ALARM IN LIVERPOOL.

Four Suspected Cases There—Several Vessels Detained.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Four emigrants from Russia on their way to America have been stricken at Liverpool with what appears to be cholera.

They were sent to a hospital and the cases are being watched to see if the disease is Asiatic cholera.

Other emigrants are being closely inspected, both for local sanitary reasons and because the steamship companies are anxious not to carry any who are likely to cause trouble in landing.

The bark Helene, which left Hamburg on August 20, for America, has been detained at Dover, on account of sickness on board.

Last evening the Helene was towed to Gravesend, and two of the crew, afflicted with Asiatic cholera, were taken to land and put in the hospital.

The bark Silvio, of Hamburg, is detained at Gravesend, on suspicion that there may be cholera on board.

Donald Currie & Co., announce that the steamers of the Castle Line will henceforth cease calling at Hamburg and Flushing en route to Africa, and that they have ceased booking passengers for Madeira and Las Palmas.

The Right Hon. James Lowther, speaking at Ransgate, urged that the public welfare demanded that the government, with or without warrant of law, should at once prohibit immigration while the danger from cholera menaced Great Britain.

He would pledge the support of the Conservatives should it be necessary to indemnify the government for any action it might take in defense of the public health against the cholera scourge.

This declared the speaker was not a time to be pedantic or to stand on the letter of the law in face of a great public danger.

Jack Samyan, the Russian Pole from Hamburg, who was admitted into the London Hospital, Monday, apparently dying from disease supposed to be Asiatic cholera, is still alive.

STRIKE IN PITTSBURGH.

Four Hundred Men in Shoemaker's Mills Go Out.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—Four hundred men quit work in Shoemaker's mills, between 14th and 16th streets, yesterday. The announcement made by the firm that it would start up the steel departments attracted a large crowd of men, who refused to go to work, pending a settlement of the steel scale.

Shortly after 9 o'clock a sufficient number of men had been secured to start up the Bessemer department, and the converter was put into operation.

Some of the men at work were old employees. The remainder of the crew was made up of new men. Up to noon five heats had been cast into ingots.

As soon, however, as this was transferred to the steel departments, the puddlers, roughers, catchers, muck bar rollers and horseshoe workers came out on a strike. All the departments of the mill were then closed down except the Bessemer, which continued making steel ingots.

MR. REID'S GUEST.

The President Reaches Ophir Farm in Time for Breakfast.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—President Harrison and his party came down from Long Lake on the night express over the Hudson River Railroad, and arrived at Mott Haven Junction at 7:30. The President was accompanied by Mr. Halford and Mr. Tibbets, his stenographer.

His car was switched around to the Harlem Railroad, and a special locomotive took it to White Plains. There was no stop at Mott Haven.

Mr. Reid met the President at the depot in White Plains, and the short drive to Ophir Farm was made in time for breakfast.

President Harrison will spend the day and night with Mr. Reid. They will confer regarding their letters of acceptance. A distinguished party of Republicans will also be Mr. Reid's guests during the day.

MANY MORE INFORMATIONS.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—Hugh O'Donnell, the Homestead leader, was put under bail yesterday to answer to charges of conspiracy and aggravated riot. He waived a hearing on the charge of riot and gave bail for a hearing.

The information was sworn out by the Carnegie Steel Company. Mr. O'Donnell was the only striker who was placed under bonds. The hearing will take place to-morrow. Mr. O'Donnell said there were no new developments in the strike.

Wholesale arrests are expected for the remainder of the week. One of the spies employed to watch the Homestead strikers says that 41 informants have been made. He asserts that the papers in 108 other cases have been prepared.

Probably Contemplated Suicide.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Aug. 31.—A sensation was created here yesterday by the discovery of a knife and several feet of steel wire in the possession of William F. Keck, who is to be hanged at this place on Sept. 8. It is learned that he secured the knife and wire from Harry Bachman, who is serving a term for burglary. It is thought Keck contemplated suicide in the event of the Board of Pardons failing to take favorable action in his case.

Gov. Abbott and the Reading Deal.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 31.—Gov. Abbott said in an interview that if the Attorney-General did not have the power to enforce the injunction issued against the Reading coal deal that he would probably call an extra session of the Legislature for that purpose. Attorney-General Stockton is preparing a suit against the Lehigh Valley railroad.

Walked Backwards Nine Miles.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—James E. Bossom, champion backward walker of the world, walked from the Anderson Hotel, Lynn, to Bass Point, Nahant, and return, in two hours and twenty minutes, Monday, winning a wager of $300 that he could cover the distance—which is about nine miles—in three hours.

The Sultan's Troops Were Beaten.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A dispatch says the story that the Sultan's troops were victorious over the Anglers-tribesmen is false. The Sultan's forces were defeated. Two hundred and sixty of the Sultan's forces, it is said, were captured by the tribesmen.

A PICTURE OF LONDON.

The Terrible and Brutal Savagery That Existed in Old Riverside.

There were no masters in Riverside, London, and there was no authority for the great mass of the people. The sailor ashore had no master; the men who worked on the lighters and on the ships had no master except for the day; the ignoble horde of those who supplied the coarse pleasures of the sailors had no masters; they were not made to do anything but what they pleased; the church was not for them; their children were not sent to school; their only masters were the four of the galleys, constantly dangled before their eyes at Execution dock and on the shores of the Isle of Dogs, and their profound respect for the cat o' nine tails. They knew no morality; they had no other restraint; they altogether slid, ran, fell, leaped, danced and rolled swiftly and easily down the Primrose path as they fell into a savagery the like of which has never been known among English folk since the days of their conversion to the Christian faith, writes Walter Besant in Scribner.

