RAMBLER'S RECENT REPORTING ROUNDS

MINOR HAPPENINGS THAT ATTRACT HIS ATTENTION.

BRIEF COMMENTS UPON SOME

The Curious Results That Followed the Supposed Watering of a Lawn—An Editor's Odd Business Methods.

HAVE you taken a stroll about town recently? If not, you are not aware of the nuisances that exist in many places. Cesspools are overflowing, pig-sties smell loudly, the air is full of smells from decayed matter carelessly thrown into the streets and alleys, and the much-talked-of culvert has caused a break on Emerick street. The smell of stale bacon is very strong in some quarters. There is no trouble in guessing the nationality of the people who reside in the places where this odor pervades the atmosphere. Still this is preferable to others. What seems most strange is that there is less sickness in the places complained of than in the cleaner quarters. A bad drain or single pig-sty in the cleaner places seem more dangerous than all the filth the people of other parts wallow in. Hardy constitutions must be the explanation.

While strolling about some days ago I noticed a woman sprinkling a nice lawn. The actions of the woman were so suspicious that they secured a hold upon my attention. I learned that the lawn did not belong to the property occupied by the woman and that the house was closed up, the family having gone away for a summer tour. A few days later I again passed the place. The condition of the beautiful lawn had changed. It was in a wretched condition. The grass looked as if it had been swept by fire. The suspicious actions of the woman with the sprinkler flashed across my mind and I wondered if that sprinkler contained anything besides water. The change was a remarkable one.

The recently organized house painters' and decorators' union in this county has not yet arranged a scale of prices to be followed by the members. It is a gossamer-please affair, pending an agreement upon a tariff. The members say there is very little work going on in their business at present. Early in the season they had a surfeit of work and it looked at one time as if they would be kept busy during the whole season, but the boom burst.

Editor Sollenberger, of the Shamokin Drift, has a novel method for doing business. He has discontinued his paper for a number of weeks, presumably until after the hot season, to give him a chance to secure much needed rest. I don't care but that it is a good idea. People care little about reading just now, preferring to cut hay and cool themselves off by farm work generally.

The S' News says "Hon. John W. Ryan as Judge would be a credit to the bar, the bench and the entire people," and Mr. Ryan wishes the S' News would leave him alone and back the regular nominee, as every candidate it tries to help along is obliged to pocket defeat.

The stone crusher laughed so heartily over the antics of the Councilmen at their last meeting the rattling of its broken lever could be heard in the HERALD sanctum.

A record in ticket counting was made Saturday night by Frank C. Reese, T. R. Edwards and W. J. Watkins, a committee appointed to count admission tickets for the great musical festival to be held at Lakeside on the 15th inst. Watkins made the first count, Edwards the second and Reese made the third and final count and put the tickets in packages of 100. Each counted 11,000 tickets and did the work in 2 hours and 50 minutes, an average of over 67 tickets per minute.

Another Delightful Trip to Glen Island. The success of the first Glen Island excursion has induced the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to run a second select excursion to Glen Island, a resort better known as the "Gem of the Sound," on Wednesday, August 17th. It will be in charge of a tourist agent. It embodies a pleasant rail ride and a grand sail around New York, passing under the Brooklyn bridge, up the East River, through Hell Gate and out into the waters of the Sound. Special train will leave Broad street station at 7:00 a. m. Tickets will be sold at a rate of $2.50 from Philadelphia. Half rates for children.

TO BORROW MONEY.

The Council Passes an Ordinance to Raise Funds for Water Works.

An adjourned meeting of the Borough Council was held last evening and the Councilmen present were Messrs. James, Cookley, McGuire, Stout, Van Dusen, Lamb, Gable, Devers, Gallagher and Betteridge.

W. J. Watkins, reporter for the HERALD, acted as secretary, in the absence of Mr. Cookley, who is at Atlantic City. Immediately after the order of business was taken up Borough Solicitor Pomeroy read an ordinance authorizing the Council to borrow money and issue bonds for the new water works.

Mr. Lamb moved that the ordinance be adopted and Mr. Gable seconded the motion. Mr. McGuire asked if the resolution gave authority to any committee to issue bonds and place them on the market. Lamb: "No, it is Council action." Gallagher: "The Council as a whole?" Lamb: "I understand it is necessary to adopt an ordinance to that effect before it can be done even by Council."

