BLAINE ON THE ISSUES.

Unable to speak, He Gives His Views in a Letter.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sep. 7.—The following letter from Hon. James G. Blaine to Chairman Manley, of the Republican State Committee, has been made public:

"BAN HARBOR, Me., Sep. 6, 1892.

"Hon. JOSEPH H. MANLEY: "Not being able, for reasons which I have explained to you, to deliver public speeches in this present campaign, I take the liberty of submitting my views on the issues which I regard as being strongest for the Republicans to urge before the people.

"First—The issue of the greatest consequence is the tariff on imports, and it will continue to be until a settlement is effected by a majority so large that it will be tantamount to general acquiescence. The Republicans are aggressive on this subject.

"Second—When the principle of reciprocal trade was first proposed to be introduced into the tariff system, the Democrats showed much generous appreciation of the question, and gave it their support so long as the Republicans refused to accept it; but when the Republicans came to approve it the Democratic support vanished, and, instead of favoring, we find the Democratic National Convention passing a resolution hostile to the system. But, in spite of Democratic opposition, we have attained through reciprocity, a new and valuable trade, and the system has demonstrated its many advantages.

"Third—With all its calamities the war brought us one great blessing—national currency. It is a matter of extraordinary surprise that the Democratic Convention should decidedly pass resolutions for the revival of State banks. The patriotic effect of this policy, if carried out, would be to cheat the poor man out of his daily bread.

"I would not multiply issues nor be diverted by our opponents from a steadfast adherence to and constant presentation of these questions before the people, until every voter is made to know and understand their true and weighty significance.

"Very sincerely yours,
"JAMES G. BLAINE."

TELESCOPED BY A FREIGHT.

Wreck Near Avon, N. Y., in Which Several Were Badly Hurt.

AVON, N. Y., Sep. 7.—A bad wreck occurred shortly after 6 p. m., on the Western New York & Pennsylvania Railroad near this station.

The freight train, which was three hours late, was held at Fowlerville to let the passenger train pass. Ten minutes later the freight followed.

The passenger stopped to take on some milk cans and while standing there the freight came around the curve at full speed and crashed into the passenger train, telescoping the whole train.

Engineer Thomson of the freight was badly squeezed between the tank and boiler. Fireman Gordon sustained a fractured hip and Conductor Savage a broken ankle. Mail Agent Cheney was thrown against a hook which penetrated his head, making a probably fatal wound.

One lady, name not learned, was severely hurt. There were many excursionists on the train but none were hurt seriously.

RETURNS COME IN SLOWLY.

But it is believed that the Republicans will carry Vermont by 21,000.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Sep. 7.—The slowness of the returns owing to the Australian system will prevent exact figures from being had on all tickets for two days, but at present a conservative estimate places the Republican plurality at 21,000. The following are the State officers elected:

Governor, Levi K. Fuller of Brattleboro.

Lieut. Governor, F. Stewart Stranahan of St. Albans.

Secretary of State, Chauncey W. Brownell of Burlington.

State Treasurer, Henry F. Field, Rutland.

Auditor of Accounts, Franklin D. Hale of Lunenburg.

The Republicans have elected at least 200 out of the 243 Representatives in the Legislature.

FEARS FOR PEARY.

Anxiety Also in Philadelphia for the Kite Balloon Expedition.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 7.—Secretary E. J. Nolan of the Academy of Natural Sciences said last night:

"If the reports of ice extending hundreds of miles south of McMurick bay are true, God help Peary and the Kite party."

Considerable fear is felt in this city as to the fate of the Arctic explorers owing to the delayed arrival of the cryolite barge brought from the Greenland port of the same name.

Most serious fears are entertained that the Kite has never reached McMurick bay, but is stuck in the ice. As she took no extra supplies and it is believed she will be forced to spend the winter in the ice, it is feared her provisions will become exhausted before Jan. 1.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S PLANS.

He Will Make Several Speeches on His Way to New York.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 7.—According to present advices President Harrison will leave Loom Lake early next week. He will take a special train over the New York Central Railroad, which will stop long enough for him to address the citizens of Potsdam, Canton, Ogdensburg, Watertown, Utica, Herkimer, and probably several other points before reaching New York.

