TWO SLIGHT FIRES.

Prompt Action Stops Calls for the Companies Unnecessary.
In some unexplained manner a fence on Apple alley, between Chestnut and Catherine streets, caught fire Saturday night and the high wind whipped the flames into a threatening blaze. Ulysses Loucks and several women promptly pulled the fence down and quenched the flames before much damage was done and an alarm was unnecessary. Later fire was discovered in a winter shanty on South Pear alley. Some boys had left a lighted miners lamp in the place and it set fire to some rubbish. This fire was also promptly quenched. Fire was very much dreaded Saturday night by the people.

When Nature

Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Coming Events.

Nov. 1—Supper under the auspices of the English Baptist church in Robbina's opera house.
Nov. 16—Supper in Robbina's opera house under the auspices of the Trinity Reformed church.
Nov. 21—Seventh annual ball of the Washington Beneficial Society in Robbina's hall.
Nov. 24—Supper in Robbina's opera house, under the auspices of Women's Relief Corps, benefit of Soldiers' Monument.
Dec. 18 and 17—Dramatic Boy; or Spy of Shiloh, in Ferguson's theatre, under the auspices of W. Camp No. 206, P. O. S. of A.

Fire Alarm Boxes.

The following list shows the location of the alarm boxes of the Shenandoah Fire Department:

- | LOCATION. |
|--------------------------------|
| 15—Coal and Bowyer streets. |
| 16—Howers and Centre streets. |
| 36—Bridge and Centre streets. |
| 35—Main and Centre streets. |
| 34—Main and Poplar streets. |
| 33—Main and Coal streets. |
| 42—Gilbert and Centre streets. |
| 43—Gilbert and Cherry streets. |
| 44—Chestnut and Coal streets. |
- To send an alarm open the box, pull down the hook once and let go. When an alarm is sent in the fire bell will sound the number of the box and repeat the alarm four times.
- HOW TO LOCATE ALARMS.
If the alarm is sounded from box 15 the fire bell will strike one, then pause and strike five which will indicate that the fire is in the vicinity of No. 15 box. Every alarm is repeated four times.

STORAGE PASSENGERS IN CABINS.

Said the Immigration Laws Have Been Evaded at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 31.—Rumors have been received in shipping circles here for some time that the immigration laws were being evaded by bringing over "storage" passengers in the stow of the ocean steamers.

The North German Lloyd steamship Stuttgart arrived in port Saturday from Bremen, via New York, with 56 cabin passengers. At New York the steamer passed quarantine with a clean bill of health and 55 passengers were landed. The authorities at Cape Charles also passed the steamer.

On arriving at Baltimore those of the passengers who were American citizens were allowed to land, but the foreigners, 42 in number, were detained on an order from Assistant Secretary Spaulding of the Treasury Department. These passengers forwarded a telegram to the authorities protesting against their detention, a reply to which they are anxiously awaiting.

It is thought that the action of the Treasury officials is due to some information received at the Department, and that the passengers will be held pending an investigation.

Weather Forecast.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—For New England: Generally fair, followed by threatening weather, possibly snow in northern Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont; cooler, westerly winds increasing to gales along the coast.

For Eastern New York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware: Generally fair weather; cooler northwesterly winds; gales on the coast; warmer on Tuesday.

For Western New York: Fair weather; warmer westerly winds; rising barometer at the lake stations.

For Western Pennsylvania: Fair weather, followed by probable showers on Lake Erie rising temperature in the interior.

OB'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.
The new fangled postal cards have appeared in town. They are in pairs, and for the first time in his life the American citizen is forced to pay two cents for a postal card. But, then, he gets two cards, or rather he gets one and his friend gets the other, if the thing does not rip in transit. The new card consists of two cards each a trifle over six inches long and folding on a perforated line that runs lengthwise. One is marked "Message Card," and the other "Reply Card." Down in the left-hand corner of the message card are the words "Detach annexed card for answer." The sender writes his message on the message card, and there being no writing on the reply card, the receiver of the message card merely tears the cards apart where they are perforated and thus has ready at hand a postal card for a reply. You mustn't write secrets and gum the cards together. If you do they won't go, and if you don't, there is some danger with the present quality of cardboard that the two cards will pull apart at the perforated line.

