THE SCARE IN NEW YORK

Apparently Not the Slightest Danger of the Cholera Becoming Epidemic.

UNCERTAIN WHETHER EDWARD HOPPE DIED OF THE DISEASE.

The Girl Mary Conery Doing Well, and Will Probably Recover—Mayor Grant Asks the President to Suspend Immigration—Excellent Condition of Affairs on the Islands and Aboard the Infected Ships—The Bohemia Disinfected—Montreal Not Quarantining Passengers from New York.

New York, Sep. 17.—Cholera is not getting any hold here. Only one new death has been reported, that of Edward Hoppe, 50 years old, Thursday night at No. 1925 Madison avenue, between 108th and 109th streets. The Health Board reports the case as suspicious and not proved cholera.

The girl Mary Conery, who was stricken Wednesday, is doing well and will probably recover. The Health Board admits that several suspicious persons are under watch. Mayor Grant has sent this letter to the President:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, Sep. 17.
Hon. Benjamin Harrison, President, Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C.

"DEAR SIR: As Mayor of the city of New York, I deem it my duty to call your attention to the present condition of sanitary affairs in this city. While there is no cause for alarm in the present condition and while everything is being done by the authorities to prevent the spread of the cholera, every reasonable precaution should be taken to prevent its further introduction into this community. I therefore request that you, as President of the United States, exercise all the authority you possess to prevent further immigration to this country until all fear of the introduction of cholera shall have disappeared. I am, with great respect, very truly yours,

"HUGH J. GRANT, Mayor."

After his daily tour of all ships in the lower bay, Dr. Walsor reports the result of his inspection as follows:

BOHEMIA.
Left Dr. Nash on board to superintend fumigation and disinfection. This vessel, as well as the Scandinavia, had previously been disinfected with creoline and carbolic acid, both evidently worthless for the purpose.

HELGOLAND.
Supplied with chloride and ordered disinfection of forecabin and washing of clothing.

MORAVIA.
All well, except one case of measles.

SCANDIA.
All well; disinfection and washing continued.

NORMANNIA.
Cabin passengers' baggage disinfected and removed.

WYOMING.
All well.

RUGIA.
Only one consumptive patient on board; too weak to be removed. The cabin passengers of the Rugia on board the New Hampshire are extremely well satisfied. The vessel is well supplied with everything that is needed.

The arrival of the Bohemia yesterday morning concluded the list of the expected "suspects" of the Hamburg-American Company. She carries 658 steerage, 10 cabin and 77 crew—a total of 740 souls. The report of the voyage for sickness was not serious, as compared with the ships of the line previously quarantined, though this vessel, it was feared, would be the banner ship, in point of mortality, from the scourge, having sailed from the plague city Sep. 3.

UNEASINESS IN WASHINGTON.

Fears That the Big Encampment May Bring Cholera to the Capital.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 17.—The appearance of cholera in New York occasions great uneasiness among the citizens of Washington in view of the fact that 250,000 strangers coming from all parts of the country will be crowded together here next week. Every arrangement has been made for the comfort of the guests, but the sanitary conditions will not be perfect, and would be favorable to the rapid spread of the disease should it appear here during the encampment.

The camp is on low ground with only temporary sewerage, and the school houses which will be occupied are not provided with the conveniences of dwellings. There will be no freight brought to the city during the encampment on account of the immense travel on the railroads and most of the food supply will have to be kept for a week. The authorities speak lightly of the danger, and they will do well to take greater precautions, in the general opinion, than they have yet taken.

The Federal authorities will do all they can to help preserve the healthful surroundings of the veterans during their visit. Secretary Foster said that he does not think there is any danger to the encampment from the cholera. He said that he did not regard the situation in New York as very serious, believing that the disease would not be allowed to spread. He did not think there was reason to apprehend its appearance here, nor that it would in any way interfere with the encampment.

THE PRESIDENT'S POWERS.

His Right to Restrict Immigration in an Emergency Defined.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 17.—The following is the opinion rendered by the Department of Justice to the President, on his powers under the law to restrict immigration:

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, WASHINGTON.

"THE PRESIDENT—SIR: By your telegram you ask for an opinion as to the extent of the powers conferred upon the Surgeon General of the Marine Hospital Service and the Secretary of the Treasury, with your approval, to make quarantine regulations with reference to immigration from infected ports.

In answer I have to say that every Government is under obligation to take all necessary measures to preserve the life and property of its citizens, not only from foreign invasion but to adopt such sanitary measures as are calculated to protect the people from those pestilences which have been found nearly if not quite as destructive as war. This is but another application of the maxim that self-preservation is the first law of nature, and it may be added, of nations.

