CLEVELAND is under the impression that his pen is mightier than the sword, but then his sword was handled by a substitute.

THE New York Recorder is getting up a brigade of first Presidential voters who are going to vote for Harrison. The idea is an excellent one.

THERE must be a letter somewhere from G. Cleveland to Charley Ross. If the detectives would keep a watch on the mail from Buzzard's Bay and Hagenbuch's drug store. would be found.

THERE were mighty few private pension bills passed through the present House, but the number of Southern war claims that were adjusted was probably intended by the Democrats as a set-off.

THE rainbow chasers are collecting a Democratic campaign fund to be expended in Western states. The Democratic committee will feel it a happy thing if they are given author-Southern states.

STATE CHAIRMAN REEDER calls the attention of all Republicans to the importance of having their names placed on the registry lists on or before September 8th. Every Republican should see that his own name is there, as well as that of every other Republican in his district. The Baker Ballot system being new will cause much confusion in itself, and if time is consumed in proving the right of a voter to cast his ballot when the polls are reached other voters will be delayed and some votes may be lost altogether.

THERE was a howl of exultation went up from the Democrats all over the country at the time of the unfortunate outbreak at Homestead. Democratic leaders in Congress and out did not hesitate to say that the event offered excellent campaign material. So they sent a committee of the House off to Homestead to investigate and work up the material. Judge Oates, of Alabama, a Democrat, was chairman of this committee. After the investigation it was seen that affairs at Homestead offered nothing in the way of material for the Democratic campaign, so it was determined by the House to postpone receiving the report "until after election." Judge Oates, had however, prepared his views in the form of a report, which the other Demograts on the committee refused to subscribe to. He therefore gave them out to the public as his own private views after the advantages for investigation he had had. Because these views are not such as to make good campaign ma erial, Col. Jones, of the St. Louis Republic, and other influential Democrats, are now demanding that Oates ought to be defeated for reelection, and that he is not a good Democrat. It is not good Democracy to speak the truth.

FOR REPUBLICAN VOTERS.

State Chairman Reeder's Timely Letter to Committeemen.

State Chairman Frank Reeder ha sent the following letter to all county committeeen throughout the state: I desire to call your attention to the following impotant matters, and urge you to see that the voters and active workers give them the proper attention, viz:

1. That all who desire to vote on November 8th, must be registered on or before Thursday. September 8th, November Sth, must be registered on or before Thursday. September Sth, that being the last day for registering.

2. The Act of May 29, 1891, (P. L. 134) provides that "it shall be the duty of the assessors to assess, from time to time, on personal application of anyone claiming the right to vote."

Under this provision of the law, the last the assessors to assess the content of the law, the statement when assessing application.

voter must make personal application to the assessor to have his name a ded to the list of voters. The assessors will be present at the election house of each district on Wednesday, September 7, and thursday, September 8, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., and from 6 to 9 p.m. on each of said days for the purpose of hearing and acting upon applications for Assessment and Registry.

3 No person shall be permitted to vote at the election, whose name is not in said list, unless he shall make proof of his right to vote as heretofore required by law.

4 In view of the difficulties that will arise under the new Ballot Law from want of knowledge on the part of the voter, you will readily understand the importance of having the voter's name upon the list, so that he may have as little trouble as possible in casting his ballot.

Therefore, see that every Republican voter is registered. 6. Full instructions to voters and election officers will be issued by this committee, with a form of ballot, within the next few days.

7. Make some arrangements to inform the voters and all the vigilants fully as to the provisions of the new Ballot law, so that they may not lose their vote through want of knowledge.

TO BRING THE MOON NEARER. A French Savant Proposes a Gigantic Crystal Mirror.

