NO SIGNS OF CHOLERA

New York Officially Declared to Be Free from the Dread Disease.

NO DEATHS REPORTED FOR SIX DAYS

Not Even a Suspected Case, Now that the Nature of the Conterty Girl's Ailment is Known—A Death From the Plague in New Jersey—No Trouble Expected from Fire Islanders—The American Consul and Customs Inspector at Colon Rebuked—No Quarantine at Charleston.

New York, Sep. 19.—The city is free from cholera. No deaths resulting from that disease have occurred since September 13, and there are no suspected cases in the metropolis at the present time.

The official report in the case of Peter Callahan disposed of the last deaths supposed to have resulted from cholera. Callahan was attended by Dr. John R. Gillespie of No. 319 East 55th street, who gave the cause of the man's death as "diarrhoea and exhaustion."

Several branches of business are suffering more or less on account of the disease. Fruit and vegetable merchants are not doing more than one third of the business usual at this season of the year.

The rumor that the Health Board doctors had made a great mistake in diagnosing the case of Mary Connerly, the Reception Hospital patient, and that the young woman was enucleated and that Asiatic cholera had nothing to do with her case, created considerable amusement among the medical profession.

The 25 new doctors added to Dr. Morris's observation squad, bringing the number up to 75, are now at work.

With the making of each infected house a special police patrol beat in the precinct in which it is located, a number of policemen are relieved of this duty, and the ordinary work of moment inspection and cleaning which they direct can go on.

The Board of Health has instructed the sanitary superintendent to rigidly enforce the section of the Sanitary Code which provides that no bundles or baskets of soiled linen shall be carried on street cars.

The report of vital statistics for the past week shows that there had been 738 deaths, a death rate of 21.48 per 1,000.

Of the deaths four were from cholera and ninety-eight from diarrhoeal diseases. The number of deaths during the previous week was 731, a death rate of 20.75 per 1,000.

The consensus of opinion from the Health authorities yesterday was that the health of the city was first class. While the danger of cholera is not yet over, they expect no epidemic. They do expect sporadic cases, but these can be readily attended to.

Even the cholera cannot materially lessen the number of people who flock to these shores. During the past week there were landed in this port 4,953 cabin and 3,021 steerage passengers.

Three weeks ago the Moravia, the first cholera ship, arrived in port, and although six other steamers have brought the dread disease as far as the lower bay, and nearly one hundred vessels have come in with passengers who have passed through countries in which the plague has gained a foothold, at no time since the first arrival has the outlook been so bright as at present.

The experience of the past fortnight will undoubtedly go far to allay the general alarm that is felt at the approach of Asiatic cholera, and to show that science has at last triumphed over what has been the terror of nations for years.

As all ships containing steerage from Hamburg are in port, and all steamship lines have agreed to bring no more steerage until the cholera ceases to be epidemic in Europe, Dr. Jenkins declares that the worst is not only over, but that he does not look for any more cholera ships.

Only one new case has been reported during the past twelve hours. This was on the Bohemia.

The passengers now being detained at the different quarantine camps are becoming restless to get away. They greatly annoy, and in many instances abuse, the Health Officers during their visits, pleading or demanding to know how much longer they are to be detained.

CHOLERA IN NEW JERSEY. New Brunswick Greatly Excited Over a Genuine Case. New Brunswick, Sep. 19.—This city is greatly excited over a case of cholera in John street, a thickly settled part of the city. James Carr, 35 years of age, who resides with his mother at No. 12 John street, was attacked at 4 o'clock yesterday morning with severe cramps.

Dr. A. V. N. Baldwin, who was immediately called, pronounced the case to have all the symptoms of Asiatic cholera, and his opinion was later confirmed by Dr. H. F. Baldwin, president of the Board of Health, also Dr. Clark and Donohue. Carr died at 7:30 last evening.

The body will be examined by a representative of Dr. Cyrus Edison, of New York, and will be buried in antiseptic blankets. The house was thoroughly fumigated and disinfected. Two policemen are stationed near the house and will not allow anyone to go in or leave. Carr was the captain of a boat running between New York and this city. A special meeting of physicians and citizens was called to provide means to fight the scourge. Dr. Edison, of New York, has been sent for.

VIGILANCE EVERYWHERE.

Precautions at Many Places to Keep Out the Dread Scourge.

CHICAGO, Sep. 19.—Chicago is to have a more perfect system for the inspection of immigrants than is now in vogue in any city in the world. If carried out as is now outlined, a large sanitary station, comprised of an immigrant's hotel, baggage warehouse, and fumigating plant, four or five hospitals, for various contagious and infectious diseases, and surrounded by twenty acres of ground will be established just outside the limits of Chicago.

FORTLAND, Me., Sep. 19.—At Vanceboro, on the boundary line of Maine & New Brunswick, the Maine Central Railroad Company is erecting a building for the use of travelers who may be ill, or under suspicion of having the cholera. The company has issued an imperative order for the thorough cleaning and disinfecting of all its stations and other buildings.