The right of the State to enact sanitary measures to protect its citizens is conceded. The right of the United States to do the same must be admitted.

GOV. FLOWER THREATENED.

A Mysterious Box Sent to Him at the Windsor Hotel, New York.

New York, Sep. 17.—A mysterious box, which is believed to contain an infernal machine, was received by Gov. Flower at his cholera headquarters in the Windsor Hotel a day or two ago. The nature of the contents were fortunately discovered before any harm was done.

The box was followed up by a letter the contents of which indicated that it was inspired by the same disordered brain which planned the mysterious machine.

The matter stated taken by the Governor in resisting the mob at Fire Island and in placing the unhappy passengers of the Normannia in the shelter provided for them by the State seems to be the only excuse for the outrage.

It was just after the Governor sent his personal check to bind the purchase of the Surf Hotel that the infernal machine flend formulated his scheme. It would be unjust to accuse the representative of any particular set or class of men, but the inference is that the scheme of murder originated in the mind of some man in earnest sympathy with rioters at Fire Island.

REVEALED BY DEATH.

A Cholera Suspect a Baron—He Was a Lieutenant of Uhlans.

New York, Sep. 17.—The Bowery lodger who died on Tuesday at Bellevue Hospital, under circumstances that suggested Asiatic cholera, was the Baron Von Wittken of Posen. His identity has been revealed by Alexis Schoenemark, who called on Gen. Clark at Sanitary headquarters to ascertain if the report of his friend's death from cholera had been contradicted, as it had been established that he had poisoned himself with arsenic.

Schoenemark said Von Wittken was 28 years old. His family were all military people and he obtained a lieutenantcy in the Uhlans, a regiment in which his father was a major. When he died the Baron inherited $50,000. He squandered it within a year and came to America six months ago. He tried in vain to get employment and became dependent. The last his friend saw of him was on Monday, when he gave him fifty cents.

DASHED ON THE ROCKS

Fate of the Ship North American Off Japan.

THE VESSEL BOUND FOR NEW YORK

Struck by a Typhoon After She Had Been Out Two Days—The Cook Washed Overboard—Narrow Escape of the Crew—Rescued by Japanese.

New York, Sep. 19.—Among the passengers who have arrived at San Francisco on the steamship China are Capt. R. C. Creelman, First Mate Armstrong and nine sailors of the American ship North American, which was wrecked on the coast of Japan on July 22.

The ship was bound from Kobe for New York with a cargo of camphor oil and other stuff, when she was caught in a typhoon and dashed to pieces. The crew barely escaped with their lives, the cook being washed overboard and drowned.

First Mate Armstrong tells a graphic story of the wreck and subsequent rescue. He says that the vessel left Kobe on July 22 and had fine weather and sea until the following day, when a typhoon burst upon them with such suddenness that the men had no time to even take in sail. The ship was beaten about, and was soon rendered unmanageable.

The force of the wind tore the sails to shreds and tore the clothes off the men. The waves dashed over the vessel and it seemed that every moment would be the last. The men were scurried across the deck by the force of the hurricane, the captain ordering that the men lash themselves to the rigging.

A monster wave soured into the galley, knocking the cook off his legs and carrying him out into the sea. He disappeared almost instantly. Suddenly the ship was lifted high in the air and came down with a crash. She had struck a rock. Again and again she struck, bow on, the shocks almost breaking her in two.

The foremast was taken clean out of her at the first crash, and the mainmast was snapped. The rigging came down with a run, almost burying the men in the debris. Nearly everyone on board was caught or hurt.

The ship was some distance from the shore, which was a rock-bound coast, but a number of Japanese saw the ship's peril and scrambled down the rocks to the shore, ready to render any assistance possible. Capt. Creelman ordered a relief to be made fast to the platform near the wheel. This was thrown over a heavy log of wood, which floated into shore, where the natives seized the line and made it fast. A stout bawser was then attached and drawn in, and by this means the crew got safely ashore.

COMMANDER WHITE'S MISSION.

He Will Demand the Release of the Refugees at Puerto Cabello.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 17.—The news which the Navy Department gives out so briefly, stating that the Concord, the first of Admiral Walker's squadron to arrive at La Guayra, had been ordered to proceed to Puerto Cabello, 80 or 100 miles up the coast, now that the Keatinge had arrived to relieve her at La Guayra, is understood to mean more than the simple announcement would imply.

