WHAT THE BEEF DEALERS SAY

THE BUTCHERS HAVE RECEIVED ANOTHER SCARE BEEF SCOUTS TO BE SENT OUT

Although the Local Wholesale Live and Dressed Beef Dealers Do not Seem Alarmed. Shipments Expected

THE continuance of the switchmen's strike at Buffalo, Waverly and Sayre, together with the reports to-day that there is a likelihood of the switchmen in the state taking a hand in the strike and creating a general suspension throughout the two states has again stirred up the most dealers in this section and it is understood that agents will at once be sent out through the country districts to buy up all the live cattle they can lay hands on.

George Palmer, the cattle dealer, says he has ordered his regular shipment of live cattle from the West and expects their arrival on the regular day--Tuesday next. He has no assurance of their arrival, but is inclined to believe that the blockade at Buffalo is sufficiently open.

Mr. Riggs, of the Shenandoah Beef Company, says that the carloads he has received since Thursday last will float the local market nicely. Monday is his regular day for receiving cars of beef and he expects one or two of them in on Monday. He, too, is inclined to the belief that there is now no danger of a beef famine.

ON TO WASHINGTON.

The Local Post of the Grand Army Ought to Go.

Twenty-seven years ago the armies of the United States, after five years of hard fighting, passed in grand review at the National Capital, which was witnessed by all the great generals and statesmen. It was a grand sight--a monster centralization of the brave men in blue--and one that will never be forgotten by those who witnessed it. It was the grandest military display of the generation.

Next month the survivors of the rebellion, those who are able to go, will again meet in Washington and try to duplicate the great scene spoken of above. It will be a glorious event, and probably the last time in which the brave old veterans will get together as a mighty mass. True, it will not be the last reunion, but the boys who wore the blue from '61 to '65 are fast dying off and it is hardly probable that the coming event at Washington will be repeated.

Post No. 146, G. A. R., of town, should make arrangements to go to Washington in a body. Of course many of the members may not be able to afford the expense, and something should be done to help such members. They deserve all that a loyal and grateful people can do for them. The only expense to be provided for is the railway fare. All the veterans will be accommodated while in Washington free of charge. The railway fare will be but $4 per man, so that but $200 is necessary to get about fifty of our veterans, who are too poor to pay, to the great reunion. It should be remembered that with but very few exceptions the members of Post 146 are poor men who toil in the mines for a livelihood and they can hardly secure sufficient means for the necessities of life.

Let a popular subscription be taken to insure proper representation of our veterans at Washington. The HERALD will receive and give due credit for all monies that may be contributed for the purpose.

ANOTHER COMPLAINT.

A Correspondent Arraigns the Law Committee of Council.

EDITOR HERALD:--Will you kindly allow me space in your paper to express my condemnation of that creature of the Borough Council known as the "Law" committee, and the head, tail, body and soul of which is Councilman Lamb. I think this committee is one of the greatest humbugs of the present administration.

When matters pass into its hands they never seem to come out again and people who have grievances against the borough are obliged to wait months for satisfaction, and even then they are frequently little better off than they were when the committee first took charge of the matter. The "law" the people get is regulated by the whims of the men who constitute the committee. The extent of their legal knowledge, or even ordinary business intelligence is such that it would not cover the head of a tack. At least I have been led to believe this by my observation of their actions. But this is not my chief cause of complaint. It is the injustice practiced by this committee I wish to show up. Here is the case of ex-High Constable Fairley. He put in a claim against the borough and it was rejected. Mr. Fairley sued and recovered judgment, the whole amount with costs being less than forty dollars. Now I understand that this Law committee has applied for a new trial and that the solicitor states that Mr. Fairley must force the case. This seems to me, Mr. Editor, to be an outrage. Mr. Fairley is an old man, very poor, and very ill. His friends fear he may not live long, yet the very men who stand ready to squander $95,000 on a water works scheme want to force him into court and spend his dying moments in fighting for a paltry sum of less than forty dollars, to which a court has already declared he is justly entitled. In the name of humanity, I call upon the Council of this borough to deal with Mr. Fairley as they would have others deal with them. I ask a majority of Council to instruct the borough solicitor to discontinue the apparently foolish proceedings that are now pending and pay Mr. Fairley what has been decreed as due him.

Before closing I would like to call attention to another case that is in the hands of the "Law" committee. It is the claim of James Richards, whose little girl broke her arm by falling from a pipe that was left upon the street by borough officials. Mr. Richards has repeatedly offered to compromise upon payment by Council of the doctor's bill. This matter has been in the hands of the "Law" committee for months. I understand that when Mr. Lamb was asked for a report last Thursday night he said, "We can't find any evidence." I would suggest that Mr. Lamb hire a detective if it is necessary to get evidence to determine whether or not it would be cheaper for the borough to pay the doctor's bill of $40 or $50, or go into court and, as usual, come home whipped.

As I said before, that "Law" committee is a humbug. COMMON SENSE, Shenandoah, Aug. 20, 1892.

Health in Old Age.

Edward Collinson, Queens, N. Y., says: "I commenced using Brandreth's Pills over fifty-five years ago. I first bought them in London, and have continued using them since. I came to this country in 1830. I am now over seventy-five years old, hale and hearty, and attribute my wonderful health to the persistent use of Brandreth's Pills. Occasionally I have a bad cold or severe attack of rheumatism, indigestion or biliousness, but four or five doses of Brandreth's Pills always cure me. Whenever my children have been sick with scarlet fever, measles, acid stomach, disordered digestion or constiveness, a few doses of Brandreth's Pills restored their health at once."

