MAY SEVER RELATIONS

China Said to be Getting Tired of This Country.

MINISTER TSUI PREPARING TO LEAVE

He Has Not Called at the State Department for Months—There Are Other Ways of Treating the United States Besides Retaliation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Notwithstanding the published statement that the Chinese Government has appointed a new Minister to this country to succeed Mr. Tani Kwo Yin, there is not a single indication of such a thing on file at the State Department, nor has our Minister at the Chinese court informed our government of the proposed change. The Chinese Legation here has no official advice of a change, and so the matter stands in the public view.

The departure of the Chinese Consul-General, Mr. Shen Woon, from New York has put a somewhat new phase on the affair, and the intimation that Minister Tsui is preparing to leave adds to the rumor. It is intimated in diplomatic circles that China is preparing to sever her diplomatic relations with the United States; that Mr. Shen Woon's departure is the first move; that Mr. Tani will withdraw, and instead of a new Minister being appointed, the Legation here will be left in charge of a chargé d'affaires.

The relations between the United States and China have been somewhat strained ever since the Blair incident. That ended, it will be remembered, by a very sharp letter from Acting-Secretary Wharton to China and the resignation of ex-Senator Blair. Then came the Chinese Exclusion act and the correspondence between Mr. Tani and his government. Although never fully published, enough of this correspondence got into print to show that China intended to act in the matter. The Chinese are always slow, but the last letter to Mr. Tsui contained a sentence which is now considered significant. It read: "There are other ways of treating the United States besides retaliation," and it was then interpreted to mean a severance of diplomatic relations.

Of late the newspaper attacks on Mr. Tsui in relation to the visit of a New York lawyer here has added to the Minister's discomfiture. But the most significant attack in the whole matter is that of late the Chinese Minister has not appeared in any of the diplomatic relations with the United States. He has not called at the State Department for months, and he did not go to Chicago to represent his country at the World's Fair dedicatory exercises, but sent his first secretary, who will be chargé d'affaires if he withdraws.

These facts are therefore causing the talk of a probable severance of diplomatic relations between China and the United States.

A GREAT GAS FIND.

Immense Pressure Discovered on a Farm Near Manordale, Pa.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4.—New life has been infused into the natural gas business in the famous Murraysville region, the original source of supply for Pittsburgh. Duff Brothers of Pittsburgh, who have been drilling a well on the Cline farm near Manordale, have struck an immense pressure of gas in the fifth sand, 3,240 feet below the surface, or about 400 feet below the original Murraysville sand, which supplied Pittsburgh for years.

The well shows a pressure of 500 pounds a minute, and when properly tested will be increased to 600 and possibly 700 pounds. The well is located about midway between Murraysville and Grapetown. The sand is about thirty-five feet thick.

Prominent gas men say this well will open a new field and will insure plenty of gas for years.

Thompson's Big Offer.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Wm. J. Thompson, President of the South Jersey Jockey Club, Gloucester, N. J., placed a check for $10,000 in the hands of Wm. M. Singery, as a bet on Cleveland's election against a like amount. Magistrate Durban and Abert will put up on Harrison. The race track magnate offers to bet $10,000 as follows: $30,000 even that Cleveland will be elected; $10,000 to $30,000 that Cleveland will carry New York; and $10,000 even that Cleveland will have 5,000 majority in New Jersey.

A Counterfeiter Sentenced.

THENTON, N. J., Nov. 4.—Jonathan Hughes, a Philadelphia crook, who has served several terms for counterfeiting, was tried in the Federal Court yesterday for passing counterfeit money and was sentenced to a term in State prison. For years he was an accomplice of "Gopher Bill," of Philadelphia, and has done time in the Eastern penitentiary. He has spent altogether 14 years in confinement.

The Lingo Trial.

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 4.—The afternoon session of the Court of General Termers at the trial of Francis Lingo for the murder of Mrs. Annie Miller, was devoted to the cross examination of John Miller, husband of the murdered woman, by ex-Judge Westcott. From the questions asked it was shown that the attorney of the accused was endeavoring to lay a foundation to criminate Miller.

Cotton Crop of '94.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 4.—Henry M. Weil, the well known statistician, estimates the cotton crop of 1894 at 7,100,000 bales, maximum, exclusive of old stock. In the event that the Texas yield falls below 2,000,000 bales, he believes the cotton crop may not reach even 7,000,000 bales.

PRIVATE IAMS' CASE.

A Number of Officers Style His Offense as Mutiny—summing Up.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 4.—Charles Hatfield, hospital nurse for the Tenth Regiment, was the first witness in the Iams case today. He said he saw Iams strung up, and the cord was not taut at any time. Iams swallowed a chew of tobacco, and when asked why he did so, said: "I did it to fool the doctors. I had a purpose." Iams became sick after swallowing the tobacco.

Edward Dougherty and William Berry Hill testified that Iams' punishment was not severe. General C. L. Fitz Hugh testified that Iams' conduct was subordination or mutiny, and that the punishment was "mild for the offense." Under such conditions it was usual for an officer to act on his own judgment. In emergencies the officer was the sole judge of punishment.