The motion was carried. Mr. Lamb then offered a resolution to the effect that Council proceed to borrow the sum of ninety-five thousand dollars for the purpose of providing a supply of water. Gable moved that the resolution be adopted and Cookley seconded the motion, which was carried.

McGuire said before the motion was carried, "It seems to me it is kind of early to borrow money now. We had better have more assurance that we are going to have water works before borrowing money. There is no use borrowing money and paying interest on it when we may be without water works for a number of years."

Lamb: "There is no doubt about water works, I am satisfied in my own mind. That has been settled by the late election. The people want water works and this is the only way of proceeding to procure it, as far as the proceedings in court are concerned. We cannot build water works without money and it is necessary to take the steps we are now taking."

Gallagher: "This money is only borrowed until such time as you are ready to proceed." Lamb: "Yes." Mr. McGuire voted against the motion to adopt.

Mr. S. A. Beddall was given the floor to explain a flue of a house on West Lloyd street under his supervision. He said he was willing to put in a safe flue and when a member insisted that he should put in a brick chimney, Mr. Beddall said he would give the Chief Burgess permission to tear down the flue now in use, or tear down the shanty. The Chief Burgess said he did not want to run the risk of being assailed by the tenant.

Mr. Beddall left the room as Mr. James said that Council would expect him to abate the nuisance.

TERRIBLE METHOD OF SELF DESTRUCTION

BRIDGET KELLY, OF BROWNSVILLE, THE VICTIM.

SHE WAS IN A DEMENTED STATE

Her Clothing Saturated With Coal Oil and a Match Applied by her Own Hand—Death Follows.

THE most astounding case of suicide ever recorded in this section took place yesterday at Brownsville. Bridget Kelly, a young woman 21 years of age, made herself the victim of one of the most horrible inflictions heard of.

The poor woman, as the coroner's jury has decided, was demented. She went to the stable at the rear of her parent's residence yesterday morning with a coal oil can in her hand. Little did those who saw her dream of the dreadful object of her journey to the stable.

There was no eye witness to the tragedy. But from the evidence at hand it appears that the young woman, after entering the stable, poured the contents of the coal oil can over her clothing and then applied a match.

In an instant the body of the unfortunate being was shrouded by flames. Her screams attracted the attention of the neighbors, who met her as she fled from the stable. But help was too late and the victim fell to the ground, burned so terribly that death had already placed its hand.

When the neighbors picked up the body of the victim it was shrouded by scraps of burned garments that stuck to her flesh. Notwithstanding her terrible condition the young woman lived about four hours.

The parents of the unfortunate woman are distracted. There were reports that the act was prompted by grief following desertion by a lover, but there is absolutely no truth in this. The young woman was demented and the coroner's jury verdict to that effect is justified by the method adopted by the victim.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A Son of Superintendent Edward Reese Cuts His Throat.
Thomas J. Reese, eldest son of Edward Reese, superintendent of the Logan colliery at Centralia, and the Lentz, Lilly and Co. collieries at Park Place, attempted to commit suicide at the Hotel Columbia, Cape May, N. J., yesterday afternoon.
The young man had been ill for about a month past and the act was committed while he was laboring under a temporary fit of melancholy. He went to Atlantic City on Friday for the benefit of his health and to visit his brother, who is a pitcher on the Cape May base ball team.
Reese cut his throat with a razor and the injury is of such a character that there is little hope of recovery, as the young man's system is greatly prostrated, owing to the illness, which was brought on by overwork. He was outside foreman of the Centralia colliery.
The act was committed at about 6 o'clock last evening, at which hour the father of the young man was attending a meeting of the Lakeside committee in town, and he did not hear of the unfortunate occurrence until he reached his home in Centralia.

Of Interest to Athletes.
James Robinson, the athletic trainer at Princeton College, Princeton, N. J., says: "I have found it imperative to have sure and simple remedies on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, colds, rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering upon my profession, I discovered such a remedy in Allcock's Porous Plasters. I tried other plasters, but found them too harsh and irritating. Allcock's Porous Plasters give almost instantaneous relief, and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back put two plasters on the small of the back and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercise. In "sprain" and "distention" races and jumping, the muscles or tendons in the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can invariably be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."