BOSTON, Sep. 19.—The State Board of Health is sending out to railroad and other corporations all over Massachusetts a circular calling attention to the necessity of maintaining cleanliness in water closets, depot restaurants, railroad cars, etc.

QUEENSTOWN, Sep. 19.—Dr. Hodges, Health Officer at this port, has been ordered to board, outside the harbor, all ships arriving from New York and in case sickness be found on board, to give the captain a choice between quarantine here or at Liverpool.

KINGSTON, Sep. 19.—In view of the reports of cholera in New York, it has been ordered that all vessels arriving in Jamaica from any port of the United States be subject to quarantine for period in the discretion of the authorities.

OTTAWA, Sep. 19.—An extra of the "Canada Gazette" has been issued containing the proclamation of a quarantine on the Canadian border against passengers and merchandise from the city of New York.

COLUMBUS, O., Sep. 19.—On account of the cholera scare all railway managers have been notified that no more immigrants will be allowed to enter Ohio without certificates.

ARRESTED AT COLON.

The U. S. Inspector Jailed for Violating the Quarantine.

PANAMA, Sep. 19.—The Prefect of Police in Colon yesterday stopped United States Consul Ashby and United States Inspector of Customs Vopham near the Colon docks, and in the presence of a crowd charged them with violating the quarantine which had been placed upon the steamship Newport.

The Prefect spoke very sharply to Mr. Ashby, admonishing him that his conduct was beyond excuse and threatening him with deportation as punishment for his contempt of the authorities and the Governor's proclamation. Mr. Vopham was taken to jail, but was released at 8:30 in the evening.

The condition of business in Colon is without precedent in recent years. Hundreds of men who have found work at the docks have been deprived of employment by the exclusion of ships from Europe to the United States. The utmost destitution prevails among the families of these men and serious disorders are threatened.

In response to a request for help one hundred soldiers and police were sent from Panama yesterday to suppress disturbances in Colon.

Trade has been so decreased by the cholera panic in Colon that there has been for a week little railway business between that city and Panama, and yesterday the service was reduced to one train a day.

LANDED AT FIRE ISLAND.

Wyoming's Passengers Pleasued with Their Fall Resort.

FIRE ISLAND, Sep. 19.—It is apparent this morning that the alarm of Capt. Cochran that the "baymen" would assist the Sheriff in attempting to gain immediate possession of the island was unfounded. There has been no sign of them so far, and the Wyoming's passengers have been landed without trouble.

The landing was effected from the Cepheus shortly after 1 o'clock, and the Wyoming's 79 passengers of the first cabin and 204 of the second cabin will remain here until Dr. Jenkins says they may continue their homeward journey.

The trip from quarantine was made without any incidents and the passengers are pleased with the quarters. The troops now here have been reinforced by a detachment from the Thirtieth regiment, Brooklyn.

SOAPSDUDS FOR CHOLERA.

Dr. Elmer Lee's Queer Treatment Very Successful.

PARIS, Sep. 19.—Dr. Elmer Lee writes from St. Petersburg to a friend in Paris that he has interested the Russian physicians in his "irrigation treatment" of cholera to such an extent that the privilege of treating all patients in the important hospitals has been accorded him.

Dr. Lee says that of all the patients whose bowels have been washed out by his soapuds none has died. He is confident that repeated irrigation is the only sure way to treat cholera.

THE BIG ENCAMPMENT

Formal Opening of the G. A. R. Reunion at the National Capital.

CITY FAST FILLING WITH VISITORS.

Cholera Scare Having Its Effect on the Attendance—The Decorations Most Elaborate—President Harrison Cannot Be Present—The Great Parade Tomorrow—Programme of Events.

WASHINGTON, Sep. 19.—Every train that enters the city is simply packed with veterans and visitors who have come to be present at the 26th annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. The city presents a more attractive appearance than ever before in its history.

The first thing to attract the attention of the incoming Grand Army visitors is the waving Stars and Stripes. No matter which way they move the glorious emblem of the United States and bunting of all colors meet their eyes.

The decorations all over the city are elaborate and artistic, business houses and private dwellings being well ornamented. The government buildings, however, show the most prominent specimens of the decorator's art. The State, War and Navy building is elaborately decorated with the national flag arranged in many artistic ways.

The Executive Mansion is handsomely decorated. From the roof of the porte cochere hang festoons of bunting, while from the shield in the centre, red, white and blue streamers are drawn to the base of the supporting pillars, on each of which is a shield bearing an emblem of one of the army corps.

The numerous columns of the Treasury look very bright, each being wrapped with a large United States flag. Each apex of the cornices bears a military device outlined in electric lights, and at either entrance stands a column draped in the national colors. The Department of Justice is prettily decorated, numerous flags being festooned on its front.

Another very handsome bit of decoration is seen in the Pension Hall, where the Grand Army encampment is to be entertained Thursday night. This building, while from the exterior one of the ugliest ever designed by architects, is very handsome within and susceptible of very effective decorations. The building incloses an immense court, roofed over with skylights and side lights, with a fountain in the centre and rows of immense columns on the four sides of a square supporting the balconies above.

