JURORS MUST SECURE ORDERS

Something About Snap Campaign Pleasure Schemes—Veterans Getting Ready to go to Washington.

SEE that County Treasurer Pepper has decided that hereafter he will not pay jurors until they secure orders from the County Commissioners. Of course the jurors are "kicking" but Mr. Pepper cannot be blamed. He is living up to the law, and there is no reason why jurors doing duty at court should be paid in any manner different to the method in which coroners' jurors are paid. Besides, when jurors are paid by orders the County Commissioners are not so liable to forget the little odds and ends that stud their administration.

Some time ago I devoted over a column to bogus campaign clubs, touching upon the objects and the modus operandi. The article was calculated to bring a blush to the cheek of the ordinarily constructed individual, but I find we have some people in town who were not so affected by it than an elephant is when a finger is jabbed against his hide. Let the candidates steer clear of the campaign pastimes. The man who buys tickets for them may frequently find "a cat in the bag." Of course all entertainments given during a campaign season are not bogus. If the candidates keep their "smellers" clear they can detect the bogus article a mile away.

When "melancholy days" come round and leaves get brown and red, When corn is shocked, and when you add a blanket to your bed, When apples, pears and quinces, are set in the sun to dry, This is the time you smack your lips and think of pumpkin pie.

The veterans will be the observed of observers at Washington next week. No one can march in the great procession but the veteran; and he will feel as proud as the little boy when he put on his first pair of pantaloons. All could not be soldiers when the country's safety was at stake. Some could not because they couldn't, and others couldn't because they wouldn't; but none will begrudge the old soldier the honor that may be showered upon him at Washington. They are getting old and the time will soon come when they, like their deeds of valor, will pass into the archives of memory.

Watkin Waters Post will represent Shenandoah in the ranks at Washington. This organization comprises men who served in different capacities during the war, in the infantry, cavalry, artillery and the navy. No companies went out from Shenandoah, because the town was in its infancy at the time and had no men that could be drawn for duty. The Post expects to send at least 50 men to Washington, but the number may be increased to 75 before the hour for departure arrives on Monday morning, next.

I have gleaned the following information concerning the Methodist Episcopal church in Shenandoah county from the official census reports of 1890: Number of organizations, 20; church edifices, 18; seating capacity, 9,700; value of church property, $176,850; communicant members, 3,256.

There is very little being said about the threatened strike on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway system, but I glean sufficient to lead me to the conclusion that a general "tie up" may happen at any moment.

The public in general appreciates the efforts of the HERALD to bring the officials and citizens of the borough to a stern realization of the sanitary condition of the town. The example set by Allentown should be followed. Nine inspectors have been appointed whose duty it is to go from house to house to inspect the premises and get the capacity, drainage, sinks and garbage system and see whether the houses are infected by any contagious disease. Thus far the inspectors have met with good success. The people appreciate the situation and willingly give the required information.

If the members of the sanitary committee will call at the HERALD office they will be shown two overflowing cesspools within a stone's throw of the HERALD building, but located close to the kitchens of the houses with which they are connected. One of the properties is owned by a borough official.

I see a subscription has been started in Washington, D. C., to raise $100,000 to purchase a home for Sullivan and provide him with an income. "It is to be a popular affair, each subscriber to give the sum of one dollar," says an exchange. Well, great Corbett, when will the brains of fools wear out? Let us imagine a paragraph in the newspapers

"Service was opened by One-eyed Galligan, who made an impressive address, while Salspess Twister went around with the basket and took up a collection for the Home for Defeated Pugs." The Sullivan suggestion is a parody on benevolence.

ANOTHER INJUNCTION.

The Electric Railway Company Stopped Again To-day.

The Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Girardville and Ashland Street Railway Company put a gang of men at work this morning to extend its line down Main street from the present terminus. The rails and sills for the extension were put on the streets last Friday and Saturday.

The work progressed very favorably all morning and by noon the men had a trench extending from the terminus to Oak street almost ready for the sills and rails.

At 1 p. m. to-day Deputy Sheriff Soliday arrived from Pottsville and stopped the work.

The stoppage was effected by the service of injunctions upon Vice President and Manager W. F. Sadler, Jr., and the bosses in charge of the work.

Mr. Sadler stopped the work at once and within ten minutes the business people along South Main street were up in arms. "What does this mean?" "Who stopped the work?" "Why can't we have the benefit of the road as well as the people on North Main street?" "It's an outrage." "What kind of a Council have we got?" were the indignant exclamations.

It was learned that this morning Borough Solicitor Pomeroy hid himself down to Pottsville and caused an injunction to be issued upon the affidavits of the street committee.

Mr. Betteridge, a member of the street committee, denied any responsibility for the injunction this afternoon. He said, "They came to me and wanted me to sign a paper, but I told them it was time for some of the others to do something. 'And, another thing,' continued Mr. Betteridge, 'I want it understood that I did not authorize the dumping of that stuff on Centre street. When the second load was dumped I protested against it.'"

As Mr. Betteridge was talking a gentleman asked him if he would sign a petition calling for a special meeting of the Borough Council to act on the electric railway matter. Mr. Betteridge said he would. When the HERALD went to press almost every business man on South Main street was scurrying around getting up petitions to get Council to meet to-night and take action on the electric railway matter.

