Even the children of the poor are compelled to bear part of the burden imposed by this wretched system," says the Free Trade lecturer in his admiring audience. "It spares neither home nor school, but forces a child to pay 60 cents 'tax' on every gross of lead pencils used by him to write his lessons." Put next to this free trade assertion, the fact that the best lead pencils in the world can be bought in any stationery store for 45 cents a gross, and you have one of the thousand and more isolated facts, which have caused our people to vote Protection into power in every contest in which it has been the issue.

FARMERS in the great West are offering as much as $2.00 and $2.50 a day to men who will turn in and help harvest the grain crop—the highest wages paid for unskilled labor anywhere in the world. The calamity howlers of the People's party will doubtless accept this fact as proof of the impoverished condition of agriculture.

OUR sprightly contemporary, The Call, published by our friends Davis & Brasefield, of Schuylkill Haven, entered upon its second volume last week under most encouraging auspices. May The Call continue to serve the public of that good old town for many years to come.

TWO HARVEST EXCURSIONS

Via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y, August 30, and September 27.

Where the grasses are knee deep, the warring breezes.

And the fields are rich with the golden grain.

Where the schooner ploughs through the prairie seas.

To its destined port on the western plain.

Where harvest may never be thought vain.

And hope is the thirteenth plant that grows.

Where man may ever his rights maintain.

A Nonsense.

On Great Salt Lake is but one of the matchless spectacles to be seen in Utah. A new book, "Utah, a Peep into a Mountain Walled Treasury of the Gods," is now issued and can be had postpaid by sending 50 cents to J. H. Bennett, Salt Lake City.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed.

"We always fry ours in Cottolene."

Our Meat, Fish, Oysters, Saratoga Chips, Eggs, Doughnuts, Vegetables, etc.

Like most other people, our folks formerly used lard for all such purposes. When it disagreed with any of the family (which it often did,) we said it was "too rich."

We finally tried

COTTOLENE

and not one of us had an attack of "richness" since. We further found that, unlike lard, Cottolene had no unpleasant odor when cooking, and lastly Mother's favorite and conservative cooking authority came out and gave it a big recommendation which clinched the matter. So that's why we always fry ours in Cottolene.

Sold by all grocers.

IS MARS INHABITED?

A Question That May Quickly Be Settled.

ASTRONOMERS ON THE QUI VIVE.

The Planet Will To-night Be Nearer the Earth Than Before in Fifteen Years—With the New Lick Telescope Great Discoveries Are Anticipated.

LICK OBSERVATORY, Cal., Aug. 3.—The "red star of war" now flaming in the southern sky is the chief object of the astronomer's gaze.

The present great stir about Mars is easily explained. To-night it will be in opposition—i. e., the earth will come directly between the ruddy planet and the sun, thus affording an unusually favorable and long-continued opportunity for telescopic scans of its features.

To watch its two tiny moons, to detect its ice caps and perhaps to determine whether his so-called "canals" really bear any trace of the workmanship of animated inhabitants.

The path of Mars in his journey around the sun is not a regular curve. So great is its eccentricity that when near perihelion the planet is about 13,000 miles nearer the central luminary of our system than when it approaches aphelion.

To-night Mars will be near perihelion, and it is only about 35,000,000 miles from the earth—a very short distance for even an ordinary explorer to span.

But the mammoth Lick telescope, magnifying 700 times, brings the red planet to within a range of 50,000 miles, or but a little more than one-fifth of the distance of our own silvery moon.

Moreover, at this period Mars is at one side of the earth, while the sun is at the opposite side—a fact which contributes very considerably to favorable observations of the planet.

No equally favorable opportunity for studying Mars will recur till the year 1909.

Are the people on Mars trying to signal the earth?

That is the question which the work of the Lick telescope during the past few days has aroused. Mars has approached nearer.

It will be remembered that Mars only became a subject of extreme importance 15 years ago, when it last approached Earth.

At that time not only were its two moons discovered by an American, but wise men in the observatory at Milan were enabled to show almost conclusively that human life existed on the planet.

The strides which telescope-making has taken during the intervening years have produced the Lick telescope, and this has not only justified the expectations of its inventors, but has already added some startling facts to what was already known about the red orb.

Mars has not only a well recognized atmosphere of its own, but four seasons of the year which follow each other as those of the earth, a degree of warmth closely approximating what is known here, a day of a little over 24 hours, north and south poles with ice and snow and every natural condition apparently which should conduce to the existence of animal life.

The work of Schiaparelli, the ancient Milan astronomer, plays a most important part in the observations now being made at the Lick Observatory.

After long and careful observation during the last opposition of Mars, fifteen years ago, he was enabled to map its surface in a way which went far to strengthen the contention of those scientists who maintained that it was inhabited by a highly civilized race.

