FATE OF THE DALTONS DOMOGRATS CARRY the State by at Least

Rejoicing at the Extermination of the Outlaws.

OBTAINED AT A HEAVY COST.

Three Citizens Killed and Two Fatally Injured -- Five of the Six Desperadoes Shot Down-One Managed to Escape-All the Money Recovered.

COPPRIVITAR, Kan., Oct. 6 .- The Dalton gang of outlaws, the most notorious in the West, has been wiped off the face of the earth, but in the battle which resulted in their extermination three good citizens were killed and two fatally wounded.

The desperadoes, who had grown bolder as they thought they were above all law and that the officers of the county, were powerless against them, attempted to raid the banks of this city, their old home, when they met the fate which they so well merited. Had they confined their efforts to train robbery they might now be alive, but emulation of the James boys proved their ruin.

Bob and Grant Daiton, Tom Hardy and an unknown member of the Dalton gang Emmett Dalton is very dangerously Cashier Thomas G. Ayers, of the First National Bank, and Lucius Baldwin, a clerk in Read Brothers' store, are fatally wounded, and T. A. Arnold and Lewis Deitz are slightly injured.

At Condon's Bank they were told by Cashler Ball that the time lock would not be overest until 10 cleaks as holding.

be opened until 10 o'clock, so holding their Winchesters in their hands they told Ball and Teller Charles Carpenter that they would wait, taking meanwhile the money in the drawer.

Bob and Emmett Dalton were those who visited the First National Bank. Here Cashier Ayers, his son Bert and Teller W. H. Sheppard were forced to give up all the money in the safe, which was all the money in the safe, which was hastily shoved into bags. The Daltons then forced the three out of the front door, following right after

The alarm had in the meantime been given, and as they came out George Cu-dine and Express Agent Cox shot at one of the robbers, badly wounding him. The robbers returned the fire, killing Cudine, and the robbers in Condon & Co.'s Bank began shooting out of the window, hit-ting Ayers and Brown.

Both robbers ran back through the bank, when they were met by Baldwin, and they killed him.

The citizens being thoroughly aroused by this time were after them hot and heavy and succeeded in killing the four men named above and mortally wounding Emmett.

Coffeyville is the old home of the Dat-tons, and it is peculiarly appropriate that the world should be rid of the gang by our citizens.

The large rewards for their capture, dead or alive- if the citizens' wishes are respected, will go to the families of the murdered otisens.

All the money was recovered and turned over to the banks.

The news was telegraphed to Parsons shortly after 10 o'clock, and General Superintendent Frey, of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad, with his apecial car, in which were 30 or 40 trusty ritizens with Winchesters and shot guns, came to Coffeyville to assist in running the desperadoes to bay. They found on their arrival that their was but little work for them to do, as the plucky in-habitants of Coffeyville had wound up the careers of the desperadoes.

MRS. HARRISON A LITTLE BETTER. The President's Visit to New York Will Be

Dependent on Her Condition.

Washington, Oct. 6 .- Mrs. Harrison assed a more comfortable night, and this morning was feeling easier.

She remains propped up in bed by pillows and has experienced the usual fluctuations attending her disease, feeling better or worse at times. The improve ment or depression depends largely upon the state of the weather.
She continues very weak, but her condition is not considered critical. Mr. Halford said this morning that the published accounts that the President would not attend either the Columbian exercises in New York or the exercises in Chicago incident to the formal opening of the World's Fair, were unauthorized and in a measure misleading.

The President's movements day by day were dependent on the condition of Mrs. Harrison. If when the time arrives he feels that he can leave Mrs. Harrison, he will attend both celebrations; otherwise he will attend neither.

MASONIC HOME AT UTICA-Dedication of the Retreat for Needy Members of the Craft.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 6 .- The dedication of the Masonic Home yesterday drew an immense concourse of people.

Notwithstanding that the weather since Monday has been so unfavorable that many of the principal and more elaborate decorations were abandoned, yet Utica presented a gala appearance, flags and bunting and Masonie emblems having been used in profusion, especially along the line of march.

Grand Master Ten Eyek and his staff, with the exception of Grand Secretary Ehlers, were present.

All the railroads centering here ran special trains during the morning to ac-commodate the crowds which made Utica their objective point, and at noon and for an hour after, when the various organiz-ations were marshaling for the parade, the scene in the lower part of the city was an animated one.

