J. W. HUSTED'S DEATH

General Sorrow Caused By the Announcement.

HE WAS CONSCIOUS TO THE END.

His Long Public Service—The Only Man Who Was Ever Elected Speaker of the New York Assembly Six Times—His Stubborn Fight for Life.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Sep. 26.—The arrangements for the funeral of General James W. Husted, who died last night, have not yet been completed. The announcement of his death has cast a gloom over the entire community, as the General was known by thousands. The poor people, to whom he was always very kind, especially deplore the sad event.

General Husted had a relapse Saturday and died gradually. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon he began to sink. He passed away at 8:17 in the evening, conscious to the last. At his bedside there were Dr. Mason, Mrs. Husted, her sons, Thomas W. and J. W., Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. Fred Shield and Miss Husted.

General Husted was taken ill on his way to the Republican convention in June last. He left New York with the Republican delegates and before he arrived at Minneapolis he was taken down, and it was feared he would expire before arriving at his destination. As soon as he was stricken some of those on board of the train administered him a dose of medicine, and it was said that it was an overdose, and caused the illness from which he died.

After the convention he was brought home to Peekskill in a special car and removed to his residence, where he remained in bed hovering between life and death ever since.

James W. Husted was born at Bedford, Westchester county, this State, in 1833. His parents were American born descendants of English and French immigrants. After preparation for college at the Bedford Academy, he graduated at Yale in 1854, one of his college mates being Chauncey M. Depew, in after life one of his most intimate friends. Mr. Husted studied law with Edward Wells in Peekskill, and was admitted to the New York bar in 1857. He then engaged in the practice of his profession, meanwhile taking a deep interest in State politics.

For over 30 years he was in active political life. Among the offices he held was Commissioner Deputy Superintendent of the Insurance Department, Harbor Master, Emigration Commissioner and Deputy Captain of the Port of New York. He invariably took an active interest in the National Guard of the State, and was himself a member of it, serving as Judge Advocate of the Seventh Brigade and as Major-General of the Fifth Division. He was also an influential and distinguished member of the Masonic fraternity, and once held the position of Grand Master of that body in this State. He received the thirty-third degree as a Mason.

Gen. Husted was an uncompromising Republican from 1859, and attended the National conventions of the party as a delegate in 1878, 1880, 1884, 1888 and 1892. In 1881 he was a candidate for State Treasurer, but was defeated by Horace A. Maxwell. It was, however, as a member and Speaker of the Assembly that Mr. Husted attracted most attention and acquired fame. He was a strong debater and a hard man to engage with on a question of parliamentary law. His advent to the Assembly was in 1869, representing Westchester county, and he was continuously a member until 1878. In the latter year he was elected an Assemblyman from Rockland county, and was re-elected from that county in 1879. Returning to Westchester county in 1880 he was again elected to serve his old constituency. His first defeat when running for the Assembly was met in 1882, his successful opponent being John Hoag, a Democrat. Since 1880 he was regularly re-elected from Westchester county. He was sent to the Assembly 22 times in all.

He was first chosen for Speaker in 1874, and filled that position during five subsequent sessions, viz., 1876, 1878, 1880, 1882 and 1890. As a presiding officer he was able, courageous and firm. He was the Republican leader in the Assembly during the session of 1891-92, and enjoyed the distinction of having had the longest legislative service of any member, and, indeed, the longest of any man in the history of the State—23 years. He was Speaker more times than any other man who has occupied the chair.

Personally he was genial, and made many personal friends. As a politician he was keen and uncompromising, being of that habit of mind which made him at all times a partisan. He made for himself a prominent position in State politics, being familiarly known as the "Hald-Headed Eagle" of Westchester county.

TROOPS TO THE FRONT.

Caracas Deserted Soldiers—Forcing Loans from Merchants.

PANAMA, Sep. 26.—News has been received from Caracas to the effect that Senor Diaz has resigned the governorship of federal districts and Dr. Lander has been appointed in his place.

