MR. REID'S ACCEPTANCE

Letter of the Republican Vice-Presidential Candidate.

THE CAMPAIGN ISSUES ANALYZED.

His Views on the Tariff, Reciprocity and Currency—The Federal Elections Bill—Revival of American Shipping—President Harrison's Administration Praised.

New York, Oct. 19.—Hon. Whitehall Reid's letter accepting the Republican nomination for Vice-President is made public. It is addressed to Hon. W. T. Durbin, Anderson, Ind., and is dated Ophir Farm, N. Y., Oct. 18, 1893. In it Mr. Reid says:

"When the nomination with which the National Convention had honored me was formally announced by your committee, I accepted it at once. In doing so I accepted also the principles set forth in the resolutions adopted by the Convention as the basis of the appeal to the popular suffrage.

"There will be no misunderstanding as to the attitude of its candidates. What it intends it has set forth in language that cannot be mistaken; and they will strive, by all the lawful means in their power, to enforce its plainly expressed will.

"The party platform, so called, are more important this year than usual. Both the leading candidates have once commanded the approval of the American people in its highest form of expression. Attention is therefore concentrated less on the men themselves and more on the principles each is put forward to represent, and which, in case of election, he resolved to carry out.

"It is obvious that the really vital issues which this year divide parties, and demand a popular decision, are those relating to the tariff and the currency. Fortunately, both sides have stated their positions on these subjects with distinctness, simplicity and frankness.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

"We favor a protective tariff and when in full power made the present one. Our opponents favor tariff for revenue only, and promise the repeal of the present one.

"We maintain that the tariff should cover the difference in the cost of the home and foreign product, caused by the difference in the home and foreign wages for the labor employed upon it. Our opponents distinctly repudiated the proposition that American wages should be considered in the matter, and declared instead that a tariff for anything but revenue only was unconstitutional.

"We maintain that the present tariff has worked well; that it has developed American manufactures, steadied and increased American wages, and promoted the general prosperity. Our opponents deny that there has been any increase of prosperity under the present tariff, and declare that wages have been reduced, and that American wages should be considered in the matter, and declared instead that a tariff for anything but revenue only was unconstitutional.

"We favor the system by which, when we think the country ready for the reduction or abolition of duties, we insist upon getting corresponding and reciprocal advantages from foreign countries as the condition of their enjoying these advantages in our own market. Our opponents denounce this reciprocity as a sham, and, therefore, inferentially pledge themselves to its repeal.

"The sharp issues thus presented for the decision of the American people cover more comprehensively and more specifically than ever before the whole range of considerations relating to a protective tariff, its constitutionality, its expediency, its relation to wages, its practical workings and the question whether, as it is from time to time reduced, we should throw away the advantages thus extended to foreign nations or should get something in return for them.

"Speaking then upon to say that the constitutionality of a protective tariff has heretofore been thought established, and notes that a tariff bill avowedly for 'the encouragement and protection of manufactures' was carried through the first Congress. He also quotes from a message to Congress of Andrew Jackson in which the constitutionality of the protective system is maintained, and, coming down to the present time, adds the opinion of the Hon. George Ticknor Curtis on the same question.

"Speaking of the expediency of a protective tariff, Mr. Reid says: 'It has been vindicated by the experience of the last thirty years, the most wonderful period of financial success ever unheard of in the record of modern civilization. Under it and by its aid the Republic has managed our finances as a result in the largest payment of a national debt in the shortest time known to history, and in the simultaneous development of the industries of the country and the prosperity of the people on a scale without a parallel.'

"Coming down to the question of reciprocity, Mr. Reid goes on to show the benefits derived from that policy, which, he says, the Democrats have designated as a sham.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF ELECTIONS.

Mr. Reid, speaking of the 'Force bill,' says it scarcely calls for notice.

"The very title of the bill referred to," he says, "proclaimed its object to be to prevent the use of force at elections; it failed anyway, and the Southern white men who were lately its chief, as they were its most interested, opponents, now begin to wish it revived to protect them from being themselves counted out of elections they have fairly won—as in Alabama the other day—by their own white fellow-Democrats.

"It is well, however, to say that the denunciation in the Democratic platform of the principle that the Federal Government may supervise the election of Federal officers is grotesque. That principle has been long recognized; it has been sustained by the courts; it now stands undisturbed on the Statute Book, and it was enforced at recent elections by Grover Cleveland, then President of the United States, through his order of Oct. 3, 1885, to Mr. Gavilan, his Attorney-General.

