CAUSES LITTLE ALARM

General Opinion that New York's Health Board Can Throttle the Cholera.

BUT ONE NEW CASE IN THE CITY AND NONE IN THE BAY.

Mary Conity, a Young Domestic, Stricken With the Disease and Removed to the Floating Hospital—Believed by Some that the Board of Health is Suppressing Facts—Proclamation by the Mayor—Normannia's Passengers Free To-day—Quarantine Against New York Vessels by the United States of Columbia.

New York, Sep. 16.—The most important development of the cholera situation is the discovery of the first living cholera patient in this city, and her prompt removal to the reception hospital. The intricate and carefully planned municipal machinery for combating and stamping out the cholera, which was made ready before its use became necessary, is now in active operation.

Its practical effect has been demonstrated during the past two days, and the results obtained in the city proper are the best arguments against any alarm in the city over the situation. An immense amount of work was transacted yesterday by the Health authorities and the other city officials.

Down the bay the news is cheering. There were no deaths and no new cases on any of the quarantined ships, nor on Swinburn Island yesterday.

The steamship Bohemia, the last of the line from Hamburg, which has on board more than 1,000 steerage passengers, is due at Sandy Hook at any hour. It is the last of the immigrant-bearing fleet that will come in.

The Health inspectors have reported another case of cholera. The victim, Mary Conity, 19 years old, residing at 692 St. John's Guild Floating Hospital.

Miss Conity came to this city from Ireland six months ago. She remained with a family named Lyons living at 692 St. John's Guild Floating Hospital.

She was taken ill at 9 o'clock, and by midnight the entire household was excited at the girl's condition. Dr. Kane, who was called in, pronounced her a sufferer from Asiatic cholera. Dr. Dillingham of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases visited the house and found the girl in the second stages of Asiatic cholera. He caused her removal to the hospital. Immediately upon her removal the work of fumigation and disinfecting was begun, everything with which she had come in contact being destroyed.

How the girl contracted the disease is a mystery, and intense excitement prevailed in the tenement house from which she has been removed.

Mayor Grant has issued a proclamation to the public in which he says the Health Department has shown entire competence to deal with the cholera. He anticipates no spread of the disease, and asks the people to have confidence in the provisions adopted by the Board for the safety of the people. He also invites their aid in enforcing sanitary regulations for the maintenance of health.

The Board of Coroners have decided to co-operate with the Health Board in combating the disease, and all the coroners and their physicians are requested to be on duty every day, so as to meet all emergencies.

It was decided by the Health Board to send all immigrants who are sick on Ellis Island directly to North Brother Island by boat, instead of through the city as formerly.

It is said that rats from European ports are being landed in Brooklyn daily. The authorities have been notified, and are making an investigation to-day.

The public having been notified that Asiatic cholera has made its way into this city and that six deaths have already been caused here by the pest, the people are anxious to know whether there are any cases of the disease still in the city.

The Health Board is accused of holding back the news until the last moment, and it is now believed by some that the Health Officers are likely concealing other facts and that they may be aware of other cases at the present moment. The charge that news of the arrival of cholera was held back is not altogether true. The cases were reported by the attending physicians as suspicious, but it was not until after an examination that the true facts were learned, then the public was notified.

Investigations have shown where the cholera probably came from in at least one case and suggests the source of the other contagions. It came through the port of New York. Immigrant passengers on the steamer Friesland, which arrived here on Aug. 29, seem to have brought the disease to little Minnie Levinger, who died on Sep. 11. The girl reached back to Antwerp, which they reached from other cities in Europe, no doubt infected with cholera. When they reached quarantine there was illness reported on board, and after a few hours' detention and so-called fumigation, they were permitted to proceed.

From the steamship pier the passengers scattered over the city and country.

Four young women of the company went to No. 411 East 36th street, where little Minnie lived. It appears that being greatly interested in the child they spent some idle hours playing with it.

There is every reason to believe that the infection was in their clothing; that they innocently carried it about with them, escaping its dangers themselves, and that from their clothing the child got the disease which carried it off in 24 hours.

In the case of Callahan a plausible connection seems to be established between him and immigrants who, arriving in the city by transatlantic steamers, went south by the Mallory line, to whose pier Callahan was often taken by his business. He was a butcher.

In the other instances the relatives and physicians have not been able to suggest the precise method of the infection, but it seems not unlikely that it came about in some similar way.

The quarantined passengers on Fire Island are in excellent spirits at the prospect of their early release.

Everything there is quiet and the few troops that are left seem to be out of place and anxious to get away.