From the latter city the President is expected to come direct to Washington via Pennsylvania Railroad, reaching here in time to take part in the Grand Army Encampment.

Belden Republicans Win at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sep. 7.—Adm. L. Listman, last year a member of the Assembly for the Third Onondaga District, was defeated for re-election yesterday by William H. Hotelling. Listman was backed by the Hisecock-Hendricks faction, while Hotelling was the choice of the Belden Republicans. The vote was 59 to 15.

Gov. Flower as a Sharpshooter.

LAKE LULA, Sep. 7.—Gov. Flower, while out with a shooting party in the morning, killed a four-year-old buck. The shot was at long range and was reckoned a good one.

STEADY INCREASE OF THE PLAGUE

The Situation in Stricken Hamburg Is Most Discouraging.

REPORTS OF THE AUTHORITIES UTTERLY UNRELIABLE.

Laboring People Disregard the Directions of the Health Officers—The Infected City a Veritable Charnel-House—Hamburg-American Steamers Not Provisioned at Hamburg—Concern in Italy at Our Restrictions—French Soldiers Stricken.

Hamburg, Sep. 7.—The number of new cholera cases to-day has been 938; of deaths, 317. This is a decrease of 31 in the number of new cases, and of 59 in the number of deaths. As compared with the figures of one week ago, when the plague was supposed to be at its worst, however, the lists of to-day's cases and deaths are not encouraging. The increase of fresh cases over those of a week ago to-day is 337; the increase of deaths, 17.

In the hospitals the mortality has been especially large among inebriates. The deaths of 89 heavy drinkers, 12 of these women, have been reported, and among the fresh cases a corresponding increase in the number of intemperate persons has been noticed. The newspapers have printed innumerable warnings against the excessive use of beer during the plague, but they have passed unheeded in the low districts, where the epidemic has done its worst.

The authorities begin gradually to realize that the whole burden of stopping the progress of the plague rests upon them. The directions of the health authorities have been steadily disregarded by the laboring people, who are either too poor or too ignorant to observe them. The continued use of the Elbe water without boiling it, is considered to be one of the principal causes of the spread of the cholera, yet no warning has been loud enough to induce the workmen to take this simple precaution.

Boiled water hereafter will be supplied, therefore, by the city from the centers of the various stricken districts. Eight locomotives have been set to work by the authorities preparing water for these distributing stations, and more will be hired within the next three days. Should the people neglect to avail themselves of this provision, water carts will be sent out to distribute boiled water, free of charge, from house to house.

Dr. Venz, the celebrated specialist, gives a graphic description of the sad condition of the city. The old town, he says, is a collection of dirty, stifling, crowded, charnel houses. There are few tram cars, and they are almost empty.

The whole city is in dreary and disheartening contrast to what it was. The tree-lined Spielbühnenplatz is unfrequented and an oppressive stillness hangs over it. The cafes are empty. One head waiter who serves at a restaurant where formerly two thousand persons ate daily told the physician yesterday that eight customers had been there up to 6 p. m.

In passing the strasse he saw a crowd and six policemen holding it in check, while six women ran screaming down the road after ambulances which were bearing their husbands away to the cholera hospital.

Occupants of houses, he says, often run out in the streets and beseech passing policemen to send ambulances to remove patients, but the police can seldom accede to their appeals, as the ambulance service is quite inadequate to the demands upon it.

At night, Dr. Venz says, the streets are completely deserted by pedestrians, although ambulances, dead wagons and hearses can be heard passing almost constantly. The statistics published by the authorities, Dr. Venz says, are utterly worthless. On one day the number of deaths announced by the health officials was but one-half the number registered at the office.

SOLDIERS DOWN WITH CHOLERA.

Reports of the Plague's Work From Many Quarters.

PARIS, Sep. 7.—The cholera has broken out in Limoges and Poitiers. In the latter city several soldiers of the garrison are reported to be ill. In commenting on the War Department's advertisement for a tender to supply the troops with river water during the manœuvres several journals call upon Minister de Freycinet to countermand the orders for manœuvres.

THE HAGUE, Sep. 7.—A workman had died from cholera at Dordrecht, a town of South Holland, ten miles from Rotterdam. This is the first case at Dordrecht, otherwise known as Dork.