A Sanitary Appeal.
EDITOR HERALD.—I hope your suggestions in regard to a Board of Health will bear fruit. There must certainly be some way in which a community can enforce such sanitary measures as are essential to the health of its inhabitants. The fact seems to be overlooked that Shenandoah is in as great danger from the cholera plague as any spot in this country. No town of its size receives so large a proportion of the very class of foreigners among whom it is doing its deadliest work as this. For this reason we should be up and doing. Whatever sanitary experts may say in New York to quell the fears of the country, there is ground to fear that the plague will do us more harm next summer than it can do this fall. Let us have a Board of Health and let the town be cleaned, that we may be prepared for the worst.

LIKE AN ATTACK BY THE MOLLIES

AN ASSISTANT MINE BOSS CAUGHT IN AMBUSH.

A GANG OF POLES AND HUNS

Waylay Him at a Lonely Place and Unmercifully Beat Him While His Companion is Held Captive.

OLICE are on the lookout for a gang of Poles and Hungarians who made a dastardly attack on two men on the hill above Indian Ridge breaker, Saturday night. One of the men assaulted is an assistant inside fireman at Ellengowan colliery. His name is George Richardson. He is a fire boss and has charge of some of the men who work in the Ellengowan mines. According to the statements of the victims the assault was nothing less than a wreaking of vengeance because of some wrong the assailants claim they have suffered in the colliery.

Richardson and a friend named Thomas Frost started from town for their homes in Ellengowan Saturday night. When they got on top of the hill above the Indian Ridge breaker several unknown Poles and Hungarian men sprang from the bushes at the side of the road and attacked them. Frost was seized, dragged into the bushes, and held captive. He was not injured badly, and it was evident that the men had remained in ambush for the sole purpose of attacking Richardson.

For several minutes Richardson was beaten by the gang. Frost made several efforts to get to his assistance, but his captors held him fast and threatened to beat him if he did not remain quiet. When Richardson was almost beaten to insensibility the gang ran off and disappeared over the hill. Frost then assisted Richardson to his home.

Richardson is confined to his home and is in a critical condition. He says that as the men were beating him they exclaimed, "You givin me good job now, ——" "I makin you givin me good job!" ——"boss no good."

The victim says that the assault was so sudden he didn't have time to see who the men were, but he believes that he can get trace of them.

The occurrence has created quite a stir and should the police succeed in arresting the offenders the cases will be pushed to the bitter end, as such business savors too much of the reign of terror of years ago to be allowed to pass with ordinary punishment.

Electric Dots.
Ground was broken this morning for the extension of the electric road on Main street.

Two new cars, the first installment of a new lot ordered some time ago, arrived here yesterday. They were reshipped to Girardville.

The work on the Mahanoy City-Mahanoy Plane division is being pushed forward energetically. It is expected to have the road running before cold weather sets in. A charter has been taken out by Orwigburg and Schuykill Haven parties for a road between those two places. The company may extend its tracks eventually to Pottsville.

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT

Nearly One Hundred More Pledged to the Fund.

The movement to raise a fund for a soldiers' monument in town is steadily gaining ground and substantial subscriptions are coming in every day. The fund has now almost reached the $200 mark.

Henry Hornecastle Camp, No. 49, Sons of Veterans, stepped gallantly to the front last night and made a splendid pledge. The camp is enthusiastic over the project and the members, individually and collectively, have determined to work heart and soul for its project.

The camp has appointed a committee to help the work along and the amount it has pledged is subject to an increase. The committee appointed is as follows: M. T. Malia, J. R. Boyer, Fred. H. Hopkins, Jr., W. Willman, D. Daddow, G. M. Dawson, and L. Hopkins.

Thus far there is only one discovery of a division of sentiment on the project, and that comes from members of a society who want the monument placed in one of the cemeteries.

But the popular cry is for the erection of the monument in town. Some favor the corner of Main and Centre streets, some a site in front of the High School building, and others a site at the north end of Main street.

The subscriptions to date are as follows: Camp 49, Sons of Veterans, $50; J. R. P. Schaffly, $25; John F. Finney, $10; W. K. Hedden, $5; Michael Curley, $5; Thomas McGarrill, $5; William Daddow, $5.

Total, $200. Previously reported, $150. Grand total, $350.

Religious Reflections.

The HERALD has been furnished with the following equities for publication:

Services in the different churches are well attended.

Most of the pastors have returned from their vacation.

The ministers say salvation is free. The officers will please lift the collection.

While the different churches are repairing their heaters and furnaces for this coming winter, we would suggest that the members warm up their hearts with heavenly fire.

Be charitable towards everybody, for charity is the bond of perfectness.

A Mean Act.

Some whelp poisoned a pet dog owned by the family of S. G. M. Hoppeler, Esq., on Saturday. It is hoped Mr. Hoppeler will be able to find the guilty party that the punishment fitting such an act may be applied. Of course a dog is only a dumb beast, but when they become pets of families their loss is felt as keenly as one feels the loss of a pet bird, or other animal. If the pets become nuisances to others there are remedies other than the Lucretia Borgia method—surreptitious poisoning. The Hoppeler family have the consolation of knowing that such acts generally nip the conscience of the guilty parties.

Speaks for Itself.