The government is forcing from the merchants a loan of $5,000 a day. Villegas-Pulida had not up to Sept. 13 been recognized by the foreign Ministers as legally President of the Republic.

All the troops have left the city for the front. The Comandancia Cuartel has been closed, only a guard of 49 soldiers being left there.

Don J. P. Pineda, Governor of La Guayra, it is claimed, opens all the foreign mail and is exercising a virtual dictatorship in local affairs. He has grossly insulted the American Consul and threatened to revoke his exequatur.

In the waste about the Custom House which was being removed there were found 4,000 letters to local merchants, which have been filled. It is thought, by Mendoza and Rejouis.

Minister Scruggs made a vigorous protest against the seizure of the passengers on the steamer Caracas at Puerto Cabello. He demanded that they be returned to the deck of the steamer, to salute the flag and to give personal damages.

The Foreign Minister made an evasive reply, and to Mr. Scruggs' second demand made no answer. Since then he has had no relations with the government.

It is unknown in Caracas where the prisoners are. Ardeneta had consigned them in the Castillo at Puerto Cabello, which Mora afterward captured. It is thought the imprisoned men have been removed to Maracaibo.

MISSOURI'S GOVERNOR ASKED FOR HIS EXTRADITION.

HE WAS INDICTED IN PHILADELPHIA.

One of His Victims Was Millionaire Secumant of Potomac, Pa. Who Secured the Indictment—History of the Speculator Who Was at the Head of the "Winner Investment Co."

POTTSWOM, Pa., Sep. 26.—Willard E. Winner, the Kansas City speculator, whose meteoric flight through the financial sky quite blinded even conservative money men by his false brilliancy, and in whose stupendous Kansas City projects millions of dollars, drained from all America, were swiftly sunk, may before many days answer in a Pennsylvania court of justice to an indictment charging him with the procurement of money under false pretenses.

An agent of this State awaits now in the office of the Governor of Missouri the pleasure of the Executive, who has under consideration an application from the Governor of Pennsylvania for the extradition of Winner, who is now a resident of St. Louis. In January last, at the Court of Quarter Sessions in Philadelphia, an indictment against Winner was obtained at the instance of James B. McCamant, the millionaire of this city, who charged that Winner had procured $12,000 from him by false pretenses two or three years ago.

Ten years ago Winner was a clerk in the postoffice in Kansas City. Beginning with modest investments, his capital increased rapidly until in a few years he stepped into a place of wealth and power. From the enterprises of the Winner Investment Company there branched out related schemes of which he was the guiding spirit, the aggregate capitalization of which reached millions of dollars. There was the Winner Bridge Company, and the Chicago, Kansas & Texas Railway Company, the natural sequent of the bridge project.

In these two schemes alone millions of dollars of Eastern money now lie dormant. Then there was the Winner Building Company which bought nearly a block of ground in the centre of the city and began the construction of a large office building, the Winner Improvement Co., the Winner This and the Winner That. All with their separate capitalizations expressed in many successive papers, owed their several existences to the financier's brain.

Into one of these enterprises Millionaire McCamant put $12,000. Two or three years ago came the crash, and all the associated Winner enterprises collapsed. Winner left Kansas City and is now engaged in the railroad business in St. Louis. Mr. McCamant made an investigation and secured the indictment last January.

The delay in issuing requisition papers is due to Winner's promise to Governor Francis that he would appear in Philadelphia at the next term of court voluntarily. But Winner did not go, and now his extradition is formally demanded.

WOMEN MAY SEE FIGHTS.

The New Orleans Olympic Considering New Plans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sep. 26.—Capt. Frank Williams, of the Olympic Club, is the authority for the statement that at the next big event before the club ladies will be admitted to a section of the arena.

This move was looked for some time ago, and after the recent fights it was stated that the matter would be brought to the attention of the club members.

Capt. Williams also stated that it was the intention of the club to agitate the question of erecting a big hotel under the name of the club for the accommodation of strangers coming to the city.

The determination to build a hotel in opposition to those established is due in a measure to the refusal of the St. Charles Hotel to allow Mr. Noel, the president of the club, the temporary use of the hotel parlor for the purpose of signing the check of $25,000, which the club gave Corbett after his victory over Sullivan.