Colonel Norman W. Smith said he would consider the offense charged to Iams as "mutiny." The punishment was mild.

Major J. F. DeLuist called Iams' offense "high insubordination." Iams was put on the stand and denied that he had taken a canteen from his coat after punishment, or had swallowed the tobacco.

Counsel for the defense offered to submit the case without argument, but Judge Forster said the prosecution was not bound to agree to that. Attorney Iams said that the counsel for the Commonwealth preferred to address the jury.

The court then allotted each side an hour and a half. Mr. Braddock then spoke to the jury from 4 until nearly 5 o'clock, when court adjourned until this morning, when argument was resumed.

LOVE LAUGHS AT OBJECTIONS.

A Young Couple of Kingston Determined to Marry and Die.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The elopement of Miss Rosie Pinner, an attractive Jewess of 17, with Louis Wimpoleger, a young man of her own faith, Wednesday evening, has created considerable talk here. The match was opposed by the young lady's widowed mother, owing, chiefly, to the fact that the would-be husband was a saloonkeeper.

The lovers were not to be outdone, so they held clandestine meetings, during one of which the elopement was decided upon.

They went at first to a rabbi, but he, being aware of the mother's objections to the match, refused to perform the ceremony.

They then hastened to Judge Duboise's office, where the knot was tied.

The couple went to New York to spend the honeymoon. The young bride has written, asking her mother's forgiveness.

THE KILLING OF THE AZTECS.

President Diaz Explains the Situation as Rebellion Against the Government.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 4.—President Diaz says the trouble at Tomashie was not one of taxes. The Indians refused to recognize any authority except that of the so-called Saint Colors. Gen. Rancot went with a small force to compel obedience, but the fanatical Indians, relying on the aid of their saint, fought desperately and defeated Rancot.

Then the government sent 600 soldiers against the Tomashians, who had fewer than 100 fighting men, and lost 47. The government lost more than 100 killed and wounded.

The affair was local and religious, and is now ended.

Minister Egan Denies a Story.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—"The report telegraphed from Indianapolis that I was invited at a meeting there last Saturday night," says Batalek Egan, "was quite amusing. I was in New York at that time. I was obliged to decline the invitation to speak in Indianapolis on account of a severe cold. Either the correspondents who sent out those reports were deceived in some way or sent them with a malicious purpose. I have not spoken anywhere for a week."

Will Not Abandon the Lehigh Canal.

MARCH CRUK, Pa., Nov. 4.—The report that the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company intended to abandon the Lehigh Canal is incorrect, and the indications are that more coal will be shipped by canal than ever. The coal pockets or shutes through which coal is loaded into the canal boats at Coal Port, the head of the Lehigh Canal, two miles above this place, are being entirely rebuilt and remodeled.

Bonds Mysteriously Missing.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Warren E. Leland is mourning the loss of $29,000 worth of negotiable bonds which until recently have been resting in one of the vaults of the National Safe Deposit company. The bonds in some mysterious way became detached from a neat little package containing $225,000 worth, squeezed through the double safe doors and time lock and completely disappeared from view.

DAYS OF '63 RECALLED

A Counterfeit Sumter Bombarded With Fireworks.

CHARLESTON'S BIG NAVAL DISPLAY.

No Sentimental Significance in the Event—Use of Flags Strictly Prohibited—The Effect Very Realistic—The Earthquake Festival Ends To-night.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 4.—More than 60,000 people witnessed the grand naval display of the Earthquake Festival last night. Of this number about 50,000 lined the high sea wall and the remainder witnessed the bombardment from steamer and sailing vessels and small craft in the harbor.

It was a perfect Charleston night and the arrangements for the display worked without a hitch. Fort Sumter built on lighters was anchored in the inner bay as were miniature representations of the batteries on Morris Island.

The First Regiment of Artillery of the State National Guards, three batteries manned the city sea wall representing the batteries of Sullivan Island.

Tug boats represented the attacking fleet. The bombs used in the affair were manufactured especially for the occasion and produced realistic effects. There was no sentimental significance in the display, the only interest attaching to it being the fact that the event which occurred April 5, 1861, was the first engagement during the war in which the new ironclad warships came in collision with a fortress or masonry.

The peculiar topographical surroundings of the harbor rendered such a display exceedingly interesting. At 8:15 o'clock the first shot was fired by a battery from the antiposition Fort Moultrie at the fleet of tug boats which sailed down the bay.

This was replied to by a boat representing the Weehawkes, and then for two hours the pyrotechnic firing was kept up with a fidelity to detail which was really wonderful.

The officers and crews of the United States war vessels and the revenue cutters witnessed the display from the decks of the vessels and were delighted. No flags were used.

The celebration will wind up to-night with a grand ball tendered to the officers of the fleet and the finest display of fireworks ever seen in the South.