M. Francois Deloncie, a French savant, and deputy for the Basses Alpes, has a marvelous project in hand which he hopes to see completed in time to astonish mankind at the Paris exhibition of 1900. Though the moon is 240,000 miles distant from the earth, says the London Daily Chronicle, M. Deloncie thinks he can construct an apparatus which will enable us to examine that luminary at very close

The idea has been expounded by the author before a French scientific society, and M. Deloncle says, in substance, that the only obstacle to a close observation of celestial bodies is the relative imperfection of instruments, and that all that is required is an enlargement and improvement of present instruments. Astronomers, says M. Delonele, have reckoned that the image of the moon can be brought quite close to the earth by means of a crystal mirror eight meters in diameter, but which, owing to the thickness required, would weigh about eight tons. He has consulted various opticians in Paris and they are prepared to execute the work before the year 1900. There remains, however, the ques tion of the structure which would be required to hold this gigantle mirror, and upon this point M. Maurice Loewy a distinguished French astronomer says that while in principle M. Del oncle's scheme is possible, there are enormous difficulties in the way of its realization, the chief of which, so far as the exhibition is concerned, is that the apparatus must be erected on a mountain about two miles in height in order to secure the proper atmospheric conditions. If this and other difficulties were surmounted, says M. Loewy, there would be some very remarkable results, for it would be posaible to clearly distinguish in the moon objects about the size of a four-story

FRIENDS ARE DOUBTING

The Strong Evidence Against Lizzie Borden.

SHE TRIED TO BUY PRUSSIC ACID

The Testimony of the Witnesses Examined Yesterday Creates a Great Change of Opinion in Many Quarters-Miss Borden Denies the Drug Clerk's Story.

Fall Rives, Mass., Aug. 30.—Long be-ore the hearing in the Borden murder case was continued this morning the ourt room was crowded to suffocation The examination was resumed at 10:15:

The testimony brought out in the hearing yesterday has caused a change of plnion among many of Lizzie Borden's friends, who have heretofore stoutly naintained her innocence. They consider the strongest evidence given against her to be that of Mrs. Addie Churchill, the neighbor whom she has known and loved nce childhood.

Mrs. Churchill is a sister of City Audior Buffington and daughter of the late Mayor Buffington, and her testimony has aused a profound sensation. She stated positively that Mrs. Borden's oor was open when she and Bridget Sullivan first discovered the body of the nurdered woman.

Again, Mrs. Churchill stated positively that Miss Lizzie to'd her that Mrs. Borden had received a note to call on a sick It has not been proven that any erson in this city or elsewhere sent such person in this city or elsewhere sent such a note or that Mrs. Borden left the house at any time during the day.

Like all the rest of the witnesses for the government, she failed to find any traces of blood on Miss Lizzie's clothing or her person. Miss Lizzie was in distress and greatly agitated when her lifelong friend ran to her assistance, but she was not obtrusively sorrowful nor did she show painful emotion.

When Mrs. Churchill asked here where ber mother was she did not say she was out. Her answer was: "Go see if you can find her. I don't know but she is killed, too." Bridget Sullivan was in-tuitively fearful of obeying Miss Lizzie and refused outright to go up stairs unless Mrs. Churchill accompanied her. During this testimony the prisoner bit her lips, flushed and bent toward Attorney Adams.

Following Mrs. Churchill's testimony came that of Miss Russell, the friend for whom Miss Lizzie sent at once. Uncon-sciously, perhaps, Miss Russell gave au-other insight into the unhappy domestic life of the Borden family. Mrs. Borden, the stepmother, was seldom seen in the guests' chamber, although witness was a frequent visitor. Coupled with Miss Liz zie's own words that she always locked her room door when going out, it was aparent that the pleasantest relations did clerk. Frank Kilroy, the Harvard medi-cal student, and Fred Hart, the assistant drug clerk, all of whom were in Sunith's drug store when Lizzie was there, seems very damaging to the defendant.

The different stories as to Miss Lizzie's purpose in visiting the barn and the time she spent there, are becoming great top-ics of gossip about town. If she went into the barn it has yet to be explained why she was not seen by Bridget Sullivan, why she was not seen by Brigger Sunivan, who went there frequently to get water with which to wash the windows. Miss Lizzie Borden denies positively that she was ever at Dr. Smith's drug store, where Eli Bence is clerk.

