TO-DAY DEVOTED TO CIVIC PARADES WATER PAGEANT TO-NIGHT.

Formal Inaugural Reception to the City's Guests of Honor at the Auditorium Lust Night-A Frightful Crush at the Ball-Trouble Over the Military Procession To-morrow-Plan of the Exposition Grounds-Some of the Buildings, CHICAGO, Oct. 20.-The civic celebration in connection with the dedication of the World's Fair buildings is taking place to-day. Innumerable societies are to take part in the parade, which will be reviewed by the Vice-President, the Cabinet and other notables.

This evening, at Jackson Park, amid myrisds of electric lights and other displays, a water pageant, the "Procession of the Centuries," will move through the water-ways of the Exposition grounds.

There have been a few hitches in the orderly procession of events, but nothing that promises to interfere seriously with the success of the celebration. The people are anxious to see the big military parade to-morrow, but the line of march, as far as things are settled at present, is to be from Washington Park to sackson, and every one who knows the geography of Chicago knows how far from the real city those points are.

The citizens are signing petitions to have the soldiers go through the down town parade. Gen Nelson A. Miles says that he does not think that it will be possible to take the troops through the city.

'A parade in the city," he says, "means that all roads to the World's Fair grounds will be swamped. The congested traffic would interfere with the passage of the visitors' carriages, to say nothing of the public." Chicago's Auditorium, the greatest assembly hall of the continent, was ablaze with light and beauty last night. Lovely women were there whose presence would create a furore at a drawing room in Buckingham Palace, women in tollets that would put to shame the greatest creations of a Worth. And there were men who have made their imprint on the bistory of this and other nations, statesmen and diplomats, warriors that have faced the dusky foe in the jungles and tried conclusions with the enemy on the briny deep; men of letters and of law, of science and of art. Patriotism was the animative motive of the occasion and the event. So far as the officeal pro-gramme of the dedication week was con-cerned, last night's reception had no recognition, beyond the formal endorse-ment of the Committee on Ceremonies of the World's Columbian Exposition.

It was a scene of almost indescribable brilliancy that presented itself to the vision of the Vice-President of the United States when, leaning upon the arm of President H. N. Higginbotham, of the World's Fair Directory, he appeared upon the floor of the ballroom. The steel curtain of the stage had been raised, and in its place naif fluttered the Spanish royal banner. To the right and left, above and below, were banners upon which were embroidered the initials of Queen Isabelia and her consort, the rulers of Spain at the time of the great discoverer.

Twenty-five boxes were occupied by the Executives of States, commencing with Governor Page, of Vermont, and concluding with Gov. Markham, of California. All of the Chief Executives were accompanied either by their staffs, or by their respective families. Conspicuous in the tier of boxes were Governors Mc-Kiniey, of Ohio, Boiss, of Iowa, Peck, of Wisconsin, and Boyd, of Nebraska.

The Vice-President was escorted to a position in the eastern corner of the hall and the reception was at once inangurated. The guests passed over the flo in procession, being first introduced to the managers, then to the Committee of Arrangements, next to the patronesses, and finally, after running this gauntlet, to the Vice-President and distinguished guests. The crush in the ballroom was some thing terrible, and dancing was practi-

At the conclusion of the reception and which continued until nearly 11 o'clock, the Vice-President was escorted to the loge on the immediate right of the stags followed by the remainder of the distin

Although Chicago did not provide any-thing like the great parade of school children at the Columbian celebration in New York, public exercises of some kind were held in all the grammar and high schools in the city and were well attended by the parents of the little ones. The programmes included addresses by the professors and teachers, patriotic songs, hoisting of flags, recitations, etc.

Magnificent Structures for the Beat Products of the World.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.-The Eastern man can hardly appreciate the intense feeling of local pride with which Chicago greets her visitors.

Although only in its fifty-sixth year as municipality, Chicago has become the seend city in population in the country, and in all branches of progress is second only to the metropolis. Chicago itself will, to many, be the most remarkable exhibit, not only of the dedication ceremonies, but of the Exposition itself.

The exposition grounds and buildings will be universally conceded as the mar-vel of building operations of the century. On March 1, 1891, Jackson Pack, on the Laks Michigan shore, was little more than barren prairie and marsh. To-day nagnificent structures costing nearly $15,000,000 are either completed or

The following statistics will convey an idea of the immensity of the work, and the magnificent schievement of the ten leading architects of the country who designed and have supervised the con-

THE EXPOSITION GROUNDS.

Jackson Park, the site of the Exposi-ion, is seven and a half miles south by east of the City Hall, Chicago. It em-braces 633 acres, of which about one fifth had been improved as a public piessure park. No more beautiful or convenient site for a World's Fair could have been ound in the world.

