ITALIANS MAKE A DESPERATE ASSAULT

ON A CONTRACTOR AND THEIR FOREMAN.

THE FORMER BADLY BEATEN

Repeatedly Clubbed on the Head After He Fell to the Ground. A Dispute Over Quitting Time.

HERE was a desperate fight near Wm Penn last evening between the Italians engaged on the section of the Pennsylvania Railroad that is being constructed between town and Girardville, the contractor of the work, Robert McAdam, and John J. Gillan, the foreman of the gang. Mr. McAdam was badly beaten and will be confined to his hotel for several days.

There are two stories concerning the origin of the battle, one told by the Italians and the other told by the contractor and boss, but all agree that the fight arose over a question of time for quitting work.

The Italians say that the whistle of Kohinor colliery blew at 5 o'clock last evening just as an empty wagon was brought to the pit where the men were digging and shoveling. The Italians wanted to stop work, but Foreman Gillan said it was not quitting time. One of the Italians then called Gillan a liar and the latter raised a pick handle. As he did so the other Italians jumped in and the fight followed.

Mr. Gillan told this story to a HERALD reporter last night: "It is our rule that if a cart is half loaded at 5 o'clock the men fill it before they stop work and if an empty cart comes to the pit at four minutes of 5 the men are expected to fill it. It takes about six minutes to fill a cart. Last evening a cart pulled up to the pit just as a colliery whistle blew. It was not the Kohinor whistle. I looked at my watch and found it was six minutes of 5 o'clock. The Italians wanted to stop work, but I told them they had started in the morning by my watch and they would have to finish by it. One of the Italians, named Ross, said, '— American boss no good.' I told the man not to go to work again; that I would give him his time and he could go to the paymaster and get his pay. When I said this the fellow said, '— American boss is a — and I'll kill him.' At the same time Ross and his two brothers made for me. Before I had time to think one had a pick handle raised above my head and another a shovel. Mr. McAdam, who was a short distance away, started to my assistance. In running he stumbled and fell. John Ross struck him twice over the head with a pick handle and his brother, who is a greenhorn and known as No. 29, struck him with a shovel."

The remainder of the story is that the three Ross brothers, John, Frank and the greenhorn, turned again upon Gillan, after beating McAdam, and chased him almost to the Turkey Run colliery, where he escaped. Gillan was not injured. McAdam was picked up in an unconscious condition and brought to his hotel in this town. He revived and his injuries were dressed by Dr. Stein. They consist of two ugly gashes on the top of the head. It is surprising that the skull was not fractured.

One of the Ross brothers was arrested and placed in the lockup of town. The other two escaped over the mountain in the direction of Frackville. Mr. Gillan telegraphed to the police of Port Carbon last night, as he believed the two men started for an Italian headquarters at that place.

PERSONAL.
Wm. E. Smith, of Pottsville, is in town. Hon. C. N. Brumm, of Minersville, was in town yesterday.

E. G. J. Wadlinger left this morning for Brooklyn, N. Y., where he will remain.

Miss Maud Klein has gone to the seminary at Millersville, Lancaster county.

The Misses Nellie and Theresa, Welsh, of Lost Creek, with their charming little niece, Mamie L. Velle, were visiting friends in town yesterday.

Miss Irene Shupe, one of our popular school teachers, is home again, having had a most delightful time in visiting the leading towns on the Allegheny Mountains.

Charles Woolley Dead.
Charles Woolley, son of ex-Postmaster Woolley, formerly of town, died at his parents' home in Philadelphia last night. Consumption was the cause of death. The deceased was assistant Postmaster Kindt in town and was about 25 years of age. After leaving town with his parents the deceased became an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad shops at Philadelphia.

Pure and Wholesome Quality
Commends to public approval the California liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasant to the taste and by acting gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels to cleanse the system effectually, it promotes the health and comfort of all who use it, and with millions it is the best and only remedy.

Funeral Notice.
The funeral of Margaret, daughter of Daniel E. and Mary Brennan, will leave on the 12:30 P. & R. train to-morrow.

Lane's Family Medicine
Moves the bowels each day. Most people need to use it.

SCHOOLS OPEN.

New Assignment of Teachers by Superintendent Freeman—The Enrollment Very Large.

The public schools were re-opened this morning under the most favorable circumstances. All the old and new school rooms were in readiness, the teachers and pupils were on hand in time and shortly after the opening hours the wheels of education were working as smoothly as those of a well-regulated clock.

The enrollment this year promises to exceed that of last year by quite a number. Yesterday Superintendent Freeman issued over 100 cards to children who have never before attended the schools.

Last evening the School Board held a special meeting and decided to throw open the rooms in the White street building and the pupils occupied them to-day.

The bell on the White street building had a merry ring this morning when it announced the time for the children to flock to their desks. It seemed pleased to be still upon the brick building and that the sentence passed in the early part of the vacation season had been suspended.