Navy officials now intimate that the political refugees who were forcibly taken from on board the American "Red D" steamer Caracas are believed to be imprisoned by Gen. Urdaneta, the Venezuelan official who ordered their arrest, at Puerto Cabello, and Commander White's mission with the Concord will be to demand their immediate release and restoration to the protection of the United States flag.

This is in line with the policy which the present administration adopted in the Barrandina affair, only it goes one step further than that incident.

MRS. HARRISON'S CONDITION.

Physicians Will Not Make Predictions as to Her Chances for Recovery.

LOON LAKE, N. Y., Sep. 17.—"General condition may be said to be improved," said Dr. Doughty, just before leaving for New York, after an examination of Mrs. Harrison.

"Her condition is slightly improved, but is still critical," wired Private Secretary Halford to those who sent anxious inquiries during the morning concerning the mistress of the White House.

From these statements it will be seen that Mrs. Harrison has improved in some slight degree, but she is still in a most critical condition. She is by no means on the road to recovery, but danger of death is not so imminent as it was a few days ago.

COMMISSIONER PECK'S ARREST.

He is Charged With Burning Returns on Which His Report Was Based.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sep. 17.—Just what will be the outcome of the difficulties in which Labor Commissioner Peck is involved, it is hard to say.

At the hearing before Justice Gutman, at which warrants were issued for Commissioner Peck and his stenographer, Elbert Rogers, it came out, so it is said, that the janitor of the apartment house in Albany, where Commissioner Peck lives, had spent several hours last Sunday night burning in a furnace quantities of papers given to him by the Commissioner to be destroyed. For this service the janitor received $2.

District Attorney Eaton and ex-Senator Chase, who have charged of the prosecution against Mr. Peck, claim to have secured some charred fragments of these papers which show clearly, they allege, that they were portions of the blank returns filed in by the manufacturers who furnished Commissioner Peck data for his report. How the matter leaked out to no one pretends to say, although a servant in the apartment house is charged with having told about the destruction of the documents.

The offense with which the Commissioner stands charged is a misdemeanor, punishable by five years' imprisonment, or by a fine of $1,000, or both.

IT WAS A FAKED STORY.

The Alleged Suicide of a New York Woman in Monte Carlo a Canard.

LONDON, Sep. 17.—On Sept. 13 the "Neue Freie Presse" of Vienna published a story to the effect that Miss Jane Armstrong of New York had killed herself with a revolver after losing in ten days $300,000 at the Monte Carlo Casino. Subsequently the paper published elaborate details of the affair, which were telegraphed in every direction.

The Monte Carlo correspondent of the "Telegraph" of this city, was instructed to look into the matter. He did so with the result that to-day he telegraphs that the story is a canard. Nobody by the name of Jane Armstrong has visited Monte Carlo this season.

It has often been asserted that the authorities at Monte Carlo seek in every way to hide all evidences of suicide in the principality, and it may be true that they do so, but the "Telegraph" correspondent, who searched in every direction to prove or disprove the Armstrong story, found beyond a doubt that no woman has committed suicide at Monte Carlo recently.

A BULLET IN HIS TEMPLE.

Another Mystery Added to the List of South Jersey Murders.

MAT'S LANDING, N. J., Sep. 17.—The inquest on the body of the man who was found dead in the woods about a mile below this place, held by Coroner Fair, failed to reach anything that would lead to the man's identity or throw light on his death.

County physician James made an examination and found that death was caused by a bullet shot through the left temple, which went through the head and came out on the right side. Two bullet holes were also found in the right breast.

An inspection of the man's clothing failed to find anything that would establish his identity. All that was found was the name written on his shirt in indelible ink, "C. Richardson." No money or valuables, except eight pennies, were found. The theory that he had been robbed and murdered has gained ground. The inquest was adjourned until Monday, and rigid investigation will be made.

MANY LIVES LOST.

Destructive Hurricane in Formosa—Hawaiian Ministry Resigns.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sep. 17.—Advices from Honolulu by the steamer China state that the Legislature passed a vote of no confidence in the Ministry, who thereupon resigned. The Queen had not named a new Cabinet up to the time the steamship sailed.

The China also brings news that a severe typhoon passed over the Island of Formosa recently, causing great destruction of property. In one village 200 houses were destroyed, and many lives were lost.

Northern China has been visited by further serious floods, resulting in considerable loss of life and property. In some instances the people did not have time to leave their homes, and in consequence were swept away with the wreckage. In three days the river Yantao rose from 50 to 95 feet.
