TESTING THE FIRE ALARM SYSTEM
The Committees in Charge Have Decided to Have Tests Made Every Friday Evening at Seven O'clock.

The fire apparatus committee of the Borough Council has made arrangements for test alarms of the electric fire alarm system. The first test will be made at 7 o'clock next Friday evening, so that when the alarm is sounded at that hour the people may be prepared for it and not endanger their lives in desperate efforts to reach the supposed fire scene. Friday night of each week hereafter, at 7 o'clock, will be the test hour for the system. Cut this out and paste it in your hat. Frequent reference to it may prevent unnecessary shock and inconvenience.

This is just the season of the year when people feel the bad effects of biliousness, and they run to the doctor and run up bills at the same time. The average practitioner would rather not bother with a bilious patient. One of our leading physicians gave me a recipe for biliousness the other day, which he claims will cure the worst case. It is very simple, and all that is necessary is to take the juice of a small lemon, or a lime, into a half of a glass of water, and then add a pinch of baking soda. Drink the concoction while it foams and you will be a well man after a night's sleep. This is also an excellent remedy for sick headache.

Sneaky shoes!
They are worse than a kiss without a moustache accompaniment. Nearly all ready-made shoes squeak, and while purchasing a pair of shoes that had this fault, the dealer told me how to remedy it. Go to a shoemaker and have him put a peg in the middle of the sole and there will be no more loud proclamations. Another thing, when you buy a new pair of shoes and they hurt you, put water in them, and let it remain for a minute, then pour it out, and if your shoes burn or hurt you after that you can say I am wrong. The water takes all the natural heat out of the leather, and makes the shoes comfortable.

The meetings being held by the Republicans during the week are drawing large crowds. I have not yet read the acceptance of Congressman Kelly to debate the issues of the campaign with the veteran campaign orator, Hon. C. N. Brumm. During the latter's address to the voters of Jackson's patch Monday evening he took occasion to scold his opponent for failing to meet him in joint debate. The object of his challenge, he said, was to bring together both Democrats and Republicans to hear the issues discussed. I understand the challenge issued by Mr. Brumm allows his opponent to select any Democrat he pleases, provided Mr. Kelly feels that he is not able to fill the bill. There are a large number of voters in this section, both Democrats and Republicans, who would like to hear the issues of the campaign debated by Messrs. Brumm and Kelly.

"Under the Lion's Paw."
Next Wednesday evening the theatre-going public of Shenandoah will have an opportunity of witnessing the most thrilling and expensive melodramatic production of the day in George Peck's "Under the Lion's Paw." A special feature is Col. E. D. Boone and Milli Carlotta and their seven Numban lions. Also the famous Niagara quartette in glee, songs and choruses. The third act takes place in the menagerie tent, which reaches from wall to wall and is perfect in every detail. The steel cage used by Col. Boone measures 30 feet in diameter and 11 feet in height, and weighs 6,000 pounds. We notice Miss Olive Gates in the cast, also W. J. Chambers. Both are artists of ability. Harry J. Steele is in town billing the play like a veritable circus and if "bustling" will fill the house next Wednesday night will surely see a jam.

The Jones Funeral.
The funeral of the late Samuel Jones, who died at the home of his parents in Lost Creek on Sunday evening, took place this afternoon. Services were held in the Union church at Lost Creek and the remains were brought to town and interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. The attendance at the funeral was very large, members of Plank Ridge Lodge, No. 880, I. O. O. F., Wm. Penn Cornet Band, and the Hayden Choral Union, of Wm. Penn, were in attendance. The deceased was a member of all the organizations.

The Place to Go.
Shenandoah people visiting the county seat (surnamed Pottsville) at call in the Academy Restaurant. Either J. F. Conroy, the proprietor, greets you with a smile, or his genial brother, M. A. Conroy, welcomes you. It is the resort for all gentlemen from north of the mountain 8-24-92

DON'T LET IT LAG.

