THE COURT CALENDAR.

Harry Hall Gets Off With a Very Light Sentence.

Harry T. Hall, the man who attempted to destroy his photograph gallery in town by arson, has escaped the consequences of his crime with a remarkably light sentence. He was called up for sentence yesterday. He was fined $50 and sentenced to nineteen months imprisonment from the time of his commitment, which will leave the actual sentence of imprisonment at fifteen months.

On motion of J. R. Coyle, Esq., the court yesterday appointed J. Oliver Roads, Robert A. Quinn and H. J. Hendler viewers for the purpose of assessing damages for the lot staked out on the Cather property on West Oak street for school purposes.

Thomas McHale, of town, who is charged with assault and battery, was to have been tried at this term of court, but the case has been crowded out and will not come up until the November term. McHale has retained M. M. Burke, Esq., to defend him and Mr. Burke will be assisted by John A. Nash, Esq., as counsel. McHale is charged with stabbing Richard Gaughan in a general fight that took place on North Jardin street on August 13th, last.

An attempt was made to bring the report on the division of the wards of town before the court yesterday, but the matter was laid over until the November term.

The Genuine and the Sham.

Every good thing has its imitators, every genuine article its counterfeit. The imitators always choose the most valuable and popular article to counterfeit, so that when they claim their sham to be equal, or as good, or the same as "So-and-So's," the public may depend upon it that "So-and-So's" article is the best of the kind. The sham proves the genuine merit of the thing it copies and never has this been better illustrated than by the imitations of Alcock's Porous Plasters. Alcock's Porous Plasters is the standard of excellence the world over, and its imitators in their cry that their's is "as good as Alcock's" are only emphasizing this fact and admitting "Alcock's" to be the same of perfection, which it is their highest ambition to imitate. The difference between the genuine and these imitations, which copy only general appearance, is as wide as that between copper and gold. The only safe way of purchasers is to always insist upon having Alcock's Porous Plasters. They are the only perfect plasters ever produced.

Fossil Flowers in Maine.

Rev. M. R. Keep, who, according to the Daily Eastern Argus, is one of the best informed local geologists in Aroostook county, says that a rare fossil is found in the limestone of that county. "The most wonderful deposit of fossils," he says, "in the world, perhaps, is found at Square lake, near Fort Kent, of the old Silurian age; geologists from different countries finding forty or fifty different species of trilobites, the most abundant, however, is the encrinite, or water lily of that primal age. Large masses of rock are made up of the stems of these lilies. The bloom and buds of these lilies are seldom found, but a full blooming head of the encrinite was lately found at Square lake by James Bolton, of Presque Isle. This is the first I have ever heard of being found in this region. The stone fossil is like a medium-sized blooming rose."
