A BIG DEMONSTRATION!
A SP-ENNID OBSERVANCE OF COLUMBUS DAY.
ABOUT TWO THOUSAND IN LINE
The Public Schools Delight the People With Their Splendid Appearance and Excellent Marching and Drilling.

ALL who participated in the demonstrations yesterday and all who witnessed them are satisfied. The people of the town are satisfied that the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America was observed in a manner equal to the demonstration of any other town in the country of the same size.

The display made by the public schools, both in the morning and afternoon, is still the subject of most pleasing comments. Scholars and school officials are being warmly congratulated on all sides and many people express the belief that their demonstration will be an incentive for arrangements whereby it may be repeated annually. Many of the prominent citizens have said that nothing more pleasing and effective has been seen in the town.

The children and scholars of the higher grades had a genuine surprise in store for the public. They marched and drilled with almost military precision, and some of the veterans said that the High School division in charge of John Price and H. Czynski, and the second grade grammar schools, in charge of John Kerslake, were really up to the standard. The commanders issued orders like veterans and the scholars went through their evolutions as promptly and perfectly as if they had been drilled for months. The squad of young men and young ladies who were out in the afternoon formed one of the brilliant features of the parade. Each one carried a large American flag on a large staff. The young ladies were dressed in red, white and blue dress and presented a striking appearance. The squad was warmly applauded. There were forty-four in it, representing the states and schools.

By actual count the scholars in line in the school parade numbered 2,193. The parade in the afternoon seemed to be a larger one, but a gentleman who made an actual count puts the figures at 1,810. However, the afternoon demonstration was a splendid success and while it was not as large as expected it was certainly one of the prettiest displays seen here for some time.

A feature that seldom marks the public demonstrations was the appearance of almost all the clergymen in the town. They rode in carriages at the head of the column. The Grant Band and Watkin Waters Post, No. 145, G. A. R., headed the first division and members of the Borough Council and School Board brought up at the rear of the line in carriages. The pavements and streets along the route of parade were thronged with people and in some places it was difficult to secure a passage way for the line. Applause and cheers were almost continuous in many places and the people seemed worked up to a high pitch of enthusiasm. The display was certainly a magnificent one, and on no other occasion has there been seen in town so many beautiful American flags.

The societies and other organizations in line made a very favorable appearance. One of the features in this branch of the parade was the marching and drilling of Co. A, Jr. O. U. A. M. Guards, under command of Captain Thomas Sanger. They appeared in full uniform and carried rifles. Their work was as perfect as it could be and the company deserved the applause awarded it. One of the Polish societies had a float in line portraying a representation of Columbus' ship. The Phoenix Fire Company had its carriage elaborately decorated in red, white and blue. It had a very pleasing effect.

The decorations of buildings was by no means up to the customary mark. Many of the Italian residents made good displays, but the majority of the people seemed to have overlooked this part of the work which they generally assume in public demonstrations. The building occupied by the Columbia Hose Company was beautifully decorated. A large picture in colors and heavy gilt frame depicting the landing of Columbus was imbedded in a profusion of red, white and blue bunting and banners and national flags on the front of the building.

riage with M. M. Burke, Esq., and Messrs. James Grant and Carl Coogan, delivered the oration. An elaborately decorated platform in front of the hall was used for the ceremonies. Mr. Charles J. Quinn acted as chairman. Miss Annie Coogan had a number of children under her charge to sing national songs, which were rendered very creditably. The flag, a very neat and pretty one, was presented to the A. T. A. B. society by Miss Feeley, in behalf of the ladies' temperance society connected with the Annunciation church. Mr. Quinn received the flag and Rev. H. F. O'Reilly pulled it up to the top of the staff. After a national air by the A. T. A. B. band and song by the children, Rev. O'Reilly made a brief address on the raising of the flag.

Rev. O'Reilly's address was full of patriotic sentiment and the assemblage applauded frequently. Congressman Reilly was next introduced. He first complimented the people of Shenandoah on the splendid sale on which they observed Columbus Day. He said the demonstration was worthy of special notice, large as it was, it embraced only home organizations. Mr. Reilly dwelt upon the life and achievements of Columbus for about half an hour. His remarks were both pleasing and instructive and were listened to with great attention.

When Nature
Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

See the living vampire at the Glass Blowers, in Robbins' opera house, all next week.

Special Announcement.

Services will be held at the Trinity Reformed church at 10:30 a. m. and the Presbyterian church at 6:30 p. m. Rev. William McNally will conduct both services.

It is a plain fact that twenty per cent. of the deaths in our larger cities are caused by consumption; and when we reflect that this terrible disease can be forestalled by Dr. Bull's Compound Syrup, shall we condemn the sufferers for their negligence, or pity them for their ignorance.

A DISTRESSING AFFAIR!
MARtha TEMPLE KILLED BY AN ELECTRIC CAR.
THE FIRST FATAL ACCIDENT
The Child Was Playing With Companions and Was Killed When Running on the Track—The Inquest.

THE first fatal accident since the electric railway has been in existence occurred yesterday. The victim was Martha, the six-year-old daughter of William H. and Sophia Temple, of North Catherine street.

The accident occurred on West Coal street just before the afternoon parade started and created considerable excitement because a report was started that the motor man of the car had run over the child while running through the crowd of people who were awaiting the start of the parade. The excitement was increased by another report that the car was run at a high speed.