Keep the Soldiers' Monument on a Steady Move.

Let all our townsmen exert themselves in behalf of the soldiers' monument fund and keep the good work going steadily until the sum required is fully pledged and in hand. It is certainly reasonable that Shenandoah should have a soldiers' monument. It is the largest town in the county, is always foremost in all patriotic movements in which its aid is invoked, and when Pottsville made appeals for contributions for the soldiers' monument erected in that town Shenandoah responded liberally.

Now let the people of Shenandoah have a soldiers' monument. They want one and the movement that has been put on foot to raise funds for it has met with popular favor. But one thing remains to be done to secure a monument and that is a few days of active work to raise subscriptions. Five hundred dollars is the amount now pledged. A pull, a strong pull, and the figures can be landed at the $1,000 mark within a few days. After the first $1,000 is secured the balance will flow into the fund. Nearly all the patriotic organizations have made liberal pledges to the movement and many of our prominent citizens have also pledged themselves on record.

The Women's Relief Corps, which is a G. A. R. auxiliary organization, has arranged to hold a supper on November 24th, next, for the benefit of the fund, and Henry Horncastle Camp, No. 49, Sons of Veterans, has appointed a committee to make arrangements to raise money. This committee is now negotiating for a production of the original "Old Homestead" at Ferguson's theatre, with Denman Thompson, the creator of the famous character Joshua Whitcomb, in the cast. Five hundred dollars more is wanted to raise the fund to $1,000. Who will be the first to respond?

Hundreds of Delegates in Attendance at Easton.
William Dettrey, Robert Oliver, Thos. Sancer, David Renny, William, John E. and David R. James, Stephen Lindenmuth, William W. Ger and E. D. Hazenbuech yesterday went to Easton and witnessed a ceremonies and parade attended by the 331 annual session of the Junior Order United American Mechanics. The delegates in attendance numbered 810. Thomas Sanger represents Major Jennings Council, of town. Mr. Sanger will remain in Easton until Saturday. The others have returned. The prizes awarded yesterday by the State Council were distributed as follows: Greble Council, No. 13, of Philadelphia, took the silk flag for fine marching. Philadelphia, N. J., Council took a silk flag for having the largest number of men in line. Lehighton Commodity got a silk flag for best drilling. Pittsburg Council won a silk flag for traveling the greatest distance to participate in the parade. West End and East End Councils, both of Easton, each presented a silk flag to each of the twelve schools of the city. At the evening session of the State Council Major Jennings Council, of town, presented the State Council with a gavel made of Anthracite coal. The presentation was made by H. J. Dilly, of Philadelphia. The one are fully 891 Jr. O. U. A. M. Councils in the state at the present time. The gain in membership during the year was 14,575 members. The membership of the order in the state up to date is over 90,000. The average membership of each Council is ninety-eight. This is the second largest secret organization in the state of Pennsylvania. The report of the State Council treasurer shows that the balance on hand at the last report was $2,953 73; receipts during the year, $30,568.58; expenses of the year, $29,435.81; balance on hand for the year ending September 14, 1892, $3,713.50.

ANOTHER STREET PAVING PETITION

IT WILL BE PRESENTED TO COUNCIL AND AN ORDINANCE ASKED FOR

The Property Owners on South Main Street Between Oak and Cherry Streets Now on the Move.

As predicted by the HERALD, the movement to pave the square on Main street, between Centre and Oak streets, has awakened the people of other sections and created a desire on their part to also share in the great advantages that permanent street work afford the public in general and property owners in particular.

The people residing on Main street, between Oak and Cherry streets, are now on the move and if the people who were first in the field do not hurry and get down to work the people below them will be on top of the heap and have their street paved before the others get their papers properly before the Borough Council. The property owners between Oak and Cherry streets have their petition for street paving ready for presentation at the next meeting of Council, and it is understood that they will ask Council to pass an ordinance allowing them to pave on the conditions set forth by the Act of Assembly. The petition is a strong one and instead of having the signatures of but two-thirds of the property owners on the square, as required by law, has been signed by all but two of the property owners. The two who have not signed are Mr. I. Robbins and Mrs. Holden, and they have not refused to do so. The parties who are circulating the petition have not had an opportunity to see them, but expect to have their signatures before the petition is presented to Council.