"But it is not to be disguised that the recent clamor against this principle, if it means anything, means a purpose to nullify the XIVth and XVth Articles of the Constitution of the United States.

THE MATTER OF CURRENCY.

"On the subject of the currency the issue between the Republican party and its opponents is almost as sharply defined as on the tariff. We demand that every dollar, paper, silver or gold, shall be made and kept as good as any other dollar.

CELEBRATION INAUGURATED TO-DAY

Reception to the Vice-President and Other Distinguished Guests—Thirty Governors Expected at the Exercises—Programme for the Dedication of New York's Building—Decorations Spoiled by Rain—Start of the Washington Party.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Chicago's population has already increased 35 per cent., and each train arriving brings its quota of pleasure seekers, who come to witness the dedicatory exercises. Hotel men anticipate the greatest gathering of strangers that has ever assembled in the city.

The arrival of the Massachusetts delegation was a big event. Of course all the residents of the old commonwealth have not invaded Chicago, but it sent a splendid representation, headed by Gov. Russell and the officers of the State. Besides this big delegation, there were several others of striking proportions. The size of Gov. Russell's party is only an average following for each of the Governors, more than thirty of whom will arrive before night.

Notwithstanding the great crush, there will be no discomfort. The hotel men are confident of their ability to care for all visitors who may come, and at reasonable rates, too, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

There is no truth in the repeated statement that there will be a dearth of carriages and cabs, and that in consequence exorbitant prices will prevail.

In regard to the many complaints that have poured into army headquarters as to the decision arrived at by Gen. Miles that the infantry will not participate in the down town parade, but will only meet the procession a mile from Jackson park, a suggestion is made that Saturday be military day, and that a grand military parade be given. The plan has not yet been thoroughly canvassed, but there is a probability an effort will be made to carry it out.

The State troops to arrive to-day are: Ohio, 3,000; Michigan, 500; Iowa, 1,200; Indiana, 1,000; Wisconsin, 1,200; Minnesota, 1,000; Missouri, 600.

The Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin regiments will be quartered in the Transportation Building and annex, and the Indiana, Ohio, Iowa, and Missouri troops in the Agricultural Building.

In the decorations compliments are paid to all the nations of the earth and to some lands that once were nations and have a notion of being nations again, but the stars and stripes are everywhere in the place of honor.

Chicago looked to-day like a brand new town. The transformation from the Sunday of green skies to a made into graments, dried deer and seal meat, and a lot of walrus and fish bones to be manufactured into trinkets.

Soon after the arrival of the train the Esquimaux were taken to the Fair grounds, where they will establish a native village and take up their abode until the close of the Exposition.

Apparently the elements are going to frown on Chicago's celebration. After six weeks of dry weather there was a decided change at midnight with a heavy rain.

To-day the sky is full of black clouds, and the drizzling rain has done havoc to the decorations.

Gov. Burleigh and party from Maine arrived on the Grand Trunk this morning and were at once driven to the Victoria and Wellington hotels.

Many former residents of Maine were at the depot to greet the distinguished party. The Governor is accompanied by his staff, executive council and many others.

The United States Marine Corps and the Indian boys from the Carlisle school, who are to take part in the dedication ceremonies, arrived on a special train.

Gov. E. J. Reynolds and staff of Delaware arrived late last night and are at the Leland. The members of the councils of the City of Philadelphia are also quartered at the Leland.

Gov. Frank Brown and staff of Maryland came in during the evening and are at the Palmer House.

Gov. Flower and staff arrived over the Michigan Central at 10 o'clock last night. The party was met at the depot by a reception committee and escorted to the Auditorium. Mrs. W. R. Halsey, niece of Gov. Flower, was a member of the party.

EN ROUTE TO CHICAGO.

The Washington Guests Leave in Three Special Trains.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The Chicago Limited on the Pennsylvania yesterday was followed by three counterparts with even more sumptuously appointed, if that were possible, carrying the invited guests from the capital to the dedication of the World's Fair buildings and the attendant festivities and ceremonies at Chicago.

The party was probably one of the most distinguished and widely representative in character that ever traveled together.

The first train was composed of one composite baggage and smoking car, a dining car, two sleeping cars, an apartment car and an observation car. The cars were vestibuled throughout.

On this train were Secretary of State and Mrs. Foster, Attorney-General Miller, Secretary of the Navy Tracy, Mrs. Willmerding and Miss Alice Willmerding, daughter and grand-daughter of Secretary Tracy; Postmaster-General Wadsworth, Lieut. Cowles, Naval Aide to the Secretary; Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Foley, Lieut. Sutherland, Naval Aide to the Assistant Secretary, and others.