The facts of the case are not in accordance with either report. Edward W. Amour was running the car. He has the reputation of being one of the most careful men on the line. As he went down Coal street he kept his car under control at slow speed. As he neared Catherine street he was obliged to check even this speed to order a boy off the track. He went on a few yards and Martha Temple ran across from the north side of Coal street. As she reached the railway track she turned directly towards the car. It was evidently her intention to turn around and run back to the children who had been running after her. There was a jar and Amour brought his car to a stop. The child was taken from under the car and carried into a neighboring house. She expired in a few moments. The body was not cut or mangled. It was a death by squeezing.

Amour got on his car again and upon arriving at the power house surrendered himself to Richard Amour, the special officer of the company. General Manager Yarnell was then consulted at Ashland and the motor man was advised to surrender himself to the deputy coroner in this town. This was done. Mr. Brennan told Mr. Amour that he would hold him in his own recognizance for appearance at the inquest Tuesday evening.

The funeral of the victim will take place to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The remains will be interred in the Odd Fellows cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Temple have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement, and no one sympathizes with them more than Mr. Amour, who has a large family and says he can fully appreciate the force of the blow.

See Jessie, the talking monkey, at the Glass Blowers, Robbins' opera house, all next week.

Two Successful Events.
The ball held in Robbins' opera house, Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was one of the most successful and pleasing affairs of the season. The hall was crowded, railroad men from all sections of the county were present with their lady friends. The Schoppe orchestra furnished music for the dancing, which lasted until long after midnight.

GIRARDVILLE GLEANINGS.
A Newsy Letter From a Wide Awake Correspondent.
The work in Erie and Glass' overall factories has increased to such an extent that 50 additional machines have been put in.
Work was commenced on the electric railway at the lower end of Parker street yesterday and by 5 p. m. the ties were laid to the opera house. About 200 Italians are at work.
The new breaker at Preston No. 3 will ship coal in about three weeks.
Dr. Bieler removed the bullet from the body of Joe Max, of the Leonza Bros. theatrical troupe, who was shot by an unknown person on the morning of the 15th inst.

The A. O. H., Pioneers and St. Joseph's Legion have presented an elegant flag pole, flag and rope to the public schools.
Mr. Portner, who recently purchased the Becker property, next door to the First National Bank, has torn down the old residence and intends erecting a handsome three-story building.
Daniel Boddall, of Shenandoah, was a caller to town last evening.

The Premium Band, of eighty-five members, went to Shamokin to participate in the Columbus Day parade.
Griffiths, the stove man, is having quite a boom in the sale of stoves. I noticed quite a number of Shenandoah people at his store this week purchasing stoves. Mr. Griffiths, I presume, advertises in the HERALD; hence the result.

Company F has given the contract for raising the ceiling of its armory to John Shuppel. When finished it will make one of the finest ball rooms in the county.
A large number of our leading townsmen, men of means, will leave for the South next week to investigate an important scheme. If the project proves satisfactory, of which there is no doubt, they will make large investments.

THE THEATRE.
Three Comic Operas and the Police Patrol Next Week.
The "Masco," "Ernie" and "Pinafore," three of the best comic operas written, will be produced in Ferguson's theatre next week, commencing Thursday evening. Our people have been anxious for this kind of amusement and they should not be slow in showing their appreciation by liberally patronizing the company each evening.

"THE POLICE PATROL."
A. Y. Pearson's "Police Patrol" is to be presented in Ferguson's theatre on next Wednesday evening, October 26th. It gives a realistic picture of police life, and is a melodrama of intense human interest, and is said to be one of the best productions ever brought here in the way of scenic embellishments.

Surprise Party.
Miss Lizzie Thomas, daughter of William Thomas, of Turkey Run, recently returned home from New York city, and in honor of that event a large number of her lady and gentlemen friends tendered her a surprise party Thursday evening. Among those present were: Misses Mary Mathias, Martha and Maggie Jenkins, Edie Rheinmiller, Olvin Jenkins, Edith B. Davis, Jennie Britton, Hannah Jenkins, Edith and Maggie Davies, Messrs. William J. James, Benjamin James, Gns. Shaub, William Evans, Harry Kie ards, William Rees, Thomas Davis and Thomas Jenkins.

Flag Raising.
Columbus Day was appropriately celebrated yesterday by the patriotic citizens of Delano. The feature of the day was the raising of an American flag over the school building under the auspices of Washington Camp No. 72, P. O. S. of A. A short parade was held in which Company A, 1st Regiment, Penna. Light Infantry, of town, participated, and which made a favorable impression by their exhibition of military tactics.

The Place to Go.
Shenandoah people visiting the county seat (surnamed Pottsville) all call in the Academy Restaurant. Either J. F. Cooney, the proprietor, greets you with a smile, or his genial brother, M. A. Cooney, welcomes you. It is the resort for all gentlemen from north of the mountain. 8-24-1c

Eating for Strength.
"Food that 'tastes good' is digested more readily and assimilated more perfectly, so that we really derive more nourishment from it." So says the Boston Cook Book, and the sentiment is so sound and the language so well chosen that we really think it must have been written under the inspiration of a "Ham omelet" made with Ferris Famous Ham. Has cured others of "that tired feeling," will cure you.