The is the case in a nut shell:
Republican platform—Protection to American industries.
Democratic platform—Tariff for revenue only.

The first means goods used in America are to be made in America, and the second means they are to be made in Europe. Goods made here means wages earned here. Goods imported means wages earned in Europe. Which shall it be?

I suppose the Democrats will hold the McKinley bill responsible for the great conflagration at Milwaukee.

The Daily Courier, a newspaper published at Boulder, Col., publishes the following concerning Theodore Wiederhold, a former prosperous and popular resident of this town and who paid us a visit last month while on his way west from Washington, where he attended the G. A. R. ceremonies: A representative of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat is in the city soliciting subscribers for that journal among good Republicans who want the genuine Republican doctrine as dished up by the Globe-Democrat. The solicitor heard Alderman Wiederhold was a good Republican and entering his shop, waited until Theodore had served a customer when he accosted him:

"I represent the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and am getting up a list of subscribers here. I would like to have you on our list. You have perhaps heard of—"

"Get out of here, I don't want any blank Democratic paper. I'm a Republican; get out."

"But sir, you don't—"

"Get out, I tell you; I wouldn't have your blanketed old paper. What would I want a blanketed old Democratic paper for? Get out. No use to talk to me," and the Republican alderman displayed such righteous wrath that the agent of the great Republican journal hastily departed leaving Theodore in a horrible bad temper. The name of the paper was against it.

The joke was on Theodore, as the Globe-Democrat, while being the name of the opposition party, is a newspaper devoted to the interests of the Republican party.

There was an amusing incident in Ferguson's theatre Friday night during the production of "Chimes of Normandy." During the last act, Serpente asserts the authority over Gyrischeur and each time he says "clatten" commands him to "shut up." Elaine Gryce and Hamilton Tetley played the parts and kept up the exchange until a man in the gallery, shouted with some impatience to Tetley, "O, shut up." The voice in the gallery was so apt the whole company momentarily enjoyed the humor of the situation. Tetley did shut up and the opera went on, the man in the gallery settling himself in his seat, apparently satisfied that he had effectively silenced what Tetley had intended to make an endless battle of words.

One of our borough officials enjoyed the above incident and said it reminded him of an incident that occurred in the old Shoemaker opera house several years ago. A minstrel company was booked for the evening and in the audience was a young man who is now one of the most prominent business men of the town. When the curtain went up the "burnt corkers" were seated in the usual minstrel crescent style. The interlocutor opened the entertainment by requesting one of the end men to sing. The end man refused to do so. When asked his reasons he said he would not sing until he received his last week's salary. Coaxing failed to have any effect and a battle of words followed. Finally the whole company arose and was about to leave the stage apparently disgusted when our townsman shouted, "Go on with the show without him." A broad grin passed over the stage and encircled the audience. The "corkers" resumed their seats, the interlocutor announced the name of the song, and the "kicking" end man started it, but he was obliged to stop and wait until the shouts of laughter at the expense of our townsman subsided.

Water Notice

On account of the long drought the Shenandoah Water and Gas Company gives notice to its customers that there must be no more waste of the water supplied by the company. This notice is especially directed to people who use garden hose and wash show windows, pavements, carriages, etc.

Water will be run into the pipes, commencing Sunday, October 16th, only between the hours of 7 to 9 a. m. and from 4 to 6 p. m. This rule will remain in force until the next rain. A watchman will be stationed at a stop at Fowler's lumber yard, on East Coal street, to turn on the water at a moment's notice in case the fire alarm is sounded.

By order of the company,
S. D. HESS,
Superintendent.
