AMERICA'S DAY AT MAHANAY CITY

UNVEILING OF THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

THE AMERICA'S DAY CONVENTION

Governor Pattison and Staff, Congressman Reilly, General Hastings and Hon. Charles N. Brumm Present.

AMERICA'S DAY celebration at Mahanoy City, coupled with the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the soldiers' monument, was the greatest day the town ever witnessed. The decorations of the town were very elaborate, and it was evident that the people expended hundreds upon hundreds of dollars to prepare for the celebration.

In the fore part of the day the America's Day celebration was quite lost sight of on account of the interest centered upon the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the monument. But in the afternoon the P. O. S. of A. and Jr. O. U. A. M. camps and a crowd swelled the ranks on parade and by their fine appearance became one of the features of the display, and reminded the people that the large gathering was not solely due to the unveiling of the monument.

The unveiling ceremonies in the cemetery yesterday were of a very impressive and interesting character. They were attended by Gov. Pattison, Gen. Hastings, Gen. Gobin, Congressman Reilly, Hon. C. N. Brumm and many other distinguished people.

The parade in the afternoon was the grandest spectacle ever witnessed on the streets of the town. It was headed by Gen. J. P. S. Gobin as chief marshal, and the first division was made up of the 5th regiment, N. G. Pa., and the regimental drum corps. The staff of the regiment, headed by Col. Frank McGee, of Wrightsville, followed. The non-commissioned staff and ten companies of militia were next in line and were followed by the Pottsville cadets, Governor's troop, Commander-in-chief Pattison and staff, sides-de-camp and non-commissioned staff in the order named: The G. A. R. posts, Sons of Veterans, Jr. O. U. A. M. councils and P. O. S. of A. camps completed the line.

The streets were crowded along the entire route of parade and the people enthusiastically applauded the distinguished personages as they passed on horseback and in carriages.

There was only one incident that marred the events of the day and that was brought about by the boogginess of a Pottsville delegation.

Watkin Waters Post, of town, had been assigned to first position behind the band in the second division. When the time arrived to form line Governor Post, of Pottsville, which had been assigned to fourth position in the same division, insisted upon taking the place assigned to Watkin Waters Post. Of course the later organization objected to the impertinence of the Pottsville Post, but the latter was unrelenting. Seeing that argument was of no avail David Morgan, who was one of the aids to Marshal Williams, dismounted and Watkin Waters Post withdrew from the line.

NEXT MEETING.

Immediately after the parade America's Day convention was called to order in Knapp's hall, with a full representation present. After the report of the Committee on Credentials, Pres. John Reese declared the nomination of a place for the next demonstration in order, when the following places were named: Schuylkill Haven, Tamaqua, Mt. Carmel and Girardville. The vote resulted in favor of Schuylkill Haven, which was then made unanimous. The next business was the election of officers. George Osman, of Shamokin, President; William Thorn, of St. Clair, Vice President, and C. T. Straughn, of town, Secretary, were selected by the convention, and will also constitute the executive committee during the present year. After the transaction of the regular order of business, the convention adjourned to meet in Schuylkill Haven on America's Day, 1893.

Interesting Items Concerning Different Sections of the Region.

William F. Kock, the murderer of the Nipahs in Lehigh county, finally escapes the gallows, it will be a blot not only on Lehigh county, but upon the fair name and fame of this state.

It was one of the most cold-blooded murders on record, and there is no doubt whatever of the accused man's guilt. Then why this delay in making of him an example to all others of similar evil inclinations? The "nubby-pamby" prejudice that the people of Lehigh county have against hanging is about on a par with Kock's own idea when wanted the privilege of selecting the gallows on which he is to be executed.

Reading's new $500,000 reservoir was tapped on Friday and that city now has an abundance of water.

Frank Ray, son of ex-policeman Samuel Ray, of Sunbury, was shot on Sunday evening by Will Blaine, and death is bound to result. The injured boy is 12 years of age, and the boy who did the shooting is 15. The shooting was purely accidental.

The auditor's investigation in this county has been adjourned for the present and the auditors say indictments will be found against the Commissioners and contractors of the court house.