Dr. Jenkins says the passengers of the Normannia will not be released from Fire Island until this afternoon by their request, as they prefer to wait, until then, and be transferred to the city by boat.

An inspection this morning of the Normannia's passengers, quarantined on Fire Island shows that all are well.

It is stated that the baymen in their sail boats look about fifteen of the Normannia's passengers, quarantined on the island, during the night at the rate of $25 per head. The passengers who thus escaped from the island were landed at some isolated point along the shore, and had to wade for a considerable distance through the marshy ground to reach terra firma. Other boats having on board refugees from the island that tried to land at the steamboat dock were driven off by the sentries.

The steamer Copicus has arrived at Fire Island to take on the baggage of the Normannia's passengers, and be ready to start back with them.

Half a dozen Custom House officers arrived for the purpose of inspecting the baggage of the quarantined passengers in order that it will not have to be done when they reach New York. Three physicians also arrived from New York.

BETTER TIMES FOR HAMBURG.

The Plagues Thought to Have Run Its Course—Business Activity.

HAMBURG, Sep. 16.—Autumnal weather has set in and the heat of the last two days is relieved by light winds and a falling thermometer.

There have been 698 fresh cases to-day, or 29 more than yesterday; 296 deaths, or three more than yesterday; 331 burials, or 18 more than yesterday. In the cholera hospitals and barracks the number of patients has fallen to 1,399, the lowest number of the last 16 days.

Two-thirds of the patients are women and children. The men now stricken, the physicians say, are those who have had little consolation to resist the disease. Many of them have been land-drinkers and others have been weakened by privations so as to become easily infected. Among people of normal health and habits the plague is believed to be at an end.

HAVE, Sep. 16.—There is but little change in the cholera situation, except a decline in the number of deaths. Thirteen new cases were reported here yesterday, against eleven new cases and seven deaths on Tuesday.

PARIS, Sep. 16.—Eight deaths from cholera were reported in this city yesterday, up to eight o'clock at night. No new cases were reported.

ROTTERDAM, Sep. 16.—A case of cholera was reported yesterday in this city.

Evidence of the revival of confidence are apparent on all sides. The infantry regiments which left Hamburg, Liebeck and Altona to take part in the Mecklenburg manoeuvres have returned to their barracks, although a week ago it was thought that their absence might be prolonged until October. The Stadt and Thalia Theatres have been reopened, and most of the beer garden variety shows have resumed business.

The fugitives continue to return, and scores of shops, which had been closed, have begun advertising for trade.

CINCINNATI QUARANTINED.

Extreme Measures Adopted to Guard Against Cholera.

CINCINNATI, O., Sep. 16.—Mayor Mosby and Health Officer Prendergast held a conference, and as a result Cincinnati is under rigid quarantine. City police and physicians are stationed at Mayville, Ky., where they will meet C. & O. trains, others at Loveland, Dayton and at every point where trains from the East can enter the city.

The quarantine will include persons from infected points, foreign or otherwise. All railroads have been notified that no more immigrants will be allowed to enter the city, and if brought to Quarantine station they will be thrown upon the care of the road bringing them.

Dr. Prendergast says:

"I have declared the city of Cincinnati under quarantine. It will be as strict as martial law during the war."

"We are threatened with an enemy whose ravages are horrible to contemplate, and no effort or expense will be spared to prevent its introduction into the city."

"Every part in the State will be quarantined and guarded."

PRECAUTIONS AT PITTSBURG.

Passengers and Trains to Be Inspected Outside the City.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 16.—The health authorities of Pittsburgh have taken steps toward the erection of an emergency hospital for the accommodation of cholera patients.

The building, 30 by 70 feet, will be erected on the hillside overlooking the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks near the location of the Pennsylvania Hospital.

On and after to-day all immigrant trains will be held in quarantine before entering the city. Comfortable coaches will be placed on a side track for the reception of indisposed or suspected foreigners.

Two officers and a physician will thoroughly inspect every train upon its arrival. If any on board are ill they will be removed to the hospital cars, where they will be attended by nurses and physicians in the employ of the company.

Each train and baggage of the passengers will be fumigated before they will be permitted to enter the city.

ANXIETY AT WASHINGTON.

Railroad Traffic by Way of New York May Be Restricted.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 16.—The Treasury Department is seriously considering the question of imposing restrictions upon railroad traffic into Washington by way of New York City should there be any further cases of cholera reported in that city.

Secretary Foster this morning sent for District Commissioner Douglas and will talk over matters with him. He desires especially to know the sanitary arrangements made in the White House lot where sleeping apartments have been erected for 25,000 men during the G. A. R. encampment.