His work was in effect to show that the surface of the planet had been transformed in a manner unknown in any of the other heavenly bodies.

There were canals, as he demonstrated, which, if they were of the nature of canals, have been repeated nowhere else, not even on the earth, which Mars so closely resembles.

The canals have been adjudged the work of a superior race of beings, and this theory is augmented by the discovery this week of three great lights in the south-west of the planet which, it is believed, are signals by which the inhabitants are trying to attract attention.

Another Gold Brick Victim.

DOVER, N. H., Aug. 3.—Mr. George Gage, a wealthy farmer living just outside of this city was called on Monday afternoon by two men who represented themselves as business men from the mining regions of the far West and was persuaded to buy from them for $5,000 a "gold brick," which they told him was worth $5,000.

He came to town, drew money and later brought the brick in to deposit in the Safford bank, where he learned that his treasure was worth about $4, that being the value of a thin coating of gold which concealed the base metal of which the brick was composed.

The swindlers escaped.

To Escort Tracy to Bar Harbor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—It is stated at the Navy Department that the vessels of the North Atlantic squadron, now at New London, Conn., viz: The Philadelphia, Concord, Manitowah and Vesuvius, under command of Rear-Admiral Ghesardi will probably act as an escort to the U. S. S. Dolphin in taking Secretary of the Navy Tracy to Bar Harbor, Me. From that place the fleet will go to Bath, Me., where Secretary Tracy will witness the launch of harbor defense gun No. 1.

Wasser Elected Brigadier General.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 3.—The election for Brigadier General of the National Guards of New Jersey was held at the Armory in this city last evening, and resulted in the election of Mayor Wasser of Jersey city to fill the vacancy.

It was thought that the election would again result in a tie between Col. Campbell and Col. Wasser, when in the first ballot Wasser got the deciding vote.

Marquis de Moros Held for Trial.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—The Marquis de Moros was yesterday committed for trial for manslaughter, and the four seconds concerned in his duel with Capt. Majour were held as accessories. The duel was fought six weeks ago and resulted in Moros's death. It was caused by a remark of De Moros against Hebrews.

Pardoned by the President.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The President has granted a pardon to J. J. Chapman, a United States soldier, who five years ago in a drunken brawl by accident killed a soldier. At the time he was stationed in Arizona, was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. He has served in jail five years.

A POLITICAL ABDUCTION.

A Kansas County Commissioner Stolen by the People's Party.

ANTHONY, Kan., Aug. 3.—This neighborhood has been excited over the abduction of Amos Farmer, an Alliance member of the Board of County Commissioners, and the attempted abduction of Alex Terrill, a Republican member of the Board.

Four or five masked men called Mr. Farmer out of bed yesterday morning and took him into a carriage. This was the last seen of him.

The Commissioners were to have met to make a levy for the payment of the judgment on the old Harper county bonds ordered by the Supreme Court.

The leaders of the People's party are in favor of ignoring the order.

50,000 Deaths from Cholera.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—A Russian newspaper correspondent who has just returned from the Russian Caucasus says that the deaths from cholera in that region in the last 30 days number 50,000.

In the villages the people are unable to bury their dead, and the bodies lie in the houses for days, polluting the air and spreading the disease.

Whole families die without care of any kind, and the first knowledge of their illness is often communicated to their neighbors by the odors from the decomposed corpses.

A Strike Ended.

DANBURY, Conn., Aug. 3.—The conference between Manager Jones, of the New York Belling and Fooking Company, and a committee representing the 400 workmen who struck at the company's Newtown factory has ended in the obvious check system being modified.

The men will return to work. Concessions were made on both sides.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

A. S. Hepburn, the new Comptroller of the Currency, was yesterday sworn into office and at once entered upon the discharge of his duties.

Joseph Oberle, 42, of Brooklyn, committed suicide yesterday in a hallway on Tenth Avenue, by shooting himself in the head with a .32 calibre revolver.

Emperor William handled his yacht, the Meteor, in person yesterday in the race for the Queen's cup at Cowes, but was defeated, nevertheless. The Corsair won the cup.

Arthur A. Zimmerman, the champion wheelman, who last week returned from Europe, where he smashed records and won three championships, was tendered a grand banquet and reception last night by the Asbury Park, N. J., wheelmen.

The campaign in Maine will be opened by the Republicans on the 17th inst., and Chairman Manly is busy arranging for the meetings to be held in every section and corner in the State.

William M. Linfield, who died in Holbrook, Mass., yesterday, was an extensive traveler, having done Europe on foot, and contributed the results of his travels to many newspapers and magazines under the nom de plume of "Knapsack."

While taking a nap beneath a freight car which contained his household goods yesterday afternoon at Lancaster Junction, George Dannelly, aged 29, was fatally hurt. A shifter was attached to the car, and Dannelly was dragged some distance.