The cost of decorating our sister town, Mahanoy City for Labor Day, was equal to the amount paid for the monument and the expense incident to its unveiling. Of this the public makes no complaint. Those most benefited were the saloon keepers and they would not care if Labor Day came once a week.

TAKE HEED.

The Attention of the Borough Council Called to This.

Governor Pattison has issued a proclamation and the attention of the Borough Council of Shenandoah is called to the following sections:

1. Robert E. Pattison, Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, do recommend to all authorities charged by law with the protection of the health and lives of their respective communities, whether boards or bureaus of health, health officers, health commissioners or borough councils, the utmost promptness and energy in placing their towns in a state of sanitary defense in accordance with the instructions of the State Board of Health and to the citizens of such towns that they not only yield cheerful obedience to the orders of such authorities but lend their active aid in enforcing the same.

To the residents of villages and townships which are not provided by law with health authorities, that they voluntarily unite in appointing sanitary committees composed of the most influential and intelligent members of the community, charged with the duty of making inspections, removing accumulations of filth, providing depots of disinfectants, and in all other known ways promoting sanitary condition.

To physicians and others concerned in attendance on the sick, that they at once report any suspicious case of which they may have knowledge to the local authorities or to the State Board of Health, without attempt at concealment, which is the surest means of spreading contagion, and to all transport on companies that they at once comply with the instructions of the State Board of Health.

Young Wolf got hold of a piece of gas pipe and some gunpowder yesterday. He poured the powder into the pipe and then applied a match to see how it would go off. An explosion followed and the boy's face and neck were badly burned. He will be under the care of a doctor for several days.

SUNDAY SERMON.

Rev. Powick Preaches on "Christ Crucified."

The sermon on Sunday evening in the Methodist Episcopal church was on "Christ Crucified." "But we preach Christ Crucified," I Cor. 1:23. The Jews required a sign and the Greeks sought after wisdom, but the early preachers felt under no obligation to meet the demands of either. The greatest apostle could thank God that he was not sent even to baptize but to preach the gospel. Not to preach what men want to hear but to preach what they ought to hear, and not to preach it with enticing words of man's wisdom but in demonstration of the spirit and of power, learning from his precepts and example was not first that Christ crucified is the very heart and soul of religion. Much more attention is best upon the subordinate elements of christianity than upon its primary one. It is not preaching about Christ or about salvation that saves men. We are not called upon to apologize for the truth nor to defend christianity but to proclaim its cardinal doctrine. What the sick world needs is not elaborate explanations or defenses of the divine remedy for sin, but to find out what to do in order to be saved. Fine spun disquisitions on the nature of cholera are not in order when its salient victims are perishing for want of healing medicine. The world is still rick for want of less christianity and more christianity. Christ crucified is the only hope of a perishing world. Man can no more save himself than he can lift himself by his boot straps. His savior must be divine. He has such a savior in the annihilated Son of God. His pure and spotless life commands the admiration of the world but it was not his life but his death that furnished the ground of our salvation. Without shedding of blood there is no remission. And we are told that "We are redeemed not with corruptible things, as silver and gold but with the precious blood of Christ." And "There is no other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved."

Christ crucified is the only remedy for the social and other disturbances of these troublous times. If earth's toiling masses ever obtain the relief for which they sigh it will be only through the more effective preaching of Christ crucified. The church and the pulpit are sometimes crucified—and not without cause—for caring more for souls than bodies—for eternity than time—for theories than practices—for creeds and dogmas than for practical charity. But such criticisms are, in the main, the product of superficial thought. The roots of every beneficent thing on earth have drawn nourishment from Christ crucified. And wherever He is faithfully preached an atmosphere is ultimately created in which particular wrongs cannot live. Conflicts between capital and labor cannot exist where Christ crucified becomes the centre around which the interests of all parties revolve. The divine philanthropy which culminated in the tragedy of Calvary furnishes the prophesy and potency of a coming era of good will among men when the labor and other troubles through which we are passing will be no more forever. Neither Christ nor His apostles formulated, in so many words, any law against the degradation of woman—the institution of human slavery—the cruel and licentious sports of their age. But they are things of the past because they gave to the world great principles of living which sounded their death knell. So shall it be with the troubles of our own age. "For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds. Casting down every imagination and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ."

