OBES OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

John A. Sullivan (not John L., please note) spent the past two weeks in town gleaning items for the political letters he is writing for a syndicate. He left for his home in Pottsville to spend a day or two in reflection. John A. is a vigorous writer and talker.

In reporting the David Fisher and Ida Hoffman case a few days ago the HERALD failed to catch an interesting point. The wife Fisher buried about three weeks ago was his fifth.

Superintendent Freeman is distributing staffs for the school flags for use in the Columbus Day parade. All the flags now spread upon the wall in the school rooms are to be tacked upon the staffs. The pupils in the Lloyd street school building drill for the parade during dinner hour on every school day.

It is reported that there is an old woman on West Centre street who entices boys for immoral purposes.

The resolution adopted some time ago by the clergymen in town to the effect that Sunday funerals would be discouraged seems to have fallen short of success.

I am informed that a representative of a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals was in town last week and made arrangements by which a representative is to be appointed to look after the society's interests in town.

Upon a recent visit to the HERALD sanctum "Jack" McCarthy, of the Hazleton Sentinel, said he had over fifty men on his staff and would have a special wire from Hazleton to Philadelphia. His paper now announces that the Western Union Company is to build a new line of telegraph between Hazleton and Pottsville. It will connect with the Reading line. At present all messages to Pottsville must go to Philadelphia and then go up on the Reading wires. I smell a mouse. I fear "Jack" attempted to deceive and unconsciously allowed the announcement of the Western Union's intentions to crawl into the columns of his paper. Jack! O, Jack! why do you talk so much?

And still no answers to the Brumm challenges is heard from the Reilly camp. Where is Reilly at?

The people of Mahanoy City are allowed to draw upon the water supply but two hours a day—from 6 to 8 a. m. and the newspapers complain that their work is greatly hampered by the short supply.

A brewer is about to put on the Schuylkill market a beverage to be known as "The Miner Beer." Wouldn't Meyerbeer be more euphonious?

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has adopted a new style of smoke stack for its locomotives. It is a cast iron stack and does not look as well as the old style, but will be cheaper for the company on account of not having any lining to wear out.

Carl Yaekle, of Orwigsburg, has been awarded a contract to furnish 5,000 square feet of sod to beautify the grounds around P. J. Ferguson's residence on South White street.

"Jimmy" McHale, the Philadelphia expert of the mauly art who is to meet William Gibson, of town, at Ashland on the 17th inst., is in Ashland and will remain there until after the fight. One of the papers of that place says McHale is a gentlemanly, unassuming young fellow, with very little of the sport about him, and he never touches intoxicating drink.

The Mahanoy City choir of seventy-five voices under Conductor Reese Rosser, will compete for the $2,000, $1,000 and $500 prizes at the World's fair. The choir has a bank account of $750. It won $150 of it at Lakeside last August.

The Hazleton City Council has passed an ordinance prohibiting the opening of barber shops on Sunday, under a penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $25 together with the costs of suit. No ordinance is required in Shenandoah, as her barbers always respect the Sabbath.

The time for holding the teachers' annual county institute is not far off but very little is being said of it. County Superintendent Weiss is said to be doing considerable work quietly, but if the patronage of the public is depended upon to make it a success there will have to be more blowing of horns. This is a presidential year and the heat of politics may shut the institute from the view of many people if the advertising is not started early and indulged in liberally.

The chart for the sale of reserved seats for the production of "The Confederate Spy, or the Blue and Gray," which is to take place in December, for the benefit of the soldiers' monument, will be opened on October 10th, so as to give everybody ample time to secure seats.

An exchange says that Hon. C. N. Brumm no longer wears long hair. No; but he carries with him a pretty long and striking tale about Reilly's Congressional record.

The Miners' Hospital Board of Trustees will meet to-morrow, instead of on the 14th inst., as on the latter date the members of the American Mining Institute will make a tour of this region and the trustees want to be with them.

The people must not be fooled by the appearance of the sleepy looking old horse that hauls the Adams express wagon about town. He ran away three times during the past ten days and his market price is going up. The depot hands have become exceedingly proud of him.

"News Budget."

The News Budget is the title of a new weekly paper the first number of which made its appearance on Saturday. Typographically, it is a handsome looking sheet, and we wish its publishers, the Hess Brothers, every success in their undertaking.

The Place to Go.

Shenandoah people visiting the county seat (surnamed Pottsville) all call in the Academy Restaurant. Either J. F. Cooney, the proprietor, greets you with a smile, or his genial brother, M. A. Cooney, welcomes you. It is the resort for all gentlemen from north of the mountain.

"Frou-Frou."

Madeline Merli is one of the few stars that is not afraid to surround herself with the best talent. Her company not only look but act, their roles to perfection. Such stars and companies should be encouraged to come to Shenandoah by being greeted by a packed house of our best theatre-goers. Many people are not familiar with the play of "Frou-Frou." It is a modern society drama, has had a run of over five hundred nights of the Theatre Francaise, in Paris. It is Bernhardt's principal play, and her favorite one. The role of "Frou-Frou" calls for most every human emotion, from the highest comedy to the most desperate emotion and tragedy. Any actress that can play "Frou-Frou" successfully must of necessity be a genius. At Ferguson's theatre Thursday, October 13th.

Literary Notices.

VERY YOUNG.

Judge's Library for September shows a very picturesque and happy little ducky making a mid-day meal of the ever-present watermelon. This number of the Library will especially please the children. What number, in fact, does not? And it is filled with all these oddities that the great artists are so skillful in depicting. Never was so much laughter put in pages for such a moderate amount as in Judge's Library. Every newsdealer handles it, and if he does not, he can make no better investment than by sending ten cents to the Judge Publishing Co., 110 Fifth Avenue, New York.

HOME LIFE OF DICKENS.

The series of reminiscent articles of "My Father as I Recall Him," by Mamie Dickens the oldest and favorite daughter of Charles Dickens, will begin in the next issue of The Ladies' Home Journal by an entertaining narration of Dickens' personal habits, and an inner glimpse of his home life.

THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND NEW AND MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER. My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys, and is a permanent, healthy, and safe medicine. It is made from herbs, and is prepared for use only as directed. It is sold at P. P. D. Kirlin's drug store.