These columns rise to the roof, where they are joined by small arches. These columns below the first balcony are each decorated with a shield surrounded by flags, and a similar decoration is placed about each column from balcony to balcony. The shields on the first floor bear the names of prominent officers of the war, and above the first balcony the names of famous battles. Across the front of the balconies, connecting the central figures of the decorations, are festoons of red, white and blue.

No decorations extend across Pennsylvania avenue, the purpose being to leave that broad street clear from all obstructions to the view. But at the crossings of each side street where it enters Pennsylvania avenue there are hung elaborate decorations of flags and shields.

The public buildings are draped from column to column and across the windows with immense American flags, and some bits of red, white and blue is displayed from every available spot along the great public thoroughfare. Wires have been strung on both sides of Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to Washington Circle, past the White House, and at short intervals electric lights will illuminate the surroundings.

The grand stands for the President and the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army are of artistic design and are very elaborately and beautifully decorated.

The stand for the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army is in front of the War Department, and is larger and more massive in appearance than that provided for the President. In a modified way it represents a fortress, with embattlements. The structure is in a solid color, having the appearance of heavy grey stone, and the decoration of flags is hung about it in such a manner as to distinguish the effect more artistic and impressive.

There will also be shields, pennants and streamers.

Indications are apparent to-day that the number of visitors to the Encampment will not be quite so large as was anticipated, but there will be enough here to easily make good the claim of the committees that it will be the largest reunion of old soldiers and their friends held in this country since the war. The falling off in the attendance is ascribed to the fear of danger from running the gauntlet of cholera in New York, as it is most noticeable from the North and East.

This morning occurred the parade preceding the dedication of Grand Army Plaza. It was reviewed by the Vice President and other officials.

The programme for the remainder of the day is: 12:30 p. m.—Dedication of Grand Army Plaza (White lot), with addresses by Vice President Morton and Grand Commander in Chief Palmer.

2 p. m.—Meeting of Department Commanders, meeting of Board of Directors National Women's Relief Corps.

5 p. m.—Drill by National Fenibles, prize winners at the Omaha encampment.

7 p. m.—Meeting of Council of Administration.

8 p. m.—Camp fire of Sheridan posts, G. A. R.; reunion of the Twelfth, Fourteenth and Twenty-second Corps and quartermasters.

8:30 to 11:30 p. m.—Reception to W. G. R., ladies of the G. A. R., and other organizations of patriotic women, by the ladies of the Department of the Potomac, headed by Mrs. John A. Logan. For this affair the rotunda of the Capitol has been gorgeously decorated.

of the war. With flags and patriotic emblems on every hand, with hundreds of bands and drum corps and trumpeters playing martial airs, the veterans, bearing flags, some of which were riddled and torn in battle, will follow the line of march of the grand review. As they pass the southeast corner of the Treasury they will be greeted by the voices of a thousand children singing patriotic airs.

To-morrow night will be the grand fireworks display. This will occur in the Monument Grounds near the Washington Monument. In addition to the usual display of bombs and rockets there will be representation of shells bursting as in battle, a salvo of bombs like artillery and three very elaborate set pieces. In one of the set pieces will appear the national Capitol in a glow of light, beneath which will be inscribed in letters of fire "Washington Welcomes the Nation's Heroes."

Another will represent portraits of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, with the eagle holding branches of laurel over their heads. The third piece will represent a sailor and a soldier shaking hands over a stand of colors draped over cannon, with G. A. R. emblems over their heads, and a monitor and fort belching volumes of fire and smoke in the background.

At the same time rockets and Roman candles and red lights will be burnt in all parts of the city.

On Wednesday will be the meeting of the encampment at Albaugh's Opera House, the convention of the Woman's Relief Corps, parade of the Union Veteran Legion and a large number of corps meetings during the day. On Thursday there will be a number of camp fires, conventions and receptions. But the features of the day will be the reception of the encampment in the Pension Office Building in the evening. On Friday there will be excursions to Mount Vernon and elsewhere, camp fires, reunions and receptions.

THE CRISIS PASSED.

Probable that Mrs. Harrison Can Soon Be Removed From Loan Lake.

LOON LAKE, N. Y., Sep. 19.—The critical period in Mrs. Harrison's illness has passed and there are no signs of a renewal of the dangerous complications that brought her so near to death's door a few days ago. She has not improved so much, however, that all danger is past, for there is yet the main disease to combat.

Dr. Gardner told a reporter this morning that the crisis was over, and that the patient could now be treated without the great danger threatened by the accumulation of the watery substance in the cavity of the pleura. "This danger," said Dr. Gardner, "has passed and there are no signs of a renewal of the substance, thus removing the necessity for another operation."

The three operations which the physicians made to draw off the fatal fluid were successful, but, in each case, the patient suffered somewhat from shock, and the physicians are apprehensive of a reappearance of the fluid.

Now, that the crisis is over, the advisability of removing Mrs. Harrison from here is being considered. She is exceedingly anxious to be taken to Washington, and it is believed by Dr. Gardner that with a partial removal of strength his patient may be safely removed from Loan Lake within a week or two.
