THE CLOSING SCENES

How the First Session of Congress Ended.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IN THE HOUSE.

Four Minutes After the Adjournment of Special Train Was Bearing the President Towards Loon Lake-The Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.-The capitol wears a deserted look, as very many of the Congressmen and Senators have left for home. By to night only a few will be left in the city.

Four minutes after the two gavels descended in the Senats and House last night, indicating the adjournment, a special train started on its journey northward, bearing the President to his sick wife at Loon Lake.

The capitol was crowded during the last hours of the session with corious sightseers anxious not to miss the intersting scenes that usually procede an adiourument of Congress.

The utmost good humor prevailed on the floors of both Houses during the closing hours, and many expressions of goods will were exchanged alike between Democrats, Republicans and third partyites.

Expectation of an adjournment filled the galleries of the House at its night session, and the same reason brought an unusual attendance of members. Promptunusual attendance of members. Fromptly at 7 o'clock Speaker Crisp called the House to order, and soon after the Durborrow World's Fair Bill, which as amended passed the House in the afternoon, was reported from the Senate.

Ar. Jolley, (Rep., South Dakota,) secured the passage of a Senate measure regulating the times for holding sessions of the United States Courts in South of the United States Courts in South Dakota, and then the private calendar

Dakota, and then the private calendar was taken up.

After the passage of several of these bills, Mr. Holman, (Dem., Ind.,) presented the report of the conferees on the Sundry Civil bill. Mr. Holman detailed the nature of the agreement, detailing the items in dispute, and the compromises affected. He said the bill as finally agreed to carried $57,837,428, being $9.600,239 less than the bill as it passed the Senate, and $2,614,246 more than its aggregate when it passed the House. Considering the Pinkerton detective clause of the bill, Mr. Holman admitted that the amendment adopted by the House was a little too broad, and that in the interest of a speedy adjournment of the House the conferees were obliged to accept the the conferees were obliged to accept the substitute submitted by the Senate.

After considerable wrangling the report was adopted, 169 to 14.

McMillan (Dem., Tenn.) offered a resolution (which was adopted) providing for the appointment of a committee of three members to join a like committee of the Senate in informing the President han Congress was ready to ad-ourn, and to ask if he had any further communications to make. The Speaker appointed Messrs, McMillan, Fellows (Dem., N. Y.) and O'Neill (Rep., Pa.) as the committee In the interim between the transaction of further business, the House devoted liself to private pension and relief bills, and a large number of them were passed and a large number of them were passed at locomotive speed.

At 10:40 o'clock the Secretary of the Senate reported that the Senate had adopted the resolution of the House agr et to last week providing for adjournment at 2 o'clock last Monday with amendment providing that adjournment should take place at 11 o'clock Friday night. The resolution as amended was agreed to. Mr. McMillan, (Dem., Tenn.,) reported that the committee appointed to join a committee of the Senate and inform the President that Congress was ready to ad-fourn, had performed its duty and the President had said that he had nothing further to communicate.

It was just one minute of 11 when a lution was offered directing the Presi dent to invite the representatives of the nations of the earth to attend the Inter national Arbitration Congress, to be held in Chicago during the World's Fair. This went through without objection. It lacked five seconds of the eleventh hour when a dozen members shouled wildly for recognition, waving papers in their hands, but they were too late. Speaker Urisp announced that the hour of 11 c'clock had arrived, and bringing his gavel down with a bang, declared the first session of the 52d Congress adversed without day. journed without day.

A great shout went up from members on the floor; great bundles of waste paper were thrown high into the air and fell in showers on the happy Congressmen, while from the press gallery the deep reso-mance of the doxology: "Praise God from Whom Ail Blessings Flow," struck a responsive cord in the floor and gallery and dignified old members stood at their desas amid the showers of falling paper and joined in the hymn.

A great shout of applause went up at its conclusion, and the press gallery choir responded with some verses about Speak er Crisp and ex-Speaker Reed being joll; good fellows and concluded with a musi cal query of Congress Watson as to what constituted a Congressional jag. In the Senate, which had been doing nothing all the evening but waiting pa-tiently, Mr. Allison, at 10:25, reported the nonse adjournment resolution substituting for Saturday, July 30, at 2 p.m., "Friday, Aug. 5, at 11 p. m." The resolution was agreed to and the customary committee of two (Messrs. Allison and Gorman) were appointed to wait upon the President of the United States.

Thanks were tendered to the Vice-President and the Vice-President pro tem (Mr. Manderson) by motions made by Democratic Senators.

At 10:50 the Senate Committee reported that they had waited upon the President, and he had no further business to lay before Congress.

The Vice President paid a fitting trib ute to the two Senators who had died dur-ing the session (Mesers Plumb and Barber), and appropriately acknowledged the vote of thanks and then declared the Sen-ate adjourned without day.

The citizens and voters of this State have been deprived of a just reapportionment for a good many years, and they have demanded a new apportionment. The last Legislature gave it to them, and I believe that the Democratic majority in the Legislature was obtained chiefly through a desire upon the part of the peo

"I think the apportionment is reasonably fair. Of course, it cannot be expected that there would not be a few exceptions. Lizzie, the Younger Daughter, Identified by the Drug Clerk Various Theories Regarding the Murder-The Excitement Remains at Fever Heat.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 6 .- It is stated that as important clue to the murderer of Andrew J. Borden and his wife is in the hands of the police.

From Clerk Eli Bence, at P. R. Smith's drug store, they learned that Miss Lizzie Borden had been in the store within 36 hours past, and had inquired for a certain poison. The clerk was asked to accompany the officers, and they closely questioned him as to the time of the girl's call, her condition mentally and the amount and quality of the poison she had bought and called for. The police then took the drug clerk to a house on Second street, where Miss Lizzle Borden was stopping for the time being. Knight, two Homestead men who went to work in the mill on Sunday, came out last night and both declared they would

The clerk was not previously well ac quainted with the young woman, but he had told them that he could identify he of the new men left yesterday, and that at sight. Bentan, Aug. 6.-Prof. Brieger, of this city, one of Prof. Koch's co-operators, and his assistant, Dr. Wassermann, have been making some very interesting ex-periements with the cholera bacilli. They have cultivated these in a liquid extracted from the mammary glands of calves. This liquid was afterward heated to 149 de-grees Fahrenheit and kept at that temperature for 15 minutes.

Then it was deposited in a refrigerator, and left there for one day. Subsequently a cubic meter of this liquid was injected into the abdomens of guinea pigs, one injection being made each day. After four injections the guinea pigs thus treated any contagion from the cholera bacilli, whereas the bacilli of the disease, being introduced into the system of mals which had not been inoculated, invariably killed them in about 15 hours.