THE PLAGUE.

Record of Its Work from Various European Cities.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sep. 26.—Nineteen new cases of cholera and thirteen deaths were reported here yesterday. This is a decrease of fifteen cases and an increase of four deaths compared with the returns for Saturday. Thirty-six patients in the hospitals recovered and were discharged Saturday.

CHICAGO, Sep. 26.—The total number of deaths from cholera in this city has been five. All the other persons attacked by the disease here will soon disappear, as no new cases was reported yesterday.

LONDON, Sep. 26.—Despatches from Hamburg and Paris state that the cholera is rapidly abating. In the former city there are still many cases, but in Paris it is believed that the disease is about at an end.

TO LEAVE THE AMALGAMATED.

Pittsburg Iron and Steel Finishers Meet to Consider the Matter.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sep. 26.—The rollers, heaters, roughers, catchers, shearmen and other iron and steel finishers, who are paid by the ton, held a Sunday meeting with the object of withdrawing their membership from the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers and taking the necessary preliminary steps toward the organization of an independent National Trades Union, to which none but workmen of their own class can be admitted. The leaders in the movement are prominent Amalgamated Association men.

Owing to frequent disagreements with the paddlers, and unfriendly feeling over wage scale settlements, the finishers have for a long time been considering the step just taken.

This proved a surprise to the officers of the Amalgamated Association.

SEARCHING FOR A CHILD.

HARTFORD, Pa., Sep. 26.—More than 1,000 men and women are searching the woods and mountains for miles about Hartleigh, a mining town near this city, for four-year-old Alice Ozja. Alice was lost last Friday afternoon. She is the daughter of John Ozja, a miner who lived in a cottage that nestled close to the base of a mountain a mile from Hartleigh.

ABANDONS THE TURF FOR RELIGION.

VIENNA, Sep. 26.—Count Nicholas Esterhazy, the well-known sportsman, has become impressed with religious convictions and has concluded that religion and turf do not agree. He has therefore retired from sporting life and also from society. He has converted into a church his famous private theater.

NO NEW CASE AT NEW YORK.

QUANTICO, S. I., Sep. 26.—Dr. Brown reported this morning that there are no new cases and no suspects on the ships or islands down the bay, and all patients are in a fair way of recovery. Dr. Jenkins announces that he expects to release the first and second cabin passengers of the Scandia today.

THE DEATH OF WICKES.

His Friends in New York Greatly Shocked Over the Report from Detroit.

NEW YORK, Sep. 26.—Friends of Mr. Wickes in this city are greatly shocked at the manner of his death as reported in the Detroit despatches, and express doubt as to their correctness.

Mr. Ernest E. Walton, agent of the Wickes' Refrigerator Company in this city, said that he knew Mr. Wickes very intimately, and knew that so far from being a man likely to go on a drunken spree, he was unusually temperate. He said that he dined with him frequently and never saw him even taste a glass of wine with his meals.

He also said that there was nothing of the roisterer or man-about-town in his make up and could in no way account for the misfortune which had befallen Mr. Wickes.

Other friends in this city spoke in the same strain and highly eulogized Mr. Wickes' modest and retiring life.

ANTI-BRITISH LEAGUE.

The Society Opens Headquarters in New York City.

NEW YORK, Sep. 26.—The Anti-British League, composed of Irish-American citizens who believe in protection to American industries, has opened its headquarters at the Ashland House on Fourth avenue. The leader of the organization is Thomas St. John Gaffney, a lawyer of this city. The object of the League, as stated by Mr. Gaffney in his address, is to bring together "that large element of the Irish people here who believe that the best protection is the best for this country and is antagonistic to the hereditary enemy of their race."

ALVA NEARLY READY TO BE RAISED.

BOSTON, Sep. 26.—"Had it not been for this storm," one of the Boston representatives of Perkins & White said to-day, "the Alva would have been up now. Nearly all the ballast has been taken out and the men are nearly ready to begin pumping out the water. While it is a little early to set a time for the attempt at raising, it is thought it will be tried within a few days."