At 8 o'clock this morning Superintendent Freeman met the teachers in the High school building and announced the assignments. He also took occasion to urge the teachers to make vigorous efforts to impress upon parents, through the children, the importance of exercising every precautionary measure to prevent the introduction of any contagious disease in the schools, with special reference to cholera.

THE LITTLE ONE SING.

The assignments announced by the superintendent were as follows:

Miss Bridget Burns is promoted from the 4th grade primary to the 1st grade primary school taught by Miss Lesig last year. Superintendent Freeman says that Miss Burns' appointment is made upon her merits. That the young lady has taught school longer than any other teacher who has not been previously promoted.

Miss Ella Clauser takes the school vacated by Miss Burns.

Miss Minnie C. Harnett goes from the second to the third grade primary school in the Lloyd street building.

J. W. Burke goes from the Lloyd street 3rd grade primary to the Coal street 1st grade primary school with an increase of salary to $45.

Miss Sallie E. Conry is transferred from the Main street second grade primary school to the same grade in the Lloyd street building.

Miss Mary Connelly is transferred from the first grade primary school in the Union street building to the school vacated by Miss Conry.

Misses Phillips and Morrison are changed from the German Lutheran church basement to the Centre street building.

Miss Mary Fox, one of the new teachers, takes Miss Connelly's place in the Union street building.

The other four new teachers are assigned as follows: Misses Carroll and Cunningham go to the Lutheran church schools; and Misses Lynch and Shealy to the two new school rooms in the P. M. church building.

The teachers who are not mentioned in the assignments hold their positions of last year.

No changes have been made in the High school department.

OFF for Corning.
A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Titman, Miss Maud Lewis, Mrs. Edward Hunter, Mine Inspector Stein, S. G. M. Hollopeter, Esq., John A. Grant and H. H. Zulick left town yesterday for Corning, N. Y. While en route for that place the party will take trips over the Trout Run and Oregon and Texas Railways in Lycoming counties, in which Mr. Titman is largely interested. The party will return before the close of the week.

A Success.
The Grand Army festival and bean soup lunch in Robbins' opera house last night was a very successful affair. The attendance was large and the veterans, their wives, sons and daughters extended a hospitality that was thoroughly appreciated by the patrons.

The Place to Go.
Shenandoah people visiting the county seat (surnamed Pottsville) all call in the Academy Restaurant. Either J. F. Cooney, the proprietor, greets you with a smile, or his genial brother, M. A. Cooney, welcomes you. It is the resort for all gentlemen from north of the mountain. 8-24-92

NOW IS THE TIME FOR COUNCIL TO ACT

A DEMAND FOR GENERAL CLEANING UP.

THE ASIATIC CHOLERA SCARE

Letters on the Situation and Sanitary Condition of the Town From Prominent Citizens.

HE dreaded cholera is threatening our land. The officials at all the ports of entry are on the alert day and night to guard against the invasion and the authorities of all the cities, where the first infection is feared should any case escape the vigilance of the port guards, are busy cleaning up and fumigating all suspicious nests.

But what are the interior cities and towns doing? Judging from the conduct of the Shenandoah borough officials they are complacently reading the accounts of the dreadful situation across the water and waiting for some cases to come here so that they can see what they look like.

Shenandoah is one of the principal destinations of immigrants from all countries, healthy and unhealthy, robust and strong, blind, halt and lame, and yet our Borough Council is as undisturbed over the threatening scourge as they would be if it only had existence in the interior of unexplored Africa.

Shenandoah has as much reason to be alarmed as the people of New York and Philadelphia. One slip of vigilance, one piece of infected rag, yes! even a disinfectant letter from the post office, may deposit a microbe in town that within twenty-four hours would sweep out of existence every soul in some of the crowded habitations in the borough.

This is an important matter. The Borough Council should act, and act now. It should be in a position to call into play at a moment's notice an efficient Board of Health and effectually cope with the first case.

But the first thing Council must do is to see that there is a general cleaning up of public and private properties in all sections of the town and make all as clean as possible, and, therefore, make them less liable to attack.

The HERALD to-day publishes two timely communications. One from a leading citizen and another from a leading citizen and physician.

Let the Councilmen read these communications carefully.

Let the Councilmen act upon the suggestions sustained in the letters.

Let the Councilmen bring themselves to a realization of the dreadful results that may hinge upon a moment's delay.

Let the Councilmen act NOW.

The writer of the first letter published below says in a private letter to the editor of the HERALD: "It seems to me we are slow in realizing the danger we are in from the 6th in certain sections of town, and if you think the above will help stir things up, please publish."

"Pessimist" writes.