There were fully 25,000 people gathered within a radius of a mile, and they were mostly from out of town, the residents having scattered themselves along the line of march and near the reviewing stand in Rutger street, where the grand officers were located when the parade reached that point on its way to the

The building, which has beretofore been fully described, has been visited this week by nearly all the leading members of the fraternity. It gives unbounded satisfaction to the craft, and is looked upon as a monument to the noble and philanthropic principles of the order.

Promptly at 1 o'clock the preparation for the parade was begun by Utica Commandery Knights Templar escorted the officers of the Grand Commandery to their place in line.
At 1:30 the parade moved and it is doubtful if more persons were ever in line in this State than were gathered together at this time.

Arrived at the Home, the lodges and organizations were faced en masse towards a large platform on which were seated the officers of the grand lodge and

The Home was thrown open to ladies, who witnessed the ceremonies from the windows and balconies. The regular Masonic ritual of dedication was then gone through with. After an invocation by the Grand Unaplain and chorus, Grand Master Ten Eyck of Albany spoke at some length.

A RACE ON THE SOUND.

The Richard Peck and Poritan Have an Exciting Contests

New York, Oct. 6 .- A race down Long Island Sound yesterday between the side-wheeler Puritan of the Fall River line and the twin screw boat Richard Peck of New Haven resulted in a victory for the cutter.

The Peck left New Haven at midnight. She had quite a crowd of passengers on board who manifested a great deal of interest in the contest.

The Peck ran slow from New Haven to Stratford shoals where she was to meet Puritan, which left Fall River at

At 2:30 a. m. the Peck sighted the lights of the Puritan and on the latter's coming abreast of her, all steam was crowded on both steamboats and the race

The Peck took the course along the Long Island shore and the Puritan steamed about a quarter of a mile from her further out in the Sound.

There was a light breeze from the north and the water was smooth. The passengers on both boats crowded the decks and the interest was intense.

The speed of both boats was about twenty-three miles an hour, their usual rate being twenty. After a few miles neck and neck the Feck began to forge ahead, not rapidly but steadily until the white hull of the Puritan was a mile astern.

The race was to end at Sands Point, and when the Peck passed that point she was a mile and a half ahead of the Puritan. The Peck arrived at her dock here at 6:45 a. m. and the Puritan ten minutes

The total distance covered by the two coats in the race was fifty-six miles.

The chief engineer of the Puritan and the other officers of the Fall River line deny that the Furitan and the new Peck had a race, but the captain, the chief engineer and all the officers of the Richard Peck and of the New Haven line say that there was a race, and that the Puritan was besten by a good mile and a quarter in the thirty-mile race.

FIERCE FOREST FIRES

Still Raging Near May's Landing - The Loss Heavy.

MAY'S LANDING, N. J., Oct. 6 .- The loss by the forest fires which are still raging in this vicinity is now estimated at over $50,000, and promises to be much greater before they are extinguished. Residents of Hessville, below Petersburg, were compelled to fight the flames all night to keep the fire away from the vil-

The winds which are prevailing in high force have driven the fire over miles and miles of the best timber in South Jersey. Hundreds of cords of market wood were burned yesterday. This loss is keenly felt by the owners, as their entire summer's work is represented in it.

Large forces of men are fighting the fire at every point with but little success, and it is feared that the damage will be and it is reared that the damage will be very great. Several small towns are threatened by the fire, and every precaution is being taken to keep it back. The large scope of timber burned over is a mass of charred wood.

Loxnov, Oct. 6 .- Lord Tennyson died

Early in the evening Lady Clark left. the house and took a carriage to be driven to London. She said that all hope was gone. Tennyson's mind was unclouded, and he knew that his remaining hours of ife were few. He had talked tranquilly of his death with his wife and his son Hallam. He seemed to be perfectly happy and free from pain. Lady Clark spoke with team as she told of the scene at the

All hope of Tennyson's recovery was abundoned between 11 and 12 o'clock Tuesday night. The gardener yesterday fastened with a stent rope the rustic gate at the front entrance to the grounds around the house and tied a basket to the latels. He explained that Lord Tennyson was very near death, and the family wished to secure perfect quist by the ex-clusion of all visitors from the grounds. The basket was for the cards of friends or admirers who might come for the news

As the morning advanced many men ar ived at Aldworth from London and oined the watchers outside the gate. lany persons came and went after dropping their eards in the basket. Hun freds of telegrams and letters of inquiry, condolence and sympathy were brought from all parts of Great Britain and the Toward evening most of the watchers went to Hastemers or Loudon, leaving only the reporters at the gate. At night-fall the windows of Aldworth were lighted and the rest. lighted, and the large bow windows oppoite the terrace steps were thrown open. Those outside thought that the poet was dead, but this impression was corrected by the late bulletins.