PARIS, Sep. 7.—There were fifteen deaths in Paris and vicinity yesterday from cholera. It is now believed by many that the disease is not cholera, but genuine Asiatic cholera.

NOT VICTUALLED AT HAMBURG.

Consul-General New Denies a Report—The Treasury Circular Commanded.

LONDON, Sep. 7.—Consul-General John C. New said that he had received assurances from all the steamship companies that they would comply with the circular issued by order of President Harrison. Mr. New asserted that the baggage of saloon passengers as well as steerage passengers was fumigated when they sailed from an infected port, and he had found on inquiry that it was not true that the Hamburg-American line provisioned its vessels at Hamburg.

Mr. New gave as his own opinion that the circular was a wise measure. He also stated that he was kept well advised by the American consuls at Hamburg, Bremen and other places.

Will Hook No More Emigrants.

BRUSSELS, Sep. 7.—The steamship agents of the Red Star Line have refused to hook more emigrants for America. The steamship Switzerland, which will sail from Antwerp for Philadelphia to-morrow, will carry only the emigrants previously booked.

Forty Cities of Persia Infected.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sep. 7.—The official journal "Hakikat" states that cholera is prevalent in 40 Persian cities. The deaths number 6,000 daily.

TENACITY OF LIFE IN SNAKES.

Reptiles Frozen to Brittleness Warmd Into Life in a Short Time.

The tenacity of life possessed by snakes is very wonderful. Last winter some men were digging a well out in the country and close to the Meramec, in Missouri, when they came on a cavity in the ground which contained a nest of snakes. The weather was bitter cold and the snakes were apparently dead. They were all blacksnakes and harmless, so the men loaded them into the bucket and sent them to the top, just for a curiosity. They were thrown out on the ground and in a little while were frozen as stiff as so many sticks. Their bodies became so brittle with the frost that in hauling them several were broken like icicles.

One of the men when he went home at night took two or three of the largest along to frighten his wife. He succeeded very well, according to the Globe-Democrat, and, leaving the snakes on the floor in the kitchen before the fire, sat down to eat his supper, forgetting all about them. While the meal was in progress his wife, who had left the room, suddenly gave a terrible scream that made him jump in a panic and run to see what was the matter. As he opened the kitchen door she fell against him, almost fainting with fright and too badly scared to tell what ailed her. He soon found out, for on going in he at first thought he "had 'em again," for the room seemed full of snakes. Warmd by the genial glow of the kitchen fire, the frozen snakes had come to life and were coiling round the room with soul-chilling energy. He did not care to tackle the job of killing them there, so he pushed the outer door open and they soon found their way out, and had not gone one hundred yards before they were stiff as ever with the cold. He followed them out and finished them with a pole, but says he will never trust a snake again, no matter how hard frozen.

Marvels of Power.

It is difficult for one to believe the hundreds of wonderful stories told to illustrate the power exerted by a sea wave of the regulation size and strength. At the time of the high waves on the north coast of the Shetland islands gneiss boulders of three ton weight have been moved upward of three hundred feet in a single night.

United Britain, the paper which first set the stories afloat about the enormous waves at Bishop's Rock, England, declares that it is a fact that an iron column twenty-three feet long and weighing six thousand pounds—part of a lighthouse being erected on the rock, and which had been chained by means of eyebolts to two heavy boulders—was moved twenty feet in one night and deposited upon a projecting rock eleven feet and ten inches higher than its original position. At the same time a blacksmith's anvil weighing two hundred pounds and sunk in a pit three and one-half feet deep was washed out of the pit and actually floated and rolled one hundred yards from the site of the lighthouse.

A Monastic Tithing Barn.

The last in England of the monastic tithing barns, the edifices in which the medieval abbots were accustomed to gather the tribute of those who owed them rent and serfage, is in process of demolition. It is the survivor of the two that were built at Peterborough, and dates back to 1307. It is a long and narrow structure with low walls and a massive oak frame supporting a singularly beautiful roof of gray stone slates. There is not a nail in the building, stout wooden pegs being used throughout. The historic edifice was bought by a builder for $5,500, and a vain endeavor was made by local antiquarians to have it preserved. But as Peterborough cathedral had just expended $45,000 for a new and very modern marble floor, there was no money left for sentiment of that sort, and commerce claims one more conquest of antiquity.