The second train comprised a composite car, a dining car and two sleeping cars. It was occupied by Chief Justice and Mrs. Fuller, Justice Harlan, Justice and Mrs. Gray, Justice Blatchford, Justice and Mrs. and Miss Brewer, Justice Brown, Justice Shiras, Mr. J. H. McKinney, clerk and wife and others.

The third train was the diplomatic train. It was the largest and carried the greatest number of passengers. It comprised one composite car, a dining car, three sleeping cars, a compartment car and an observation car. Members of the foreign legations in the United States and their families largely occupied this train.

NEW YORK COURT OF APPEALS.

Several Cases of Unusual Importance Disposed of at Albany.

ALBANY, Oct. 19.—Several decisions of unusual importance have just been handed down by the Court of Appeals. In the case of Frank Hasbrouck to compel the Board of Canvassers of Dutchess County to reject certain marked ballots cast at the general election in November, 1891, on the ground that the ballots were marked for identification, the court dismisses the appeal of Hasbrouck. This affirms the order of Justice Barnard, quashing a writ of peremptory mandamus originally granted by him.

In the case of George M. Post, a confederate of luncheon O'Brien, the court denies the application for a writ of habeas corpus and Post is remanded to the custody of the sheriff. He will have to stand trial for robbery in the first degree. The first indictment for grand larceny has been superseded by the charge of robbery.

In the appeal of Fred McGuire from the conviction of murder in the first degree, the court affirmed the judgment. McGuire was indicted for the wilful killing of Mrs. Amelia Gregory in the town of Walkill, Orange county, Oct. 14, 1891. He was convicted principally upon the evidence of one Brazington and a Mrs. Sarah Brown, with the latter of whom the defendant was living at the time, and who, he alleged upon the trial, had committed the crime.

In the Ulster County Savings Bank case the appeal of Treasurer M. P. Trampbour from an order denying his motion to dismiss the appeal of the people from the judgment allowing a demurrer to the indictment, the appeal is dismissed. Trampbour was indicted for perjury committed in verifying his semi-annual report of the bank to the Superintendent of the Banking Department. The figures in the report were false.

In the appeal of Sheriff Van Tassael of Ulster County from an order discharging Grove Webster from imprisonment under a warrant of commitment issued by the Recorder of the city of Kingston for refusing to obey the common council and produce certain books, the order is affirmed and the defendant discharged.

PROMOTIONS AT HOMESTEAD.

Potter No Longer Superintendent of the Carnegie Mills.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—John A. Potter is no longer superintendent of the Homestead works of the Carnegie Steel Company.

Mr. Potter has been appointed Chief Mechanical Engineer of the Carnegie Association, with offices in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Charles Schwab, General Superintendent of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works at Braddock, has been appointed General Superintendent of the Homestead Works, and Mr. James Capley has been appointed Superintendent of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works at Braddock.

The changes came as a surprise, although the removal of Mr. Potter from the Homestead plant has been frequently hinted at.

It is well-known that Mr. Potter was extremely unpopular with the workmen at Homestead, many of the old employees having declared that they would never, under any circumstances, return to work under Mr. Potter's management.

Now that he has been succeeded by General Manager Schwab, who is a very popular official, it is claimed by the men that the removal of Mr. Potter is the last resort of the Carnegie Company to win back the confidence of their old employees and break the strike.

Secretary Lovejoy, of the Carnegie Company, said however, that the changes made are in the nature of merited promotions, and that the changes will not effect the attitude of the Company toward the strikers.

CONGRESSMAN MORSE RETRACTS.

Denies That He Said Some Things About Mrs. Gougar Attributed to Him.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—Congressman Elijah A. Morse has written to Mrs. Gougar's attorneys stating that he has no wish to do Mrs. Gougar injustice, and that he has decided to retract the offensive statements attributed to him.

He adds, however, that the published statement has two things mixed, the unexplained $1,500 check, and Mrs. Gougar's political services in Indiana.

"I have," he states, "nowhere said that she received $1,500 from the Democrats in Indiana or anywhere else; neither have I said that Mr. Halford said so, and I shall deny that in my published letter."

BIG FIRE AT ENGLEWOOD, ILL.

John Howard, a baker, was roasted to death. A woman and child, seen at a window in one of the burning structures, had not been accounted for after the fire and may have perished.

Mrs. Jessop is a prepossessing blonde of 25 years. She has taken her two children with her.