There is some question as to whether the Local Health Officer of Washington has the power to establish medical inspection of passengers coming from infected cities or whether it is the province of the general government.

Scarlet Fever, Not Cholera.

BARTON, I. I., Sep. 16.—The scarlet fever case at East Islip, which was magnified into one of cholera, created considerable excitement in the towns along the bay. It was contradicted before the report gained much headway. The patient is a young lady, the daughter of a grocer.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Visitors Commencing to Gather in Washington.

CANDIDATES FOR COMMANDERSHIP.

New York Has It at Present, and It Is Urged that the Honor Should Go to the West—The Capital Assuming Holiday Attire.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 16.—The advance guard of the Republic's Grand Army is slower in coming to the reoccupation of the National capital than it was in pushing to the defense of the country. Eighty thousand veterans are expected to march next Tuesday on asphalt, where seven and twenty years ago they marched in the mud on the return from Appomattox. Only a few hundred are now in the city, nor is any large number expected until to-morrow. A large proportion of the advance guard are working to secure Lincoln's body for the 27th annual encampment, to be held next year.

They are already distributing badges which bear the likeness of the Indiana Soldiers' Monument stamped in gilt on blue silk.

The candidates for National Commandership have already been put in the field by their friends.

They are Comrades A. G. Weissert of Milwaukee Post, department commander of Wisconsin; S. H. Warfield of San Francisco Post, department commander of California; and Charles P. Lincoln of Washington Post, department commander of the Potomac. New York having the national commandership at present, it is argued by Westerners that the office next year should go West.

But Past Commander Lincoln's friends urge that New York obtain the prize not as an Eastern department, in rotation, but because last year it had at last settled on a candidate, something it had been trying to do for 10 years.

Geography, therefore, they claim, had nothing to do with last year's choice and should not prevent the office from remaining in the East for another year.

When the District of Columbia Commissioners were considering the question of a cholera quarantine, in view of New York's news, they asked Dr. Hamilton E. Leach, medical director of the Citizen's Hospital, the big emergency institution specially created for cases which may arise during next Tuesday's big parade, to formulate a set of rules as to the examination of G. A. R. trains. Dr. Leach recommended an examination of all trains, but no detention, save when cases of a decidedly suspicious character were discovered.

This met the views of the District Health Officer and it is not probable that the encampment will suffer from the blight of detective quarantine.

The mere pronouncements of next week's excitement has waked Washington from its summer sleep. Decorations are being put up, and Pennsylvania avenue begins to assume already its inauguration day aspect of a vast amphitheatre, straightened out into two lines of sea and an elongated arena. A feature now seen on inauguration days is in the institution of prettily decorated little information booths along the avenue wherein any confused veteran can have the old army question of "where's my regiment?" answered with more dispatch and certainty than for instance, during the Army of the Potomac's retrograde movements in the summer of 1862. Old battle songs show up in the windows of the music stores, and Washington, even in its large, unrestrictured portions, is making ready with a good face the "Welcome to the G. A. R." so unselfishly displayed over the doors of all Pennsylvania avenue saloons.

FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Valuable Collection from the West Indies to Be Arranged for Exhibition.

BEVERLY, Mass., Sep. 16.—Fred A. Ober, after a 20 months' trip in the West Indies in the interest of the World's Fair Commission, has returned to Beverly with a valuable collection which he will arrange for the exhibit at Chicago.

Through his efforts Jamaica has appropriated $50,000 to be devoted to an exhibit of tropical plants.

At San Domingo he secured several relics of great value. He located the city of Isabella, the first founded by Columbus in the new world, discovered the first bell brought to America, also several old swords, and brought home a number of spoils found in the ruins of this city, which was destroyed in 1595.

Mr. Ober also brought home 800 views of historical places and things on the islands.

RESCUED FROM A RAFT.

Three Sailors Sole Survivors of the Hopeless—Four Days Without Food.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sep. 16.—Three members of the crew of the British bark Hope, wrecked in a gale on Aug. 22, have been brought to this port, having been rescued from a raft off the Grand Banks, after floating four days. Their captain, David Jenkins, the mate and four of the crew were drowned.

The vessel was turned completely over in the gale, and the crew made a raft of the lumber with which the vessel was laden. One by one they were washed off until only the boatwain, William Rees, and Seaman Arthur F. Joffile and John Nicholas remained. They floated four days without food or drink, and their sufferings were intense.

Complete Vermont Returns.

RETLAND, Vt., Sep. 16.—Returns of the recent election have now been received from the entire State. Fuller (Rep.) for Governor has 39,190. Snalley (Dem.) 19,536. Allen (Pro.) 1,600. Fuller's plurality 19,654; majority 18,014. Compared with 1888 this is a Republican loss of 9,262; a Democratic loss of one and a Prohibition gain of 278.

A SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT.

The Doctors, However, Give No Hope for Mrs. Harrison's Recovery.

LOON LAKE HOUSE, N. Y., Sep. 16.—On the whole, it may be said there is a slight improvement in the condition of Mrs. Harrison to-day. It must also be said that it is only of a temporary character. She passed a restless night, and for the last two weeks a comfortable night has been the exception with her. However, she was not more tired than usual when she awoke from her last nap, and this indicates that the invalid has fairly well held her own.

Mrs. Harrison continues to consume the regular amount of liquid food every two hours. As long as the liquid does not form in considerable quantity and get into the chest cavity she will not lose strength rapidly, but the tapping operation is particularly wearing, because of the nervous prostration it produces. This operation, which has been performed twice, consists of the insertion of a needle, to which is attached a suction pistol, between the ribs, and the withdrawal of the fluid from the cavity of the pleura. Mrs. Harrison of late has taken narcotics with much difficulty, and she cannot be made insensible when the operation is performed. Cocaine is used locally—sprayed over a considerable area of the side into which the needle is inserted.

The consumption of the right lung is pretty firmly fixed, and in the event of the mastering of the fluid formation complication, this disease still remains to be fought. Mrs. Harrison is not mentally seriously sick. The long strain and nervous prostration have, of course, had the effect of exciting and disturbing her brain somewhat. When the recent complication was making its appearance, toward the end of last week, Mrs. Harrison moaned for hours in the night, continually declaring how nervous she was and insisting on being taken home.

Dr. Gardner will make no prediction as to the probable outcome of the disease from which his patient is suffering. Mrs. Harrison, he says, is in an extremely critical condition and further than that he will say nothing.

Owing to the weak condition of the patient a journey from the Harrison cottage to any place on the nearest railroad would be extremely difficult. The roads are extremely hilly and the water routes is objectionable for other reasons.

There is hardly a possibility that Mrs. Harrison will be removed from Loon Lake at present unless she becomes stronger and better in every way.

The doctors say, if improvement should set in it will be very slow, and it seems safe to say that Mrs. Harrison will not be ready for removal from here for a long time.

Numerous letters and telegrams of sympathy with the President have been received.

MURDER WILL OUT.

A Prominent Michigan Man Confesses a Crime of Long Ago.

HARRISVILLE, Mich., Sep. 16.—Alfred Henshaw, a wealthy and prominent citizen, has confessed to a murder committed by him ten years ago at Stratroy, Ont.

Two detectives, who had been searching for him for a number of months, went to his residence Wednesday night, and when accused of the murder by them, he broke down, and acknowledged he was the man they wanted.

It appears that ten years ago Henshaw was a dealer in lumber at Stratroy, when he became financially involved. Richard Drake, his partner, eluded him for his conduct, and they had a quarrel one night in their office.

Henshaw stabbed Drake to death, locked the body in a large safe, and fled. Ten days later the body was discovered, but no clue could be obtained as to Henshaw's whereabouts.

About six months ago a son of the murdered man offered two local detectives $1,000 reward for Henshaw's capture. The detectives traced the murderer to New York and thence to this place.

THE WRECK AT PRINCETON.

Worse Than First Reported—The Four Injured May Die.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Sep. 16.—The wreck which occurred about 7:30 Wednesday night on the Pennsylvania railroad near Princeton Junction was more severe than first supposed.

Thousands of dollars worth of property was destroyed or damaged, and four men so badly injured that it thought they will die.

Two freight trains running at a high rate of speed, collided, demolishing both engines and many cars and piling the tracks high with wreckage.

The cause of the accident is supposed to have been a result of carelessness on the part of some one in charge of the running of the trains.

Rosecrank as president, the Society of the Army of the Cumberland met on the field of Chickamauga, where 30 years ago, under the same leader, they fought in one of the bloodiest battles of modern times. At night a public meeting was held at the First M. E. Church in this city, Mayor Andrews, a Confederate veteran, delivering the address of welcome, which was followed by the annual oration before the society by Gen. H. V. Benton, who was at the head of a movement to make a national park of the famous battle-ground.

A Murderer to Be Lynched.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sep. 16.—Alonzo Brookshire was secretly taken from the Lexington jail Wednesday evening to Frenchburg for trial for murdering Jailer Tipton and Deputy Sheriff John Howard. The news just received from Mount Sterling states that a mob of 100 men, armed to the teeth, left there at midnight for Frenchburg for the avowed purpose of lynching Brookshire.
