THE INJUNCTION TO BE WITHDRAWN

COUNCILMEN AND ELECTRIC COMPANY AGREE. CONDITIONS OF THE TRUCE. The Company Will Pay the Injunction Costs and go Down Centre Street When it Finishes Main Street.

LECTRIC railway arguments consumed most of the session of the Borough Council last night.

proceedings and they were rewarded by hearing some very spirited addresses. Vice President Sadler and J. K. Coyle, Esq., were present to represent the railway company.

Mr. Coyle was the first speaker. He said: "I desire to make a brief statement in the matter of the bill in equity which has been issued to restrain the electric railway.

While the company realizes that the extension of that road will not add, possibly, a copper to its receipts, but on the other hand make an outlay, it still wishes to favor the citizens of that district and had agreed with them that if they could get the promise of the Council that the road might be extended that the company would do it.

Ex-Senator Watson said he did not sign the petition because he understood that the electric road was not to be extended below Oak street, but when Mr. Coyle said the company intended to extend it to the Lehigh road on Main street and Chairman James said that forty feet was lacking to make the petition represent two-thirds of the abutting property owners on the square.

McHenry Wilhelm, Esq., of Ashland, spoke and said: "I represent the Schuylkill Traction Company. We expect our charter to be granted on September 20th, and until that time we are not in existence, but the incorporators of this company, and the company that will absorb the company Mr. Coyle represents, have authorized me to say that it is their desire in every borough through which they pass to do exactly what their contract requires of them, and if after the Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Girardville and Ashland Street Railway Company is absorbed by the Schuylkill Traction Company the provisions of the ordinance have not been carried out, the provisions of the ordinance will be fully lived up to."

Some of the Councilmen stated that in giving their consent to have the road extended they made the condition "that the ordinance be complied with." Councilman Lamb took the floor and held it for several minutes delivering himself of the stereotyped speech of the abuse that has been heaped upon members of Council and charging the citizens' committee with urging a violation of borough ordinances.

Councilman McGuire amended that the company be allowed to go down Main street to the end of the trolley, providing the company also agree to go down Centre street after finishing the Main street road.

IMPORTANT ACTION. The Sanitary Committee and Chief Burgess to Act. At the meeting of the Borough Council last night Chief Burgess Smith requested that additional members be appointed for the Sanitary Committee, and that the committee act in conjunction with himself to make a thorough examination of the sanitary condition of the borough and, if necessary, make use of disinfectants.

MORE ACTIVE WORK. Increased Enthusiasm Over the Soldiers Monument Project. The latest organization to step forward and volunteer to help raise funds for a soldiers' monument in town is the Women's Relief Corps, the auxiliary organization connected with Watkin Waters Post, No. 146, G. A. R., of town.

The organizations now in line for the movement are Henry Homeville Camp, No. 49, Sons of Veterans, Washington Camp, No. 112, P. O. S. of A., and the Women's Relief Corps. This is a glorious start.

Christian Endeavor. The Christian Endeavor Societies of Schuylkill county will hold its convention in the Presbyterian church of town Friday and Saturday, October 21st and 22nd.

Her Dress Caught Fire. Mrs. John West, of West Oak street, had her hands badly burned yesterday afternoon and narrowly escaped more serious injuries.

GET READY For a Visit From the State Board of Health.

We hope the borough authorities will take a move upon themselves and put the town in as healthy a condition as possible before the members of the State Board of Health visit the town. It will be a lasting disgrace, not only to the officials, but the public in general, to have strangers come here and find little or nothing done to ward off cholera.

Dr. Benjamin Lee, secretary of the State Board of Health, went to Harrisburg Wednesday to meet Governor Patton for the purpose of making arrangements for the protection of the state from Asiatic cholera. The Governor was out of the city, and Adjutant General Greenland was at the State college.

As there are scores of people in this town and vicinity who have friends and relatives working in the ill-fated colliery we append the death roll: John Thomas, John Osborne, Henry Mitchell, James Berwick, Eli Howell, John Chapel, Thomas Baker, James Richards, William Steiner, George Cockram, Charles Nichols, John Gibbon, John Lovell, John Dunster, Thomas Lukins, Lewis Cockram, William Davies, John Cockram, Thomas Cockram, James Lyndon, Evan Morgan, R. The synagogue erected on West Oak street by the Keheloh of Israel congregation was dedicated yesterday afternoon by Rev. S. Morais, of Philadelphia. The attendance was not restricted to the members of the congregation. There were a number of prominent town people present and Revs. William McNally, William Powick, H. G. James and Floyd E. West occupied seats near the chancel as especially invited guests.

The services were opened by Messrs. Wolf Levine and Levi Refowich depositing the scrolls of parchment containing the books of Moses in the Ark of the Covenant. This was done after the scrolls were carried around the aisles of the synagogue, followed by Rev. Morais, the choir composed of S. Rabinowicz and the Messrs. Seigel singing the Psalms of David.

The synagogue was erected at a cost of about $4,000. It has a very pretty exterior and interior and the walls and ceiling are very prettily and appropriately decorated. Its dimensions are 40x90 feet. It is two stories high and has a seating capacity of about three hundred. The congregation numbers about one hundred.

The officers of the synagogue are L. Refowich, president; W. Levine, vice president; C. Yarowsky, secretary.

A Special Feature. The special $4.00 tickets to Washington over the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad, on account of the G. A. R. encampment, will allow a stop off at Philadelphia and Baltimore, either or both, and in both directions.
