met, and electrical supply houses throughout the country are receiving inquiries as to the cost of these new aids to dazzling display and parades every day.

CHICAGO is dissatisfied with the design for the souvenir half dollar and charges that the features of Columbus do not resemble the discoverer, but suggest a composite picture of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, Elias Howe and John Wesley.

POSTMASTERS have a great deal to contend with in the line of queerly directed letters. The Boston postmaster was called on the other day to deal with a letter addressed Charles Smith, K. Pan. He sent it at once to Cape Ann.

In a recent issue of the Churchman there appears an advertisement from "A Western Priest" setting forth that he was out of employment and wanted a job. He undertook to "keep a congregation awake on the hottest day."

MAINE orchardists, whose crops will be fairly large, expect to reap a golden harvest this year on account of the practical failure of the apple crop in New York and Michigan, the two great apple producing states.

A new species of trout has been recently discovered in the Columbia river. They are said to have large red spots on them, which has led to their being named "Dolly Varden" trout.

ACCORDING to the United States statistics the farm land in New Jersey is rated at an average of sixty-five dollars per acre, the highest of any state in the union.

That Rainbow Chasing Frad. There has been a fatal stirrup to the contemplation of the New York World's rainbow fund since the Sun exposed that man's greed as a forger of alleged cables and a fabric of interviews with distinguished persons. The effect of the Sun's broadside was almost instantaneous. It did not require this great journalistic exploit on the part of The Sun, however, to make the rainbow fund a failure. It was a failure from the start. People, and particularly Democrats, are not throwing their good money into a sewer this year.

Democratic Repudiation All Around. The present campaign is developing more and more Democratic necessities as it creeps on apace. For instance, witness the Cleveland intriguery regarding the report of Commissioner Peck, of New York, in which he proves that the McKinley bill has increased industrial wages, while we see the Connecticut Democratic convention at the instance of Cleveland repudiating the Chicago free-trade plank. Next, about the 6th of November, we shall see the Democratic party repudiating Cleveland.

Would you rather buy lamp chimneys, one a week the year round, or one that lasts till some accident breaks it? Common glass may break or not the minute you light your lamp; if not, the first draft may break it; if not, it may break from a mere whim.

Pennyroyal Pills. Original and only genuine. For the first time in political history electricity will play quite a prominent part in the presidential campaign this fall.

PEARY MAY TRY AGAIN. Another Journey Contemplated to the Far North.

DOUBT CONCERNING VERHOEFF.

No Positive Evidence That He Perished—His Strange Query to Several Comrades—Believed That He Remained Alone to Continue His Investigations.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 24.—Lieut. Peary has gone to Washington, where he will remain several days before returning to make his report to the Academy of Natural Sciences.

Just before leaving Lieut. Peary said that if he could possibly arrange matters he would make another trip to the North. Arrangements have been made for an elaborate reception to Lieut. and Mrs. Peary, but no date has been fixed nor will be until they are consulted.

The results of the Peary Expedition have been made known partially by letters and despatches from St. Johns, N. F. These tell that Lieut. Peary has gained for America another laurel in the way of exploration, but his scientific records and observations will have to be carefully collated and examined before their full value can be ascertained.

It was expected that Miss Verhoeff, the sister of the missing explorer, would create a scene upon the arrival of the Kits. She was introduced to Lieut. Peary. "Where is my brother?" she excitedly asked.

Lieut. Peary said that everything had been done to rescue her brother. Miss Verhoeff would undoubtedly have made things lively had not her relatives told her that she would meet the Lieutenant at the Lafayette Hotel and talk the matter over.

"Verhoeff left camp," Lieut. Peary said, "to go ten miles. He took with him a revolver, 50 rounds of ammunition, a compass, an axe, a heavy suit of clothes and provisions for five days. After being away for one day he returned and left word that if he was not back in four days we were not to look for him. He did not come back, and our search failed to find anything of him except what would lead us to think that he had fallen into an ice chasm on the glacier. A significant fact is that he asked four of the party if they thought I would allow him to remain behind alone. They said "No."

"Thank God!" exclaimed Verhoeff's uncle. "He's alive; I'm sure of it."

ELOPEMENT IN HIGH LIFE.

Lieut. Erlanger and the Countess Musini, Mary Secety, and Then Flee. VIENNA, Sep. 24.—Lieut. Erlanger, son of Baron Victor Erlanger, and the Countess Musini, step-daughter of M. Gerassi, formerly Russian Ambassador in this city, have eloped from this city.

Lieut. Erlanger met the Countess in Geneva, where his father does a large banking business. She is a beautiful woman, and young Erlanger at once devoted himself to her so noticeably that her stepfather wrote to him that his attentions were not agreeable. Erlanger was persistent, however, proposed marriage, and was accepted.

When M. Gerassi learned this he hastily left the city with wife and stepdaughter to travel in Italy. Young Erlanger did not follow them, but was kept advised of their movements by the Countess. Not until M. Gerassi brought his family to this city recently did Erlanger show any disposition to claim his bride.

He came to this city and called at the Hotel Imperial, where the Gerassis were stopping. By letter he and the Countess agreed to elope last evening.

She, a friend and a maid servant, started ostensibly for the opera. The maid servant was dropped; Erlanger was met, and the marriage was performed with the friend as a witness. The young couple then left the city.

The Countess has 10,000,000 francs in her own name. Lieut. Erlanger is also rich, and will be a millionaire after the death of his father.