It is only by searching and poking among unknown pamphlets and forgotten books that one finds out the actual depths of the English savagery of the last century. And it is not too much to say that for drunkenness, brutality and ignorance the Englishman of the baser kind touched about the lowest depths ever reached by civilized man during the last century. What he was in Riverside, London, has been disclosed by Colquhoun, the police magistrate. Here he was not only a drunkard, a brawler, a torturer of dumb beasts, a wife-beater, a profligate—he was also, with his fellows, engaged every day and all day long in a vast, systematic, organized depredation. The people of Riverside were all, to a man, river pirates; by day and by night they stole from the ships.

DOCTORS' SIGNS.

How the Disciples of Galen Deceive Their Patients.

The first thing that strikes the eye on a prescription, according to the Boston Herald, is a sign like a big K with a long tail. This stands for the word "Recipe," and means, being addressed to the dispenser: "Take thou;" that is: "Provide thyself with the articles which follow."

When the drugs have been ordered and the water sufficient to dissolve them—generally a considerable quantity—there is seen a large M with a line drawn through it. This stands for: "Misce ut fiat mistura," or, in other language: "Mix these ingredients so that they may form a mixture."

Next the instructions as to how the patient is to take the medicine are given. They may run thus: "S. e. m. II. 4 h." This, being interpreted, signifies: Sumat, let him—i. e., the patient—take cochlearia duo, two large tablespoonfuls—4 stands for quartis and h. for horis—together, every four hours.

Sometimes may be seen: "Ft. hst. p. r. n. s." "Ft." means that "hat," or haustus, a draught, may be formed. "P. r. n." imply: Pro re nata, as the occasion may be born; in simpler words, when required. "S." is sumendus—i. e., to be taken.

A draught ordered to be taken at bedtime would be prescribed: "h. a. s." The first two letters mean hora somni, or at the hour of sleep. The second "s." is sumendus again.

Physicians use many idioms. For instance, "ex lacte" means in milk. "Ex aqua sumenda," to be taken in water. "Tussis urgente" (ablativus absolute), when the cough is troublesome. "Mistura ad tussim" is a mixture for a cough.

A CENT WAS THE "STARTER."

The Great Results That Were Achieved by the Investment of One Penny.

Miss A. J. Anderson, matron of the Door of Hope, a charitable institution for girls, found a cent in the street, says the New York World. At that time the Door of Hope was contemplating buying a cemetery lot in which to bury the girls who died while in its care, and Miss Anderson declared that she would consecrate the cent to this cause. She bought an egg and sold the chicken that was hatched from it for a dollar. The dollar was invested in silk, ribbons, cardboard and fancy articles. Out of the cardboard were cut Scriptural texts, and the silk was crocheted into little rings, which, with strips of satin sash ribbon, made good photographic holders. The fancy articles were sold at good profits. At last accounts Miss Anderson had nearly twelve dollars, and she hopes to have at the expiration of the year enough money to pay for a center piece in the cemetery lot, which has been purchased.

Is the World Made of Salt?

Near the village of Spennenberg, about twenty miles from Berlin, Germany, is situated the deepest salt mine in the world. At last accounts it was 4,194 feet deep, the first 1,200 being sixteen feet in diameter. It was begun in the year 1869, government authorities having charge of the work, the avowed purpose of the work being to ascertain the exact thickness of the rock salt vein known to exist beneath the gypsum substrata abounding in that vicinity. The salt rock was reached before the shaft had passed the 300 level, but the size of the mammoth shaft was not lessened until it had reached a depth of nearly one-fifth of a mile, after which the boring was continued with an auger bit thirteen inches in diameter. When the boring was discontinued at the depth of 4,194 feet, 3,000 feet of which was pure rock salt, the end of the auger bit was cutting away on the saline deposit, which is still of unknown thickness.

Fast Talkers.

The French newspapers tell of a very interesting match that came off in France. Two women in good society challenged each other to talk fast. Each was to utter as many words as possible in a fixed time. Each woman talked three consecutive hours. One uttered 305,300 words. The other won the match with 306,000 words.

"Enthralled and Released."

No. 17 of the Rose Library, of Worthington Co., 747 Broadway, New York, is announced. It is entitled "Enthralled and Released," the author being E. Warner, and translated by Dr. Raphael. Illustrated with photogravures, in 1 volume, 11 mo., cloth, $1.00, or in paper covers, 50 cents. This vigorous and original story, excellently told, presents among other characters, a noble who lives in his castle among the mountain fastnesses, with a village below him, of which all the inhabitants are in a way his dependents, and at the same time his enemies. Children shudder at his name, all manner of evil deeds are imputed to him, but he is nevertheless a victim rather than an oppressor, and the clearing up of the mystery which encircles him is full of interest and animation. The setting of the story among the glaciers and the snows with the ice maiden lurking in the abysses to embrace her prey, makes it weird and poetic.

Best photographs and crayons at Dabbs' Dropped Dead.

A mule driver at Wigan colliery, whose name could not be learned, but whose residence is said to be at Prackville, fell from the back of a mule at the colliery this morning and was picked up dead. His death was attributed to heart disease.