The property owners on the square between Oak and Centre streets will thus see that their plan is in danger of falling through and that if they do not hurry and get their matter before Council in proper shape very soon their neighbors will pluck the plum and all the talk and work of the past two weeks will have accomplished nothing. An opinion prevails that the property owners between Centre and Oak streets are too slow.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. John A. Titman spent to-day at Pottsville. William Butts, who was visiting friends in town, left for his home in Philadelphia yesterday. Miss Clara Butts, who spent the past few days in town, returned to her home in Philadelphia to-day. Mrs. H. C. Boyer last evening returned from Allentown, where she spent several days with friends. J. Harry James, Republican candidate for District Attorney, circulated among the local politicians yesterday. Miss Kate James, accompanied by Miss Gussie Hathaway, honored the HERALD banquet yesterday with their presence. Mrs. Hugh Loomis, of Wilkes-Barre, after spending several weeks in town, returned home yesterday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. T. R. Phillips. Rev. M. H. Havice left to-day to attend the English Lutheran synod at Lancaster and as he will be absent until after Sunday next there will be no services in the English Lutheran church on that day. A. J. Minter, traveling correspondent and manager of the Reading bureau and Schuylkill valley edition of the Harrisburg Telegram was a visitor to town yesterday and made a pleasant call at the HERALD office.

Serenade and Presentation.
Last evening Charles Bowman, who has changed his residence from town to Philadelphia, was given a farewell serenade at the residence of H. A. Swalm, on South White street. Mr. Bowman has been an active member and energetic worker on the Board of Control that manages the band. After the band played several selections Mr. Bowman invited the members of the organization, the Board of Control and a number of friends to the Ferguson House, where a supper was served. During the evening Mr. Bowman was taken completely by surprise by being presented with an elegant and very valuable gold watch, presented as a token of esteem. Mr. Bowman made a graceful acknowledgment of the gift. To-day he took leave of his friends and left for his new home in the Quaker City. Mr. Bowman was one of the most popular of our citizens and his departure is sincerely regretted.

The corner stone of the newly proposed Slaviman Roman Catholic church at Mahanoy City, was laid Sunday with impressive ceremonies. There was a parade of church societies after the ceremonies. Flings for the school houses of Lewisburg will be purchased by popular subscription money. There are no flies on Williamsport's municipal authorities. Some time since it occurred to them that the light furnished the city by an individual corporation was not up to the standard of 2,000 candle power, as prescribed in a contract entered into. Of course, there was no disposition on the part of the company to seal.

Widow Murphy's Gout.

The attendance at the theatre last evening was the largest of the season, and plainly shows that Mr. Keely is held in high favor by our theatre-going people. "Widow Murphy's Gout," a production from the dramatic pen of Col. Theodora Hoppenheimer, is a three-act comedy, full of songs, Irish real, and is extremely funny throughout. Mr. Keely, the young and talented comedian, sustained the leading role in his usual burly style. James T. Morton, as "Widow Murphy," with her inseparable companion, "Jamey-the-Gout," kept the audience in a continuous roar of laughter. The entire company, in fact, was of a high dramatic order, and will undoubtedly draw a large audience should they appear here again.

Justo.

The people north of the mountain when at the county seat will find it to their advantage to visit Justo, the largest man in Pennsylvania. Mr. John Trout is genial, pleasant and a good fellow all around. He keeps the best of liquors, wines, beers and cigars. Also serves hot lunch from 9 to 12 o'clock every morning. His weight is 380 lbs. 9-1-92 206 W. Market Street.