Dr. Dabbs says that Tennyson's acute illness began on Sept. 27. He was chilled while driving, and the severe cold which then caught developed rapidly into influenza.

Alfred Tennyson was born in Lincolnshire in 1809. In 1833 he published his first volume of poems and in 1881 succeeded Wordsworth as post laureate.

His principal works include the Morte

Corner Stone of the Memorial Library at Ayr Laid.

LONDON, Oct. 6 .- In Ayr yesterday the corner stone of the Memorial Library, resented to this town by Andrew C nearle, was laid with elaborate ceremonles. Almost the whole town took a holiday and despite the hostility of the working-people to the affair, an immense crowd gathered round the site of the building. The procession from the Town Hall to the foundations of the buildings was led by the city officials, Mr. Carnegie and Mrs. Carnegie.

Mrs. Carnegie laid the corner stone and the Mayor, after delivering a speech of offusive thanks, presented Mr. Carnegle with the freedom of the city. As Mr. Carnegle stepped forward, hat in band to reply, he was greeted with round after round of cheers so loud that a few groans and cries about Homestead were hardly audible. Mr. Carnegie spoke at considerable length. Part of his remarks was as follows:

"I feel more strongly bound than ever to devote the remaining years of my life less to alms ending in self and more to the service of others, using my surplus wealth and spare time in the manner most likely to produce the greatest good to the masses of the people. Saug "Ta-ra ra" in a Church Congress. Loxpox, Oct.-6 .-- At the Church Congress in the Dover Town Hall, yesterday, Major Edwards, recent Labor candidate for Parliament, rese between the opening prayer and the Hishop of Manchester's address on theosophy, and began singing lensily "Ta-ra-ra-boom-de-ay." Several clergymen tried to pull him down into his seat and quiet him, but he clung to a pillar and sang on. Two constables were called and they ejected Edwards. EDWIN BOOTH HURT.

Falls in a Faint at His Gotel in Lakewood, No de

LARRWOOD, N. J., Oct. 6.—The condi-tion of Edwin Booth, who is wintering here, is giving his friends great anxiety Yesterday he met with a serious fall, and he is now confined to his bed. Mr. Booth was out riding, and upon returning to his room in the Laurel House he complained to his daughter of feeling dizzy and raint. He also said that he had a pain in the head. Before his daughter could lay aside the work that she had in her hands the actor fell in a swoon upon the floor.

In failing Mr. Booth struck his head against the edge of the mantlepiece, flicting a bad but not dangerous cut the right eye. In falling he also received a stunning blow upon the head.

Mrs. Grossman became frightened, and at once aummoned help. The actor was carried to his bed, where his wounds were dressed by the house p cinn. Mr. Booth has been in ill-he for some time, and it was thought that the change of climate would do him good. The accident, coming as it does, on top or his filness, is causing his family as well as his large circle of friends much anxiety.

Mrs. Grossman said that her father was troubled with vertigo, and thinks that his fall was due to that. She says that fortunately he received no serious wounds, and she hopes that he will be out

A BOLD ABDUCTION-

Miss Leis Bennett Torn Away from Home at Maxtown, O. CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 6. -At Maxtown, in the northeastern part of Franklin county, yesterday, there occurred a desperate encounter between three men and three women. A young man named Samuel Bangs has for some time been paying attention to Miss Lela Bennett, who resides with her three brothers, a sister, and her elder brother's wife. Miss Bennett did everything possible to discourage Bangs, and expressed great indignation at his persistency. Yesterday moroing Bangs, accompanied by his brother Edward, and a man named Quince Van Tassell, appeared at the home of the Bennetts. There was no one there but the two Bennett girls, Edna and Lela, and the wife of A. E. Bennett. The ladies suspected that the fellows meant no good to them, and when they rapped at the door, instead of opening it, locked it, and also locked all the other doors and windows, and all three fled to the upper part of the house.

The men secured a badder, and climbing to an upper window smashed it in and entered the room. Edna Bennett procured a shotgun and fired upon the intruders. The shot struck Van Tassell in the breast, but before she could fire again the graw was taken from her and thrown out of the window. The two Bangs boys then seized Miss Lela and forced her out of the window, down the ladder and into the wagon.

They then drove away at full speed and have so far eluded capture. Th Bennetts are prominent and respect-able people and the whole neighborhood is out in arms against the abductors
