A man having hotel experience can secure a hotel in one of the best places in Schuylkill county that is doing a good business, but can be made a better paying place if properly conducted. The business has suffered through the illness of the tenant, who must retire from business. The hotel is an excellent one for summer and winter boarders. The owner will sell the place cheap and on easy terms, or will rent to the right party. Sale preferred. Address "Hotel," HERALD office, Shenandoah, Pa.

OBBE'S OBSERVATIONS.

What He Sees and Hears During His Travels.

While in a reminiscent mood recollections of "Port" Hart, who died at Wilkes-Barre last week, are brought to my mind. He died at the home of his sister, Miss Agnes Hart. "Port" was 65 years of age. He had been ill over a year and succumbed to peritonitis and dropsy. Orlando Porter Hart was well known all over the state. His career was a varied and exciting one. Years ago, and before the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company ran its passenger trains between this town and Mahanoy Plane, "Port" Hart drove a stage between town and Frackville. For years he also drove a coach running between Wilkes-Barre and Danville, and between Wilkes-Barre and Easton. In his day he was almost without an equal as a handler of horses and for some time after leaving this place he handled 24 horses at the head of an immense chariot of the old Robinson circus. He also ran a show of his own for a while and later returned to the "bus" business. "Port" is also remembered by residents of this town as one of the original members of Washington Camp, No. 112, P. O. S. of A.

Rev. Floyd E. West, who was pastor of the All Saints' Protestant Episcopal church, of town, for some time, left town last week for New York, accompanied by his father and mother. Rev. West has not only resigned his charge here, but has also decided to give up the ministry and study medicine. He will locate permanently in New York City for that purpose.

According to the reports of the officials of that borough Ashland is still very much in need of water. The Council is making arrangements to award contracts to drill for water.

Squire Hugh Thomas is recalled to mind by a recent letter received from him. Mr. Thomas resigned the office of Justice of the Peace in the Fourth ward of this town about a year ago and moved his family to Augusta, Montana. In his letter he says he has discovered on his ranch a vein of bituminous coal 18-inches thick, but unfortunately the vein is 70 miles from the nearest railroad and it will be some time before he will have facilities to develop the find and get the product to market. He says he has already secured a customer in a blacksmith residing eighteen miles distant. The blacksmith has agreed to pay Mr. Thomas $7 a ton and do his own hauling. The "smithy" has paid as high as $50 a ton for coal, hence Mr. Thomas had little difficulty in securing his customer.

ONE.

If you are a Republican and desire Republican success to-morrow don't let anybody entice you into the Democratic annex when you go to the polls.

HINTS TO VOTERS.

They Are Important and Should be Read Carefully.

To-morrow the electors will for the first time vote under the Baker ballot law for national, state and county officers. Every voter should be prepared for the event. He should know how to fill out his ballot and any one who does not know this should seek information of some one who does.

One thing the elector should do is to put himself on guard against last hour stories. The Democrats may attempt to spring "fake yarns" about some of the Republican candidates, but no intelligent or honest voter will countenance any such desperate tactics. The candidates have been before the people for several months and ample time has been afforded to make charges and those who have kept their peace up to the eleventh hour should be snubbed in the severest manner if they now try to create a sensation by circulating fairy tales.

Voters should remember that if they are at a loss as to how to fill out their ballot they have the privilege of taking a friend into the booth for assistance.

Go to the polls early, keep cool and vote the whole Republican ticket.

The polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Vote early and not more than once.

Put the X opposite the word "Republican" and you will record a vote for the platform that opposes the free trade and wild cat bank doctrine.

After you have voted hunt up your neighbor and get him to go to the polls.

To-morrow will be an idle day and afford the men in favor of protection to American industries a chance to drum up the slow voters.

If you don't want to lose, don't bet.

If you want to win, bet on the right men.

If you are undecided how to vote ask your best friend for advice.

If you are a friend of the old soldier, vote for Comrade Ben Harrison.

If you want to discourage free trade, vote the Republican ticket.

If you want good times to be the rule hereafter, vote the Republican ticket.

If you want to be counted with the winners vote the Republican ticket.

Vote it anyhow.

Vote for Flexor and Lessig.

GET THE VOTE OUT IS THE WATCHWORD.

A Stirring Rallying Call to Every Pennsylvania Republican.

General Reeder's Caution About Casting Ballots as Early as Possible.

He Points Out How Simple a Thing It is to Mark the Ticket and Urges His Fellow Republicans to All Join in the Work of Rolling Up an Old Time Majority.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.

Get out the full Republican vote. That is to be the watchword of the champions of protection and reciprocity in the Keystone state from now until the polls close at next Tuesday's election. General Reeder has warned the rank and file of the Republican organization of the danger of apathy born of a conviction that Pennsylvania is certainly Republican by a good majority. He has admonished the active party men to miss no opportunity to explain how simple a thing it is to vote under the new law and to take pains to demonstrate that the only thing complicated about the new system is in the certification and printing of the ballot, about which the voter has nothing to do. The part the voter takes is as easy as under the old order of things.

Having made the process of voting perfectly clear it should be the duty of every Republican who takes an interest in the success of the party to point out how important it is that every Republican vote shall be polled next Tuesday, particularly in the close congressional and legislative districts.

A Timely Campaign Card. General Reeder has issued a little campaign card which Republican committeemen throughout the state are distributing among their neighbors. It is a warning to Republicans to vote early, a call to the party to roll up a splendid majority for Harrison and Reid, and a reiteration of his explanation of how to vote under the new ballot law.

One side of the card reads: NOVEMBER 8 IS ELECTION DAY. Be sure to vote and VOTE EARLY. Many votes will be lost if there is the usual rush between 5 and 7 o'clock. VOTE FOR HARRISON AND REID. VOTE FOR PROTECTION TO LABOR. VOTE FOR HONEST MONEY. VOTE FOR YOUR HOMES AND FAMILIES. VOTE FOR YOUR FARMS AND FIRMS. VOTE FOR AMERICA'S HONOR. VOTE FOR VICTORY.

BE SURE TO VOTE. Pennsylvania Republicans must not be weighed in the balance and found wanting. LET US ROLL UP AN OLD TIME MAJORITY.

On the other side of the card is printed: HOW TO VOTE.

Marking of the Ticket Under the New Law is Very Simple. Place a cross mark (X) in the square to the right of the word "REPUBLICAN" wherever the word "REPUBLICAN" appears in the first column of the official ballot.

This is how it appears AFTER it is marked:

As there are a number of groups of candidates in the Republican (or first) column, the word "REPUBLICAN" is printed at the top of each group, and a cross must be made to THE RIGHT of it wherever the word "REPUBLICAN" appears. Do not pay any attention to the other five columns of the ballot. THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES ARE ALL IN THE FIRST COLUMN.

FRANK REEDER, Chairman Republican State Committee. After reading the above no Republican can have any excuse for remaining away from the polls because of ignorance of how to mark his ticket. Get out the full Republican vote.

To vote the full Republican ticket place a cross mark in the square to the right of the word "Republican" thus:

wherever the word "Republican" appears on the official ballot. Nothing could be simpler.