PETER'S PUNGENT PENCIL PUSHING

A STRING OF VERY INTERESTING PARAGRAPHS.

SQUIBS ON LIVE LOCAL MATTER With Special Reference to Council and Other Borough Affairs. Story of a Street Incident. The Corn Doctor.

ELSCHAZZAR Lamb says, "The impression seems to prevail that there is an injunction against us. There is no such thing. We can proceed as if no action had been taken by the water company." Mr. Lamb should bear in mind that he and the other new water works schemers are responsible for the impression. Why did they indefinitely postpone the opening of bids for the work?

REWARD.--A suitable reward should be offered for information as to the whereabouts of Councilman Gable. Belschazzar Lamb says he has tried repeatedly to find him but failed. He says the Finance Committee can do nothing until Gable is found.

LOST.--The tax excoriation lists of ex-Tax Collector Titman. When last seen (Belschazzar Lamb says) they were in the possession of Councilman Gable.

FOUND.--The bottom of the borough treasury. There is not a cent in it.

WANTED.--An extensive line of repairs. Must pass fire under the eyes of Councilmen. Second hand material will stand the test. Address STONE CHANGERS, on the hill.

A few evenings ago a corn-cure man, with flowing grey locks and about 61 years of age, located himself on Oak street, in front of the Robbins' building. He doted upon the virtue of his corn cure, which he sold at two bottles for a quarter, but wanting to introduce it in this place, and not having been here before for 22 years, he would sell it at the small sum of ten cents per bottle. He also took some pains to inform his hearers as to how it should be applied, and between his speech making he rendered several fine selections with the aid of a banjo as an extra inducement to purchasers. At this time a son of the greenie appeared upon the scene and asked the seller, "Will it come back again?" (meaning the corn.)

"Will it come back?" echoed the seller in a disgusted tone. "You want the earth for ten cents, and I haven't got it to give. You ought to be laid out in a hammock," continued the corn doctor, as he seemed to grow angry, "and have angels to fan you to sleep." Then turning to the other hearers, "This is the worst gall I have heard. In all my experience I have never been asked such a question. Will it come back? (Casting a scornful glance upon the questioner.) Of course it will come back. If you get drunk and get a headache and get over it, and then go and get drunk again, will you get the headache? Of course you will! (Scratching his head.) Will it come back? Let me see. This is Shenandoah, Oak street. I mustn't forget that. Of course it will come back." And the questioner wilted out of sight.

The beef famine is postponed, and perhaps placed beyond likelihood. In accordance with expectations, the Shenandoah Beef Company received its supply yesterday. In fact it received more than was expected. In addition to the car that came by way of Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, the company also received one of the cars that had been held at Waverly. So the beef famine will not take hold of us, for the present at least.

Frank Warnick, who recently moved to Reading, was a visitor to town yesterday and expressed himself as very much pleased with his new home. He showed me a letter from Z. T. Krieger, formerly of Wapwallopen and a brother of Coal and Iron Policeman Peter Krieger, of town. Mr. Krieger represents the Peel Split Coal Company, at Lewistown, West Virginia. He writes that one hundred miners can find work there in soft and splint coal, in a new mine, at from $1 to $4 per day, according to ability; and he says there is no strike there.

VALLEY OBSERVATIONS.

Gleanings by a Reporter Write on the Electric Railway.

The West Mahanoy Township School Board has decided to build a school house at the east end of the upper Wm Penn patch, providing a lease from the Girard Estate can be secured without giving offense to the dignity of some of the officials. The building is to be two stories high and contain four rooms. Timothy O'Mahony has secured the contract.

When one of the electric cars reached Bader's hall in lower Wm. Penn Thursday afternoon it was obliged to stop on account of a slight accident to the trolley. The car was delayed about five minutes, during which a woman remained patiently in one of the rear seats. After the car started and had run about 20 yards the woman signaled the conductor to stop. As the woman alighted the remaining passengers cast disgusted glances at her. One of them remarked, "She doesn't appear sick, and she certainly is not a cripple. It must be laziness, or pure eussedness."

The cat is gradually getting out of the bag. Since the abandonment of Pastime Park dates have been booked for Sunday school picnics at a place in the pines at Lost Creek, controlled by certain parties of that place. Such dog in the manger business will ultimately find its level.

The bridge over the creek in Girardville which is to be used jointly by the borough and electric railway is fast nearing completion. It will be ready for planking within a few days.

The Schuylkill Valley territory, after the 18th inst., will be enriched additionally in train service by a new week-day train to Atlantic City over the Pennsylvania Railroad's Double Lines from Philadelphia. This service is from all points in the Schuylkill division, permitting an entire day at the store. The schedule going into effect July 18th is as follows:

Table with columns: Leave Pottsville, Schuylkill Haven, Reading, Birdsboro, Pottsville, Phoenixville, Norristown (Dn. Rail), Conshohocken, Arrive Philadelphia (Broad St.), Leave Phila. (Market St. Wharf), Arrive Atlantic City.

Returning, fast express train leaving Atlantic City at 5:00 p. m. for Philadelphia connects for all principal stations on the Schuylkill division, and train leaving at 8:00 p. m. connects for all stations. Transfer through Philadelphia is included in the tickets.

Help Along a Good Cause.

On the evening of the 30th the Grand Army boys of town will hold an ice cream festival and serve a bean soup lunch. The proceeds are to go into the Widows' and Orphans' fund of the local post, which is about empty. During the existence of this organization many thousands of dollars have been expended for the relief of the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers and our people cannot do too much for this purpose. The festival and lunch will be held in Robbins' opera house and the price of admission is only 10 cent. But a ticket or two, a dozen won't hurt--from any member of the Grand Army in town.
