THOSE MEDALS.

The little medal of American tin plate entitled "Harrison-Rid and Protection, 1892," had been largely used for distribution among school children of the city of New York until last week, when the Free Trade Democratic Board of Education of this city became greatly alarmed lest some of the Democratic parents should learn through the little ones of the benefits of the Protective policy. Quickly the Police Board ordered that this distribution, which was strictly within the law, should be stopped and a representative of The League distributing medals to the school children, after they had left the school room and were on their way home, were ordered to stop under penalty of arrest.

We trust that every Protection newspaper in this country will let its readers know of this attempt to prevent the distribution of wholesome matter teaching the principles of Protection. As a result, however, of the publicity in New York City, these school children are asking it into their own hands and every day besiege The League rooms for quantities of the tin-plate medals for distribution.

We grant that it may not be pleasant for a Democratic father to have his child come home singing:

Protection's banner guards our land. From England's creed and paper pass, And when I play Great Britain's hand, Please take me for a BLOOMING JAY, and asking what it means, but this is the very purpose of the distribution. It is our idea that if the children in the home can bring the subject to the attention of parents great good will result. The school children of New York City will receive these medals, notwithstanding the attempts of the Free-Trade oligarchy to prevent it.—American Economist.

DON'T BE DECEIVED.

General Master Workman T. V. Powderly, of the K. of L., has publicly announced that he will not work or vote for Grover Cleveland, the Democratic candidate for President. Despite this fact, the tricky Democratic managers are sending out among workmen his picture on cards inclosed with a speech of Congressman Bunting, of New York, in which the representative from Erie county indulges in the usual Democratic twaddle about the tariff being a tax.

Workingmen have been deceived by the Democracy so often that they have got their eyes open. Many, like Powderly, have changed their minds and will this year support the party that has not only promised to protect them in their employment, but has redeemed all its promises.

The Woman's Journal does not like the nomination of Mrs. Victoria Woodhull Martin for the Presidency. It says: Mrs. Victoria Woodhull Martin has been nominated for President of the United States by the suffragists. The Democrats and Republicans of this country have their recognized national organizations, and have nominated respectively Cleveland and Harrison for the Presidency. If a dozen unauthorized and irresponsible persons, calling themselves Republicans or Democrats, should meet and nominate some one else, it would not be proper to say that the Republicans or the Democrats had nominated So-and-So. The suffragists of this country have their national organization, with about thirty state societies auxiliary to it. They have made no nomination for President of the United States. The alleged nomination is the act of a few wholly irresponsible persons. With the exception of the candidate herself, not one of the women said to have taken part in the so-called convention is known to us even by name. The suffragists of the United States realize that it would be altogether premature for them to set up a candidate for the Presidency while women have no votes; and if they were to nominate anybody, it would certainly not be Mrs. Victoria Woodhull Martin.

ENDORSED BY THE DEMOCRATS. Judge Andrews, the Republican nominee for Chief Justice, on Both Tickets.

New York, Oct. 13.—Judge Andrews, the Republican nominee for Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals, has been endorsed by the Democratic State Committee.

The nomination was made by W. A. Kirke of Syracuse and seconded by Bourke Cockran and District Attorney Ridgway of Kings county.

Mr. Chief Justice Fuller, having at one time acted as counsel for one of the parties in the case, did not sit, his chair being occupied by Associate Justice Field, the senior member of the court. Associate Justice Blatchford, while sitting and hearing the argument, will take no part in the decision of the case, owing to the fact that relatives of his are financially interested in the result.

At the opening of the case Solicitor-General Aldrich suggested that the United States was not properly a party to any of the cases before the Court. It had appealed on its own account from the decision of the court below, which appeal is now on the docket of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Ayer then began the argument, speaking for the railroad company, and will be followed by Corporation Counsel Miller for the State. The argument is limited to eight hours, the State of Illinois and the City of Chicago having one-half, and the railroad company the other half.

TENNYSON BURIED. The Poet's Remains Interred at Westminster Abbey.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—All that was mortal of Lord Tennyson was yesterday interred in Westminster Abbey with most impressive services.

This assemblage in the Abbey was a distinguished one. The Premier of England, Mr. Gladstone, was represented by Hon. Arthur Lyttleton, the Prince of Wales, by General Probyn, of his Household; the Duke of Edinburgh, by his private secretary, Hon. William James Clive; the Duke of York, his presumptive, by Sir Francis Winton, and the British Government by Hon. H. H. Asquith, the Home Secretary. Walter Besant and many other prominent men of letters were present.

The scene was most impressive. The Abbey choir was covered with a rich hanging of purple velvet. The nave was lined on both sides with orphan boys from the hospital founded by Gen. Gordon, an institution in which Tennyson took a marked sympathetic interest. The boys wore a modified Scotch uniform and carried themselves with military precision.

Along the aisle were also scattered the few survivors of the Light Brigade, the fame of whose Balaklava charge has been made perpetual by Tennyson's poem. Most of them wore the brilliant red uniform of Chelsea pensioners, and all had broad bands of crapes on their arms.

At noon the sun burst out in full splendor from the haze which had hitherto partially obscured its rays and the interior of the Abbey was gloriously illumined, bringing out all the beauties of the sculpture and carving.

A moment later Sir Henry Ponsonby, the Queen's Private Secretary, entered St. Faith's Chapel, and on behalf of Her Majesty placed a beautiful wreath upon the coffin. Sir Henry then proceeded to the Dean of Westminster's stall, where he sat as representative of the Queen.

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York occupied sub-deans' stalls.

They were placed in the Jerusalem Chamber, and were found to amount to several wagon loads. Only a few of the most choice or appropriate designs were placed near the grave. One of these was composed of laurel gathered in Shakespeare's garden at Stratford.

Another wreath conspicuously placed was one ordered by the Tennyson Club of Arkansas and Missouri. It was composed of roses and chrysanthemums and was of especially beautiful design.

Mary Anderson sent a mat of laurel, violets and white may.

At half past twelve o'clock a stir around the door of St. Faith's Chapel attracted the attention of the waiting audience in the Abbey, and all eyes were directed to the spot.

First appeared the officiating clergy, then the coffin, which bore only the wreaths contributed by the Queen and members of the family.

The pall was an ordinary Union Jack. It was borne on the right hand by Lord Salisbury, the late Premier; Earl Selborne, Lord Rosebery, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and on the left by the Duke of Devonshire.

Immediately behind the coffin walked the poet's son, Hallam Tennyson, with his wife and children, and some intimate friends of the family.

The procession passed through the cloisters and the nave to the altar, where the coffin was placed upon a bier, and the religious ceremony was conducted, the Archbishop of Canterbury officiating, assisted by the dean and canons.

A number of Americans were present. At the grave Dean Bradley said the prayer, the collect and the benediction and the great crowd dispersed as the notes of the dead march from "Satan" sounded through the Abbey. There was no procession from the Abbey at the close of the service.

THE LAKE FRONT CASE.

Argument in the Suit Involving the Land Occupied by the Illinois Central.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The case involving the ownership of a portion of the land occupied by the Illinois Central Railroad Company on the lake front in Chicago came up for argument in the Supreme Court of the United States yesterday. There are four cases in all, which were combined and advanced on the calendar.

Mr. Chief Justice Fuller, having at one time acted as counsel for one of the parties in the case, did not sit, his chair being occupied by Associate Justice Field, the senior member of the court. Associate Justice Blatchford, while sitting and hearing the argument, will take no part in the decision of the case, owing to the fact that relatives of his are financially interested in the result.