The fleet engaged in the fight in 1863 was composed of the Weehawkes, 2 guns, Capt. John Rodgers; Passaic, 2 guns, Capt. Percival Drayton; Montauk, 2 guns, Capt. John L. Worden; Patapsco, 2 guns, Commander Daniel Ammen; Flagship New Ironsides, 16 guns, Capt. T. Turner, Catskill, 2 guns, Commander Rodgers, Nanuet, 2 guns, Commander D. McN. Fairfax; Nahant, 2 guns, Commander Jones; Kookuk, 2 guns, Commander A. C. Ricketts.

The Canandaigua, the Housatonic, the Unadilla, the Wissaticook, and the Huron were off the bar, but were not engaged. The fight began about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The first shots fired at the fort came from the leading monitor, the Weehawkes.

One passed over the heads of the men standing ready to fire the barbettes guns of the right flanks on the fort, and cut a clean hole through the regimental Confederate flag flying on the George Wall, piercing it near the crossing of the two cannons in the center of its field.

Not much damage was done to either fleet or the fort. The Kookuk seems to have had some defect in her build. Commander Rind, however, seemed determined to test her fighting capacity to the utmost.

When the turn in the channel was reached he came "bow on" to the fort, receiving the concentrated force of all the guns that could be brought to bear from that port and from Sullivan's Island. He was silenced after firing three shots. The position taken seemed to him to be about 530 yards from Sumter.

To those in the fort it appeared to be hardly less than 300 yards. At the end of 35 or 30 minutes he was glad to escape without being captured or going down. His vessel was struck 90 times in the hull and turrets, and 19 shots pierced her through. The turrets were penetrated by rifle bolts and 10-inch round shots. Riddled as she was, it is matter of wonder how she escaped with her engines in condition to take her out of the fight.

That night she sank off the southern part of Morris Island. The following is a statement showing the number of shots fired, and the casualties: Confederate Post—Number of guns engaged, 76; shots fired, 2,206; killed, 4; wounded, 10; nearly one-fourth were smooth-bore 32-pounders, of no value against armored vessels.

Federal Vessels—Number of guns engaged, 23; shots fired, 429; killed, 1; wounded 22.

Ex-Gov. Campbell Good-bye.

BETTING IN BRIDGEPORT.

Little Money Being Put Up on the General Result.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 4.—Bettings on the election has been slow here. The largest bet yet made is $500 even on the general result, and it was made yesterday between Editor L. C. Print of the "Morning News" and Chief of Police Rylands. Mr. Print bets on Harrison and the money is held by James Conklin.

There is a pool of $50,000 bet on Harrison in large and small sums. W. Z. Durbahn has wagered $200 even on Harrison with City Clerk Fred Mullens. John Ford offers to bet $500 to $800 that Connecticut will go for Cleveland. He also offers $500 to $400 on New York going Democratic. He refuses to bet on the general result.

Dominic Downes says he will vote for Cleveland, but will bet $200 that he is defeated. He bet $100 on Harrison last night.

A few Democrats claim that there will be no election by popular vote, but that Cleveland will be elected by the House. They are willing to back up this statement. James Falley will wager $5,000 on it.

On the State election the Democrats are confident and are willing to wager heavily, but although there are many offers but few bets are being made.

The Republicans and Democrats both claim the Fourth Congressional district.

CROOKEDNESS IN CHICAGO.

Mayor Washburne Investigating the Water Department of the Windy City.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Evidence of seeming irregularities of the grossest sort in the management of the city water office have been discovered by Mayor Washburne and Commissioner of Public Works Aldrich.

A thorough examination of that bureau and a sweeping investigation of the books have been ordered by the Mayor. On or more of the officials of the department may be suspended from their positions before to-night.

If the experts' inspection of the office should confirm the facts given to Mayor Washburne, there will be a wholesale clearing out in the water office, and criminal prosecutions may be instituted.

FIERCE FOREST FIRES.

Over 30,000 Acres Already Burned Over at Waterford, Pa.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4.—Over 30,000 acres of timber have been destroyed by forest fires that have been raging on the mountains about Waterford.

The flames show very little abatement, notwithstanding the rains that fell Wednesday afternoon.

Very little progress is being made by those who are endeavoring to arrest the flames. It is the most destructive fire known to have occurred in the mountains for thirty years.

A small herd of cattle, two goats and one sheep, perished last night. So far as keeping the fire away from the farm buildings, the people have been successful.

The fire started above Keckburg, and is slowly pushing its way north.

STRUCK BY AN EXPRESS.

Fatal Accident to an Aged Couple at Painted Post, N. Y.

CORNING, N. Y., Nov. 4.—A shocking accident occurred at Painted Post last evening.

As Rev. J. C. Bradbury, a retired Methodist preacher, and his wife, both over 70 years of age, were crossing the Erie tracks, Mrs. Bradbury's foot was caught between a rail and a plank, and before Mr. Bradbury could release her both were struck by a fast express train.

Mrs. Bradbury was instantly killed, and her body was horribly mangled. Mr. Bradbury was badly injured, and may not survive the result of the shock and injuries.