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

The Rare Treat Afforded the Friends of Mr. Titman.

The ladies and gentlemen who had the good fortune to take part in the recent excursion to Corning, N. Y., and the Pine Creek lumber tract in Lycoming county owned by Mr. C. E. Titman, are enthusiastic when speaking of the hospitality extended them during the trip. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Titman and son, Mrs. E. B. Hunter and son, Miss Maud Lewis, H. H. Zalik, John Grant, William Stein and S. G. M. Holloper, Daniel Shepp, wife and three daughters, of Tamaqua, and Mr. and Mrs. Althouse, of Reading, and Hon. William L. Torbert, of Girard Manor, were also members of the party. Mr. Shepp is the vice president and treasurer of the Texas and Oregon Railway. The excursion was arranged by Mr. Titman. Michael King accompanied the party as caterer. The party went from town to Williamsport, via the P. & R. railroad, and was met at that place by Mr. G. R. Brown, of Corning, N. Y., general superintendent of the Fall Brook Railway. "The John," a special car, was boarded and the party journeyed to Corning, a distance of 113 miles. Upon arrival at that place the excursionists became the guests of Mr. Brown and made that gentleman's residence their headquarters. Mr. Brown has under his control 250 miles of railroad and as an indication of the road's prosperity under his management the freight business of the past two years may be cited. In 1891 the road transported 5,200,000 tons of freight. In 1892, ending June, 6,046,000 tons were transported.

Mr. Brown, wife and daughter entertained their guests royally for three days, during which time visits were paid to Lake Keuka, Steuben county, N. Y.; Watkins Glen and other pleasant summer resorts within easy distance of Corning. Lake Keuka is a delightful place. It is 12 miles in length and extends from Penn Yan to Hammondsport. It also has a picturesque branch extending ten miles northwardly. The borders of the lake form one of the greatest grape growing regions in America. There are 14,000 acres of grape vines under cultivation.

Upon the conclusion of the pleasant stay at Mr. Brown's magnificent Corning residence, the excursionists, accompanied by about forty of Corning's prominent ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Brown and his daughter, Miss Florence, among them, started in a special car for a trip to Canaan, located on Pine Creek, Lycoming county, this state. The excursionists were met at Canaan by a large party from Williamsport. A trip over the Oregon and Texas Railroad, of which Mr. C. E. Titman is president, was next made. It was a journey up into the mountains for eight miles and the party alighted at Mr. Titman's lumber camp. The train was a special one made up of observatory cars, drawn by a powerful engine named "Emory" after Mr. Titman's son. The grade on the Oregon and Texas Railroad is 312 feet to the mile in some places and at the eight mile limit is 1,200 feet above the Pine Creek Railway. The trip was made under the personal supervision of Capt. Davis, general superintendent of the railway. Upon alighting at the lumber camp the excursionists found that Caterer King had anticipated their arrival and had prepared for them a dinner that would have excited the envy of a Helioptic. Roast turkey and all the delicacies of the season awaited the order for service and the eighty-one diners declared that it was one of the most sumptuous dinners they had ever partaken of. After dinner the excursionists were entertained by S. G. M. Holloper, Esq., who is Mr. Titman's counsel. Mr. Holloper spoke for about a quarter of an hour, during which time he took occasion to extend the hearty thanks of the excursionists to Mr. Brown and family and Mr. Titman for the royal hospitality they had extended. The descent of the mountain from the lumber camp was then made. At Canaan the Shenandoah and Williamsport people took leave of Mr. Brown and daughter and the rest of the Corning people, and boarded a train for home via Williamsport.

"Two Old Cronies."

"Two Old Cronies" is the name of an amusing farce-comedy which began a two-weeks' engagement at the Windsor theatre last evening. Messrs. E. M. Ryan and John Sheehan, two well known light comedians, impersonated The Two Cronies, the former in the make up of an eccentric German professor and the latter in the character of a light-hearted and jovial Irishman. Besides these principal actors, there were a number of artists of more than ordinary ability who took part in the performance.—New York World. "Two Old Cronies" will be produced at Ferguson's theatre this evening.