The waters of the lake have been let into a series of artificial lagoons, by which a complete tour of the grounds may be made in boats. Landscape garden-ers have had almost carte bianche in the matter of decoration and have kept pace with the architects in making an entirely beautiful and artistic site beyond the andeipstions of the most enthusiastic Chi-buildings.

Along the western boundary of the grounds are the tracks of the Illinois Central Railroad, by which every Eastern and Southern trunk line may run its cars and southern trunk the may run its care direct to the grounds. Cable care and an elevated road also reach Jackson park from the heart of the city, insuring, with the railroad and boat service on the lake, prompt handling of the largest num-ber of people that have ever applied for transportation in this country.

Exposition officials have planned to transport 150,000 people per hour be ween Chloago and Jackson park, and feel sesured they will be able to accomplish this great feat.

WOMAN'S BUILDING

For the accepted design of this struc-ture Miss Sophia G. Hayden received a prize of $1,000. The principal faceds of the building has an extreme length of 400 feet, this depth being one-half that distance. The style of architecture is Italian Renaissance. The building is in-cessed with "staff," and will, when com-pleted, he one of the most noticeable edisted, be one of the most noticeable edifices on the grounds. The hanging gar-lens will be a unique and impressive reature of the centre pavilion. The mate for this building was $200,000. the actual cost was reduced to $138,000.

MANCFACTURES AND LIBERAL ARTS.

Apparently the hotels are already as full at they need be. There are crowds at the large ones and small ones alike, and covers nearly thirty-one acres of ground. It is the largest building ever ditorium, the Paimer and the Grand

THE HOSTICULTURAL BUILDING.

The Horticultural building is immedi ately south of the entrance to Jackson park and faces the ingoon. The structure is 1978 feet long and has an extreme width of 250 feet. It cost $500,000, and was designed by W. L. H. Jenny, of Chiorago. The plan is a central pavillon, with two end pavillons, each connected with the central one by front and rear curtains, forming two interior courts, each 88 by 270 feet. The centre of the pavilion is roofed by a crystal dome 187 feet in diameter and 113 feet high.

ART PALACEL

The Fine Arts building is a pure type of the most refined classic architecture in the Grecian-louic style. It is oblong, 500 by 320 feet, intersected north, east, south by 320 feet, intersected north, east, south and west by a great nave and transept 100 feet wide and 70 feet high. The done is 60 feet in diameter. Galleries 60 feet wide ran around the entire building. C. B. Atwood was the architect. The building is located in the north of the park, the south front facing the lagona. This building cost $670, soo.

STAMFORD'S GREAT DAY.

Her 250th Anniversary Celebrated With Elaborate Exercises.

STAMFORD, COND., Oct. 20.-Stamford's celebration of her 250th anniversary was ended in a fitting manner. On the spot where two and-a-half centuries ago a company of pilgrims, in revolt against the oppression of the times, built their homes and planted the germs from which American institutions grew, some thirty thousand of their descendants and those who linked their fortune with them colebrated in a fitting manne the founding of the town.

The religious services Sunday, the childrens' exercises Monday, and the musical festival Tuesday had whetted the appetite of the town's people and their visitors for something grand and imposing. A big such has been erected in Atlantic street, near the public square. It was inscribed "Welcome to Stamford, 1941— A big reviewing stand had been con-structed and the town had been draped with bunting until its streets were like rivers of red, white and blue, with here and there a portrait of George Washing ton and Columbus.

Three of Uncle Sam's new ships anchored in the harbor, added to the dignity of the occasion. They were the Atlanta, Misatonomah and Vesuvius. The town had been crowded with peo-ple since Sanday. But every train on the closing day brought more people as did also boats from along the Sound. A large number drove in from hamlets in he interior, During the forenoon the crowds examined the antiquities exhibited in Asso-ciation Hall, and admired the decorations along the principal streets. They also visited the men-of-war in the harbor. London, Oct. 20.-A lively meeting was held last night in Memorial Hall, under the auspices of the Anti-Popers Society, to protest against the election of Alderman Knill, a Cathoric, as Lord Mayor of London.

The chairman of the meeting was Dr. Phillips, a Hebrew, who was Kulll's chief opposent in the candidacy for the office. Phillips had to shout at the top of his voice throughout the meeting in order to gain a hearing at all, and at times the din was so great that no business could be transacted. In the course of some bitter remarks Phillips asserted that Kuill was an improper person for Lord Mayor, insamuch as he must obey the orders of the Pope in all things. At this there were cries of "You're a liar!

"Kuill is an honest man!" etc. It was evident at an early stage of the proceedings that Knill's friends were in the majority. Several fruitless attempt to eject disturbers from the ball resulted in lights, during which the proceedings of the meeting were suspended.