EDITOR HERALD:—As we are threatened with a possible visitation of cholera, which is really an epidemic caused by filth, it behooves our Council to take some action toward putting the town in better sanitary condition. A large portion of our people are utterly ignorant of all sanitary rules, and, should this disease get a hold upon us, it is likely to cause a great many deaths. By prompt and continued vigorous action it may be averted, and our experience with small-pox some years ago, and the expense incurred then, should remind the authorities at the present time that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

I had occasion a day or two since to pass through Pear Alley from Coal to Lloyd streets, and the stench I encountered was sufficient to deter one from going that way again in a hurry. It is not necessary to specify localities, the Sanitary Committee of Council, which, I take it, is empowered to act in cases like this, can readily locate the disease-breeding parts and are, I think, clothed with sufficient authority to put the town in good condition, even if the Chief Burgess is not. The occasion seems to me to be sufficiently grave to warrant extraordinary action by Council, in which I have no doubt their hands will be upheld by the citizens.

Pessimist.

Shenandoah, Aug. 30, 1892.

FROM "MEDICUS."

EDITOR HERALD:—In view of the alarming prevalence of Asiatic cholera in Russia, and its extension to other European countries, and the fact that the steamer "British Princess," from one of the inferred parts, Hamburg, has arrived at Philadelphia, and the probability of the advent of the scourge in this country, would it not be well to have our town authorities act promptly and put in force the strictest sanitary measures? As filth and dirt are the aids and promoters of the disease, it certainly is their duty to have our town put in better condition than now prevails. And, in this connection, more attention should be given the overflowing and polluted cesspools in different parts of the town. We have at present diarrhea and dysentery prevailing and the conditions are certainly favorable to the spread of the cholera if it should chance to reach here. True, the lateness of the season is in our favor, but our medical authorities tell us that it has invaded our shores as late as December in past epidemics. As "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" it occurred to me that the health and welfare of the people demands that the town should be put in as clean condition as possible. Hoping you will call the attention of the authorities to the above facts, I am, respectfully,

Interesting Items Concerning Different Sections of the Region.

The State Firemen's Association meets at Hazleton September 13, 14, 15 and 16, and at its convention Mr. Carmel will have a candidate for the presidency of that organization in the person of William F. King. He served as first vice president.

Mrs. Dennis Smith, an old lady 65 years of age, was instantly killed by a P. & R. engine at Locust Gap on Friday. She was crossing the tracks, and being hard of hearing failed to notice the approach of the reversed engine at the crossing near the depot. The tank struck her on the head, knocked her down and dragged her a considerable distance. Her both legs were broken, a large hole inflicted in the back and her skull crushed. She resided in the Gap almost 40 years.

The reservoirs of the Hazleton Water Company, south of that city, have become so low that it has become necessary to pump water into them from Mt. Pleasant dam.

A regular epidemic of black diphtheria is feared in Black Creek township. Six cases are reported and one death has already occurred.

Robbers are bothering the Hazleton people again.

On Monday, September 5, a pigeon shooting match will take place between Broadbeck, of Mores, and Mahan, of Condale, for $250 a side. Each man will shoot at 15 birds.

Miners who carry their dynamite cartridges in their tobacco pouches should take warning from the case of John Sae, of Oakland. On Saturday evening he had filled his pipe and had lit it, when the "Bert" thing he knew he knew nothing," and the next was that he could not see, some of his teeth were gone, as was his front hair. His chin and nose were badly spoiled and all in all, his face was a total wreck. His eyes will be all right after a short time, but it's another case of "didn't know it was loaded," and it is safe to suppose that Mr. Sae will carry his dynamite anywhere but in his tobacco pouch hereafter.—Ashtand Record.

Locust Dale has organized a game protective association with a membership of twenty-five. They propose to make illegal hunting unhealthy in that neighborhood.

Letter of Explanation.

EDITOR HERALD:—In reference to the accident sustained by me, an account of which appeared in Monday's issue of the HERALD, I beg to state that Dr. D. W. Williams was the first to respond to my solicitations for medical aid. The amputation was performed by him, in which he was assisted by his student, Mr. John P. Roberts. Dr. Stein administered the anesthetic. I am under the care of Dr. Williams and am doing remarkably well.

Respectfully,

The O'Rourke Case.

It is understood that John O'Rourke, the boy who was arrested for vagrancy on the streets of town and whose case was fully ventilated in a recent issue of the HERALD, is to be adopted by E. F. Gallagher, Chief Burgess-Smith intended to take the boy back to St. John's Home in Philadelphia yesterday, but Rev. H. F. O'Reilly said he would correspond with the officials of the home with a view to turning the boy over to the custody of Mr. Gallagher.

Speaks for Itself.

Under the management of Edwin G. Maytum, general manager of the Pottsville Home M. A. Life Insurance Company, in the past two years 7,000 policies have been issued. In that brief period the company has paid over $3,000 in claims. Mr. Maytum's management speaks for itself.