The Testimony in Detail. Mrs. Adelaide B. Churchill was the first witness called. She said she lived next to the Bordens on the north side of the street and she remembered well the day of the tragedy. She first remembered of her attention being called to the affair when she saw Bridget going for Doctor Bowen. About the same time she saw Lizzie standing against the side of the door, apparently distressed about something. "I opened the window and asked her what was the matter and she said Mrs. Churchill, do come over; somebody

'I went over and asked her where her father was and she replied 'in the sitting room.' Asked her where she was when it happened and she said she was in the barn looking for something for sinkers." Witness said that so far as she knows who was the first one outside of the family who was called to the house. Witness saked Lizzie where her mother was, and she said her mother had a note to go somewhere, but she did not know but that she had been killed too. She wished somehody would go and try to find her, for she thought she had co She said her father must have in since. an enemy, for every one in the house had been sick. After the neigh had been sick. After the ne bors had commenced to come Lizzie sald again that she wished some one would go and try to find Mrs. Borden, for sice was sure she had heard her come in, and here witness described finding Mrs. Borden.

Witness had seen Mr. Borden that morning about 9 o'clock; he was appar-ently going down town. Witness re-membered seeing Bridget washing the windows but could not give the exact

Witness said she heard Lizze ask Doctor Bowen to telegraph to her sister Emma, but to be careful and not tell the worst as the lady with whom she was stopping was old and it might affect her. Witness described the dress which Lizzie ore on that day as a dark blue cotton cloth dress.

Mr. Jenuings subjected Mrs. Churchill te a severe cross examination, dwelling particularly on the excited condition of Lizzie when witness was first called to Witness could not remember that there was the least sign of blood on Lizzle's dress, hands or face at the time she first saw her; her hair was "done up" and aplightest and there was no indication of anything in her appearance that any changes had been made since she arose. Miss Alice M. Russell, the next witness, who said she had known Lizzis about leven years, created a sonsation by testifying that immediately after the discov ery of the murder Miss Lizzie Borden told her that her alleged visit to the barn was to procure a piece of iron or tin with which to fix a window.

It was evident that the evidence of Miss Bussell had made considerable of an impression upon the defense, and when she had finished her direct examination Liszie's lawyers put their heads together, and allowed the witness to sit down for a moment. On cross-examination Miss Russell said also had bathed Lizzie's face after she went it and saw no signs of blood on it, nor did she see any on her clothing.

Miss Lucy Collett testified that she was stopping at Dr. Chagnon's house on the day of the murders to take care of a telephone. She sat on the piazza all the house. From where she sat, she said, she could see all of the yard of the Bor-

During the time she was there she saw to one in the gard.

On cross-examination it took just 15 doutes for witness and Mr. Jennings t come to an understanding as to where the fence was located, and then witness admitted that she was where she could not see the whole of the Borden yard, but she was sure that if a man had entered the yard she would have heard him.

Eli Bence, a drug clerk, testified that Lizzie Borden called at his store three times before the day of the murder for prussic acid, but was refused.

Frank H. Kilroy, medical student, tes-tified to conversing with Mr. Benee in his store Wednesday, but could not state the exact time. Knew Miss Borden; saw her that day.

Witness was sitting in the shop when she came in and Mr. Bence went behind the counter to wait on her. Heard her say, "Prussic acid," and him say, "Can't sell it without a license," and heard her say, "Sealskin cape." Then she went out. Cross-examination: I am positive that her has acid "capa" and yot "sank" and that she said "cape" and not "sack," and she spoke loud enough for me to hear; she spoke out loud; did not observe any tremulous tones; quite sure she had a cape in her hand or on her arm. Frederick B. Hart, employe in the drug store corroborated the testimony of the previous witness.

Lizzie had a cape on her arm and a purse in her hand. Witness heard her ay she wanted to put the acid "on" 'around" the edges of the caps.

$75,000 LOST IN DUTIES. More Fraudulent Weighing in the New York Surveyor's Office.

New York, Aug. 30,-The Customs authorities have unearthed another case of gigantic frauds in the weighing department of the Surveyor's Office. The frauds consisted in the underweighing of sugar during the eight months between Aug. 1, 1891, and March 1, 1892, when the free sugar law went into effect.

The amount of duties lost to the Government by this systematic underweighing is estimated at $65,000 to $75,000. The results of the investigation have invoived, so far, eight importers of sugar and a number of employes in the depart-