THE HATH-3D TUNNEL COMPLETED.

HARTFORD, W. Va., Sep. 26.—The big Hath-3d tunnel on the line of the Norfolk & Western railroad in Logan county has been completed and track is laid from each end connecting the link of steel that now runs from Norfolk, Va. to Chicago. Several iron bridges are to be constructed but in the meantime wooden trestles are used.

PHILADELPHIA, Sep. 26.—Count Mark Millerberg, a young and wealthy nobleman of Vienna, who shot himself in the region of the lung Saturday in his apartments in the Continental hotel and then turned on the gas, had been rejected in marriage by his sweetheart and it is said, this caused him to attempt self destruction.

NEWARK, N. Y., Sep. 26.—Eera I. Hunter, pilot of the steamer Jacob H. Tremper, has been suspended by the Board of Steamboat Inspectors for causing the Martin and Tremper collision at New York recently. Pilot Lawson was excused. Mr. Hunter has been a pilot for forty-seven years.

A NEW VANDERBILT YACHT.

NEW YORK, Sep. 26.—William K. Vanderbilt is to have a new yacht, which it is said, will in every respect be a far finer boat than the Alva. It is to be constructed in England, and Mr. Vanderbilt will soon go over there to superintend the work.

PATRICK SANSFIELD GILMORE.

His Band to Keep On—His Estate—Sketch of His Life.

NEW YORK, Sep. 26.—It is said that Sargent Froendevort, the assistant director of Gilmore's Band, will continue to act as leader, and will keep up the organization established by the late bandmaster. Mr. Gilmore, while not wealthy, leaves his family in comfortable circumstances. His estate will foot up about $40,000. The remains will arrive from St. Louis this evening.

It was known that Mr. Gilmore suffered from an affection of the heart, but the announcement of his death at St. Louis came with crushing force upon his many friends and admirers.

Patrick Sansfield Gilmore was the most widely known bandmaster in America. He was born near Dublin, Ireland, on Dec. 28, 1829, and was, therefore, in his 66th year at the time of his death. He demonstrated great love for the music of brass instruments when but a boy, and at the age of 15 connected himself with military bands. Before he attained his majority he went to Canada with an English military band and after spending a year in the Dominion went to Salem, Mass., where he became a leader of the principal brass band in that city.

In 1861, at the outbreak of the Rebellion, Gilmore accompanied the Twenty-fourth Massachusetts regiment to the field, and in 1863 he was placed in charge of all the bands in the Department of Louisiana by General Banks.

At the close of the war Gilmore devoted himself to the work of his band with redoubled energy. It was he who first conceived the idea of giving monster concerts in the greater cities of the country, and he successfully carried his idea into execution.

He was the projector of the great "Peace Jubilees" given in Boston in 1869 and 1872, and it was under his leadership and his management that the jubilees proved such great successes. He wrote a book about the first jubilee, which was published in Boston in 1871.

In 1878 Gilmore took his band to Europe and made a successful tour of the cities of the Old World. He played before crowned heads, princes, dukes and lesser nobles, and was received with great favor.

Soon after the opening of Manhattan Beach as a summer resort the big auditorium in front of the hotel was built and Gilmore and his band were secured as a regular summer attraction there.

He has been one of the features of Manhattan Beach every season since. Only a few weeks ago his last great jubilee was given at Manhattan Beach.

It was just about that time that the report, which afterward proved unfounded, that the great bandmaster had been drowned, was circulated. Gilmore had a great inclination to be recognized as a composer, and he wrote many songs and ballads, some of which gained great popularity.

His "National Anthem" he considered his finest composition and nearly always played it when his band gave an entertainment. His last work of any note was the arranging of the music of "Marching Through Georgia" into a funeral march. He marched at the head of his band playing this work at the funeral pageant of General Sherman.

His band has been one of the attractions at the St. Louis Exposition for years, and he was playing his annual engagement there at the time of his death.
